CAN YOU FIND THE SEVENTH KEY?

How many keys in this picture? The artist who drew it says SEVEN! It looks like six.

Now, that artist isn't any cleverer than thousands of Star readers. What he has concealed, you can find. Find it quickly, send in your answer to "Seven Keys to Baldpate," Editor, The Star, and get a $2 seat to Geo. M. Cohan's best success, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which will appear at the Metropolitan theatre for a week beginning next Sunday. THERE WILL BE 50 SEATS GIVEN AWAY TO THE FIRST ONES WHO SEND CORRECT ANSWERS TO THE PUZZLE. All replies must reach The Star by Friday afternoon.

We will give you this tip: The mysterious seventh key is in the picture, but it isn't on the ring.

And again, it is not the ring itself. Nor is it formed by any combination of letters the puzzlers may find among the keys.

But it is a really, truly key, plain as the other six, if you only hit the right solution.

FIRE ALMOST TRAPS FIFTEEN

The lives of 15 tunnel workers were imperiled when the transformers in a tunnel under Lake Union, near the Latona bridge, burst into flames at midnight. A property loss of $3,500 was entailed.

None of the 15 escaped without a harrowing experience underground. They reached the 80-foot shaft leading to the street with difficulty.

The fire originated in a shack where the men dry out their clothes after finishing the day's work under the lake.

Foreman Robert Spencer directed the men to safety and was the last man to leave the tunnel.

IMAGINES DISEASE; ENDS LIFE

Mrs. Mabel L. Wood, 23, a seamstress, plunged a pair of scissors through her heart with fatal effect Sunday afternoon, because she feared she was becoming a consumptive. Mrs. Wood's mother, with whom the dead woman lived at 2215 Atlantic st., discovered the body an hour after her daughter retired to her room.

Despite the delusion which obsessed her, Mrs. Wood had been repeatedly assured by her doctor that her lungs were in good condition and that she showed none of the symptoms of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Wood leaves, beside her mother, a husband and two children. The children are with the husband, at Index.

STUDENT INVENTS OIL BURNER

Frank Weis, 767 Ninth ave., a student at the Seattle Engineering school, has invented a fuel oil burner for use in apartment houses which, he says, promises to revolutionize steam and hot water heating. The device is simple, having but two working parts. It showed a saving of 25 gallons of oil in eight hours, compared with the ordinary commercial type of oil-burning apparatus. The device is in constant use in the school, the Redding apartments and the Del Roy apartments.

INDICT 9 FOR LAND SWINDLE

CHICAGO, April 12.—Federal indictments were returned here today against nine lawyers, politicians and land promoters, including two Denver millionaires, charging frauds and violation of the postal laws in the sale of millions of dollars' worth of bonds for the hopeless irrigation of certain Colorado and Wyoming lands.

Those indicted were: Charles Tew, wealthy lawyer and politician of Greeley, Colo.; Wm. S. Hiff and Samuel Shields, millionaires of Denver; William Farson of Chicago, John Farson of New York, ex-Gov. George S. Osborne of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Roy Thomason and Harry Parrott of Chicago.

FEAR KIDNAPING PLOT

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Earl Rogers, attorney for Chief of Police Sebastian, says he will give notice before night to District Attorney Woolwine of the intention of Mrs. Lillie Pratt to appear in court tomorrow to ask for the appointment of neutral guardians for her sister, Edith Serkin.

Sebastian is charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency, and Rogers professes to believe that a plot to kidnap her exists to prevent her from appearing in Sebastian's trial.

SEATTLE MAN JUMPS TO DEATH?

TACOMA, April 12.—A man giving his name as Charles J. Alexander and his address as 2136 47th ave. S. W., Seattle, left a note on the high Lincoln bridge today, saying he had jumped off, and asking that his wife, Ida, be notified. He also made mention of a daughter named Alice.

"Collect my insurance money," he advised his wife, in the note, which was written on stationery of the Arcade hotel here. The police are not satisfied that the man jumped off.

GAMBLER WITH LUNCH TICKETS

Hundreds of tickets entitling unemployed men to food and lodging at cheap hotels and cafes in Vancouver, B. C., during the winter, never reached their destination, according to a story in the current issue of the Seattle Municipal News.

"In several raids on gambling houses," says the story, "the police found a number of men using the tickets as chips. Haled before a magistrate and fined $50 each, they promptly produced the necessary money from apparently well-filled pockets.

"During the winter Vancouver ministered daily to a bread line that numbered 1,800 men. The work was done under the direction of a committee of the city council, and was paid for, in part at least, by the unemployed working on city jobs."

HUGH M. CALDWELL TO RESIGN

Hugh M. Caldwell, chief deputy prosecuting attorney, has tendered his resignation to Prosecutor Lundin to take effect April 15. Caldwell took the position of chief deputy under Lundin at a personal sacrifice and agreed at the time to remain only a few months as deputy until the office was satisfactorily reorganized with the change of administration. Caldwell returns to private practice in the firm of Wright, Kelleher and Caldwell.

Caldwell's successor will be W. E. Meier, at present one of the deputies. Lane Summers, law clerk, will become deputy, and Joseph Barto will be law clerk, Lundin announces.
