

2,500,000 DEAD IN ONE YEAR OF WAR!

ONE year ago today Austria sent its impossible 48-hour ultimatum to Serbia. One year ago today the world realized for the first time that the great European nations were going to war. But no one could realize what a modern war, with all the modern instruments for destroying life, would mean. Today, on the first anniversary of the beginning of the greatest struggle the world has ever seen, we take a check. And we find that TWO MILLION AND A HALF MEN HAVE BEEN KILLED IN ONE YEAR OF THE WAR. The figures may be found on page 8. Also a day by day history of the important events of the war, right down to the present time.

WOMAN SHOOT'S FALSE LOVER

The Seattle Star

: The Only Paper in Seattle That Dares to Print the News :

LAST EDITION

Fair, Saturday fair and warmer

TIDES AT SEATTLE
High, 4:17 p. m., 13.5 ft. Low, 9:5 ft.
Low, 10:4 a. m., 8.6 ft. High, 1:43 p. m., 10.1 ft.

VOLUME 18. NO. 127.

SEATTLE, WASH., FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1915.

ONE CENT

ON TRAINS AND NEWS STANDS

KILLS FATHER OF HER SON, WEDDED NOW TO ANOTHER

Lillian Alvie, 30, a chambermaid at the Byron hotel, 2017 1/2 First ave. N., shot and instantly killed Howard Borders, 30, a teamster, in her room at the hotel, at 11 a. m. Friday.

The woman, in jail, declares Borders was the father of her 10-year-old son, and that when she demanded Friday that he marry her, he refused.

"I shot to frighten him," she sobbed. "I aimed over his shoulder, but—but the bullet went thru his heart."

J. W. Murphy of Wapata, Wash., told the police that both Borders and the Alvie woman were married but that Borders had a divorce action pending in the King county superior court from his wife, who resides at 119 Nob Hill ave., and with whom Borders is said to have stayed Thursday night.

The divorce hearing was to have come up Saturday, according to Murphy, who says he was to have been a witness.

Leaving his legitimate wife Friday morning, Borders is supposed to have gone directly to the hotel, where the Alvie woman began pleading with him to marry her. In vain he pointed out to her, according to her story to the police, that such a thing was impossible, inasmuch as she was the wife of another.

For an hour she continued her supplications, finally drawing the revolver and firing. Borders dropped without a word, shot thru the heart.

Occupants of the hotel who heard the shot rushed into the room to find the woman staring wide-eyed at the prostrate form on the floor.

The police were notified, and Officer C. J. Hart placed the woman under arrest.

Borders' parents are said to reside at Ballard. He has a half-brother working at the Henry Packing Co., this city.

According to the woman they lived together for several years at Fargo, N. D. It was here the boy was born. Afterwards they drifted apart, and both were married to others.

The woman had been working at the hotel but five days, according to witnesses.

It was declared that she had appeared suddenly from the East, after Borders had practically forgotten her.

It is supposed he went to the hotel Friday morning to try to induce her to go away again.

The body of an unidentified man, drowned near Seahurst park, Three-Tree point, was found Friday morning. He is believed to be the person seen earlier in the morning, struggling to retain a grasp on a rowboat that had upset near Fauntleroy park. The man was about 50 years old, baldheaded, 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighed 220 pounds.

Thomas Duffy, pilot on the American-Hawaiian steamer Honolulu, Friday morning reported to the police that as the boat neared Fauntleroy park, on the way from Seattle, a green rowboat half-filled with water was noticed in the distance, to which some person was clinging desperately. A swell caused by the big steamer washed the party off the rowboat. Duffy could not tell whether it was a man or a woman.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

Summary of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Evidence of the effect upon public opinion of the note informing Germany that a repetition of the Lusitania disaster would be regarded as unfriendly, is anxiously awaited by officials.

Summaries of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

Mayor Slashes Half Million Off Estimates for 1916 Budget

COVERS LOSS OF SALOON

There were grim faces around the city hall Friday. Despair was written large on the faces of city officials. Walls of anguish coursed thru the air.

It was all occasioned by the news that Mayor Gill proposes to cut the budget estimates of departments all to pieces.

After tolling all day Thursday and into the night, the mayor and secretary Crehan completed a letter to the council pointing out where approximately $570,000 may be cut from the 1916 budget estimates.

Of course, the council is not obligated to follow the mayor's lead, but the mayor announces he will "sit in" at the budget meetings, which begin probably Tuesday of next week, and that he will employ some strong argument to carry his point is strongly indicated.

Asked for Big Increase
The 1915 budget was $3,740,290.25. Departments ask $4,099,940.92 for 1916, an increase of $359,650.67.

By cutting $570,000 off the 1916 estimate the budget would be $3,529,940.25, which would be less than the 1915 budget by $210,349.23.

The mayor figures that this difference, combined with unexpended balances, which he says are lying idle from former budget appropriations, will wipe out the loss occasioned by the cessation of liquor licenses. The mayor says he will try to keep the levy down to 18.78 mills.

"It can't be done, and the mayor knows it," said one city official.

It was declared around the city hall the levy could not possibly be less than 22 mills and might be 25.

Differ With Mayor
The mayor is considering only the loss of liquor licenses, it was argued, whereas a loss of $100,000 by the beach law, combined with adverse court decisions on assessment rolls applied to the Shilshole and other upgrade districts, will also cut a big figure.

A meeting of the finance committee is scheduled for Friday afternoon to clear the decks for next week's warfare.

Comments among his recommendations are that the police department get along without the large number of additional men asked by Chief Lang, and that the engineer's department cease maintaining the city's planked streets and trestles out of the general fund. If abutting property owners do not wish to keep these streets in repair, the mayor recommends that they be torn up.

Gill emphasizes the necessity for economy in his recommendation that absolutely no increases in salaries be granted.

The mayor's letter to the council is in part as follows:

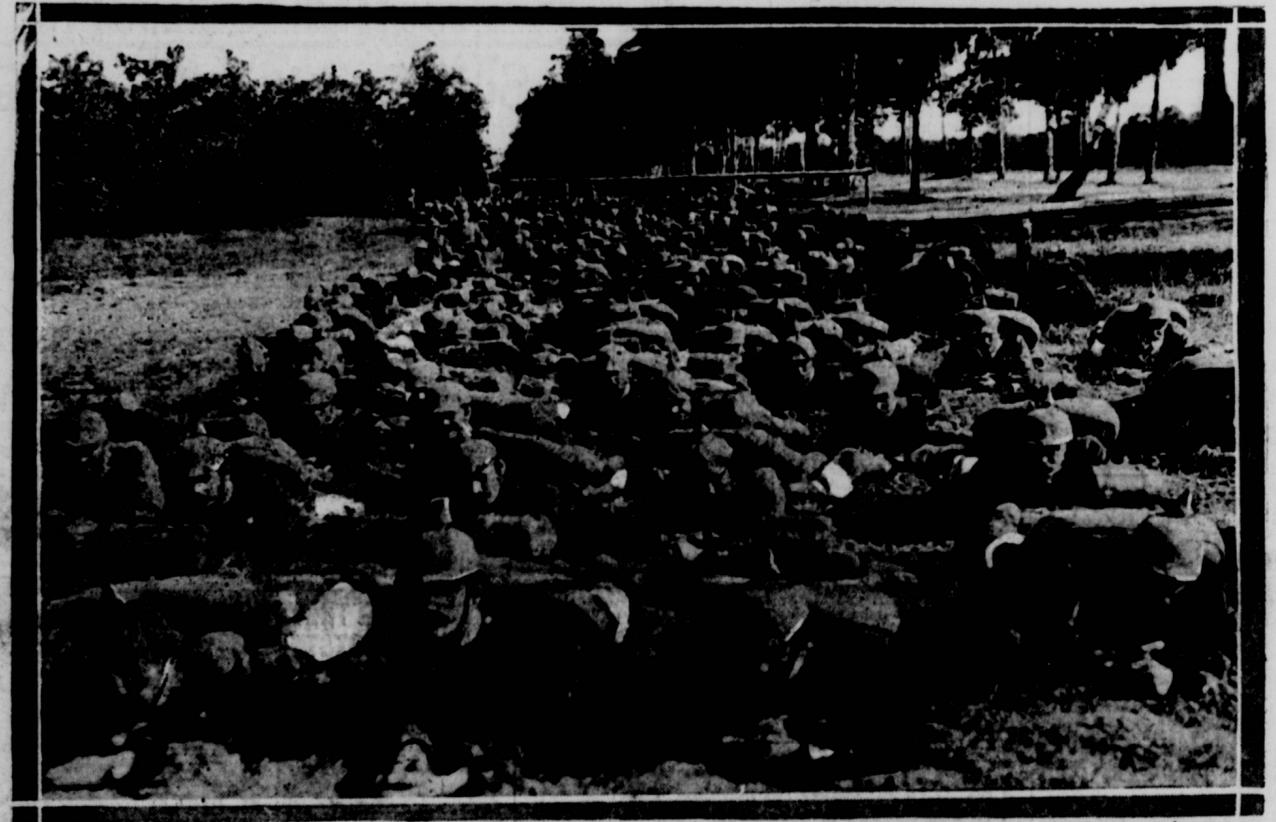

HARBOR DEPARTMENT
The port warden requests a new boat at the cost of $14,065, with an additional employee, known as a computer.

While possibly desirable, neither in my opinion is necessary, and I would eliminate both, together with all other new items suggested. (This does not include salary increases, which I will take up later.) The department is working satisfactorily at present.

POLICE DEPARTMENT
The estimate of the chief of police is based upon an effort to place more men in the strictly rescue section of the city, and apparently assumes that the elimination of...

CAN YOU HELP HIM?
He's a young man who had to come West for his health. In Kentucky he held a teachers' certificate. An accident crippled him and he now walks on crutches. He's in Seattle now, looking for a place where he might earn his board and lodging. He will do any sort of work. His name is Elbert Roberts. If you can help, call up Beaumont 1599.

STAR PHOTOGRAPHER IN WAR ZONE SENDS ANOTHER PICTURE DIRECT FROM THE FRONT; REAR GUARD OF A GERMAN FORCE IN EAST WAITING FOR ORDERS TO GET INTO ACTION

GREENPAPER ENTERPRISE ASS'N

Here is another picture from Staff Photographer W. H. Durborough, who is in Germany taking war views. The above was snapped on the Eastern front during a battle with the Russians. It is interesting to note the position of the men. Lying down, all facing the front, and alert for action.

HEAR OF PLOT TO DYNAMITE AUTO PLANTS

CLEVELAND, July 23.—Local federal officials upon orders from Washington today notified the Peerless and White Automobile companies and the American Steel & Wire company of an alleged plot to dynamite their plants.

All of the companies thus warned have been manufacturing munitions.

Guards were thrown about all three plants this afternoon and every precaution taken to prevent strangers approaching. The plants employ 12,000 men, all engaged in getting out huge war orders.

RAY OF HOPE FOR BECKER

NEW YORK, July 23.—Supreme Court Justice Philip today ordered the state to show cause why a new trial should not be granted Charles F. Becker, former police lieutenant, convicted in connection with the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

WANTS GOVERNMENT TO HAVE MONOPOLY

WASHINGTON, July 23.—A government monopoly of the manufacture of munitions was advocated by Congressman Clyde Tavenner here today.

He declared that, despite the fact that a quarter of a billion dollars were being spent annually upon the army and navy, the country was not prepared for war.

"We are spending a quarter of a billion annually upon the army and navy, enough to have prepared us for war at this minute," he said. "But we are not prepared."

"Four firms during the last 17 years received contracts for $175,000,000. They were paid from 20 to 60 per cent more than the munitions could have been made for in government arsenals."

CHILDREN AT PLAY AS GUNS BARK IN RIOT

BAYONNE, N. J., July 23.—Rumors of dynamite plots kept the police on the alert here today, but up to a late hour this afternoon there had been no report of the fighting which marked the strike of the Standard Oil Co., employes yesterday.

Special deputies sworn in by Sheriff Kinkead patrolled a "dead line" drawn 500 yards from the wall about the oil plant, about which the fatal conflicts were fought yesterday.

Strikers and sympathizers paced up and down on the other side of the line, which they were forbidden to cross, but no shots were fired since early morning. At that time there was intermittent firing. No one was reported wounded.

Mediators on Job

Guards inside the Standard Oil plant were warned by Sheriff Kinkead that if they fired a single shot except in defense of their lives, they would be arrested.

Mediators appointed by the department of labor arrived today. They conferred with the authorities, but prospects of a settlement were regarded as gloomy because the strikers are not organized and there are no recognized leaders with whom the mediators can negotiate.

Despite the warlike conditions, small children played about the streets.

They peered around corners upon strikers or peeped out to look at the oil plant, throbly enjoying the "fun."

The calling of militia to Bayonne appeared to be imminent.

Sheriff Kinkead admitted he would be helpless with his deputies armed only with clubs should the battles of yesterday be repeated.

What Is the Man Doing?

GIRLS AND BOYS!
Take a good look at the picture above! Can you tell what he is doing? Watch him from picture to picture—his hands are moving; evidently he is very busy—but busy at what?

CAN'T YOU TELL?
Look on page 5 and see whether you guessed right.

More than half the world's population lives in tropics of the Old World.

PENITENTIARY FOR GAMBLERS

There's the very deuce to pay on Profanity hill. It seems that somebody made a "mistake" in raiding a Chinese gambling joint a while back, and got a bunch of Chinese who have many prominent and influential connections. The gambling joint was located at 219 Washington st. The property is owned by Ah King, wealthy Chinese merchant.

As it happened, the officers got the yellow men with the goods, and it looks like such a dead open-and-shut case that Prosecuting Attorney Lundin is going to try to convict the offenders on a felony charge, instead of permitting them to plead guilty to a misdemeanor and take a fine, as has been the custom.

"If I can send these fellows over on a penitentiary charge," said the prosecutor, "it will have an excellent moral effect. Gamblers will not pass the word so readily that we are willing to tolerate them."

Several persons who may have been supposed to have influence with the prosecutor, have gone to him and asked that the arrested gamblers, Lee Sing, Jack Lee, Ah Dock, Frank Chan and Ah Bow, be permitted to plead to a misdemeanor. To all of them Lundin made the same answer, that he had a good case against the men, and was going to push it to the limit.

The prosecutor has met with considerable difficulty in his efforts to clean out open gambling in the city.

Recently, after several men had been arrested in a carefully planned raid, he discovered that the prisoners had been looked at police headquarters, charged with a misdemeanor, and released on bail. He hasn't seen them since.

In another raid, later, deputies invaded the place at 219 Washington st., arrested 100 men and confiscated a great quantity of gambling paraphernalia. The evidence was all that could be desired and the prosecutor determined to press the felony charge in an effort to discourage the gambling fraternity.

He called up the jail and gave instructions that every man arrested be photographed before being released on bail, so that positive identification might be made when the cases came up in court. A few days later he asked Jailer Halley if

REPORT ONE MAY HAVE DROWNED

The body of an unidentified man, drowned near Seahurst park, Three-Tree point, was found Friday morning. He is believed to be the person seen earlier in the morning, struggling to retain a grasp on a rowboat that had upset near Fauntleroy park. The man was about 50 years old, baldheaded, 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighed 220 pounds.

Thomas Duffy, pilot on the American-Hawaiian steamer Honolulu, Friday morning reported to the police that as the boat neared Fauntleroy park, on the way from Seattle, a green rowboat half-filled with water was noticed in the distance, to which some person was clinging desperately. A swell caused by the big steamer washed the party off the rowboat. Duffy could not tell whether it was a man or a woman.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

Summary of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Evidence of the effect upon public opinion of the note informing Germany that a repetition of the Lusitania disaster would be regarded as unfriendly, is anxiously awaited by officials.

Summaries of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

WILSON NOTE IS DELIVERED TO VON JAGOW

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
BERLIN, July 23.—The new American note in protest against Germany's submarine warfare, is in the hands of the foreign office. It was handed to Foreign Minister Von Jagow at 1:15 this afternoon.

The note arrived at the American embassy, having been relayed from Copenhagen, early in the day, and was immediately decoded and prepared for submission to the foreign minister.

Summary of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

Summary of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

When Jack London arrived here today from Honolulu he had a valet.

Summary of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Evidence of the effect upon public opinion of the note informing Germany that a repetition of the Lusitania disaster would be regarded as unfriendly, is anxiously awaited by officials.

Summaries of the note were today sent to American representatives in other foreign countries, and will be furnished the representatives of the belligerents here today. A submarine, presumably German, attacked the liner Orduna, bearing 21 American passengers, without warning July 9, during the vessel's recent voyage from Liverpool.

Earlier in the morning, J. W. Bando, 3709 Alki ave., reported the loss of a 14-foot boat. It was stolen at 1:30 a. m. by two men, who, he said, made their way toward Fauntleroy.

This was conclusively shown in a report submitted by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, it was learned on high authority today. The public will be given the note tomorrow morning. It will be given out for release in morning papers.

World Millinery Adds Suit Department

The World Millinery store, David M. Blackman, proprietor, of 1316 Second ave., has added a complete line of ladies' coats and suits. In addition to some most enticing bargains in millinery for Saturday's selling, this store offers several specials in ladies' suits which are sure to appeal to the economical shopper. Full details of these bargains will be found in their large display ad, which appears on page 2 in today's paper.

VICTORIA GRAFT IS SEIZED BY GERMANS

SWINEMUNDE, via Berlin, July 23.—The American bark Dunshire, from New York to Stockholm, has been brought into this port by a German warship.

The British bark Dunshire is probably meant in the foregoing dispatch. The Dunshire sails from Victoria, B. C. The records show it sailed from San Francisco April 17, via the canal, and arrived at Helsingborg, Sweden, July 17, presumably en route to Stockholm.