HERE AND THERE WITH A.B.A.

A sharp fight has developed between the trust company section and the national bank section of the association. Trust company men are endeavoring to bring legislation to repeal a clause of the federal reserve banking act which allows the reserve board to confer trust powers on a national bank.

President E. Shorrock, of the Northwest Trust & Safe Deposit Co., addressing the trust company section Tuesday, was given an enthusiastic round of applause when he remarked: "We have not wasted our patriotism on riotous living, but have laid the foundation for a great city."

Report of the committee on postal savings shows an increase from 388,511 depositors to 528,000 since the war began.

Bankers are being furnished a bulletin service of quotations for Wall st. by the Western Union.

R. L. Rutter, vice president of the Spokane & Eastern Trust Co., declares the uncertainty of the wheat market is keeping Spokane bankers on edge, the price of bluestem having dropped from 95 to 70 cents. He predicts 400,000,000 bushels more than are required for home consumption will be raised this year.

Farmers here are trying to work on too big a scale, according to J. V. Roberts, of North Yakima, who advocated they look to French and German farmers' methods, thus securing greater credit from the banks.

Dr. Joel W. Hill, president of the International Peace Forum, of New Jersey, spoke on "The Railroads and the People" before the savings bank section Tuesday. President William Sproule, of the Southern Pacific, also spoke on this subject, declaring "it is time for the railroads and the people to take counsel together."

Chairman Vincent, of the clearing house section, has reported that his section has grown in a year from 146 to 185 members.

William E. Knox, of the Bowers Savings bank, New York, advocated, in a speech before the savings bank section, that the legislators and the railroads get together for the common good.

Edward S. Curtis, the Indian photographer, held a reception for bankers at his studio in the Downs block, Tuesday.

Thoro enjoyment was expressed by bankers who attended the concert given at the Moore theatre Tuesday night.

OHIO BANKERS CUT THROATS WITH RAZORS OF RUBBER

If a man dashes up at you with a wild light in his eyes, and tries to cut your throat with a razor, don't be unduly excited, for, like as not, the razor's of rubber.

And if he tries to drop a bomb on your head, fear not; for it'll bounce, being nothing but a rubber balloon.

The delegation to the bankers' convention from Akron, Ohio, great rubber manufacturing center, where they produce 40,000 auto tires daily, are the perpetrators of the joke, and they're led by A. W.

Burnett, president of the Bankers' Guarantee Title & Trust Co., of the rubbery city. He also has rubber hatchets, with which he hacks at the back of people's necks. They had everybody on the train scared to death, coming out. The Pullman porter turned so pale he was white, when they made an attack on his life.

Burnett is a great booster of rubber goods. The instruments of torture he carries are turned out by the Miller Rubber Co. He says rubber will be king soon, and predicts that ere long we'll be walking on rubber streets.

CORONER TO TAP BOB FOR $345

According to the statute "in such cases made and provided," Dr. J. Tate Mason, coroner, served Sheriff Hodge, Wednesday, with a document in the form of a judgment against him for $250 and interest amounting to $95. It was the finale of the Ole Hanson promissory note affair. Hanson took Hodge's note during the latter's campaign for governor in 1912. Hodge said he thought it was a "gift" on Ole's part.

TIGHTEN EVIDENCE AGAINST MRS. MOHR

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 8.—Police believe they have tightened the net about Mrs. C. Franklin Mohr in the case charging her with inciting three negroes to murder her husband, Dr. Mohr. Using a subterfuge, they sent department employees to the negroes in their cells and represented they came from the widow.

Heads, chauffeur of the death car, told them to tell Mrs. Mohr the trio would "stick" by her. Then, the employees went to the cell of Victor Brown, whose alleged confession had implicated Mrs. Mohr. He begged them to appeal to Mrs. Mohr for an attorney to defend him. At the same time, he wanted them to see his sister and ask her to swear he was at her house at the time of the shooting. These statements, under the circumstances, were regarded as particularly conclusive of their theory that the widow was actually allied with the negroes in the plot to slay Mohr and his girl companion.

ATTACKS FEDERAL BANK ACT; ARGUES FOR HOME RULE

That congress trespassed constitutional limitations in one section of the federal reserve board act and that the reserve board is going beyond its rights in proceeding under that section, was the declaration of Henry M. Campbell, of Detroit, to the American Bankers' association Tuesday. The section he referred to is that permitting the board to confer trustee powers on national banks. It was the principal feature of the opening day of the convention, attended by hundreds of bankers, to a discussion of the relations between the railroads and the people, led by President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific on the one hand and Rev. John W. Hill on the other, divided interest with it.

ASK FOR GERMANY'S SIDE OF THE CASE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Ambassador Gerard of Berlin has been asked by the state department whether Germany is informed concerning the circumstances surrounding the torpedoing of the Hesperian. It was explained the query was not a request on Berlin to make a report, but only a step to learn if anything is to be expected from German sources.

WANTS TO RETAIN TANK STEAMERS

PORTLAND, Sept. 8.—Portland users of all in large quantities and the Chamber of Commerce are joining the appeal of the Southern Pacific Co. to be allowed to retain its controlling interest in the tank steamers operated by the Associated Oil Co. of California.

The Panton Store Comes to an Untimely End Saturday Night at 9 o'Clock

FINAL reductions on all the merchandise are now in effect.

It will not be necessary to mark goods down again. If you doubt it—come and see the crowds buying! And the lots are getting too small to advertise in detail.

Things get sold out, and then late buyers are disappointed. So we shall not advertise any more details.

Furniture and Fixtures are selling daily.

We have the following to dispose of:
One "Arcowand" Vacuum Carpet Cleaner, same as used in Hotel Washington; cost about $400 a year ago. Sell for $150.

One Fairbanks Platform Scales.
One Paper Baler.

Odd lots of Carpentry.
Glass Sash, Suit Forms, Window Fixtures, Counters, Mirrors, Wall Cases, Show Cases, Jewelers' Trays, Button Making Machines, Electric Signs—and, as the auctioneers say, "other articles too numerous to mention."

Also—
We reserve the right to end the sale any time before Saturday night, because—

There's a deal pending which may result in our selling the whole store and its contents, in which case the new owners will carry out their own plans—and with which we shall have nothing to do.

WILSON TO WAIT FOR MORE DETAILS ON DUMBA CASE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The state department is seeking further information concerning Austrian Ambassador Dumba's activities in connection with his admitted plan to call Austrian subjects out of American munition factories, it was officially admitted today.

It is understood the administration asked him to submit the inclosure to which he referred in the letter he attempted to forward to Austria thru Archibald.

STEPDAUGHTER TO HER OWN MOTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—By a trick of romance, Antonette Marcella Laustiem, 8, today became her own mother's stepdaughter.

Little Antonette cried so piteously when she left the side of her mother some months ago that it touched the heart of Chas. E. Lees, a mining man, who had adopted the child. Antonette was a very pretty little creature when her father died, for her mother had but little money and was not quite sure how the child was to be supported. So she abandoned all rights to her child, but not to her heart. Lees adopted that, too, and today they were married.

BUT IT WAS ONLY A SCRAP OF PAPER

There was big excitement for a little while early Wednesday morning when Officer Charles Whiting found the door unlocked to the Northern Pacific Express Co. office, 823 First ave. There was a slip of paper on one of the safes with figures on it, which he interpreted as the combination. After rousing several officials to a high pitch of excitement, it was found that the janitor, who was near by, had left the door unlocked for a few minutes, and that the paper was "just a scrap of paper."

TO TELL BANKERS ABOUT INJUNS

The bankers in convention here are to make a triangular water excursion Friday, visiting first Bremerton and then Tacoma. Going over, H. L. Evans, Seattle man, will tell the bankers all about the aboriginal folks in this country and of the Totem Indians, of Alaska. The steamer Tacoma and Kennedy will be chartered.

The Modern Way to Heat Your Home Is With "Gas Fuel Radiators"

No Furnace Cellar, Boiler Room, Coal Bin or Ash Pit Is Required. The Fuel Is Delivered at the Exact Point Needed.

IT IS to your advantage to become familiar with this house heating system. It is automatically controlled by means of thermostats, which always keep the room at just the temperature you desire and in addition prevent the loss which always occurs with other methods through overheating.

The products of combustion are carried out doors and therefore do not come in contact with the air of the room; this makes this method of house heating an ideal ventilating system as well.

The system is being demonstrated at our show rooms.
