A. B. A. MEETING ENDS; VISITING AT BREMERTON

Delegates to the American Bankers' association convention, their wives and families, were enjoying Friday an all-day steamer excursion and outing on Puget sound. The convention was officially adjourned since the Thursday evening, with the executive council favoring Kansas City, Mo., as the next place of meeting.

At 9 o'clock the delegates were taken aboard steamers at Colman dock. They proceeded direct to the Bremerton navy yard, thence to Tacoma, where they were to be entertained until 5 o'clock by bankers of that city, to return here at 6:30.

Ex-President William Howard Taft was tendered an informal reception at the Press club between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Friday.

At noon he addressed the Chamber of Commerce membership at a luncheon at the New Washington hotel.

James K. Lynch of San Francisco was installed Thursday afternoon as president of the association; Peter W. Goebel of Kansas City, Kan., vice president; Fred E. Farnsworth, New York, secretary; W. G. Fitzwillson, New York, assistant secretary; E. M. Winslow, La Crosse, Wis., treasurer, and Thomas B. Paton, New York, general counsel.

Cleveland and Milwaukee, it was announced, would give next year for the 1917 convention.

Praise Wilson

Resolutions were adopted at the final session commending President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing for attempts they have made toward getting a modification of England's, France's and Italy's declaration of cotton as a contraband of war.

A silver service was presented by the association to William A. Law of New York, the retiring president.

Resolutions thanked Seattle and state bankers, Gov. Lister, Mayor Gill and citizens of Seattle for their hospitality this week.

Ex-President Taft was the leading figure of the convention the closing day. He played a spirited game of golf at the Seattle Golf club links Thursday, addressed the convention in the afternoon, and spoke at the banquet of the American Institute of Banking Thursday evening at the Rathskeller.

5TH SEMI-ANNUAL TIE SALE

45c

Ties in the Sketch Are Just a Few of the Patterns

6000 Ties of Rich Heavy Silks

Nothing less than 75c Ties—lots of $1.00 Ties—and hundreds of $1.50 Ties.

Absolutely, honestly and authentically the biggest Tie sale ever held by MacDougall-Southwick—and that is some assertion.

SHAPES: Big open-end shapes with a 10 1/2-inch spread, and cut on the new line which makes them fit in the open-front collars correctly.

COLORS: What color do you want? It does not matter, for every new color, staple color and fancy combination will be found in this tremendous showing. There are even Ties of colors you do not often see—such as burnt orange and river blue, and other new shades.

We are going to sell more Ties tomorrow than we have ever sold before in any one day. The Ties are here, better silks than ever, and better patterns. All we ask is that you come in and see them. You will buy—you can't help it.

PATTERNS: This is another phase quite impossible for us to describe; other than to briefly say that there are ancient and antique scrolls, Persian effects and big designs of flowers and conventional patterns, as well as stripes and checks.

F4 DEAD SENT TO U. S. FOR BURIAL

HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—The 13 submarine recovered from the ill-fated F4 were placed aboard the U. S. steamer Supply yesterday, after simple funeral services, and started on their journey to the United States. The identified four, George T. Ashcroft, Los Angeles; Iva L. Mahan, Lima, O.; Charles E. Wells, Norfolk, Va., and Frank H. Herzog, will be sent to their relatives. The others will be buried in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va.

COURT PAPERS DISAPPEAR IN CASE OF EX-COP

How or where Superior Judge Smith's instructions to the jury that convicted Paul Schuman of accepting money from unfortunate women, vanished from the files in the case, was still an unexplained mystery Friday.

Unless they are found, in compliance with Prosecutor Lundin's demand that they be returned, the Schuman verdict of guilty may be reversed by the supreme court.

Substitute instructions alleged to be faulty in vital parts are now before the supreme court. Affidavits of deputy clerks of the superior court say that Attorney John F. Dore, attorney for Schuman, caused the substitution. He indignantly denies this.

DR. L. R. CLARK
What You Want Is the Best Dental Service for the Least Money

And here is the office that offers you just that.

And here are the REASONS WHY this is true:

In the first place we employ at this office only the very highest type of graduates, registered dentists, men who know the dental business thoroughly, and have demonstrated that fact to the state dental board by passing its examination. Every operator in this office has graduated from the best dental colleges, and has passed the examination of the state dental board. Each and every operator in this office has his certificate from the state dental board hanging right on the wall in front of his dental chair, in plain sight of all.

We use the best of materials to be had that will turn out work that will stand up and give you lasting satisfaction—the kind of work that we can afford to go behind with our ironclad guarantee. And we DO guarantee each piece of work that leaves this office with a written guarantee, signed not only by the operator who did the work, but also by L. R. Clark, D. D. S., owner and manager of this office. This guarantee means that if, for any reason, your work does not give entire satisfaction, we will make it right.

You are sure of getting the very lowest prices here, as a plain rule with this office from which we will permit no deviation that we will not be underbid on price. Our work is pleasing and satisfying our patients so well that as a consequence our business has grown so rapidly that we have just been compelled to double the size of our offices. The work is being rushed to completion as fast as possible, and we will then have, beyond question, the most up-to-date and best equipped dental office in the Northwest.

TEETH PULLED FREE each morning from 8:30 to 10 to demonstrate our painless methods.

GERMANY WON'T PAY INDEMNITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Tension over the torpedoing of the Arabic and Hesperian was partly revived today. The administration was known to be disappointed over Germany's note in the Arabic case made public last night.

Its disavowal of liability for reparation for American lives lost aboard the Arabic and hence inferentially, also for Lusitania victims, presented a fresh dispute which may embarrass settlement of the submarine controversy.

Prospects were that America's reply to the Arabic note will sharply indicate displeasure at Germany's new stand.

The German note, while expressing regret that lives were lost in the Arabic torpedoing, justified the commander's action on the ground that he anticipated from the Arabic's movement that she intended ramming him.

Suggests Hague

Despite this "regret," Germany maintained it was unable "to acknowledge any obligation to grant indemnity in the matter, even if the commander should have been mistaken as to the aggressive intentions of the Arabic."

In event of failure of the two governments to reach a "harmonious opinion on this point," Germany suggested the differences of opinion be submitted to The Hague tribunal for arbitration.

COURT SCORES DE BIT AND DENIES CHILD TO GERBERS

"Dr." Ralph M. De Bit, fount of Seattle's Yoga cult, was still wincing Friday from the verbal lashing administered him by Superior Judge Dykeman, when the latter, late Thursday, decided the guardianship of little Areal Gerber in favor of neither Dr. Rudolph H. Gerber, the father, nor "Isona De Bit" Gerber, the mother.

Judge Dykeman placed the 6-year-old daughter of the Gerbers, for whose custody the parents have been fighting for weeks, in the hands of the juvenile court until one or the other of the parents proves worthy of protecting her.

Calls De Bit "Villain"

"I believe you are the villain in this case," declared Judge Dykeman, addressing the Yogi "doctor," who has attended every day's court proceedings in the Gerber's tangled case.

De Bit, who is awaiting trial with Mrs. Gerber on a statutory charge, did not flinch visibly, but sat staring at the wall back of the court's head.

"You testified here that you met this woman and threw the cloak of protection about her because of her husband, and that your relations with her were those of a friend and protector. Your statements are absurd.

A striking dialogue between Superior Judge Dykeman and Mrs. "Isona De Bit" Gerber occurred when the court addressed her regarding her associations with "Dr." Ralph M. De Bit, the Yogi, in juvenile court Thursday afternoon, just before he refused her the guardianship of her daughter, Areal.

"As for you, Mrs. Gerber," said the court, "I cannot impress too strongly upon you the necessity of conducting yourself as to prove satisfactorily that you are entitled to care for this little girl."

"I—I don't understand," she sobbed.

"I mean you must drop all your present compromising relationships," declared Dykeman.

"I will, your honor," the woman said.

"Instead of helping her, I believe you took advantage of her sorrowful relations with her husband for your own selfish ends."

Judge Dykeman advised Mrs. Gerber that she must break off her "compromising relationships" in order to prove to the court her willingness to care for her daughter.

The woman wept bitterly and promised the court she would do as he suggested.

Dr. Gerber, who followed his wife here from San Francisco in order to gain possession of his offspring, and found them living in the Yoga colony, which De Bit founded across Lake Washington, was plainly disappointed when Judge Dykeman announced that the little girl would remain a ward of the court, but accepted the situation calmly.

Other Trial Pending

Mrs. Gerber's divorce suit, begun here before Dr. Gerber located her, has been stricken from the court records. It was shown she had not yet established a legal residence in this state.

Both the Yogi and Mrs. Gerber, whom he named "Isona De Bit" when she became a member of the Yoga colony, are under $1,500 bonds to appear for trial soon on the statutory charge made by the state.

LARGE TIMBER DEALS GO THRU

By the acquisition of 98,000,000 feet of timber on the Olympic forest reserve, the Snow Creek Logging Co. of Seattle has brought its standing timber up to a volume which will keep its camps running 15 years, according to G. H. Webb, president of the company. The company got the timber on a bid of $1.70 a thousand for Western red cedar, $1.15 for Douglas fir, and 50 cents for hemlock and amabilis fir. The purchase represents a total expenditure of $160,000, says Webb. The timber adjoins present holdings of the company in Clallam county.

Another timber deal of large proportions is pending at Chehalis, with George F. Stone and James Barnes of Seattle, representing Eastern capital. This transaction involves about $40,000, and is on timber in eastern Lewis county, near Morton.

WOMEN JURORS LEAVE BENCH TO AID FAINTING GIRL

When several women jurors rushed to the aid of Miss Mayme Lee, 18, who is suing John C. Michaels, proprietor of the New York lunch, for $18,000 damages for personal injuries, when she fainted on the witness stand in Judge Jurey's court, Michaels' attorneys moved for a dismissal of the case. It was denied. The girl fainted twice. She alleges she was knocked down by Michaels' auto November 1, 1914.

BARK ENDS TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 10.—Completing a voyage around the world, the Russian bark Endymion, Capt. A. E. Gustafsson, is in port, after a hazardous voyage of 120 days from Adelaide. The vessel met fierce gales, which laid her on her beam ends and threatened to capsize her. She left here two years ago and has made the world voyage in that time.
