

GET THE STAR'S WORLD'S SERIES RETURNS AT SECOND AND SENECA

INSTANTANEOUS bulletins of every detail of play in the world's series by a special leased wire from the press stands of the Philadelphia and Boston ball parks will be posted and megaphoned at The Star bulletin board, at both entrances to Piper & Taft's sporting goods house, 1117 Second ave., and on Seneca st.

Progress of the play in each inning, down to the most minute detail, will be given the moment it happens. A direct wire, from the other side of the continent, kept clear during the game, makes possible the swiftest service obtainable. A universal high-powered telephone, installed thru the courtesy of Piper & Taft, which increases the volume of the human voice so that it will carry for blocks, will be used in megaphoning each play as it is made. Come early and get standing room. Second and Seneca! Remember! The game should start about 10:30 a. m., Seattle time. A special effort will be made to announce the batteries before any one else in the city. Also watch for The Star's baseball extras daily during the series, on the streets one minute after the game, with complete account and a box score.

WORLD'S SERIES STARTS FRIDAY

And The Star will be Johnny-on-the-spot with a full story of the game, ahead of any other Seattle newspaper. Watch for the Baseball Extra. It will be out one minute after the closing inning of the game every day.

PRESIDENT WILSON TO BE MARRIED IN DECEMBER

TEUTONS INVADE SERBIA

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The long-expected Austro-German drive thru the Balkans began today when Teutonic hordes swept across the Save, Danube and Drina rivers into Serbia. Official announcement of this action was followed by optimistic predictions on Germany's part that the move means decisive victories for her armies and a speedy end of the vast European struggle. No word came as to what the Bulgarian forces had done, but it was believed they had already entered Serbia in an effort to bottle up that nation by cutting off her railway communication with the outside world. This view was strengthened by the fact that the Greek minister at Sofia reported several days ago that Bulgaria would invade Serbia simultaneously with her Austro-German cohorts. At any rate, war on Bulgaria, either thru declarations or direct action within a few hours, is a foregone conclusion. Bulgaria knows it and her official government organ today warned the populace that the explosion is imminent.

GREECE WARNED

ATHENS, Oct. 7.—The allies today notified Greece that all merchandise consigned thru Greece to Bulgaria will be treated as contraband and confiscated.

RAIN PREDICTED FOR THE OPENER

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—With the beginning of the grand finale of the baseball season only a few hours away, the baseball world is comparatively quiet. The dreary prediction of the weather man that rain probably would upset the "best laid plans of mice and men" has had the effect of holding the baseball fever to normal temperature. As the result of Manager Pat Moran's decision yesterday to wind up the Phillies' end of the National league season with a double-header with the Dodgers, the Quakertown team today had a brief respite before going into the first game of the world's series tomorrow.

An Indian Princess

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—When Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in December, the White House will have as its first lady an American Indian princess by descent, who can rightfully lay claim to having "royal blood" in her veins—the blood of Pocahontas. The president's bride-to-be is proud of the fact that she is a descendant in the ninth generation of the Indian heroine who wedded John Rolfe, Jamestown, Va., colonist, after she had saved Capt. John Smith's life.

SLASH CHARITY FUND IN BUDGET

Commissioners Reduce Estimate but Boost Salary of Department Head.

HE ALSO GETS AN AUTO

When the county commissioners finished paring the budget appropriation asked for by Charity Commissioner Callaghan, Thursday, it was merely a vagary of its former self. They slashed nearly every item, and finally reduced it to a sum $2,665 lower than the 1915 allowance. Callaghan's salary, however, was raised to $2,100 a year, and he was allowed an automobile, for which $1,135 was appropriated. He was denied a statistical secretary at $1,500 a year and two district workers for the winter at $960.

He asked for three district assistants and was allowed two at $90 a month. He was allowed one stenographer, of two asked for, at $90 a month. The item of dry goods and groceries, for which he asked $40,000, was cut to $35,000, rent was reduced from $3,500 to $2,500 and transportation was cut from $4,000 to $3,000. In the county hospital estimate the salary of County Physician Lyons was made $1,800 a year. He was denied two orderlies asked for at $480 a year. Commissioner Carrigan said the commissioners had practically agreed not to cut the appropriations asked for various charitable institutions. These amount to $23,420. The juvenile detention home was allowed $6,320, without alteration. The mothers' pension commissioner was allowed $300 increase in salary a year. Sheriff Hodge is to have two new autos, sanctioned by the county commissioners in the 1916 budget, their cost to come out of $5,000 allowed the sheriff for traveling expenses. The salary of Dr. D. M. Stone, jail physician, was raised from $900 to $1,500 a year.

SHE IS 38, PRETTY, RICH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The nation is to have a new first lady. She will be Mrs. Norman Galt, of this city, a charming widow of 38, member of a fine Southern family. Her engagement to President Woodrow Wilson was announced last night.

The wedding, planned for early in December, will be the third nuptial event in the White House since Wilson's inauguration.

The executive mansion today was swamped with congratulatory messages for the president. Cabinet heads and others in intimate touch with the president personally expressed their good wishes.

The president, 59 years old, has been a widower 14 months. Until a few months ago, he observed strict mourning.

Lived Life of Solitude His first social activities were at Cornish, N. H., where Mrs. Galt was the house guest of his daughter. A few weeks ago he attended his first theatre performance in more than a year.

In the months since his first wife's death, the executive had been a man of solitude. Then Mrs. Galt, a widow for eight years, with no children, came suddenly into his life and his intimates noted a change. It is expected the president and his bride will take a brief voyage on the presidential yacht Mayflower to some Southern resort.

Mrs. Galt, formerly Edith Bolting of Virginia, is the widow of Norman Galt, who was partner in a prominent jewelry firm here. At the time of her husband's death she received $250,000.

REDUCE MINIMUM

OLYMPIA, Oct. 7.—An order of the public service commission is today on file, reducing the minimum charge for gas in Seattle to 25 cents a month. The Seattle Lighting Co. has been charging 50 cents, and tho it had agreed some months ago to the 25-cent rate, it failed to live up to its agreement with the city, and requested the commission for permission to charge the higher rate. The order is to become effective October 26.

STAR REPORTER PAYS VISIT TO LOAN SHARKS; A LESSON IN FINANCE

BEWARE! THESE ARE LOAN SHARKS

- Eastern Brokerage Co., 207 Northern Bank and Trust building.
- James & Co., 227 People's Bank building.
- F. A. Newton, 208 People's Bank building.
- Warner Loan Co., 329 People's Bank building.
- State Security Co., 312 Mehlhorn building.
- People's Loan & Investment Co., 521 Northern Bank building.
- Evans & Co., 434 Epler block.
- National Loan & Investment Co., 203 Epler block.

Even the loan sharks themselves do not deny they are hard masters.

A reporter for The Star yesterday made the rounds of the office of the sharks. Three of them advised, in conversation, that it is well to give them a wide berth. He asked if he could borrow $25 for three months from the People's Loan & Investment Co., located at 521 Northern Bank building.

The man behind the counter informed him he could, easily.

"How much will it cost?" the reporter inquired.

"You repay the company at the rate of $10.40 a month for three months," was the reply. "Pretty high," commented the would-be borrower. "I guess I'll stay at home tonight, and be a good dog, and save my money."

"Well," was the rejoinder. "If you don't absolutely have to have it, it is best to leave us alone," said the clerk. "Hard to Fool Them At the Warner Loan Co., 329 People's Bank building, the reporter was informed by the woman in charge that he had best not "try to fool" the loan companies. He had intimated that he might prevaricate in order to secure a loan without the trouble of having another party sign his note, and she said, "It isn't so easy to slip it over on the loan companies, I'll tell you that. You can't fool them."

Borrow $25; Pay Back $32 Max Freed, who manages the office of the National Loan & Investment Co., 203 Epler block, told the reporter that the rates charged were "pretty high," and advised him to take a chattel loan, by which he could secure easier rates. The National Loan & Investment Co. will loan the victim $25, if he agrees to repay at the rate of $4 a week for eight weeks. You can borrow the same amount from F. A. Newton, a loan shark at 208 People's Bank building, by contracting to pay it back at the rate of $1.35 a week for six months. High Interest Asked For a $25 loan, the State Security Co., 312 Mehlhorn building, asks interest at the rate of $2.75 a month. James & Co., 227 People's Bank building, will loan you $25 for a return of $2.75 a week for 12 weeks. For $30, in repayments of $2.50 each week, Evans & Co., 434 Epler block, will grant you a $22.50 loan.

According to law, such exorbitant rates are usury. A running gun duel was fought in the lower part of town at 2:30 Thursday morning between Patrolman J. J. Riley and an unknown suspect. Neither was injured. Riley spotted a gun in the pocket of one of two men who passed the Astor hotel, Maynard and Washington st. He called on them to halt. They started to run. He ran after them, and one of the men turned and fired at him with the rest of autumn. One of the men ran into an alley, and the patrolman followed, he again fired. Riley returned the fire but lost his man in the darkness. He then sounded an alarm and an auto load of police hurried from headquarters. Sergeant Comstock and Officer T. E. Keefe arrested Nick Karis, in the alley between Maynard and Sixth, but he was released after Riley had failed to identify him. The police incline to the belief that the pair are the same who shot Officer Ed Hagen several nights ago at the end of the Madrona park car line.

SEEK MISSING BOY

Police and detectives today began a state-wide search for Theodore Heddingren, 10, who has been missing since Sunday, when he left home, 1627 1/2 Terry ave., to attend Sunday school. His mother is worried to distraction. The boy has a scar on his nose, and when he disappeared he wore a double-breasted coat, dark pants and a gray cap.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY SENDS BIRTHDAY MESSAGE TO THE STAR

HERE'S RILEY'S MESSAGE TO READERS OF THIS PAPER Editor The Star, Seattle, Wash. Dear Sir: In answer to your request, may I greet your readers with the enclosed lines? Very sincerely and faithfully yours: James Whitcomb Riley

SEASON hales of the year! Show the zestful atmosphere Nettles blood and brain and smites Into life the old delights We have wasted in our youth, And our graver years, forsooth! How again the boyish heart Leaps to see the chipmunk start From the brush and sleek the sun's Very beauty, as he runs! How again a subtle hint Of crushed pennyroyal or mint Sends us on our knees, as when We were t'uant boys of ten, Brown marauders of the wood, Merrier than Robin Hood!

James Whitcomb Riley—Indiana's famed poet—has another birthday. He is 62 today. In response to The Star's request, Poet Riley has sent a message of greeting specially to its readers—a brand new poem of best wishes and cheer that fairly tingles with the zest of autumn. It was written in a happy, retrospective mood, for "Hoosier Jim," after some years of illness, has found health once more and "feels like a boy again." In reply, let every reader of The Star sit down—now—and address birthday greetings to him—just to show how much we love this gentle poet laureate of the American people. Write him a letter or a postcard, or, if you wish, send him a telegram wishing him many happy returns of the day. Just address your message this way: "James Whitcomb Riley, 'Lockerie St., Indianapolis, Ind.'" It isn't necessary to put down the number, for Lockerie st. is Riley. He loves it and always has loved it—for once he wrote: "Such a dear little street it is, nestled From the noise of the city and heat of the day, In cool, shady covert of whispering trees, With their leaves lifted up to shake hands with the breeze, Which in all its wide wanderings never may meet With a restful place fairer than Lockerie street."

SEND TELEGRAM TO RILEY Sixty-seven former Indians of Seattle signed a congratulatory telegram to James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, whose birthday is Thursday. It bears jiving greetings to "Jim, the jolliest, wittiest, story-tellin', song-singin', laughin'est, jolliest feller you ever saw." It was sent to Riley at his home in Indianapolis.

SUIT DISMISSED

By agreement of both parties, the $30,000 libel suit brought by Attorney Will H. Thompson against the Times was dismissed in superior court, a compromise having been made, which Thompson said Thursday was entirely satisfactory to himself. The suit involved practically the same allegations thru which R. H. Thomson, former city engineer, obtained a $15,000 judgment against the newspaper recently.

STEAMER SUNK

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Dutch steamer Texelstroom has been sunk by a German submarine. Twenty survivors were landed.

TEACHES CREW OF 'SUBS'

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 7.—The submarines Iquique and Antofagasta were purchased in Seattle after the outbreak of war and were taken away contrary to international law, and by an American crew, under command of a Captain Smith, supposed to be a United States navy officer. Victoria was stirred over testimony to this effect during the inquiry by Sir Charles Davidson, Dominion commissioner, into the purchase of the two vessels by Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia. Outwitted United States The fact was disclosed by the premier, who apparently delighted in the part he had played in outwitting the United States. Premier McBride, in telling of this, hastened to add that Smith was not on the active list during the time he made the voyage from Seattle and during the time he stayed at Esquimalt, instructing Canadian seamen in submarine work. While no decision was given by Sir Charles Davidson, it is generally understood that a verdict freeing the prime minister from all suggestion of graft in connection with the purchase will be rendered. Testimony offered by J. V. Paterson, of the Seattle Construction and Dry Dock Co., from whom the two submarines were purchased, which resulted in Paterson's being reprimanded by Sir Charles, appeared to be an expression of indignation that a suspicion of graft should fall on the premier's shoulders. "That is how we look at it in the United States, a perfect outrage!" he is reported to have said. "And if this inquiry has any part in it of political animus or dirty political tricks, I would have nothing to do with it. We in our country would deal more rapidly with any one who would raise a question of that kind, no matter what."

J. V. Paterson denied Thursday that any significance was attached to the part Capt. Smith played in taking the submarines to British Columbia. "Capt. Smith was not an army officer. He was for a time a student at Annapolis. He was acting merely as a servant for my company. He had nothing to do with the negotiations. I do not know where he is now. I think he is out of the country."
