HOW TO EDUCATE YOUR CHILD

Don't Beat Your Child to Make It Behave—Call Upon the Fairies of Imagination—Use Candies and Sweets; It Works Like Magic—Too Many Parents Confuse LYING and MAKE-BELIEVE.

WINIFRED SACKVILLE STONER
Exponent of Natural Education
By "fairies" we mean imagination.

Without the divine gift of imagination, life would be hardly worth living. It is the fairies who whisper even to grown-ups, telling them to do good deeds; inspiring them to purposeful ambition.

We cannot build a ship, paint a picture or write a book without the aid of these dear little sprites. We should therefore encourage them to be a very profound influence in the molding of child character.

THOU "FAIRIES," THE MOTHER MAY KEEP THE ROD OUT OF THE HOME.

I have always used the help of these little imagination sprites to keep Winifred, my daughter, from being naughty.

This was my system:
I began putting coffee beans and lemons under her pillow at night. Then, if she had been good that day, Titania, queen of the fairies, would visit her during the night and change the coffee beans and lemons to chocolate drops and sweet oranges.

If, on the other hand, Winifred were naughty, Titania did not visit her pillow.

Naturally, she tried to be good and receive a reward from the dear little fairy.

I have tried this experiment with many children, and it HAS ALWAYS WORKED LIKE MAGIC.

In place of the chocolate drops and oranges, other dainties the child craves can be substituted. The idea is to hold out some reward to inspire them to be good and to behave, rather than govern them by threats of punishment. I believe thoroughly in offering rewards for goodness.

BY ALL MEANS, KEEP THE LITTLE FAIRY INTEREST ALIVE AND IN THE SCHOOLROOM. For when we down the fairies of imagination, we lose the best thing in life.

AND REMEMBER, TOO, THAT A CHILD WHO IS ALLOWING ITS IMAGINATION FREE PLAY IS NOT LYING. There is a distinct difference between childish make-believe and LYING, altho too many parents confuse the two, thus representing the dramatic imagery of the kiddies, which plays such a big part in education and character building.

Corporal punishment is a relic of barbarism and NEVER does the child any good. Employ fairies and rewards instead!

MAN WHO BLEW UP BARGE FOUND

British Consul Agassiz Announces Rearrest of Tacoma Suspect

Secret Service Operative Howick of Seattle was endeavoring Thursday to trace the movements of a man named Brown, alias Louis J. Smith, now under arrest in a Middle Western city, on the theory that he planned and probably executed a plot which resulted in the explosion of a barge-load of dynamite here last May.

The explosion rocked the city, smashing windows and causing more than $100,000 worth of damage along the water front. The barge, which was moored in Elliott bay, was demolished.

Brown, or Smith, was arrested in Tacoma the day following the explosion and certain evidence pointed strongly to his knowledge of the explosion.

He was released, however, but was rearrested Wednesday. It is said, British Vice Consul Agassiz, who reported the arrest, has declined to give additional details. It is believed he is held in connection with the anti-ally plot unearthed in the East.

ROOT ALL RIGHT NOW; O. K'D BY TAFT

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Following Congressman Mann's endorsement of Eilhu Root as republican presidential candidate, Root had another prominent backer today in former President Taft. The latter told newspapermen Root answers the 1916 presidential requirements.

Taft also is on record in favor of military preparedness.

LEGISLATURE MAY BE ASKED TO AID CITY

Social workers of Seattle, who have been urging the city and county to establish a detention home for women on the city's farm at Kent, are considering, Thursday, the suggestion of Corporation Counsel Bradford that a law be drafted for submission to the legislature, to be patterned after the juvenile act, and to authorize the city to establish institutions outside the city limits. Bradford said Wednesday that under present conditions the city has no authority to establish such a home as is proposed.

RUMMAGE SALE PROFITS ARE $3,000

Three thousand dollars in three days, collected for charity at the rummage sale in the Hippodrome, is the result of the work of the Charity Organization society. Wednesday night's crowd packed the pavilion even to the galleries, and Auctioneer Joe Martin had every salable article cleaned out early. Miss Dorothy Terry and Douglas Peachy did a specialty dance. Mrs. A. S. Taylor, general director, said the sale would clear $3,000 over all expenses.

SAVIDGE URGES LOGGED-OFF LAND LAWS

State Land Commissioner Savidge spoke before the Central Labor council Wednesday night on logged-off lands. More legislation tending to make the settlement of such lands easier for people of the state, who should be given preference over outsiders, he said, was needed.

PORTLAND WOMAN HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

PORTLAND, Nov. 11.—Another alleged arsonist is under indictment by the grand jury today. Mrs. Daisy Miller is charged with burning her home, last November, for the insurance money.

DECLARES IMMORAL WOMEN WERE "PLANTED"

PORTLAND, Nov. 11.—Alleging she had reason to believe that immoral women were "planted" in her rooming house, the Van Gorder hotel, to furnish grounds for raids, Mrs. R. A. Burnett has today filed suit for $25,000 against the Portland police department moral squad. Mrs. Burnett declares that the two raids on her establishment have injured her business and reputation.

DISCOVERS A FINE WAY TO MAKE MONEY

PORTLAND, Nov. 11.—That he stole two pianos and sold and traded them until his profits reached $100 was the confession of Charles Farnham, a moving picture operator, made to the police today.

The pianos were in a movie theatre that had gone out of business. Farnham hired a transfer man to put them in storage, and after 20 days began a series of barbers by which he disposed of them.

SADIE TELLS HOW SHE LANDED IN JAIL

Sadie Armour, an elderly woman, was in Justice Brinker's court Wednesday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. This is the story she told:

A long time ago she became a drug fiend, following a sickness. She became so addicted to it she used as high as 24 grains a day. Then she began treating under a physician's direction, and reduced her daily portion to one grain. But the physician was called to California on a case, and a friend told her that whisky was a good substitute for drugs.

"So I went on a car ride and took a little liquor with me," said the narrator. "When I got home the people next door were playing 'Where the River Shannon Flows,' and, being of an Irish turn myself, and feeling good, I clapped my hands. Then they invited me over, and they played some more music. I dozed off in an easy chair. When I awoke I was in jail!"

Justice Brinker turned her over to relatives, who will take her into the country, on their farm.

HOLDS MANN LAW CLAUSE IS NOT LEGAL

Federal Judge Neterer has knocked out one clause of the Mann act as unconstitutional, holding that Alberna Lombardo, 670 1/2 Weller st., could not be called to account for failure to report a matter incriminating herself.

A murderer to an indictment charging her with not having reported to the immigration authorities that she was harboring an immoral person was sustained, and the ground that "it is beyond the power of congress to penalize the failure to give a statement which is self-incriminatory."

FEDERATION SEATS JAP DELEGATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—For the first time in its 35 years of history, the American Federation of Labor has seated two Japanese as fraternal delegates.

One of them, addressing the delegates, outlined the struggle between reactionaries and progressives in Japan, and expressed the hope that the Japanese labor movement, now three years old, will be as firmly entrenched in Japan as the American Federation of Labor is in America when it has reached the latter's age.

Vice-President Duncan before the alteration of the seamen's law. Another resolution favoring creation of an American merchant marine will also be submitted.
