

WHAT sort of a dress did your wife have on this morning at breakfast? Quick, men, what's the answer? Aha! You don't know. Well, that's one of the six questions you've got to be able to answer right off-hand if you're going to be a model husband. The Star called on Mayor Gill, and Judge Burke, and a lot of men yesterday. Most of them couldn't qualify. Read about it, in today's paper.

Man and Wife Live as Adam and Eve

By Fred L. Boalt

Personally, I like this idea of two jailbird teams meeting on the football gridiron.

We do not wholly understand these men, nor they us, but we know them better than we once did. In other years we threw them in dungeons when they broke our laws, secured them with chains and let them rot.

It did not cure them.

Now we give them jails somewhat more comfortable, and a modicum of freedom. And now, by virtue of kindly authority, they are permitted to organize football teams and give a public exhibition of their prowess and sportsmanship.

Not in anger, on Thanksgiving morning, will the hand of the murderer be clenched. The clutching fingers of Danny the Dip will grasp, not a purse, but a pigskin. William Sykes, the well-known burglar, and Jonathan Yegg, the eminent strong-arm artist, have had their sessions with the police, but never have they employed more violence against their enemies than they will use on Thanksgiving day, when they buck the line.

But there will be no anger in their violence; only sportsmanship and an honest desire to win—for the honor of the tank!
 Curious it is that these men should be fired by the same spirit that animates the young stalwarts of high school and college, who perform prodigies of strength, endurance, fleetness and strategy for the honor and glory of their institutions.

I have before me a letter from Mr. C. Mapes, the center-rush of the North Tank team, who is serving 90

Invite Governor of Colorado to Game

Members of the North and East Tank football teams of the county jail have issued invitations to attend the game at Dugdale's park Thanksgiving morning to GOVERNOR CARLSON of Colorado, who will be here to see the Colorado-U. of W. game in the afternoon.
 PRESIDENT HENRY SUZZALLO of Washington university.
 COACH GILMOUR DOBIE.
 The members of the "Twin Beds" company, at the Moore theatre, and of the "Daddy Long-Legs" company, at the Metropolitan theatre, have accepted invitations and will be there in force.

days for theft. It is somewhat stiff and formal in tone, addressing me as "sir."
 "Thru The Star, we, the inmates of the county jail, invite the whole of the population of King county and the surrounding counties to attend the football game at Dugdale's park, at 10 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving day."
 An admission of 25 cents will be charged. Not much, considering how unique will be the occasion.
 If my correspondent in his opening paragraph is a bit stilted, he warms up to his subject about page 2:
 "We want the public to know we are not necessarily vicious because we were unfortunate enough to become felons."
 "We want to show you that, had we been given a proper chance when young, we might be among your leading citizens today, or even mighty gridiron heroes."
 Well, it may be so. I for one am glad to throw men into dungeons nowadays and load them with chains and let them rot.
 It was difficult to decide what to do with the proceeds of the game. We tried to leave it to Sheriff Hodge, and Hodge passed the buck to Jailer Halley. And Halley passed it on to the men themselves.
 The men voted to give it all to the players' wives and children who need it most. It will come in handy for Christmas.

WOMAN WHO LAYS DOWN RULES FOR FINDING A MODEL

Mrs. Victor Morley, who says she has the model husband.

MAN, ARE YOU GOOD HUBBY? ANSWER THESE!

Mayor Gill, Judge Burke, Dr. Matthews and Many Others Fall Down on Reporter's Questions

TEST PASSED BY BRYAN

WHO'S a model husband? It's a cinch Victor Morley is. Morley was saying the wedding ceremony backwards on the rear of the Orpheum stage, just before the first act, Monday afternoon.
 "I wouldn't have a man that couldn't do that," declared Mrs. Morley, who is Carol Parsons on the stage. "A man that can't do that, and a lot more, is not a model husband. Keep him busy that way, and he isn't out much with the chickens."
 Mrs. Morley says a model husband should be able to answer, off-hand, the following six questions:
 (1) What day is your wedding anniversary?
 (2) What is your wife's birthday?
 (3) What dress did your wife wear at breakfast?
 (4) Give a recipe for some food.
 (5) Give the price of butter and eggs.
 (6) Can you sew on a button in two minutes?
 Morley can do it.
 "I'm proud to say," said Mrs. Morley, "that I have the most model husband in America."
 Twenty minutes later the reporter was calling the prominent husbands of Seattle on the phone.
 "We're hunting for a model husband," he told Judge Burke, president of the Chamber of Commerce. "Let's see if you can qualify. What day is your wedding anniversary?"
 "Easy," said the judge. "October 6."
 "What's your wife's birthday?"
 "May 8."
 "What dress did she wear at breakfast?"
 "Well, well! That's more than I can tell."
 Then he found a way out.
 "We ate separately this morning," he said.
 "Give a recipe for some food," the reporter remorselessly continued.
 "No. Not a blessed bit of food. I'm the poorest cook in the world, but a good hand to eat."
 On butter and egg prices the judge showed amazing ignorance.
 Could he sew on a button in two minutes? No, he could not—without calling in the doctor.
 "I'm known as a hard customer

EMPLOYES OF STATE ENGAGED IN SMUGGLING?

OLYMPIA, Nov. 23.—The industrial insurance commission was in conference for an hour today with former Police Chief Hall, investigating Hall's statements that employees in the department have figured in what is believed to be a gigantic opium smuggling ring, in connection with the looting of state industrial insurance road funds aggregating more than $15,000.
 Hall named two men in the department as members of the opium ring.
 U. S. District Marshal Hoyle and Special Agent Hamer, of the treasury department, were today notified of Hall's statements and have begun an investigation on behalf of the federal government.
 No charges against any officer have as yet been made. A successor to John P. Gillies, chief claim agent, will be picked from the office force, it is said. Gillies was dismissed last yesterday.
 The opium story was offered today by former Police Chief Hall, deposited recently, and now in jail on a graft charge connected with another case.
 Hall declares that the opium is loaded aboard the fishing boats, ostensibly engaged in smelt sealing, and is transported to Boston harbor, and thence by automobile to Olympia, where it is disposed of.

CORONER PLANS THORO INQUIRY IN MINE BLAST

Miners' union officials and State Mine Inspector Bagley have made a thoro inspection of the Northwest Improvement Co.'s mine at Ravensdale, where 31 men met death last week, and are ready to testify before the coroner's jury.
 Coroner Mason intends that the jury shall visit all the workings of the mine, and owing to the gaseous condition of the lower levels, will probably not call the jury till Friday.
 Total donations to date for the relief of the victims' families are $2,603.12. Children of the Queen Anne Congregational Sunday school gave $3.12. It is suggested that Sunday schools all over the city take up the matter next Sunday.
 All checks should be made out to the Ravensdale Relief Fund, and should be addressed to Room 15, Labor Temple.
 A great mass meeting is being planned at Dreamland next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Joe Schermer has given the hall. The Musicians' union will furnish music. John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers, who will be in the city, will make the address of the evening.
 Officials of this district of the mine workers, who aided in the rescue and relief work at Ravensdale, will tell of conditions. A collection is to be taken up for the Ravensdale families.

CAPT. BOY-ED IS NAMED IN TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Naval Attaché Boy-Ed, of the German embassy, was named directly today in the Hamburg-American steamship officials' plot to supply German commerce raiders.
 With the jury finally picked, Assistant District Attorney Wood, in outlining the case, said Boy-Ed claimed a fund of $750,000 was to be deposited with the firm of Eschen & Kullback, a Hamburg bank.
 Of this amount, $600,000 was sent to San Francisco for Pacific coast activities, he said.
 The deposit was made in August, 1914, by a "higher-up" whom Wood said, the government had been unable to identify.

TEARING THE BRASS BUTTONS OFF WAR!

SEATTLE MAY BE CHIEF PORT OF ENTRY

Strong arguments favoring establishing at Seattle a single port of entry for Oriental immigrants, and abolishing all other Northern entry points, including those at Vancouver, B. C., and along the Canadian boundary, as well as the main office at Montreal, were being presented here Tuesday before Immigration Commissioner General Campnetti, John B. Denmore, solicitor of the federal department of labor, and Assistant Immigration Commissioner James L. Hughes.
 Rev. Dr. M. A. Matthews presented the arguments, which were endorsed by numerous railway officials present at the conference, held in the United States district court.
 By adoption of the plans presented, the immigration department, it was contended, will put an end to much of the smuggling of Chinese over the international line, a matter which has been a constant source of trouble to the department for years.
 Seattle then would be the only port on the northern border of the nation at which Orientals could legally enter the United States.
 Transportation companies are behind the plan.
 With the establishing of a single port of entry here, the railroads practically would be assured all traffic of immigrants bound to points inland.
 Dr. Matthews was interested in the plan from the standpoint of patriotism, he said, and because he believed much of the smuggling could be stopped.

MAN MAKES BED IN KIDS' PLAYHOUSE

APPEALS WILL BE WIRED HIM

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The cries of the nation's mothers, feeling for the anguish of Europe's mothers, soon will echo in the White House in a peace plea, perhaps the greatest organized movement thus far undertaken.
 The women's peace party today sent out to presidents and vice presidents of women's clubs 10,000 telegrams in which they urged members to wire the White House, asking the president to call a conference of neutral nations to end the war.
 The pleas will be in the name of the mothers of the world. Directors of the movement believe it will result in the greatest telegraphic bombardment President Wilson has ever experienced.
 Mrs. Henry Ford of Detroit contributed $10,000 for sending out the messages, which are signed by Jane Adams of Hull House, Chicago, as president of the peace party.

DREADNAUGHT SUNK

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A Rotterdam report that one of Germany's newest dreadnaughts has been mined and sunk in the Baltic lacks official confirmation.
 The Daily Mail's report said all but 33 of the crew were saved.
 The dreadnaught is said to be one of three 30,000-ton vessels, the largest in the German navy, which were being built when the war broke out.

REPORT GREECE YIELDS

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Greece is believed to have yielded sufficiently to the allies' demands to have obviated the necessity for coercing her. The conclusion is based on the official denial here today that any Greek ships have been seized or held in British ports, or that any blockade of Greece has been established.
 Authorities assume that if Greece had not at least promised to refrain from interference with the allies in the Balkans, the step of blockading her and seizing her ships would have been taken.

BIG GUNS SENT TO TURKEY

BUCHAREST, Nov. 23.—Fourteen hundred carloads of German munitions have been landed at Bulgarian ports on the Danube river for transportation to Constantinople by rail.
 Included in the supplies are two 42-centimeter guns.
 All the munitions came by rail from Germany to Orsova in the northeastern corner of Serbia, and were sent thence by boat down the Danube.
