HERBERT QUICK SAYS:

Government Manufacturer of War Supplies Uncle Sam's Solution

Here is another article in the series on PREPAREDNESS by HERBERT QUICK.

Herbert Quick

Today Quick deals with munitions makers.—Editor.

BY HERBERT QUICK Opponents of military preparedness are in the main among our very best citizens. Active among them are many of my personal friends.

It is no small part of the price one pays for intellectual integrity that it sometimes forces him into disagreement with people with whom he would prefer always to agree.

Especially is an American radical, to one who has done his best in the trenches for a quarter of a century in the fight against privilege and for humanity as against those things which make for economic slavery, this breakup of agreements is a painful—almost a tragic—thing.

It is, however, inevitable. Men who have been Methodists together, for instance, may not agree as to measures for fighting a forest fire. The most that they can ask of each other is fair treatment of each other's views.

The opponents of preparedness are unfair, I think, without meaning to be so in their talk of the influence of the great manufacturers of munitions, makers of war, armor, ships and the like on the present attitude of the people and especially the press.

A great wave of demand for military preparedness has swept over the country.

Hundreds of thousands of people—yes, MILLIONS—who 18 months ago would have opposed any increase in the army or navy ARE NOW FOR BOTH.

It is unfair of those still opposed to deny the sincerity of this change of front. It does not help in the solution of our problems for them to deny it.

Are YOU FOR preparedness?

Then read WHAT QUICK SAYS about it. His arguments will strengthen your own.

Do you think that you are opposed to "preparedness"?

Then read WHAT QUICK SAYS. His reasons will make you think a second time.

Are you indifferent to "preparedness"?

Then read WHAT QUICK SAYS. He will convince you that indifference is a crime.

You can begin to read this series with any article, the sinister influence of the

One would think, to read the utterances of speakers at anti-preparedness meetings, and the writings which appear in their literature, that the American people had been hoodwinked by a venal press hired by interested parties to lay a needless burden on the nation's shoulders.

So far is this from being true that many papers which two years ago were opposed to any military expansion have been brought to a reversal of their policies by a consideration of their readers' views.

The munitions makers and the armorers have always supported a publicity service, I suppose, the I do not know that they have. I have no doubt that they have paid out much money in the past for the purpose of bringing about some such change of opinion as that which has taken place in the minds of the American people. They may and probably still do maintain such a literary bureau.

These activities, however, have had less than nothing to do with the present demand for military preparedness.

If the government were engaged in making all its military supplies, cannon, warships and everything else made by any one for the army and navy, in my opinion the demand for preparedness would be stronger than it now is, and the task of those who want it would be simplified.

ZEP DESTROYED

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 17.—Destruction of a Zeppelin and death of its crew of travelers from Brussels was reported today.

VILLA A PRISONER!

EL PASO, Dec. 17.—Gen. Villa, once proud leader of a dominant Mexican faction, is virtually the prisoner of his generals, facing deposition and possibly deportation. The considering Villa and his campaign a failure, his followers are still determined to make war against Carranza. To this end it is understood they are meeting at Chihuahua to decide whether to continue Villa's leadership or select a successor. Since he arrived at Chihuahua, Wednesday, Villa has been secluded in his home with his "church" wife, Senora Luz Corral de Villa, but has been under the closest watch. Leaders forbade him to attend the council of generals. In addition to considering his future, the council has decided to inaugurate a campaign to the south, besides conducting guerrilla warfare to the north.

WON'T TAKE FORGER'S AFFIDAVIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—If affidavits of "Count" Van Koolbergen, alias Montford, held in Calgary, Alberta, as a land forger, are used against Baron Von Brincken, alleged German bomb plotter, the defense will attempt to discredit Koolbergen's statements. Von Brincken's attorney showed today that this will be the method in at least this one line of attack. That Koolbergen "played both ends against the middle," he has confessed. "That he is a forger is the claim under which the Canadian authorities held him. Hence, the defense will ask a jury to disbelieve him as to alleged employment in making bombs for Von Brincken.

KANSAS WON'T SAY "CHICKEN"

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 17.—Because the word "chicken" is applied frivolously to other than feathered animals, the Kansas State Poultry association hereafter will not use it in referring to its birds. "Fowl" and "bird" will be the only words used.

LOOK FOR THE LAGRIPPE!

Seattle—Beware of la grippe! With hundreds of Seattle people confined to their homes because of it and with reports of an alarming nature coming in from towns throughout the state, extreme precautions are being taken.

At Wenatchee, school children may win a two-week Christmas vacation because of an epidemic of la grippe. Supt. G. E. Brown estimated there were 250 pupils absent Friday because of the gripe. A one-week vacation had been planned, but the la grippe epidemic may cause an extension.

From 75 to 80 pupils have been absent every day from the Chehalis schools, because of la grippe. Closing of the schools was considered for a day or two.

TEDDY WON'T RUN, SAYS BULL MOOSER

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Col. Roosevelt will not permit his name to be presented to any primary, not even the bull moose, nor will he be here during the republican convention, according to Harold Lokes, progressive committeeman, following conference with G. W. Perkins, bull moose leader.

However, an unidentified presidential candidate has reserved the Florentine room at the Congress Hotel, in which Roosevelt held his mass meetings in 1912.

AFTER SWITCHING CHARGES

The long-hoped-for and several-times-promised investigation of Seattle's water front railroad muddle has been begun by the public service commission, following numerous complaints of exorbitant and discriminatory switching charges made by the port commission. The port commissioners are rejoicing Friday over the announcement by E. J. Foreman, agent of the East waterway terminals, that an increase of 1,300,000 cases are in prospect next year for the port's salmon business.

BRIDE'S NIGHT GOWN STOLEN; SUES

LACROE, Wis., Dec. 17.—When one loses her robe du nuit on the wedding night, it's basis for damages. Judge Hunt so ruled, handing down judgment of $68.50 against an expressman, who toted Mrs. Mack Timmerman's baggage and permitted the aforesaid robe to be stolen from his wagon.

DIVORCE HELD SECRET A MONTH

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Dec. 17.—The Mrs. Phyllis Brooks, one of the Langhorne beauties of Virginia, received a divorce a month ago from Reginald Brook of New York, the fact leaked out only today.

GERMAN-AMERICANS AGAINST WILSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—German-Americans will not vote for President Wilson next year; they are strong for Col. Roosevelt. So declares Prof. Hugo Munsterberg in this week's Fatherland. Munsterberg declared it would have been fortunate for America if Roosevelt had been in the White House when the war broke out.

FEAR ANTI-TRUST LAW

NORTH YAKIMA, Dec. 17.—Fear that incorporation would mean violation of the federal antitrust laws has delayed final organization of the Northwest Shippers' league. It has developed here, with the closing of the league meeting
