

The Important Matter of Choosing Your Dentist

Good Teeth necessary to health

"Cheap" dentistry the most expensive

What are "Nature" teeth?

Advice free

There is nothing so important to your health and efficiency as the matter of your teeth. Sound, useful, beautiful teeth should be yours—teeth that enable you to bite, chew and smile in comfort. Decayed teeth cause, not only continual inconvenience, but permanent ill-health. It is your duty to yourself to economize in other ways so that you may secure teeth that look natural, feel natural and perform the functions which Nature allotted to those important members.

Therefore you should choose your dentist with great care. It is poor economy to buy "hazardous teeth." Inferior dentistry—poor materials, little knowledge and less care—costs but little less than the right kind even at the beginning, and certainly is much more expensive in the long run.

We employ only the most modern methods, the greatest care and skill and the best materials. Each individual case is carefully studied. When we fit you with our "Nature teeth" they look, fit and feel like the ones Nature gave you. And you will find our prices no higher than those of ordinary dentists.

Come in and allow us to examine your mouth, advise you and give you our estimate of the cost. This will involve no obligation whatever. Make up your mind now to see to those teeth. Then call, phone or write to us now, making appointment for examination.

"You Suffer No Pain"

ALL WORK GUARANTEED 12 YEARS

Full Sets, Upper or Lower $10 Per Set

EXAMINE THESE PRICES

Full set of Nature Teeth (upper or lower) $10.00

Gold Crowns, per tooth $5.00

Bridge Work, per tooth $5.00

Gold Fillings, per tooth $2.00

Porcelain Fillings, per tooth $1.00

Amalgam Fillings, per tooth $1.00

Painless Extractions, per tooth 50c

Crowns and Bridges $5 Per Tooth

Boston Dentists

1420-22 Second Ave. OPPOSITE BON MARCHE PHONE MAIN 1186

ENGLAND GETS CONSCRIPTION

Cabinet Decides on Measure to 'Make 'Slackers' Fight.

ASQUITH KEEPS POST

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The greatest parliamentary battle in decades was foreshadowed today by the authoritative statement that the government intends to announce a conscription bill.

Lines for and against the measure are being drawn.

Modified form of conscription is planned.

This would provide for forcing into the army unmarried "slackers," in keeping with Premier Asquith's pledge that they would be compelled to do military duty ahead of the married men.

It was reported that the government will exclude Ireland from operation from the measure, in order to escape Irish opposition. Such a course, however, is destined to draw vitriolic attacks from other factions. It is believed the cabinet plans first to draft the unmarried "slackers" without dependents. Later this would be extended to cover all unmarried men, while married men may be called to the colors for a later date if needed.

The cabinet is said not to be a unit in the conscription proposals. The Northcliffe papers reported today that Chancellor of Exchequer McKenna and Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, would resign.

The Times credited the conscriptionist victory to the strong stand made by David Lloyd-George, munitions minister.

The press generally appeared satisfied that what has promised to be a great upheaval would be settled without the retirement of Asquith and Lloyd-George.

It is regarded as likely that makers of munitions, railway men and most of the military would probably be exempted by the new law.

CREW OF SHIP LOST

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The crew of the British steamer Morning, sunk by a submarine, is believed to have been lost.

18 DIE IN WRECK

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—Eighteen soldiers, on furlough, were killed and 47 wounded when the train on which they were homeward bound jumped the track today at Bentzen.

DUTCH TRAWLER MINED

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Three men were killed, three wounded and eight rescued when the Dutch trawler Erin was mined.

TO EVACUATE SCUTARI

SCUTARI, Albania, Dec. 29.—Serbian and Montenegrin troops defending Scutari are preparing to evacuate it within a few days. The Austrians apparently are planning to join the Bulgars between Elbasan and Avlona, where the Italians are concentrated.

WOMAN IS SHOT IN LONELY CABIN

PORTLAND, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Mabel Myers, 19, a bride of a month, is dying at the Good Samaritan hospital today.

Officers are looking for E. B. Kemp, a farm hand, near whose cabin she was found late yesterday. She was shot thru the breast, brutally maltreated, and left lying in a semi-conscious condition.

A rambling letter believed to be from Kemp was delivered to Sheriff Hurlburt at 6:30 p. m. yesterday. This was the first intimation anybody had of the assault.

The letter said a young woman had been assaulted by a tramp, and left in Kemp's cabin. It implored the sheriff to hurry to the scene to save the woman's life.

"I am going to Canada," the writer said. "I don't want the blame."

The sheriff and his deputies found Mrs. Myers painfully dragging herself along the frozen country road, scantily clad and weak from loss of blood.

Kemp is 21. He was recently discharged from the navy at Bremerton.

UNCLE SAM INDORSES OUR MEATS

FRYE'S QUALITY MARKETS

- Thursday Specials:
- Pork Back Bones, 10 lbs. for 25c
  - Choice Loin, 16c
  - Pork Chops, 16c
  - Choice Spare Ribs, 9c
  - Choice Mutton, 15c
  - Chops, 15c
  - Choice Veal Chops, 15c
  - Choice Veal Shoulder Steak, 12c
  - Choice Shoulder, 11c
  - Pork Steak, 11c
  - Fancy Apple Eggs (storage), 30c
  - Favorite Creamery Butter, 2 lbs. for 55c

AT THE FOLLOWING MARKETS:

OLYMPIC MARKET, 505 Third Avenue

WESTLAKE MARKET, 1100 Western Avenue

WESTLAKE MARKET, Corner Western and Pine, SEATTLE MARKET, 100 Occidental Avenue

FRIDAY MARKET, 5443 Ballard Avenue

Look for U. S. Purple Stamp It Signifies Purity and Quality Shops Open Until 6:20 P. M.

Semi-Annual Clearance of Boys' Clothing Third Floor

MacDougall Southwick

ESTABLISHED 1875

Semi-Annual Clearance Women's Ready-to-Wear Second Floor

Charges Made During This Sale Will Not Be Rendered Until February

Beginning the Annual Sale of Muslin Underwear

Great displays of crisp, new undergarments open this Annual event—special tables of the daintiest and most beautiful creations you have ever seen, so inexpensively priced.

Underwear of batiste, nainsook, cotton crepe, dimity, cambric, flaxons, and crepe de chine.

Crepe Gowns Special 69c

A slip-over style, of pink or white cotton crepe, with featherstitched edge. You do not have to iron crepe gowns; 69c each.

Nainsook Gowns Special 95c

You will find many styles at this price. High neck, V-neck, slip-over and Empire styles. Some are hand-embroidered, others hand-smocked; and still others have elaborate yokes of lace; 95c each.

Cross-Barred Dimity Gowns, Special 95c

And they are hand-embroidered, edged with lace and ribbon run; 95c each.

Pink Batiste Gowns Special 95c

A splendid quality, soft batiste; smocked or hand-embroidered in Lucile blue—a little Empire style is shirred or has a row of embroidery insertion; 95c each.

Cotton Crepe Gowns Special 95c

White, pink or Dresden Cotton Crepe Gowns, in many styles; yokes with colored embroidery; others are edged with silk. You need not iron these gowns. 95c each.

Dresden Batiste Gowns Special 95c

A very delightful Empire Gown with Cluny insertion and edge, ribbon run; 95c each.

Gowns at $1.50

There is a very large assortment at this price—Gowns of nainsook, cambric and batiste; plain styles, and others with hand-crocheted yokes. You will also find some very elaborate styles with lace medallions, ribbon trimmed; $1.50 each.

Envelope Chemise Special 95c

Of cross-barred dimity, nainsook or batiste, styles that are embroidered, plain, edged with lace and ribbon run.

Envelope Chemise specially priced at $1.50, $1.95, $2.95, $3.95, $5.00.

Chemise, Special 95c

Nainsook Chemise—a plain style, or others trimmed with hand crocheted, lace or featherstitching.

Combinations, Special 95c, $1.50, $1.95

Corset Covers and Drawers, or Princess Combinations in several styles.

"Marcella" Combinations, 95c, $1.50, $1.95 and $2.95.

"Marcella" Drawers

50c, 75c, 95c, $1.50

Sateen Petticoats Special $1.50

The new circular flounce Petticoats, with draw tape and scalloped edge; at $1.50 each.

Petticoats, Special 95c, $1.25, $1.50 to $6.50

There is quite a lot of difference in these Petticoats. They are cut either with the new circular flounce or in much fuller effects.

Drawers, Special 50c, 75c, 90c and $1.50

Cotton Crepe Knickers at 50c

Corset Covers, Special 35c, 39c, 50c to $1.50

Crepe de Chine Underwear

Those who prefer the clingier garments will find that these specially bought assortments offer many new ideas. The quality of crepe de chine is very firm and washes unusually well.

Crepe de Chine Gowns, special $3.95, $4.95, $6.50 to $12.50.

Crepe de Chine Camisoles, special $1.00, $1.50, $1.95, $2.95.

Crepe de Chine Combinations, $2.95, $3.95, $5.00, $6.50.

Crepe de Chine Envelope Chemise, special $1.95, $2.95, $3.95, $5.00.

Crepe de Chine Petticoats, special $3.95, $5.00, $6.75, $8.50.

Exclusive Distributors of "Neptune Satin" Lingerie. Third Floor

IT IS EASIER

To turn over a new leaf at the beginning of the year than at any other time. Everybody is doing it—the rustle of the leaves fills the air.

Then is the time to start a savings account.

Interest 4%

UNION SAVINGS & TRUST CO. OF SEATTLE

Capital and Surplus $800,000

JAMES D. HOGE, President N. B. SOLNER, Vice President and Trust Officer

HOGE BUILDING In the Heart of the Financial District

We guarantee the superiority of the Lumber Trust, and give free trial to prove it.

A. LONDBERG CO.

Trusses, Lefays and Artificial Limbs, 1107 THIRD AVENUE

EXTRACTING TEETH PAINLESS

Call at my office and have your teeth extracted absolutely without pain. If the work is not absolutely satisfactory I will not accept your money.

This is my fifteenth year in Seattle, and I am the only dentist who guarantees work for 15 years who has remained in business in Seattle long enough to make their guarantee good. Be sure to come to 713 First Ave.

EDWIN J. BROWN D. D. S. 713 First Ave. Union Block. Open evenings until 8 and Sundays until 4 for people who work. Phone Main 3640. My Bellingham office is at Elk and Holly sts., Sunset building.

HOME SWEET HOME

Griffith's Second Masterpiece, with the entire "Birth of a Nation" cast, among whom are—

Bianche Sweet Mae Marsh Dorothy Gish Lillian Gish Robert Herron Henry Walthall Owen Moore Mary Alden Irene Hunt Fay Fincher Jack Pickford James Kirkwood Donald Crisp and many other noted stars.

ADDED CHAPLIN COMEDY

Melbourne

Second and University 10c

IT'S RATHER UNUSUAL

HELEN BADGLEY

—for a 5-year-old child to "fall in love." But Helen Badgley, the baby star of films, falls in love with a different boy nearly every day or so in "feel" life. Sometimes, in the moving pictures, she even "grows up" and marries.

U. S. WILL PROTEST SEIZURE OF MAIL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—On the strength of reports from Consul General Skinner, at London, Secretary Lansing is preparing a protest to England against seizure of mails by the British between Holland and the United States.

CALL CARPENTER TO FIX BROKEN LEG

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 29.—Police called a carpenter instead of a surgeon when Kasper Horter, 53, fell and broke his leg. The leg was soon repaired.

BEATEN AND ROBBED

After being beaten, robbed and dragged three blocks, Gunnar Bergman, 4016 22nd Ave. S., lay unconscious for two hours near his home Tuesday night. All that he could tell the police was that two men did the job and got $9.

N.Y. LEADING LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Losses due to the war and incorrect tabulations have put London second to New York in the race for the title of world's metropolis.

The Home Doctor

How to Cure Rheumatism

Here is a prescription for rheumatism (readily mixed at home) used all over the U. S. for many years, and said to be the surest remedy; neutralizes the acid in the blood and gives relief after first dose. —One ounce of Toris compound and one ounce of Toris compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Put these two ingredients in half pint of whiskey. Use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Get instructions at any drug store. Toris comes only in one-ounce sealed yellow packages.

Surest for Coughs and Colds

Don't experiment on a bad cough or cold; it is very risky. The following formula, easily mixed at home, makes one of the best and quickest cough remedies obtainable, often curing the worst cough in a day. Fine as medicine is an old as the Bible, but here is best form. Half ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine) and two ounces of Glycerine; mix these in half pint of whiskey. Use a teaspoonful frequently as required. (Smaller doses to children.) Be sure to get the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine), but up only in half-ounce bottles, each enclosed in a screw-top case.

Frost Bites, Corns and Sore Feet

Don't endure foot agony. Here is a remedy for quick results. It works through the pores, removing the cause. —Two tablespoonfuls of Calocid compound in warm foot bath. Gives instant relief for itching and sweaty feet; corns and calluses can be peeled right off. Specially effective for sore hands, chilblains and frost bites. Genuine Calocid in 25-cent packages at any drug store.

The above is published by the Medical Formula Laboratories, Dayton, O.

THE CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE

ELEANOR'S LETTER TO DICK

The hole shameful secret was divulged in that letter which began without preface:

"I wonder where you are tonight, my darling—this night when so many, many lovers are happy and you and I are separated and alone."

Oh, Dick, Dick! I do not think I can live this way much longer. I am not the kind of a woman that can love in secret. I want all the world to know that I am yours. I want to say to all the world that you love me—for you do love me, don't you, Dick, dear?

"Surely you must love me, for only a great love can be an excuse for our lives and way of living the last few years."

"Yes, dear, I know it is foolish for me to write this to you—that you do not like to have me say the least thing that would make you think of consequences, but tonight I must speak."

"Dear heart, I am not happy any more. At least I am only happy when I am with you. And lately those times grow farther and farther apart. You have been dear and sweet, but it hurts. Oh, how it hurts for me to take all that you give me. I do not want to live on your bounty—I don't want your money. I want you."

"I want to give, not take, and as I am living now, I feel almost as tho I were selling myself for my daily bread, as any other woman of my street."

"Let me go back to the hospital, Dick, even tho it kills me, as the heart specialist said it would, for I would rather die than live this way."

"Forgive me, dear, it is only when you are away from me that I despair. When you are with me, the whole sadness and sordidness and badness of our relations roll away like a scroll and leave just a little place called paradise only big enough for you and me."

"I think I am writing this way to you tonight because of the knowledge of the near approach of Mollie's wedding. I hope she is going to be happy, dear girl, but Dick, dear Dick, I cannot go and let her marry that honorable state from which I am forever shut out. It would break my heart."

"Don't think I am reproaching you, dear one. It is fate, I guess; for, Dick, you were mine before you were Mollie's. You loved me before you ever knew her. Perhaps a man can love dividually, can love two at the same time. Sometimes I think you have loved her always; that I have been only an interlude—for I can readily see that Mollie is lovable and sweet, but oh, my dear, my dear, she took you from me and I only brought you back to my arms and heart."

"I feel—I know that this is a most imprudent letter—that you will not understand when you read it—but that perhaps it will anger you, but I must for once tell you what is in my heart—what has been in my heart ever since that night on the train years ago, when you and I forgot everything but ourselves and our love."

"I was nearly frightened to death and so were you. I remember when that woman tried to black mail you, for it looked at one time as tho you could only clear yourself with one woman by confessing to wrong done with another."

"Since that night I have not had a thought that has not been of you—not a heartbeat except for you. My love has grown stronger each day—but yours, my dear, seems to have grown colder."

"Sometimes I have wondered if that momentous night was not in answer to the call of the flesh instead of the climax of irresistible and eternal love."

"Dick, dear, please don't think I am crazy, but come to me soon, for then I shall forget all these surging, sorrowful thoughts, and only think of you."

"ELEANOR."

know
(To Be Continued.)

CYNTHIA GREY'S ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Q.—Can you please tell me who Henry David Thoreau is? I saw his name in connection with "The Harvester," by Gene Stratton Porter. It was sort of a comparison of Henry David Thoreau and the hero of Gene Stratton Porter's novel, as he was a strong advocate of simplicity in living, and in order to gain an opportunity for his observation of wild nature, he lived alone, in a house built by himself, at Walden Pond, not far from Concord village.

There have been a number of books written concerning him, one especially by Channing, called "Thoreau, the Poet-Naturalist."

Q.—I am dying for dimples, so could you please tell me any way to get them? X. Z. Y.

A.—Take notice, dear readers, before you turn away in scorn or disgust from the above seemingly simple query that a life is at stake, therefore it must be serious. Otherwise, without hesitancy, I should have sent it the way of the many other requests I receive daily for "baby-doll" recipes.

Now for saving the life—Dimples are deformed muscles. Those who have the misfortune to possess absolutely normal, healthy bodies may become afflicted with these little whirlpool deformities thru the aid of a delicate surgical operation upon certain muscles. Not so long ago a famous stage dancer obtained excellent results in this manner and became the proud possessor of a fascinating dimple in each knee. Amen!

Q.—Perhaps you can give me a little light on this subject. When and where did the name and character Uncle Sam of the U. S. A. originate? I hope you will answer this question, thus settling many discussions. INQUISITIVE.

A.—The name Uncle Sam is an extension of the letters U. S. (United States), printed or stamped on the government property. It was first used in Troy, N. Y., in 1812, when certain goods purchased for the government and branded with the latter method is because they do not follow instructions closely or keep up regime long enough.

Q.—I am about to ask you for your opinion on something that troubles me greatly. My sister, who is five years older than I, lives on the same lot, but in a separate house. Our mother died not three months ago. Yet my sister attends dances and shows and wears any color she pleases, while I wear all black and a mourning veil. I traveled 1,000 miles to see our mother before she died, but got there too late. I feel the loss greatly. My sister seems to think nothing of it. I have said nothing to her of her actions, thinking she was the older and that it was not my place to interfere.

Please give me your opinion on this. MRS. M. M.

A.—The longer I live, the more I come to the conclusion that grief is purely selfishness, especially when it flaunts itself before a busy public and demands recognition. We believe, or the most of us do, that the soul is immortal, and that when death robs us of those who are dear to us, they wing their way to everlasting ethereal happiness. Then, why should we grieve for them? It is but natural that we should miss them, but even so, it is necessary that we advertise it by donning gloomy robes and wearing a doleful countenance? The wearing of mourning and the attention from all pleasures or social activities for a certain period after the death of the deceased is nothing more than a custom which many modern thinkers are casting aside. If your sister is of this modern school, why should she play the hypocrite simply to appease a custom which is rapidly becoming threadbare?

Q.—What do you advise as to the use of Sargol to increase weight? I am very anxious to increase my weight, but would like your advice before using.

A.—As I have said many times before, I cannot recommend patent medicines. The drug in question might be all right, and it might not be. In such a case drugs of any sort (unless it be a good tonic prescribed by a reliable physician), should be taken only as a last resort. Ordinarily a health regime, consisting of special diet, regular sleeping hours, exercise, fresh air, etc., proves the best flesh-builder. The only reason more persons do not obtain satisfactory results from the latter method is because they do not follow instructions closely or keep up regime long enough.

Q.—I am dying for dimples, so could you please tell me any way to get them? X. Z. Y.

A.—Take notice, dear readers, before you turn away in scorn or disgust from the above seemingly simple query that a life is at stake, therefore it must be serious. Otherwise, without hesitancy, I should have sent it the way of the many other requests I receive daily for "baby-doll" recipes.

Now for saving the life—Dimples are deformed muscles. Those who have the misfortune to possess absolutely normal, healthy bodies may become afflicted with these little whirlpool deformities thru the aid of a delicate surgical operation upon certain muscles. Not so long ago a famous stage dancer obtained excellent results in this manner and became the proud possessor of a fascinating dimple in each knee. Amen!

Q.—Perhaps you can give me a little light on this subject. When and where did the name and character Uncle Sam of the U. S. A. originate? I hope you will answer this question, thus settling many discussions. INQUISITIVE.

A.—The name Uncle Sam is an extension of the letters U. S. (United States), printed or stamped on the government property. It was first used in Troy, N. Y., in 1812, when certain goods purchased for the government and branded with the latter method is because they do not follow instructions closely or keep up regime long enough.

Q.—I am about to ask you for your opinion on something that troubles me greatly. My sister, who is five years older than I, lives on the same lot, but in a separate house. Our mother died not three months ago. Yet my sister attends dances and shows and wears any color she pleases, while I wear all black and a mourning veil. I traveled 1,000 miles to see our mother before she died, but got there too late. I feel the loss greatly. My sister seems to think nothing of it. I have said nothing to her of her actions, thinking she was the older and that it was not my place to interfere.

Please give me your opinion on this. MRS. M. M.

A.—The longer I live, the more I come to the conclusion that grief is purely selfishness, especially when it flaunts itself before a busy public and demands recognition. We believe, or the most of us do, that the soul is immortal, and that when death robs us of those who are dear to us, they wing their way to everlasting ethereal happiness. Then, why should we grieve for them? It is but natural that we should miss them, but even so, it is necessary that we advertise it by donning gloomy robes and wearing a doleful countenance? The wearing of mourning and the attention from all pleasures or social activities for a certain period after the death of the deceased is nothing more than a custom which many modern thinkers are casting aside. If your sister is of this modern school, why should she play the hypocrite simply to appease a custom which is rapidly becoming threadbare?

Q.—What do you advise as to the use of Sargol to increase weight? I am very anxious to increase my weight, but would like your advice before using.

A.—As I have said many times before, I cannot recommend patent medicines. The drug in question might be all right, and it might not be. In such a case drugs of any sort (unless it be a good tonic prescribed by a reliable physician), should be taken only as a last resort. Ordinarily a health regime, consisting of special diet, regular sleeping hours, exercise, fresh air, etc., proves the best flesh-builder. The only reason more persons do not obtain satisfactory results from the latter method is because they do not follow instructions closely or keep up regime long enough.

Q.—I am dying for dimples, so could you please tell me any way to get them? X. Z. Y.

A.—Take notice, dear readers, before you turn away in scorn or disgust from the above seemingly simple query that a life is at stake, therefore it must be serious. Otherwise, without hesitancy, I should have sent it the way of the many other requests I receive daily for "baby-doll" recipes.

Now for saving the life—Dimples are deformed muscles. Those who have the misfortune to possess absolutely normal, healthy bodies may become afflicted with these little whirlpool deformities thru the aid of a delicate surgical operation upon certain muscles. Not so long ago a famous stage dancer obtained excellent results in this manner and became the proud possessor of a fascinating dimple in each knee. Amen!

Q.—Perhaps you can give me a little light on this subject. When and where did the name and character Uncle Sam of the U. S. A. originate? I hope you will answer this question, thus settling many discussions. INQUISITIVE.

A.—The name Uncle Sam is an extension of the letters U. S. (United States), printed or stamped on the government property. It was first used in Troy, N. Y., in 1812, when certain goods purchased for the government and branded with the latter method is because they do not follow instructions closely or keep up regime long enough.

Q.—I am about to ask you for your opinion on something that troubles me greatly. My sister, who is five years older than I, lives on the same lot, but in a separate house. Our mother died not three months ago. Yet my sister attends dances and shows and wears any color she pleases, while I wear all black and a mourning veil. I traveled 1,000 miles to see our mother before she died, but got there too late. I feel the loss greatly. My sister seems to think nothing of it. I have said nothing to her of her actions, thinking she was the older and that it was not my place to interfere.

Please give me your opinion on this. MRS. M. M.

A.—The longer I live, the more I come to the conclusion that grief is purely selfishness, especially when it flaunts itself before a busy public and demands recognition. We believe, or the most of us do, that the soul is immortal, and that when death robs us of those who are dear to us, they wing their way to everlasting ethereal happiness. Then, why should we grieve for them? It is but natural that we should miss them, but even so, it is necessary that we advertise it by donning gloomy robes and wearing a doleful countenance? The wearing of mourning and the attention from all pleasures or social activities for a certain period after the death of the deceased is nothing more than a custom which many modern thinkers are casting

Hick Says:

</