

REX THEATRE IS ADDED TO DOWNTOWN HOUSES

Many Real Stars Feature on New Bills—Alice Brady at American in "Ballet Girl," Hazel Dawn at Coliseum in "My Lady Inoc," Pearl White at Strand in "King's Game," William Shay at Clemmer, Orrin Johnson at Liberty, Anita Stewart and Earle Williams at Rex, Arthur Maude at Colonial.

AMERICAN
Alice Brady, who will be remembered for her splendid work in the late success, "The Rack," will commence a run at the American theatre tomorrow in "The Ballet Girl," supported by Holbrook Blinn and an all-star cast. The ballet of the New York Opera house was hired for the purpose of infusing real atmosphere in "The Ballet Girl." Here is a story wherein a girl reared among gentler surroundings could not resist the fascination of life in the ballet because she had drawn it in her blood inherited from a talented mother. The battle of good and evil for the soul of this dancer forms the inspiration of one of the mightiest screen productions ever seen in this city.

COLISEUM
"My Lady Inoc," in which Hazel Dawn stars, will be seen at the Coliseum, heading the new show Sunday. In this combination of thrills and laughs, Miss Dawn plays a Southern society belle who turns detective to save her home from ruin. The exterior scenes in this picture were staged in Florida, where Miss Dawn and her supporting cast spent weeks in the filming.

Something brand new in motion pictures, "Silhouette Fantasies," a combination of actors and cartoon drawings, will also be shown. The first comedy picture is "Inbad, the Sailor," and it is all comedy and nothing but comedy. The Coliseum Russian orchestra will interpret the music for these features.

STRAND
Beginning Sunday and continuing for three days, the Strand will feature the popular photoplay star, Pearl White, in James K. Hackett's famous stage success, "The King's Game."

The story concerns the adventures of unusual young duke, whose father, the grand duke, covets the wife of a count. Of how the old grand duke lays a plot to get her for himself; of her accidental death, and the count's flight to America with his daughter. Later the young duke also goes to America to complete his education, and, of course, the two are thrown together. From here on it really becomes "a king's game."

CLEMMER
Featuring Claire Whitney and William E. Shay, "The Ruling Passion" will be shown at the Clemmer theatre, beginning Sunday. It is a Fox feature concerning a young girl of the London slums, whose only legacy from her mother, who had led an unclean life, is the admonition to keep in the straight path. The girl, to escape her old associations, goes to India, where she is married to Dick Clayton. Soon, however, the wealthy Prince Singh, who exercised hypnotic influence over her causes an engagement, and she goes to his harem. Various adventures follow her attempts to escape when she tired of him. In the end, the prince is killed, but when she returns to her home, she learns her husband is dead—and, in grief, she, too, dies.

LIBERTY
"The Price of Power," which heads the new show at the Liberty today, starring Orrin Johnson, is an extremely powerful portrayal of the workings of the capitalistic system of industry. The action starts in a New England cotton mill, showing among the hundreds of men, women and children, Johnson in the role of an ambitious mechanic. Thru sheer will power, he has risen to the height of a mill owner of great wealth and position. Another of these hysterical, hilarious comedies, "Perils of the Park," featuring an all-star cast of Keystone players, is the added attraction.

HAMRICK TO OPEN THE REX THEATRE

John Hamrick, one of the most popular photoplay managers in Seattle, will open the Rex theatre, formerly the Melbourne, at Second ave., near University st., Sunday with the popular Anita Stewart and Earle Williams featured in "My Lady's Slipper."

Hamrick leased the Rex thru Henry Broderick and the Sanderson & Remond Investment Co., Thursday, and at once got on the job. The place has undergone a thorough renovation and will be fitted up for one of the cozier places in town.

Hamrick was formerly identified with the Colonial theatre and the American theatre.

COLONIAL
Arthur Maude, in a five-act masterpiece, "Lord Loveland Discovers America," a comedy-drama, is featured on the new Colonial bill, beginning Sunday. The other two attractions are Harold Lockwood and May Allison, in "The Man in the Sombbrero," a drama, and George Ovey, in "Around the World," a comedy.

gets a job as waiter in a restaurant—he also falls in love.

REX
Featuring Anita Stewart and Earle Williams, who proved such favorites here in "The Juggernaut" and "The Goddess," the Rex theatre, formerly the Melbourne, re-opens Sunday in the Vitagraph five-part Blue Ribbon drama entitled "My Lady's Slipper."

Francis Burnham, American, escapes from a British convict ship in the days of Louis XVI. of France and comes to Paris, where he becomes obligated to a treacherous count who threatens him with imprisonment if he refuses to steal some wearing apparel from a young countess who spurned his love, but whom he now seeks to compromise so that she would be forced to marry her. The countess surprises the American as he is about to take one of her slippers, and it appears they had met before. He had rescued her from a highwayman.

CLASS A
A powerful drama heads the bill at the Class A theatre, beginning Sunday. It is entitled "The Wanderers," and abounds in heart-interest.

A comedy attraction is also on the same bill, as well as the Selig-Tribune News Weekly.

MISSION
"The Mission theatre presents for a three-day showing one of the most delightful melodramas ever shown in this popular 5-cent photoplay house entitled, "The Path of Happiness," featuring the dainty Universal screen star, Violet Mercereau, and Harry Benham. Violet, as a child of nature, dances thru the play with an irresistible charm. She appears in one exquisite scene sporting in mountain stream like Diana at the bath.

A news weekly and a comedy complete the program. The feature is the first release of the Red Feather brand and is in five parts.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT A HIT

Every seat was filled, and there was no standing room left when the curtain raised on the first Philharmonic orchestra concert of the season, at the Metropolitan theatre Friday night.

Popular prices brought out an immense crowd, which paid Director John M. Spargur and the orchestra high tribute for a well-rounded program of varied selections ably presented.

Maud Powell, who appeared for the first time with the orchestra, and her violin, were an instantaneous hit. Fritz Starke won plaudits with his horn.

WHAT SEATTLE THINKS OF DRY LAW AFTER A MONTH OF ITS OPERATION

enjoying a good patronage, seeking soft drinks and dancing. It is managed by P. E. Sullivan's sons and is known as the American-Ting Sing cafe. Oriental dishes are served. George Ecker, bartender for 10 years, who served "hard" drinks at the American for seven years, is still on the job. One of the favorite drinks is the "soft" substitute for creme de menthe, which has color and taste identical with the real thing, but is without the quality which formerly inspired tree climbing and Wild West exhibitions. "What have you got on your hip?" inquired a patron of the bartender, winking. "Couple of bum kidneys," remarked Ecker. "This is 1916. What do you want, light or dark?" Pretty girl waitresses serve everything but alcoholic drinks at the American. At the old New Cecil hotel bar, women drink with men. With their feet on the rail, as of old, they sip amber colored "big ones" and "little ones," but there is no aftermath. The New Cecil cafe will be formally opened Saturday night.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says indigestion results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid. Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heart-burn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

PAY THEIR DUES NOW

It wasn't the easiest job in the world, collecting dues from the members of the Teamsters' union prior to the first of January. Secretary Dallinger had a hard job. The boys could jump off the wagons and "tip" a drink as often as the inclination moved them. "They are paying up their dues regularly and promptly now," says Dallinger. "The boys have their money in their pockets now. Conditions have completely changed, and my job is a lot easier than it used to be."

MORE WORK FOR SHERIFF

The contrast between wet and dry days is not so marked at the county jail as it is at police headquarters. "We have been a little busier," said Sheriff Bob Hodge. "We never had to worry about drunks before, but we have to now when we find that they are getting their booze from some bootlegger out in the county somewhere. The dry law, I believe, makes us work harder. The cost of running the office is as much now as it was before. We have 53 men in the stockade, and I would say that is about the average number. Sometimes there are as high as 73 out there. The number has gone down as low as 42."

PETTY CRIME CURBED, SAYS JUDGE GORDON

Either the cold weather or the dry law is curbing petty crime, in the opinion of Police Judge Gordon. "I haven't quite made up my mind whether to credit the weather or the law," he said. "But one thing is sure—there has been a marked betterment in the temper of the people during the last four weeks. But cold weather always curtails petty crime, so we don't know just yet how much credit is due to the order of things. The number of cases of drunkenness, of course, has been cut down materially. There is practically no fighting in the city. Before there were many arrests for fighting in the lower end of town. I don't think there has been much bootlegging. I know one thing—it's not going to be a profitable business. I'll give offenders the maximum fine for the first offense and a jail sentence for the second offense. And perhaps, after a while, we will give them jail sentences for the first offense." He said the number of human derelicts who usually gravitate into police court for vagrancy has dwindled since the first of the year.

STORE COLLECTIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Collections in the stores that do a big credit business have already become easier to make since the saloons have been eliminated. "Men are buying shoes and clothes instead of so much in the saloons," said Carl Schermer. "I've heard them remark a number of times, while making a purchase, that they could 'buy lots of things now that they couldn't before.' I think things are working out all right. We are doing better than we did last year, and we blame the weather because we aren't doing more."

What Does Catarrh Mean?

It means inflammation of a mucous membrane somewhere in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, biliary ducts or bowels. It always means stagnant blood—the blood that is full of impurities. Left alone, it extends until it is followed by indigestion, colds, congestion or fever. It weakens the system generally and spreads its operations until systemic catarrh or an acute illness is the result.

Peruna

is the nation's reliable remedy for this condition. It restores appetite, aids digestion, checks and removes inflammation, and thus enables the membranes, through which we breathe and through which our food is absorbed, to do their work properly. Forty years of success, with thousands of testimonials, have established it as the home remedy—Ever-Ready-to-Take. Its record of success holds a promise for you.
