NOTICE: MOVIE FANS!
Theatres to Change Bills on Thursday
MAKE NOTE OF THIS

Several Seattle photoplay houses change their policy this week in the time for starting their new midweek bills. It has been the custom to show the week's bills from Sunday till Tuesday night, changing program on Wednesday and continuing thru till Saturday night. The first programs in most of the houses will now run from Sunday to Wednesday night, inclusive, and the new programs from Thursday to Saturday night, inclusive.

BIG SCENIC EFFECTS IN PLAY AT STRAND
There's a thrill for moviegoers in "The Hand of Peril," which opens Thursday at the Strand. It is a story about the experiences of a government secret service agent, and there is plenty of action in the five reels. House Peters is starred. Arthur Stringer wrote the play.

GIANT OF "CABIRIA" FAME AT CLEMMER
It is seldom that comedy and tragedy can be closely related in a drama, especially in a moving picture, where action must take the place of speech. But in "Marvellous Maciste," which opens Thursday at the Clemmer, the much-heralded drama featuring the giant in D'Annunzio's "Cabiria," this is done in a most interesting manner. It is doubtful whether the author ever meant it to even touch on comedy, but the unbelievable strength of the giant who takes the part of Maciste, and the manner in which he displays it, such as picking up men and carrying them around like so many handbags, is a scream.

HAZEL DAWN AT THE COLISEUM
Hazel Dawn opens at the Coliseum Thursday in "The Saleslady," which recites interestingly a young country girl's work and love adventures in a big city, and how she wins fame on the stage. "Caught on a Skyscraper" is a two-reel L-Ko farce. Mme. Heese-Sprotte sings at the afternoon concerts.

DOROTHY GISH IS LIBERTY HEADLINER
A love affair between a poor little "Pennsylvania Dutch" girl and a baron salesman of patent clothes wringers is the theme of "Little Meena's Romance," which heads the new show at the Liberty Thursday. Dorothy Gish plays Meena. "The Oily Scoundrel," a 2,000-foot Keystone comedy, concludes the performance.

"A SOCIAL DECEPTION" OPENS AT THE MISSION
"A Social Deception," the headline photoplay at the Mission, starting Thursday, is said to be one big thrill and punch after another. Harry Mestayer and Grace Darmond enact the leading male and female roles. "From Altar to Halter," a comedy, concludes the program.

POLICEMAN LOVES A BANKER'S DAUGHTER
Casey, his name is. The charming Gladys Huette is his sweetheart. It's all in "The Traffic Cop," which opened at the Colonial Wednesday. It tells a romantic story of how "Casey" (Howard Mitchell) won his sweetheart in spite of her father's riches.

"DAMAGED GOODS" ATTRACTING CROWDS
The film version of "Damaged Goods" is proving popular at John Hamrick's Rex theatre this week. The play, indorsed by doctors the country over, preaches a strong sermon against the dangers of sex sinning. It handles the subject without gloves, and is a big, worthwhile stroke for clean living.

FRANCIS BUSHMAN IN "THE ACCOUNTING"
The Class A theatre is offering a good program in the new bill which went on Wednesday. Francis Bushman appears in a three-reeler, "The Accounting"; Rose Melville (Sts Hopkins), in a comedy, "Almost a Heroine," and Tom Mix in a Selig comedy. Also there is the Selig-Tribune news weekly.

Cynthia Grey's LETTERS

Q.—When a young man meets a crowd of girls on the street should he speak to them first or they to him?
A.—The young man should wait until the girls speak.
Q.—My mother tells me if it is natural to be fat one will be; or to be thin one will be that way. She says it is wrong to try to change the ways of nature. What do you think?
A.—Nature intended us all to be in that state of health in which we may be happy, and do our work in the best way. She has laid down certain rules and penalties for their violation. For instance, if you go out on slippery ice you may fall and break a bone. If you persist in eating the wrong kind of food you may grow very fat, or you may become very thin. Just because you like to walk on the ice is no assurance that ice was intended by nature to be your pathway. So you are not following the laws of nature if you follow a plan of life which renders you incapable of doing your best. We are only beginning to understand the laws of food.
Q.—Please suggest a name for a girls' club. There are four of us and we read and talk at our meetings. E. R. L. AND C.
A.—"Conversation" is an excellent name for a club like yours. If you would live up to it and learn to talk well, you would have reason
