PENALTY OF FAME It Spoils Theda Bara's Recreation

BY THEDA BARA
Written Especially for The Star.

Is there any fame that hasn't accompanying drawbacks, I wonder?

The drawback to my fame is different from that of the writer, lawyer or surgeon. I can hardly walk upon the street, lunch at my favorite hotels or go to the theater to see my fellow artists work. And to me it is not only a drawback, but a tragedy.

There can be no doubt about my identity, in my public's mind. My personality is too pronounced, my type of face is too unusual for that. It is not a question of "maybe it is Theda Bara." They know instantly it is Theda Bara and they tell their neighbors. Believe me, I don't mean to be rude and I think that if they knew they are making it difficult for me to take my recreation at all, they would do all in their power to remedy matters. That is why I am writing of it. To let them know just how I feel about it.

Of course it is pleasant to be really known—and I do not regret it, but what distresses me is that after I am recognized I am not allowed to go on my way, undisturbed. I am followed, sometimes by crowds of little children, who pick me to pieces, audibly, and compare my screen-self and my real-self with alarming frankness.

Then, again, little groups of whispering grown-ups dog my footsteps. And that is worse. Because I cannot hear what they are saying—and I imagine all sorts of discomforting things.

I will tell you what happened the other day. I had just finished a very nerve-racking picture. Utterly worn in brain and body, I asked Mr. Fox, my manager, if it were possible for me to take a little rest before I started to work on my next feature film. He urged me to go away for at least a week.

My maid and I motored to a seaside resort near New York and I went immediately to my room. But the board of the surf was too great a temptation and I ran down on the beach with my maid.

I hadn't ventured 20 feet before I heard a very familiar sound; the click of a camera. I wheeled and there above me, leaning against the rail of the boardwalk, was a camera squad, each member bent on squandering all their films on the wonderful opportunity of taking Theda Bara with their own little cameras. The worst had happened. I had been recognized.

All the beautiful dreams I had woven of seven, free, restful days vanished into thin air and I fled to my suite, where I remained for the rest of my stay.

Sometimes, when I am frightfully weary in body and mentally blue, I wonder whether the penalty isn't too heavy; whether the fame of it is worth the sacrifices. Then my morning's mail is brought to me—messages of cheer and praise and friendliness from the four quarters of the globe and I know that it is worth it. It is worth no matter what the forfeiture, the reward more than pays the debt.

"OLD HOMESTEAD" AT METROPOLITAN

A price tag on a table damaak caused quite a stir at the Metropolitan theatre Sunday evening, when "The Old Homestead" was given its initial presentation by the Wilkes company.

The second act shows the drawing room of a wealthy New Yorker. No sooner had the curtain zone up than titters were heard from different parts of the house. Evidently a careless stage hand had neglected to remove the price tag from the cover borrowed for the week.

Guy Hittner portrayed Uncle Josh in a manner that has already won for him much acclaim as a delineator of character parts. Credit is due Harry Cleland, too, for the clever way in which the play was staged.

In some instances new lines were added and old ones dropped to add brightness to the play.

INDORSE KENT BILL

Councilman Hesketh has introduced a resolution indorsing the Kent bill, now before congress, which would provide federal aid to states that treat tuberculosis.

Health Commissioner McBride has written Congressman Kent in an effort to have the bill provide appropriations to cities for the care of indigent sufferers.

WOMAN TRIES TO DIE

Domestic trouble prompted Mrs. Leah Dexter, age 50, to take carbolic acid at her home, 227 1/2 Washington st., Saturday night. She was revived at the city hospital and will recover.

ARREST DRUGGISTS

Charged with violating the liquor law, Frank Edwards and Lee Ballinger, employees of the Triangle Drug Co., were arrested by Patrolman R. B. Colby Sunday night.

TRAINS ARE HELD UP

Four Great Northern westbound passenger trains were held up in the Cascades Sunday night and early Monday morning by a freight train that jumped the rails Sunday afternoon.

TO NOTIFY VOTERS

Post cards notifying 10,241 persons who failed to vote at the last general election that they must register again are being mailed Monday by the city registration department. All those who did vote need not register again until 1920.

HIPPODROME HAS CORKING GOOD BILL

The Hippodrome offers one of the best shows seen at this theatre this year on this week's bill.

Five boys in full dress and Miss Amy Butler headline, with the entire company playing saxophone, mandolin, piano, banjo, while Miss Butler makes things lively with some live and up-to-date parodies.

The Breakaway Barlows are a man and woman who perform stunts on the swinging ladder.

Hoyt, Stein and Daly are two men and one woman in a clever farce-comedy.

Evans and Newton make several changes of wardrobe in their dancing and singing act.

Little Ellis does wooden shoe and eccentric dancing.

Brambilla's Italian orchestra plays.

A feature picture and comedy complete the bill.

G.O.P. MEET IN ARENA

The King County Republican convention will be held in the Arena, beginning at 10 o'clock Saturday. At caucuses held last Saturday, 727 delegates were chosen. Progressives won over the stand-patters at Kirkland and many other precincts.

AFTER 'B. C.' DEGREE

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—"B. C." (bachelor of chickenology)—may be one of the degrees granted graduates of Berkeley. It was learned today, provided the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce can convince educators at the University of California that poultry raising is a college course.

INJURED BY AN AUTO

When Robert Hawkins, 717 Seventh ave., ran out to catch a street car on Second ave., at 12:50 a. m. Monday, he was struck down by an auto driven by F. R. Tracy, 215 Orca st.

Hawkins sustained a broken collar-bone. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, thence to his home Monday morning.

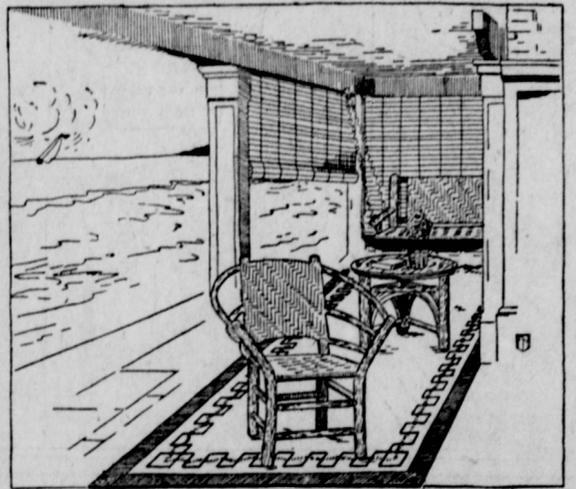

RIOT DUE TO LIQUOR

BEATRICE, Neb., April 24.—A company of militia is in control of the riot situation here today. The Greek railroad laborers' quarter is being patrolled by sentries, following the "shooting up" of the town last night by liquor-maddened men. No casualties have been reported.

BOY'S LEG BROKEN

Ross Knaler, 16, sustained a broken leg when he drove a Fraser-Paterson delivery auto into a telegraph pole at Fourth ave. W. and Howe st., Saturday afternoon.

FREDERICK & NELSON

An Attractive Display of

SUMMER FURNITURE

Now Forms a Prominent Feature of Our Furniture Exhibit on the Third Floor

THE display embraces furniture suitable both for indoor and outdoor uses. Furniture that is artistic, comfortable and serviceable and will add materially to one's enjoyment of the summer months in town or country home.

For Porch and Outdoor Living-Room are new ideas in Painted Furniture (chairs, settees and tables), cool-looking and attractive, as well as a wide variety of designs in the always-popular Maple and Rustic Hickory.

For Sun-Parlor and Indoor Rooms

an exceptionally varied selection of artistic patterns in Willow and Reed, brown-stained, enameled and upholstered, or in the natural color; also Chairs, Rockers and other items of Woven Fiber Furniture, in an attractive brown finish.

Rugs for the Summer Home

THE Domestic Rug Section is now giving prominence in its displays to floor coverings especially designed and adapted for use on porches, in sun parlors, and for camps and cottages. Among the items featured:

OVAL MANILA RUGS of tough, braided rushes in the natural brown color, measuring 3x6 and 9x12 feet. Especially desirable for outdoor porch use.

RATTANIA WOOD-FIBER RUGS, durable and in various patterns, including checker-board combinations that are very attractive. Sizes, in the 6x9, 8x10 and 9x12 sizes.

CREX GRASS RUGS, splendidly adapted for general summer use, in and out of doors. Sizes, 4-6x7-6, 6x9, 8x10 and 9x12 feet. Patterned in conventional effects, also with plain field and key or band borders.

KLEARFLAX RUGS of pure flax, washable, sunfast and moth-proof, in the 6x9, 8x10 and 9x12 feet.

CRETONNE RUGS in a wide variety of sizes and styles, including the favorite Old Homestead, Dimity, Hearthside, Pilgrim and Quaker varieties.

"Vudor" Shades for Summer Porches

YOU can add a new room to your home this summer, by equipping your porch with "Vudor" Shades; a cool, pleasant room to play in, work in or rest in. A "Vudor"-equipped porch makes an ideal summer sleeping-room, also.

Vudor Shades last for years and always look sightly. They are installed in a few minutes. They can be raised or lowered at will. You can see out, but the outsider cannot look in. While Vudor Shades keep out the glare and the draughts, they permit free circulation of fresh air.

Vudor Shades are moderately priced. They come in various sizes and can be fitted to any size or style of porch. See them in our Upholstery Section, First Floor.

Hotpoint DEMONSTRATION

A DEMONSTRATOR from the Hotpoint Appliance Company, who is well-versed in electrical cooking is in our Housewares Section this week to help any woman who desires information regarding this useful art.

Among the Hotpoint appliances which she is demonstrating by actual use, is the
