

A Chance to Make Some Money on NAVY YARD PROPERTY

A SEATTLE DRY DOCK WITHIN THE WORLD'S LARGEST DRY DOCK AT NAVY YARD

Day by day the Puget Sound Navy Yard increases in size and importance. From its small beginning it has become a $15,000,000 plant. Its immense docks, its shops, its modern facilities, its strategic location and its harbor all tend to make it an ideal yard.

Recently the most prominent naval experts of the country have testified before the House Naval affairs committee:

Rear Admiral Homer R. Stanford said: "It is the only reliable deep water yard that we have."

Rear Admiral Victor Blue, Chief of Bureau of Navigation, said: "It is an ideal yard and should be fully developed. Our largest drydock is located there and all the buildings are new and modern."

Rear Admiral Joseph Straus, Chief of Bureau of Ordnance, said: "An ideal Navy Yard and well protected. It should be fully developed."

Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, Chief Constructor of the U. S. Navy, said: "Satisfactory Yard. Well located. SHOULD BE FULLY DEVELOPED."

Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger of the General Board of the U. S. Navy, said: "A very fine yard and it is the only yard that vessels can go into at any time of the day."

Rear Admiral Cameron McR. Winslow, Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Fleet, said: "At this time it is the only place on the Pacific that our largest and deepest draft vessels could get into."

How Long Since You Visited the Puget Sound Navy Yard?

Why not call at our office at 316 Pike Street and go with us? We will pay your fare gladly, cheerfully, willingly, in order to show you our properties. We are convinced that any investor who purchases now will make some money. The entire U. S. government is back of this Yard.

Lumber may be high or low, shingle mills may be running or idle, the crops may be good or bad—THESE CONDITIONS HAVE NO EFFECT ON THE WORK AT THE PUGET SOUND YARD. 1,500 men work daily there and every few days a new increase is ordered.

Don't sit idly by, but profit by this opportunity.

NEW YORK PAPER DECLARES GERMANY WILL INAUGURATE TEN-DAY SUBMARINE SERVICE BETWEEN HAMBURG AND NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 25.—A regular transatlantic submarine service between Hamburg and New York will be started next month, the Evening Mail asserted today, claiming to have learned it on good authority. The first submarine will reach New York about July 1, according to the report. The Mail said she would be armed for defense only, and would carry mails, parcels and perhaps a few passengers. The trip is to be made in ten days. By August, the Mail said, Germany expects to have five of these submarines working on regular schedule. They will voyage north of Scotland, or thru the English channel, according to conditions at sea, and enter New York via Long Island sound, taking advantage of the three-mile limit.

WE, TOO, HAVE "SCRAPS OF PAPER" IN BROKEN TREATIES WITH THE INDIANS

Red Men of Northwest Unite to Demand Their Rights—Tired of "Great White Father" Bunk—Uncle Sam Broke His Word With Indian Tribes.

By JACK JUNGMEYER (Staff Correspondent).

TACOMA, Wash., May 25.—We, too, have our scraps of paper. But our brazen disregard of Indian treaties has had neither distance nor war drama to lend it horrible enchantment.

And so, whenever the patient, swindled red men have asked Uncle Sam to produce the paper, a humorist, we've sniggered or yawned.

Meantime, however, the Indian has learned the lesson of collective and political action.

In this state they have formed the Northwestern Federation of Indians, embracing 19 tribes and bands in the Puget Sound region, which met in recent session here.

They are determined, once for all, to compel government consideration for some 3000 members of these tribes, pledged but never fulfilled in the treaty of 1855 at Point No Point, Washington.

Tired of the old "Great White Father" bunk, these intelligent, industrious, respected Indians are going to make their demands upon Congress, thru their representatives here.

"Yes, our representatives," said President Thomas G. Bishop, a Clallam, of the federation, "for many of us are citizen voters."

And 83 per cent of the Indians in this state are tax payers.

Those of us who live outside reservations are not only working for our own just interests, but for the reservation families whose claims have not been properly settled and whose tongues are tied because they are wards.

An Indian delegate has been named to go to the national capital, "to hammer at the doors of Congress until they are opened."

Thousands of white friends in Tacoma and through the Northwest are sending letters to their congressmen asking favorable action in behalf of the Clallams, Lummi, Tulalip, Squamish, Quinault, Cowlitz, Puyallup and other tribes.

At the convention the Indian delegates wore the clothes of civilization and conducted the proceedings in good American English. There were no feathers, no paint, no savage hocus-pocus. These men are all educated natives who work in saw mills, on the farm, in the woods or have a business of their own.

Mostly they are young men, not worrying about themselves—concerned only to secure fulfillment of treaty rights to the old, the almost blind, the destitute, cheated members of their tribes who have waited half a century for justice.

Two aged chiefs, Charlie Saticum, of the Duwamish, and Tahola II, a Quinault, one 108, the other 91, listened intently to the younger tribesmen. They had waited long to get what had been pledged them. Alien settlers, growing rich on fat acres, had been given the lands the Indians ceded on mere faith in Uncle Sam's word of compensation.

The patriarchs understood little about this strange talk of Congress, resolutions and courts. But once Saticum arose and quivered a prayer to his father before the hushed assembly.

After 61 years of bitter waiting, his voice still rang with hope.

Then followed Charlie Alexis, a brilliant young orator, and Philip Howell, an author and student of tribal developments who twelve years ago was an utter savage. They spoke of conquest and broken vows—"scraps of paper."

The whites who heard them felt uncomfortable—guilty.

If these young Indians, federated reach New York about July 1,

Germany expects to have five of these submarines working on regular schedule.

They will voyage north of Scotland, or thru the English channel, according to conditions at sea, and enter New York via Long Island sound, taking advantage of the three-mile limit.

OPPOSITION TO PREPAREDNESS

Bearing signs presenting arguments against preparedness, a wagon driven by a man dressed up as Uncle Sam drew considerable attention on the downtown streets.

The meeting is called by the American Union Against Militarism. The speakers will be: Hulet M. Wells, president Seattle Labor council; Rabbi Koch, of the Temple de Hirsch; Robert Bridges, president of the port commission; Prof. W. G. Beach, of the University of Washington; Superior Court Judge Everett Smith; Mrs. C. E. Bogardus, president of the Mothers' congress; Representative W. D. Lane and Attorney Carl J. Smith.

Rev. Hugh Elmer Brown, of Pilgrim Congregational church, will preside.

The executive committee voted to set aside May 28 as Memorial Sunday, for the purpose of offering relief for war sufferers.

SUIT UNCONTESTED; WIDOW GETS $26,893

Superior Judge Ronald gave Mrs. Ida I. Gormley, a young widow, a default judgment against J. Henry Jahn, wealthy realty and insurance agent, Thursday for $26,892.50.

This represents the full amount asked for by Mrs. Gormley for personal injuries sustained while in Jahn's auto as his guest in a joyride to Tacoma in September, 1915.

She alleged Jahn was drunk when he drove his machine into a telephone pole on one of Tacoma's principal streets.

He did not appear to contest her suit and a default was entered on motion of Judge Wilson R. Gay, her attorney.

GERMAN OFFICIALS HAVE NO PEACE HOPE

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN United Press Staff Correspondent BERLIN, May 25.—German officials cherish no hopes of an early end to the war, despite peace talk in Washington, Berlin and London.

Great interest is manifested here, however, in President Wilson's speech at the Mecklenburg declaration of independence celebration.

It won wide notice in the German press.

Officials believe that, altho they think England is tired of the war, France will exert such pressure as to prevent peace until after the expected allied offensive.

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS SAYS AUTHORITY

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, spitting and headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Every one, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity organs, one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting it ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make any one a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.
