IT'S COL. PELOWZE AND HIS BAND WHO REALLY RUN THINGS AT THE G. O. P. CONVENTION IN COLISEUM PHOTOPLAYS

Virginia Pearson, Famous Actress, at the Strand in "Hypocrisy."

PROGRAMS TODAY
COLISEUM—The Thousand Dollar Husband, with Blanche Sweet.
ALHAMBRA—What Can Love Do? A Red Feather photoplay, with Adele Farrington.
CLIFTON—Hypocrisy, a William Fox feature with Virginia Pearson; "Mutt and Jeff" animated cartoon.
CLASS A—Jackstraws, a three-reel drama; "The Fishers," comedy, and a Ham and Bud film.
LIBERTY—Going Stralight, with Norma Talmadge and Al St. John, in a Keystone comedy.
CLIFTON—Pavlova and her Ballet Russe in "The Dumb Girl of Portici."
COLONIAL—Rhea Mitchell in "The Man from Manhattan"; "The Masterpiece" and "Savdust Love," comedy.
MISSION—Another chapter of "The Secret of the Submarine," and "Barbara Gilroy" in "The Nymph," and "Out of the Drifts," with Marguerite Clark, a comedy called "Sweet Charity," and colored scenic pictures.

Virginia Pearson, star in "Hypocrisy," at the Strand, has been used as a model for some of the most stunning magazine covers painted in America.
After she starred with Robert Hilliard in "A Fool There Was," on the stage, critics said she was the most fascinating type before the public. William Fox, photoplay producer, signed her up as one of his "beautiful women" and immediately began spending small fortunes on picture plays for her.
Florence Kubey sings, plays the violin and dances, at the Strand.
BORN IN PORTLAND
Rhea Mitchell in "The Man from Manhattan" at the Colonial, was born in Portland, Oregon, and made her first stage appearance at the Alcazar theater in San Francisco. She went on the road in stock and then into movies.
There are two comedies at the Colonial.
TWO COMEDIES HERE
A three-reel drama called "Jackstraws" heads the bill at the Class A. "The Fishers," a comedy, and a Ham and Bud film complete the bill.
NEW CHAPLIN FILM SUNDAY
Charlie Chaplin gets a new laugh in "The Fireman," his latest Mutual release, when he plays a gamb of checkers.
There was nothing in the script about the checker game. One day, during the filming, he saw the studio employes crowded around a checker game.
"Get me a board," he said to the director.
According to word from Los Angeles, he furnished him the hunch for one of the funniest bits of comedy he has ever done.
"The Fireman" comes to the Alhambra Sunday.
Adele Farrington in "What Love Can Do," the 12th episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page," and "See America First" scenic, make up the bill there the rest of this week.
KIDDIES LIKE ST. BERNARD
The big St. Bernard dog with Marguerite Clark in "Out of the Drifts," wins applause from the kiddies who are going to the Rex this week.
He noses his way thru the drifts that make Marguerite captive in her Alpine mountain home.
500 IN PICTURE CAST
Pavlova and her Ballet Russe have 500 people supporting them in "The Dumb Girl of Portici," at the Clifton. It cost $250,000 to produce this first play for the famous Russian dancer. A city goes up in flames during one of the 900 scenes.
AL HAS FRECKLED FACE
Al St. John, star in the new Keystone comedy, called "The Moon-shiner," at the Liberty, never did anything to take the freckles off of his face. He has a whole crew of comedians working with him.

Norma Talmadge, and the Fine Arts kiddies, are the dramatic headliners in "Going Straight."

HAS BIG SUPPORTING CAST
Blanche Sweet made good with packed houses Thursday at the Coliseum, in her new Laasy piece, "The Thousand Dollar Husband." She is surrounded by a cast headed by Tom Forman, and including James Neill and Theodore Roberts.
The Russian orchestra is playing Mascagni's Intermezzo, written as an afterthought to his "Cavalleria Rusticana."

GIVE HIM A MEDAL
Thomas Chatterton ought to get an iron cross, or something, for a stunt he pulls in "The Secret of the Submarine," at the Mission.
He drives an automobile over the edge of a broken bridge, shoots thru the air over an abyss, and lands safe.
"The Nymph," multiple reel drama, is the added feature.

MATINEE EARLY AT "PAN"
Because of the preparedness parade, which will be held in the afternoon, a special performance will be given at Pantages theatre Saturday, beginning at 12 o'clock sharp. The doors for this show, which will be over in time for the patriotic demonstration on the streets, will be open at 11 o'clock. Continuous performances will be given after the parade.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen-carrying power of the blood so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality, and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.
If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own minds that they are too stout are advised to go to Bartell Drug Co. or a good druggist and get a box of oil of koren capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.
Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; the complexion becomes lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.
Oil of koren is inappreciable, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

By George Martin
COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 9.—It's the band in the hanging basket up on the wall, at the far end of the Coliseum that's really running this republican convention.

There can be no delegate so obstreperous, no burst of applause so thunderous, no hullabaloo so hullabalooous but it can be ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ayed out of existence by one burst of oomph-ta-tas from Prof. William Weil and his Weily Wind Jamming Wonders.

Prof. Weil, a most gorgeous man in white duck and gold medals, with a mop of iron grey hair that he flops tellingly in either 4-4 or 6-8 time, has a phone at his eloquent elbow, the other end of which (meaning the phone, not the elbow) rests upon the chairman's platform, miles away down in the middle of the national committee.

The president of the band, which is leased, owned, operated and controlled by the people of Chicago, has a name that sounds like the interlude to a rag-time one-step—Colonel William Nelson Pelowze—American major Col. Pelowze.

In addition to representing the band, he bosses all the convention ushers and he also was assistant grand marshal to the Chicago preparedness parade.

Col. Pelowze—America! Now the way the band runs the convention is this:
Prof. Weil, who as a frenzied director can make the catapulting Creator bite holes in his baton for envy, gets a telephone tip from the chairman as to what he wants done to the convention; then he and his band boys do it.

The formula is something like this:
Squelch a beefing delegate—Washington Post March, heavy on the drums and basses; fortissimo throughout.
Pacify a delegation that has just been steam rolled—a dreamy waltz, piano, Nachtmann doing light gymnastics on the slipper. Put tremolo stops before and after a touching appeal for harmony—shivery music with piccolo obligato by Fontaine Cavone.

These are just a few of many ways the band runs things.

Vollmer, who is twice as fat as his tuba, and Koler, whose voice booms like his own bass drum, aided and abetted by Buck Ewing's corps of clarinetters, Kaiser's bassoon, and Allner's oboe, can silence the entire republican party with the progressives and women thrown in.

Cynthia Grey's LETTERS

Q.—One of my best young men friends is in the hospital. Would it be proper for me to go and see him? If so, what should I take as a gift of sympathy? What should I say?
BETTY.

A.—It is proper for you to visit your friend at the hospital, but you should take a friend or relative with you. Flowers always are in good taste as a gift to the sick. In this case, a book or two or three of the latest magazines, would be particularly acceptable. In a case of illness, it is wise to direct the conversation away from the patient's trouble. He will be glad to have you tell him the news of what the young people of your acquaintance are doing.

Q.—Is there any way I can clean my colored felt pennants at home without injuring the colors?
H. S. G.

A.—Rub the felt with corn meal which has been heated in the oven; or cover with powdered magnesia, roll in clean cloth or tissue paper and put away for a day or two. Rub well and brush off the powder.

Q.—Who must pay for the wedding supper in case the girl's parents are not in a position to have an elaborate outlay for the occasion? Does the best man or the groom pay, or both?
Y. L.

A.—The best solution of this difficulty is to have no elaborate outlay. Keep the affair as simple

POSLAM CALMS IRRITATED SKIN

Clearness, Brightness, Health Through Poslam and Poslam Soap

To eradicate eczema, acne, rashes, pimples or any skin disease, Poslam and Poslam Soap afford a wonderful, fully effective treatment. Let Poslam, the healing ointment, relieve itching and soothe as it does with first application. Watch the skin respond while the condition improves. Clear the skin with Poslam Soap and adopt its use as a daily habit thereafter. For toilet and bath, face, hands, scalp, no soap is more luxurious, more beneficial.
This procedure should be followed for the removal of any skin disease or the correction of any irregular condition of the skin. Poslam is quick to act, always safe to use.

We Have the Real, Genuine Painless Dentistry

DR. L. R. CLARK

Recognized by those who KNOW to be the best that modern science has so far discovered for the performance of painless dentistry. We are referring to "NOVO-CAIN." We don't think that anything has ever been produced that anywhere near approaches it for efficacy. If there were anything better, we would most certainly have it, as we make it our invariable rule to give our patients the best, regardless of the cost to us.

For instance, we are now one of the very few dental offices in this part of the country that has a supply of "NOVO-CAIN." This is due to the fact that this precious material is imported from Europe, and the European war has completely stopped its importation. We foresaw just such a condition, and soon after the war started we proceeded to lay in a large supply at the prices that then prevailed. Needless to say, the prices on "NOVO-CAIN" have gone up by leaps and bounds since that time. We could have sold our supply many times over at an enormous profit to ourselves. Other dentists, realizing the value of it, would have paid enormous prices for it gladly. But we have refused to sell. We have kept this precious substance for the use of our patients, determined at all cost to ourselves to give them the very best under any and all circumstances. This is one of the cardinal principles on which this business has been builded. It explains in large part why this office is what it is today—

—NOTE—
We Use Genuine "Novo-Cain" Not a Substitute

The Fastest Growing Dental Office in the Northwest

Growing Because
we please and satisfy our patients.

Growing Because
our patients are convinced that they get the square deal here.

Growing Because
our prices are the lowest.

Growing Because
we have a staff of graduate, registered dentists, the equal of which cannot be found in this section of the country.

Growing Because we use only the very best of materials —growing, in a word, because we are giving the most nearly perfect dental SERVICE — that's what counts—SERVICE. That is what you want when you spend your good money—that's what you're entitled to—that's what you get here.

Every operator in this office has his certificate from the state dental board hanging right on the wall in front of his dental chair, in plain sight of all.

More than that, we give with all work our ironclad guarantee of satisfaction, signed both by the operator who did the work and by L. R. Clark, D. D. S., owner and manager of this office, who is thoroughly responsible.

You simply cannot be dissatisfied with your work here—simply cannot—we won't stand for it ourselves.

that it will be within the means of the bride's family. If, however, all concerned desire an expensive wedding, the groom may pay the expense. The simple wedding is in far better taste.

Q.—After going with a man for almost two years, I learned by his own admission that he lacked good morals. He insisted that such a man would be the best kind of husband to a good wife, but I told him that I didn't want to ever see him again. Now he has gone a good many miles from here, and I have tried to forget; but after a year I am as miserable as ever. Do you think I should have overlooked his fault?
NEDRA.

A.—You could not overlook it. Whatever the future has in store for you, you will never regret your action. Only when the man comes back to you with proof he has become a better man should you think of marrying him.

Q.—Where should I apply for civil service examination for the United States printing offices?
P.

A.—To the civil service commission, at Washington, D. C.

Q.—My husband's folks live on their farm in the East. They are now both in poor health, and he insists they should come out here and make their home with us.
I would not object to them being near and looking after them, but our home is small and I would not be contented with them living with us all the time, which is what he wants. They are well fixed and can live in comfort the rest of their days, but if they came out here their home would be with us. Should not my happiness count for anything, or should I sacrifice all for them?
Awaiting your reply in The Star.

A.—Your happiness should count for everything. It is no more than right and natural that your husband should feel deeply concerned about his parents in their last days upon earth, but he should not insist in putting them before you, especially when they are well able to care for themselves.

Perhaps if you put the matter rightly, you can get your husband to compromise and fix a home for his parents near you. Since you feel as you do, it probably would not be any more pleasant for the old folks, should they come to live at your house, than it would be for you.

Q.—I have a goiter growing in my throat. It has just begun. Can you tell me something that will cure it? My friends tell me to take a garter snake and tie it around my throat for 24 hours, and it will go away. If you know of anything different, please tell me, as I am afraid of snakes.

A.—The cure your friends suggest is absurd and will not remove the goiter. The only reliable cure is a surgical operation or medical treatment by a first-class physician, and I advise you not to delay in consulting one.

Q.—I am a girl 20, and very much in love with a fine young man of 22. I have known him almost two years and we often meet at dances. I should like to have his steady company; but he does not even know I care for him. Under these circumstances do you think it would be wrong to let him know in some way that I care for him?
T. S.

A.—You have probably shown in a number of little ways unconsciously that you care for the man. By making an effort to reveal this to him you would only appear ridiculous in his eyes. Better keep on the safe side of the fence and let him make the advances.

EL PASO, June 9.—After dragging the American flag thru the streets, rioters applied the torch to the American consulate at Durango City, and the edifice is today a ruin. Customs inspectors have orders to let no American cross into Mexico until further notice.
