

"SIDELSKY IS MAD!"

You'd be mad, too, if you had my troubles. But I'm game and my hat is still in the ring.

Four months ago I announced that I was through with special sales. The high price of woollens caused by the war had made it impossible for me to give these "specials" with any hope of profit. In a recent number of The Saturday Evening Post an expert on woollens pointed out the great shortage of woollens the world is facing and predicted that you would pay a tribute of at least $5 to the War God in the shape of a raise in price on your next Fall's suit.

Every woolen man, every clothing man and every tailor in the land knows this is true. If I could simply stand pat and hold my present great stock of woollens for another year I could make money in the advance of prices.

But business must go on, my tailors must be kept busy and, worst of all, I must raise cash to pay the woolen houses for the goods already sent me.

Not a pleasant situation. The cold, rainy season we have just passed through has simply killed the tailoring business—not only mine, but everybody else's. I can't stand an idle shop. If I don't go forward I'll slip backward. My sewing machines have got to whirl, my men kept at work and my store alive or I'd go nutty. Hence this sacrifice—and to sacrifice woollens now is like selling $10 gold pieces at 50 per cent off.

My stock of woollens is the biggest carried by any tailor in this state—absolutely. Everything that a well-dressed man calls for—serges, chevots, tweeds, foreign and domestic, in an almost endless variety of weaves, shades and colors. In this immense stock are many suit patterns worth up to $35 that I will now make to your order for the money-saving price of $20.

Suits made in any style you order. I take all the chances for you get your money back "with a smile" if you are not absolutely satisfied, and your money puts Seattle tailors to work instead of going back to the over-prosperous East as it does when you buy a ready-made.

FOBES FORTUNE SPREAD BY WILL

Requests to relatives and friends named in the will of the late Edward N. Forbes, former president of the Forbes Supply company, of Seattle and Portland, range from $5,000 to $50,000.

The will was admitted to probate here Friday. It provides that any person named shall lose his inheritance should he choose to contest it.

Immediate apportionment of $25,000 to Myra R. James, of Newport, Ore.; $15,000 to Hattie Genter, of Olean, N. Y.; and $5,000 to Menzo Finn, of Olean, is provided.

The rest of the estate, which is said to be close to half a million, is to be held in trust by Fred Dana Forbes, of Maple Falls, Wash.; George Forbes, of Olean, and Floyd N. Averill, of Portland, until the death of Edward Forbes' mother, who lives at Olean, with the exception that Averill is to be given 55 shares of the Forbes Supply Co. stock, and the mother and sister, Mary Clara Forbes, of Olean, are to be paid $150 each, monthly.

At the time of the mother's death, the will provides, the following divisions are to be made after the property is converted into cash:

Fred Dana Forbes, a brother, $50,000.

Walter B. Forbes, brother, of Seattle, $5,000.
Mary Clara Forbes, $50,000.
George Forbes, brother, of Olean, $50,000.
Leon Forbes, son of Fred Dana Forbes, $25,000.
Marjorie Forbes, daughter of George Forbes, $25,000.
Kenneth Forbes, son of John Forbes, Pasadena, Cal., $5,000.
F. S. Blakeslee, 11 Broadway, N. Y., $5,000.

The rest of the estate is to be divided between the brothers, Fred Dana Forbes and George Forbes, and the nephew, Leon, equally, or to their survivors.

TO TRY 'Highbrow' MUSIC IN AMERICA

Franziska Heinrich, prominent European concert pianist, has come to the United States to try to make vaudeville audiences like "high brow" music. Her specialties are Liszt, Goria and Tschalkowsky. She expects to make a hit in vaudeville with music of that type.

EL PASO HONORS NEGRO TROOPERS

Former Prisoners Showered With Flowers, Cigars and Watermelons

TO RETURN TO MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., June 30.—Living in comparative luxury at the convalescent hospital at Fort Bliss, the 23 negro troopers released from Chihuahua prison were today showered with flowers, candies, fruits, cigars, cigarettes and watermelons by the citizens of El Paso.

Nevertheless, the colored soldiers of Carrizal expressed a desire for an early return to their commands in Mexico and another go at the Mexicans.

They Are Heroes
The cavalrymen are not treated as negroes by El Pasoans. They have been received and showered with attentions never before shown a black man south of the Mason & Dixon line. They are regarded as heroes—soldiers of Uncle Sam.

Flowers bank their rooms. Twenty-three sets of white teeth glistened when the colored troopers today after a peaceful sleep in white covered cots, the first really comfortable lodging the men have had for months.

Call it "Heaven"
Compared to the stone floors of Chihuahua prison, it was "heaven," one trooper remarked.

Gen. Bell will send the colored cavalrymen back to their regiment at Colonia Dublin when they have entirely recovered from the effects of their mistreatment at the hands of the Carranzistas while prisoners.

INTRODUCE MAPS IN ORPET TRIAL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 30.—Will Orpet's attorneys, confident that Orpet's story of Marian Lambert's death had been unshaken in any main point, today set about to show by science, maps, mathematics, rumors and letters that Marian committed suicide.

Over the objections of the State, Judge Donnelly announced that adjournment tomorrow afternoon will be until Wednesday over the July 4 holiday.

He Urges Haste
Prosecutor Joslyn, saying the state had other cases to try, urged haste in the Orpet trial, but the jury agreed with the judge that a holiday was needed. A. M. Brooks, a civil engineer of Waukegan, was the first witness today. He was called to identify a blue print of the spot where Marian's body was found.

Attendance fell off at today's session. The trial fans felt the "high spots" had been reached when Orpet went on the stand.

CHAMBERLAIN BLAMES PEOPLE FOR N. G. DELAYS

WASHINGTON, June 30.—"Had trouble threatened with a powerful, aggressive nation, instead of Mexico, the last few days would have shown the inherent weakness of the National Guard system even more strikingly than has been the case," Chairman Chamberlain, of the senate military committee, said today in an interview with the United Press.

He had before him reports of Guardsmen leaving for the front short of horses, mules, supplies, even rifles; of state forces where sixty per cent of the men never had fired an army rifle; of large proportions of National Guard companies being disqualified by United States army regulations.

"What the failures of the past 10 days ought to do is show the American people their duty—the duty of each one—to begin to get ready for whatever situation may come up."

"It is the American people who are responsible for few machine guns, no aeroplane service to speak of, a lack of horses, an organization so inefficient that in ten days we have succeeded in starting only the militia of a few states to the border, and those in various degrees of criminal unpreparedness."

"It was wrong to expect a small percentage of citizens, largely underpaid, largely the butt of gold-laced jokes, and always with military interests strictly secondary, to bear our preparedness burden."

"Neither can the railroads be blamed for the delays."

"The American people never have suggested that railroads ought to be prepared, as a part of the nation's military machinery."

"The whole nation has been a 'slacker.' We have not only refused to do our duty, but even to see it."

"Let us thank God it was only Mexico that waked us up."

MEXICANS GO HOME GUARDSMEN DROWN

NEW YORK, June 30.—Gen. Carranza is bound and determined that President Wilson shan't get ahead of him any on preparedness steps. Army officers so regarded an order, receipt of which was admitted by Mexican Consul Gen. Burns, directing all Mexicans of military age to return to their country. Burns refused to make any comment on the order other than to point out that the U. S. had ordered all its citizens out of Mexico.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Two homes in New York were desolate today—because two mothers learned that their boys, privates in Company H, Fourteenth New York, were drowned yesterday at Jerome, Mo., as the train bearing the New York Guardsmen stopped to permit the soldiers to take a bath. The men were Robert Daley and Louis Reitz. Neither knew of the deaths of their boys until a reporter today broke the news to them.
