SHALL THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN SEATTLE AND KITSAP COUNTY BE J. P. MORGANIZED?

An Issue in the Congressional Campaign Made by the Post-Intelligencer's Suppression of All Reference to the Open Fight Carried On by the Alaska Syndicate, Under the Leadership of Steve Birch, to Kill the Government Alaska Railroad.—A Statement by John E. Ballaine.

Voters of the First Congressional District: Wholesale merchant in Seattle writes me this letter:

I read your article in the Post-Intelligencer on the Alaska railroad situation—the most interesting, the most instructive, the fairest and best speech I have listened to in Seattle. I turned to the Post-Intelligencer next morning expecting to read an account of it and of the splendid attendance of representative men women there. Not a word of it in the Post-Intelligencer.

John E. Ballaine for Congress and 3,000 Miles of Government Railroads in Alaska

Protecting the Government railroad in Alaska from being killed by enemies, and keeping it going and expanding into a great system, cannot be mentioned by Seattle's morning newspaper because of orders from its financial backers, while a powerful syndicate is plotting every hour to tighten its grip on Alaska, then it is high time we should have a new morning newspaper in Seattle. Better a Hearst morning paper, even, that will publish the news that the people of Seattle need to know, than a policy of dry rot through suppression of news of so much importance to every man and woman in the state of Washington.

"A majority of business firms in Seattle could not meet their bills today, and several thousand laborers would be out of employment, except for the increased Alaska business due to the building of the Government railroad in Alaska. The continuance of that project is the biggest live issue in Seattle, and will be for many years.

"Your masterly address was an eye-opener to me, as it doubtless has been to hundreds of others, and you have my cordial support."

That is a fair sample of expressions I receive from hundreds of men and women in every business and occupation who have heard my addresses at the meetings I am holding in all parts of Seattle and in Kitsap county in my campaign for Congress in the Republican primaries. I came into the race principally to prevent the assassination of the Government Alaska railroad, whose authorization by Congress resulted after a five years' struggle which I carried on against the bitter opposition of the Alaska Syndicate, and to keep it going until every productive part of Alaska shall be opened for all Americans alike with a system of 3,000 miles of Government owned railroads.

Not a word of any of these meetings, nor any mention of my candidacy or campaign on this issue, has ever appeared in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer or in any newspaper owned by J. P. Morgan & Co.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer has even refused to publish articles of my own signature, marked "Paid Advertising," to be paid for in cash as advertising, which gave details of the fight the Morgan-Guggenheim Alaska Syndicate is making under the leadership of Steve Birch, its manager, to kill the Government Alaska railroad.

In all of my speeches before different audiences I produce the proof of my statements and challenge any Morgan-owned newspaper to controvert them. They answer by silence and suppression.

I ask the voters of the First Congressional District to speak to any one of the hundreds who have heard my addresses, and learn from them of the disclosures I make and the proof I submit.

To assist you in your inquiries, I refer you to any of the following named ladies and gentlemen from among the large numbers who have attended my meetings at different places—all well known to the people of Seattle and of Kitsap county for their fairness, their intelligence and their impartiality:

- George W. Hill, member Park Board; A. J. Rhodes, of the Rhodes Co., merchant; George W. Dilling, former mayor; Rev. H. C. Mason, pastor University Congregational Church; Chas. W. Doyle, business agent, Central Labor Council; James A. Haight, attorney and president Municipal League; T. H. Bolton, member City Council; Hon. H. A. P. Myers, former Superior Judge; Rev. F. A. La Violette, Green Lake Methodist Church; Hulet M. Wells, president Central Labor Council; James E. Bradford, former Corporation Counsel; H. C. King, business agent Bremerton Central Trades Council; Robert B. Heeketh, member City Council; Col. Otto A. Case; Col. J. M. Hawthorne; Benjamin F. Shields, president Spokane Grain Co.; J. A. Bunce, president Local Business Men's Club; Oliver T. Erickson, member City Council; E. W. Campbell, banker; Chas. R. Case, superintendent of streets; Alfred Lundin, prosecuting attorney; Rev. E. M. Randall, Ballard Methodist Church; Nils Gilgren, editor Swedish Tribune; Rev. Sydney Long, Queen Anne Congregational Church; H. R. King, merchant; Mrs. Ellen P. Fish and Mrs. Henry W. Long, former presidents City Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Alice Lord; Mrs. Emma Shaw Johnson, active worker in many Women's Clubs, and all others of the many hundreds who have attended and are attending my meetings.

Their names and addresses are in the telephone directory.

federal amendment relating to woman's suffrage, and this was not mentioned in the platform. I have no objection, however, to stating my personal views. As I said in my speech, I think it to be most desirable that the question of woman's suffrage should be settled promptly. The question is of such a nature that it should be settled for the entire country.

"My view is that the proposed amendment should be submitted and ratified and the subject removed from political discussion.

"Very sincerely yours,
"CHAS. EVANS HUGHES."

BY PERRY ARNOLD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Chas. Evans Hughes' "keynote" for the coming campaign pleased all republicans today.

Party chiefs who assembled to hear the former justice formally accept the nomination last night praise the striking sentences with which the candidate outlined the issues on which the G. O. P. is to start its campaign against Woodrow Wilson and the democratic majority in the senate and house.

Four thousand men and women sat for nearly three hours in sweltering, stifling heat to hear the nominee speak in the meeting at Carnegie hall.

The same stinky, sweating, listless had enough enthusiasm left at the end of the session to cheer Hughes vociferously.

They would have liked to have heard something from Roosevelt, but the former nominee, playing "second fiddle" at a political gathering for the first time in a great many years, hustled out of the hall. Hughes' speech pleased because, in the view of his friends, he supported his harmony plea with a selection of the issues for the campaign which combine views of republican standstillers, republican liberals and progressives.

The "old liners" were pleased with a ringing protection declaration on the tariff; the liberals with the labor, conservation and administration efficiency sections in his upbraiding of the Wilson administration, and the bull moosers with the "Americanism" creed, the preparedness platform and the Mexican discussion.

Republicans and democrats alike today were convinced that Hughes' principal issue in his fight against Wilson will be the Mexican situation.

The second line will be bombardment along the lines of "adequate" preparedness and the tariff. On his transcontinental trip, starting Saturday, his supporters expect him to give the country a sample of the sort of campaigning that made him famous in the gubernatorial race.

IS KITCHENER ALIVE?

Hampshire sinking, with Lord Kitchener aboard, was received, in order that the survivors could be got together. No further inquiry would be held, he said, as it would "serve no useful purpose."

With that, absolute silence was shut down on the suggestion that there was no proof the Hampshire was sunk—no proof that Kitchener was dead.

Just why the admiralty was so certain within a few hours of the Hampshire's reported loss that Kitchener was among the dead—

Just why the usually slow-moving department should send death notices promptly to the relatives of the officers and men—

Just why a great memorial service in St. Paul's cathedral was arranged IMMEDIATELY—

Are points that will require some ingenious explaining to convince the skeptical in England that Kitchener really was drowned.

Picture the amazement that would cover the Germans and the added vim of the allied attack should Kitchener suddenly emerge, at the crucial hour, to direct the entente powers toward victory.

There is little doubt, too, that after the first shock of the news of Kitchener's death the British public went about the war with added determination; the loss was an inspiration.

It is considered possible that Kitchener himself suggested his rearranged "demise" with the triple object in view—first, to shock and inspire the British public into greater efforts; second, to visit the allied nations incognito; and, third, to clinch the chances of victory by his dramatic reappearance, as from the dead, at the crucial moment when Germany is expected to weaken!

SLAVS PLUNGE AHEAD IN MUD

PETROGRAD, Aug. 1.—Flooded fields, muddy swamps and barbed wire entanglements partly submerged, have failed to stop the Russian advance across the Stockhod river north of Kovel. German positions which the Teuton commanders have spent months in perfecting are succumbing daily to the Russian assaults.

The enveloping movement around Kovel is proceeding step by step. Gen. Kalekin's forces have negotiated the difficult marshes of the Stockhod and Gen. Sakharoff's division is forcing the Austrian troops westward from Brody.

Judging from battle front dispatches today, the floods on the Dniester river have subsided somewhat, permitting Gen. Letchitsky to press forward with greater rapidity.

Austrian big guns are bombarding Brody in a counter attack, but it is unofficially stated the fire is waning.

"NO CHANGE"—HAIG

LONDON, Aug. 1.—"No change in the situation" was reported today by Gen. Haig. Haig related that north of Barentin le Pett, a hostile attack against the British trenches was successfully repulsed and said there had been heavy artillery firing during the night.

EVACUATE KOVEL

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Wireless reports received at Rome and forwarded here today asserted that Germany is withdrawing her heavy artillery and her food and munitions depots from Kovel in the face of the Russian enveloping movement.

The same report stated that Vladimir and Volhynsky in the same sector on the eastern front have already been completely evacuated.

A THIRSTY MONTH

During July the county auditor issued 13,125 liquor permits, the greatest number in a single month thus far, swelling the total since January 1 to 51,589.

High Spots in Hughes' Statement of Issues

MEXICO

"The dealings of the administration with Mexico constitute a confused chapter of blunders. We have not helped Mexico. She lies prostrate, impoverished, famine-stricken. For ourselves we have witnessed the murder of our citizens and the destruction of their property. We have made enemies, not friends. Degrading interference, we interfered most exasperatingly. We have not even kept out of actual conflict, and the soil in Mexico is stained with the blood of our soldiers. We have resorted to physical invasion, only to retire without gaining the professed object."

EUROPEAN WAR

"We should not have found it difficult to maintain peace, but we should have maintained peace with honor. The only danger of war has lain in the weak course of the administration. Instead of assuring respect, we incited distrust of our competence and speculation as to our capacity for firmness and decision."

PREPAREDNESS

"We are a peace-loving people, but we live in a world of arms. I do not believe there is the slightest danger of militarism in this country. Adequate preparedness is not militarism. It is apparent that we are shockingly unprepared. There is no room for controversy on this point since the object lesson on the Mexican border."

COST OF LIVING

"Our opponents promised to reduce the cost of living. This they failed to do, but they did reduce the opportunities of making a living. * * * It is plain that we must have protective, upbuilding policies."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

"I endorse the declaration in the platform in favor of woman suffrage. * * * Opposition may delay, but, in my judgment, cannot defeat this movement."

PULLS GUN ON WIFE AT PALACE

A. C. Faulkner, 22, a clerk, was disarmed in the Palace Hip theatre Monday night by police officers, after he had threatened to shoot his young wife.

He was arrested and is booked at police headquarters on an open charge.

Mrs. Faulkner fainted during the scuffle, but was able to explain the trouble later to the police.

"We had quarreled several times, but yesterday he arranged to meet me," she said. "In his room at the Frederick hotel he became angry and jealous. He flourished a revolver and said he was going to shoot me."

"I told him to take me to a show first. He did."

"I tried to take the gun out of his pocket at the show. He became angry and pulled out the gun. Then I fainted."

TWO BILLBOARD BILLS ARE UP

The billboard fight at the city hall is on again.

Councilmen Hanna and Heeketh introduced rival ordinances at Monday's meeting.

The Hanna bill provides for an annual tax of 1 cent per square foot, payable quarterly. The estimated revenue would be $6,500 a year.

Councilman Heeketh's bill provides for a yearly license of $200 and 1 per cent of the gross earnings as a tax. The revenue under this plan would be approximately $2,000.
