

DOUBLE GUARD ON ALL DOCKS

Water front employers had redoubled their precautions Saturday to prevent further possible attempts to dynamite or fire any of the docks by installing electric lights and stationing armed guards under every wharf.

James Murphy, a longshoreman held for arson in connection with the attempt to fire Pier 2 Thursday night, will probably be arraigned in court Monday. The minimum penalty for arson is five years' imprisonment.

Murphy denies positively that he threw the bottle of phosphorus thru one of the windows of Pier 2, altho policeman R. B. Colby de- clares he saw Murphy do it.

Chamber of Commerce trustees will meet Tuesday with Judge Thomas Burke to consider the request of William Blackman, commissioner of conciliation, that the chamber co-operate in negotiations to end the longshoremen's strike.

Footlights Twinkle; Curtains Up On New York's Theatrical Season!

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Are you coming to New York this fall? Then listen, Mr. X: here's what you'll see in the theaters: (Business of studying on whom to mention first.)

There are American and English plays, and operettas from the German, and farm plays and fashion plays and plays based on motion picture plays, and—

(Ah, we've got it—and maybe she'll write for us the story of her young, eventful life!)

Ruth Chatterton, for instance, who starred first in "Daddy Longlegs," is to have "Come Out of the Kitchen," an A. E. Thomas comedy, from Alice Miller's novel.

Doris Keane will appear in an Arnold Bennett adaptation of his own passionate novel, "The Book of Carliotta."

Frances Starr will be in "The Little Lady in Blue"—but not till Christmas time; that's a costume comedy by Horace Hedges and Wynney Percival.

In "Mayo Farce" The Sisters Dolly, those operatic and optic delights, will enter straight drama in a farce, "His Bridal Night," written by Margaret Mayo and Lawrence Rising.

Jane Cowl, for the first time in years, will have a humorous role in "Betty Behave."

Ann Murdock will star in "Please Help Emily," the first play by H. M. Harwood, British army officer.

Elsie Janis and Hazel Dawn will open the Century theatre for the Dillingham Ziegfeld outfit.

Maude Adams, too

Grace George will stay in repertory at the Playhouse. Mrs. Fiske will stage Ibsen's "Enemy of the People," and Emma Dunn will act

Rachel Crothers' "Old Lady No. 31."

Maude Adams will feature Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella." Margaret Anglu will have Somerset Maugham's "Caroline," and Marie Dressler will be a female athletic trainer in "Sweet Genevieve," by Jimmy Forbes.

Blanche Ring will star in William Mack's "Broadway and Buttermilk." Pavlova will prance at the Hippodrome. Chauncey Olcott will work in a Geo. M. Cohan comedy, and Macklyn Arbuckle and Tom Ross will co-star in a Geo. V. Herbert piece.

Cobb Has Play

George Nash has a play by Irvin Cobb and Roi Cooper Meigrue. Robert Eason will be a movie hero in "The Squab Farm," by the Hattons. William H. Crane will reappear in "Father and the Boys," and David Warfield in "The Music Master."

Jas. T. Powers will come back in a farce, "Somebody's Luggage." Raymond Hitchcock will be seen in an English musical comedy, "Betty." Anna Held will have a revue.

An Irish Opera

Other musical pieces will be: "The Star Gazer," by Franz Lehár; "Her Soldier Boy," by Victor Leon; "Rund um die Liebe," by Oscar Straus; "The Girl from Brazil," by Brummer and Grunwald; "Lost Gas," by Eysler Ellner and Rodansky; "Florabella," by Cosmo Hamilton and Chas. Cuvillier, and "Little Miss Springtime" and "The Cardas Princess," both by Emmerich Kalman, of "Sari" fame.

Also there will be an Irish opera by Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom.

LAKE SEAMEN PLAN STRIKE

10,000 May Quit Work in Fight on Welfare Books

WIN WAGE INCREASE

BY HONOR FANNING
DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 17.—Freight traffic on the great lakes will be tied into a double bow knot; commerce involving millions of dollars in iron ore and grain will be paralyzed; 10,000 men will be idle; 1,000 freight vessels will lie at anchor—these are the demands of the lake seamen's union.

The seamen will demand an increase in wages, and ABOLITION OF THE CARRIERS' WELFARE PLAN.

"The welfare plan is nothing more or less than a blacklist," says Victor Olander, national secretary of the lake seamen's union. "The welfare book is our special grievance; the shipmaster keeps each man's record in a book; the master holds the book. On his record in this book the seaman secures his job. He must deposit his book when he ships. Sometimes the master retains the book—if the seaman quits without his approval—and a seaman without a book is not considered a desirable workman."

"We are gathering up these books, and some day soon there will be a great bonfire of welfare books."

"If it requires a strike to enforce these demands, we will STRIKE!" The seamen already have taken the first move in their fight. An advance in wages was granted a few days ago. We will make a further demand for wage increase, and repeat our demands for abolition of the welfare book.

"The increase just granted gives able seamen $70 a month, and deckhands $47.50 and up."

HERE'S WHAT MEN ON BORDER EAT

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 18.—This is what each American soldier on the border consumes in one day:

Fresh beef, 18 ounces; baking powder, .08 ounce; beans, 3.4 ounces; potatoes, .20 ounces; prunes, 1.25 ounces; coffee, .12 ounces; sugar, 3.2 ounces; pepper, .04 ounces; cinnamon, .014 ounce; lard, .84 ounce; flavoring extracts, .014 ounce.

In one day a horse eats 12 pounds of oats and 14 pounds of hay. This average is subject to change at any time.

SEATTLE ELKS WIN PRIZE IN PARADE

HOQUIAM, Aug. 19.—Closing the largest state assembly yet held, Elks gathered here in the 12th annual convention will dance on the pavement tonight.

Frank H. Lamb of Hoquiam was considered the likely candidate for president.

Seattle won the first prize for having the most marchers in Friday's parade.

HUGHES WON'T DIP IN FIGHT

Refuses to Be a Party to California's Factionalism

IS GREETED BY 14,000

By PERRY ARNOLD
U. P. Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The 1900 California republicans will have to settle their own differences in their own way: Presidential Candidate Hughes does not propose to recognize the existence of any faction.

The nominee so indicated his position today in conference with various state leaders. In the meantime, a truce was apparent between the regulars and progressives, manifesting itself when a photograph arranged to pose the nominees, National Committeeman Crocker and Chester H. Rowell, progressive leader, together.

The candidate, it was said by those with whom he talked, feels that he should not mix in local or state issues for the reason that he does not desire to be involved in anything except a clear-cut issue.

Gov. Hughes addressed one of the largest gatherings he has faced during his "swing around the circle" in the Civic Auditorium here last night. Fourteen thousand, it was estimated, packed the building.

The afternoon Hughes will address a mass meeting in Oakland, and leave for Los Angeles tonight.

Baby whale is reported to have been seen in Elliott bay. Mable Charlie Sullivan, secretary of police, went a-swimming.

Music at Grand; "Girls" at Orpheum; Dancing at Pan; Novelty at Palace Hip

GRAND

The Six Imperials, a musical extravaganza, will top the bill at the Grand, beginning Sunday.

The Corona-Murphy company will present "The Witness."

Tege and Daniels have a comedy, singing, talking, dancing act. Campbell and Greenwood will present a harmony singing and comedy act.

Brady and Brady have a comedy novelty act.

The 14th installment of "Peg o' the Ring" will complete the bill.

ORPHEUM

The Wilkes Players will present Clyde Fitch's lively comedy of social life among the wage earners of a modern American city "Girls," opening Sunday at the Orpheum. Two new additions to the company will be seen tonight, Miss Alice Trier from a reputable career in Eastern and Denver stock companies, and Norman R. Feusler, who is to play "heavies" reporting directly from San Francisco, altho he is well known on the Orpheum circuit and stocks in Oakland and Los Angeles and road engagements.

"Girls" tells the story of three young women, office employees in New York who have resolved to live bachelor girls and are quarantined in their own apartments, independent of boarding house restrictions. Suddenly, while they are preparing for their night's rest a young lawyer is plunged by accident into their company and there is much fluttering and flying and indignation.

J. Anthony Smythe has the role of the young lawyer.

PANTAGES

Leo Perkinoff and Ethel Rose, with their Imperial Russo ballet, will present a dancing extravaganza as headliner at the Pantages, beginning Monday.

Bertie Beaumont and Jack Arnold, late of the "Miss Nobody From Starland" company, will present "The Doctoreene," to the accompaniment of many laughs.

Fred Holmes and Lulu Wells, recently with McIntyre and Heath, will offer "On the Doorstep," and the Royal Hawaiians, in "Paradise Beach," will illustrate the real Honolulu brand of the latest musical craze.

The Three Luciers, in a big vaudeville specialty, and Garcinetti Brothers, in a comedy trampolin novelty, will care for a portion of the comedy work.

The final installment of "The Iron Claw," the big Pathe serial, also will be shown.

PALACE HIP

As the big novelty feature of the new bill at the Palace Hip, Sunday, will be the Five Belmonts, "The Boys With the Toys," who are spectacular hoop rollers and Diablo spinners.

Jerry and Gretchen O'Meara will offer a Protean musical novelty, with singing, music and character portrayals.

The Edward Zoeller Trio do skillful topsy-turvy tumbling tricks.

White and Brown have a pleasing comedy act called "A Lesson in Flirtation."

Muzette, "The Dancing Violinist," is a pretty, dainty dancer and an excellent musician.

Then there will be "The Joy Riders," Monty Moore's "high-powered, twelve-cylinder" fun and mel-

MONKEY GETS ALL OILED UP; IS SICK

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A pet monkey, a quart of whiskey and plenty of room aboard, were elements in two wild days on the United Fruit liner Almirante. The monkey got a horrible jag, monkeyed with the wireless, tried to pull the rigging down and wasn't captured until he got to the delirium tremens stage.

WAR UNITES TWO OLD SWEETHEARTS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 18.—Tobias Voskuhl, an officer of an interned German vessel lying at New Orleans, has married Miss Alhering Dehner, a Siletion girl, for whom he had been searching 14 years.

Cynthia Grey's LETTERS

Q.—Does the prospective groom share equally with his fiancée the expenses of the wedding? Who should buy the flowers?

A MALE VICTIM.

A.—In this instance the "victim" gets off easy, as the expenses of the wedding fell almost wholly upon the bride's father. Her mother being the hostess of the occasion, assumes the responsibility of directing details, always, of course, consulting her daughter's wishes.

It is the duty of the groom to provide the flowers that the bride and her attendants carry, the bride making the selection.

Q.—Can you tell what the difference is between faithfulness and loyalty?

A READER.

A.—The difference between the two words is very slight. Faithfulness pertains more to one's true character. For instance, to be faithful, one must be honest, upright and sincere. Loyalty is used more in the sense of being constant to a cause or person, whether good or bad.

Q.—We are four girls, chums, all 16 years of age. Wherever we go, to the show, church, and, in fact, if we step out of the yard in the evening, we are followed by from two to eight boys, all strangers to us. We do not flirt, but attend strictly to our own business, and tell them everything we can think of to get rid of them, but it does no good. Our mothers are very much worried and won't let us go any place in the evening. Will you please give us your advice about this, as we are very much annoyed and hate to have to always stay at home.

FOUR PERPLEXED GIRLS.

A.—When you "tell the boys everything you can think of to get rid of them," or recognize their presence by the slightest word or action, you are not attending strictly to your own business. No boy is so devoid of pride that he will risk having his vanity wounded more than four or five times, so if you would ignore these boys completely, they would soon cease to annoy you. Don't you girls know that you should not speak to strange boys under any circumstances? Besides, you are too young to go out alone in the evening, unless accompanied by an older person.

Q.—My husband works from 8 a. m. until 3 p. m. during week days. When he comes home he seeks a corner, equipped with a dictionary and a magazine or text books. He studies hard every spare moment he has. I am so lonesome. He never entertains me at all. When I go to him he will say, "Please let me study," or "beat it." He seems to be seeking an education by reading magazines or studying text books. Shall I continue to be lonesome, or what shall I do?

NAVY YARD CELEBRATES WITH SENATOR POINDEXTER TONIGHT

All Bremerton will unite in honor of Senator Poindexter Saturday evening, at a great meeting to be held at Eagles' hall, at 8 p. m. The passage of the navy bill, carrying an appropriation for the construction of capital ships at the Bremerton navy yard, due to the efforts of Senator Poindexter, has aroused the city to a pitch of enthusiasm and excitement which exceeds anything in recent years, and the celebration of this event will center about Senator Poindexter's Saturday evening meeting.

The senator will be the guest of Commandant Coontz, of the Puget Sound navy yard, from 8:30 Saturday morning until Sunday morning. He will embark on the government tug Pawtucket, at the Bell st. dock, in Seattle, in company with a delegation of Bremerton business men, who will come over from Bremerton on the tug to meet him.

The party will proceed to Bremerton by way of the Keyport rifle range, arriving at Bremerton at about noon. In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Senator Poindexter will address a meeting at the Washington Veterans' home, at Port Orchard.

He will be entertained informally at dinner Saturday evening by A. Migliavacca, president of the Citizens' National bank.
