CARD SHOWS HE KEPT PLEDGES

Poindexter's Card of Six Years Ago Shows His Consistency

TRUE TO HIS PROMISES

Realty Dealer Marlow, at Renton, during Senator Poindexter's visit there, the other day, dug up the card which bore Poindexter's pledges of six years ago.

Reference to those pledges shows how consistently Poindexter has adhered to those principles. They are as follows:

"The policies for the common good developed under Theodore Roosevelt, and bearing his name.

"The reorganization of the federal house and senate, so that both shall be responsive to public opinion, and no longer be dominated by privileged interests.

"Strong and effective control of railroads and the just regulation of their rates.

"A protective tariff, measured by the difference in the cost of production here and abroad.

"Federal conservation of natural resources.

"An issue of bonds for such amount as will enable the reclamation service to complete without delay the government irrigation projects now in process of construction.

"A liberal and practical policy of internal waterway improvement, and, if necessary, the issue of bonds for that work.

"A limitation of the power of injunction so as not to imperil the liberty of any man without notice and hearing.

"Legislation which will end child slavery in the factories, mines and sweatshops of the land.

"The proposed amendment of the constitution, giving congress the power to tax incomes."

M'BRIDE PRESENTS RECORD IN OFFICE

Former Gov. Henry McBride, candidate for governor, was the principal speaker at the Lyon building meeting Tuesday night.

He placed his record as governor for public inspection and challenged his opponents to point to a single act in his administration that has not been worthy.

Other speakers were: W. W. Sherman, candidate for state treasurer; Dr. J. A. Ghent, for coroner; Frank T. Hammond, for congress; Elmer Conner, for auditor, and W. F. Van Ruff, for prosecutor.

SPEAKS FOR HARTLEY

Mrs. W. A. Burieligh was the chief speaker at a meeting in the Green Lake library called in behalf of Ronald H. Hartley, of Everett, candidate for governor.

She explained the platform on which Hartley is running—namely, the "open shop," and gave a brief outline of Hartley's personal history.

John F. Miller spoke in behalf of his candidacy for congress.

Col. Hartley will speak in the University district Thursday night.

HOGUE NAMED

Oldest Circus Clown, Age 78, Still Active

Jerry Madison came to Seattle years and years ago, when most of the dads were kids, and he made them laugh until their stomachs ached, because he was a clown, and a good one.

And now Jerry, 78 years old, but still a sawdust comedian, is headed toward Seattle again. He can't jump around quite so nimbly as he did in the old days, but his red spotted duds, and his red spotted face, and the little conical cap, tipped back on his head, still make Jerry look funny.

He has been a clown 61 years. He has climbed aboard a big blue wagon and slept in the seat under the stars, while the caravan rumbled from village to village.

The youngsters who used to watch him make up back of the "big show" canvas have grown old with Jerry. Many of them, no doubt, will be leading grandchildren thru the crowds when the Barnum & Bailey shows come to town Monday, September 4.

HUMPHREY WILL LEAVE TONIGHT

Friends Send S. O. S. Calls and He Won't Wait for Adjournment

HIS 'DUTY' IS OVER NOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Congressman Will E. Humphrey will leave tonight for Seattle to wage his campaign for United States senator personally.

Congressman Johnson, of Hoquiam, also will leave.

The business of congress practically has been over for a month and is now conducted entirely in conference committees.

None of the Washington delegation is a member of either the senate or house conferences.

When Senator Miles Poindexter left, two weeks ago, Congressman Humphrey declared that "duty" compelled him to stay until the adjournment of congress.

That "duty" is not as compelling now, following the receipt of urgent requests from his campaign workers at home, declaring he must return.

MANY CANDIDATES AT BALLARD MEET

Before an audience of 400 at Junction hall in Ballard Tuesday night, John E. Ballaine, candidate for congress, was vigorously applauded as he gave details of the long fight to get legislation for the building of a government railroad in Alaska and of the opposition of the Alaska Syndicate to that project.

Ballaine addressed the Women's Hughes club in the Arcade building Wednesday afternoon.

J. Y. C. Kellogg, candidate for congress, in speaking at the same place, said:

"The republican party believes in protection, and we should send a protectionist to congress; the party believes in a strong central government, and we should send a man who is in sympathy with this idea to congress; but above all else, the republican party believes in human rights, the protection of the weak and unfortunate and industrial freedom. The next congressman from this district must believe in all of these things."

Others who spoke were John F. Miller, for congress, who offered his experiences as mayor and prosecutor as material for developing a good congressman; E. A. Bryan, senatorial candidate, and many county and judicial candidates.

BIG CROWD OUT TO HEAR POINDEXTER

Senator Poindexter addressed a meeting that filled the Green Lake branch library hall Tuesday night, and called attention to the misstatements published by a morning paper under the guise of a letter from A. O. Burmeister of Tacoma, and declared that he placed a country above party, and party above party bosses.

"I recognize the right of no would-be boss to read me in or out of the party," he said. "They say I am not a republican because I voted for bills on their merits, regardless of whether they originated with a republican or democrat. I voted for Louis D. Brandeis for justice of the supreme court, also he was a democratic appointee, and I am attacked on that account."

"I am a republican, but I do not believe that it means I should refuse to vote for good measures or good men because they are democratic."

Senator Poindexter is at Tacoma Wednesday and will return to Seattle Thursday.

CONNER AT LABOR TEMPLE

Elmer F. Conner is campaigning for auditor in an automobile along with Master Howard Nielding, a talented boy singer, a portable organ, torch lights and red fire, and he gets the crowd with these methods. Admitted beforehand, he gives a concert on the most prominent corner of the various King county villages, and tells the voters what he will do if elected auditor.

He is going to hold such a meeting at the Labor temple Wednesday night, when Howard Nielding will sing.

MANY SPEAK

Captain Frank E. Green, candidate for prosecutor, Dr. C. C. Tiffin, candidate for coroner, and several other county and judicial candidates spoke to the Women's Roosevelt-Hughes club Tuesday.
