SLIM SILHOUETTE IS HARD TO GET, BUT CORNER COP SAYS WOMEN WILL DO IT YET

Here's How Woman Has Manipulated Her Figure in the Past. Sketch by Esther Andrews

BY ESTHER ANDREWS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—I wandered down Fifth ave., chasing the slim silhouette because Paris says we must be thin, straight up and down to be in style.

No phantoms could be more fleeting, no ghosts more elusive. I sought a policeman.

"They can get the slim figures all right," he said. "What the American woman makes up her mind to do, she does."

"I've stood on this corner 15 years and I've seen 15 different styles in shapes go by."

"I seen 'em wide in the shoulder and narrow in the beam, I seen 'em narrow in the girth and broad in the back, I seen 'em throwin' out their chests like athletes, and pullin' 'em in like lingers."

"Yes, this you can do the new style. Of course, in my own business, I prefer 'em solid. They're harder to move, but easier to see. The little, thin ones think they can slip between the smoke and the license number, and it makes it hard."

I left him and sought Child's restaurant.

"Teasie," I said, "has it reached your consciousness that you must be slim to be in style?"

"That may be all right on Fifth avenue," she said, "but they like 'em wide on Avenue A!"

I sought a resort of fashion. The first persons I encountered were three lovely ladies eating

French cake and drinking chocolate.

A limousine stood ready. They hesitated, then consulted each other's eyes.

"I followed them out. A limousine stood ready. They hesitated, then consulted each other's eyes.

"We'd better do it," said one. "All right," sighed the other. James, meet us at the Plaza."

"They stiffened. "Cancel that second order," said one to the waiter.

I looked after them.

"It's a long walk to a slim silhouette," I murmured.

But cheer up, girls. The outlook is dark, but I'm told there's a place in Philadelphia where you can get stretched. It's painful, but it can be done!

JULEP BELONGS TO OLD VIRGINIA

So Says Marse Henry Watterson, Louisville Editor

BLOW TO KENTUCKIANS

BY HENRY WATTERSON

(Famous Veteran Editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, in an interview at Atlantic City)

The mint julep is a Virginia institution. It does not belong to Kentucky and it never did, outside of the brains of novelists and paragraphers.

I do not see anybody knows how the fiction about the Kentucky colonel and the mint julep first started. Maybe "the boys," who for five years pictured me in a jovial spirit as the "national drunkard" until the passed that title with the cherry cocktail to Charley Fairbanks, had something to do with it.

It was not true in my case any more than the cocktail fiction was true in Fairbanks' case, for he is one of the most abstemious of men.

But the mint julep fiction is fostered to this day in Louisville. We have them mixed in silver goblets and served to northern visitors at the Pendennis club, and they go back home and stoutly challenge the veracity of any one who questions the reliability of the julep fiction.

I don't suppose any member of the Pendennis club ever orders a julep for his own consumption.

SILK-CLAD VICE LURES RICH GOTHAM YOUTHS INTO BLACKMAIL NET

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Sons and daughters of wealthy New York families, some of them trying to climb the social ladder, will be hit in New York's big vice investigation, according to the district attorney's office.

"We will make revelations that will shake New York to its roots!" said an official of the office today.

Attaches of the office claim to have evidence of the existence of housewifery business under the guise of clubs, or masquerading as private homes, frequented by sons and daughters of wealthy parents.

In these houses, officials say, there are rooms of utmost luxury to lure the senses, suppers are served in exquisite taste, and all the mechanics of luxurious entertainment make vice appear beautiful and soft and easy.

Rich Caught in Net

The vice investigation, which started the whole country by its sordid revelations of white slavery, has taken a new turn, with the new evidence, from the commercialized tragedies of the East Side and the tenderloin to Fifth ave., with debauchery at its worst among men of wealth, with sex run riot among the daughters and wives of

PUT ON NEW FACES

ELMYRA, O., Sept. 14.—American surgeons in France are putting new faces on mutilated soldiers.

Mrs. Wm. G. Sharp, wife of the United States ambassador to France, has just returned to her home here from Paris, where, she says, she witnessed miraculous surgical operations.

"The surgeon performed on a German, grafted a piece of bone taken from the man's thigh onto the remnants of the lower jaw. A cast metal capping was made for the teeth. This part of the process was done by a dentist."

"A piece of rib with its membrane, was grafted onto what remained of the nose. Skin was taken from the man's forehead and grafted onto the remnants of the cheeks and over the chin."

"When the patient was ready to leave the hospital he was told his appearance could be further improved, but he was so satisfied with his new face, he would not consider further grafting."

"Another remarkable piece of surgery was performed on a German prisoner who had been struck by shrapnel and burned by liquid fire. The left side of his face was terribly burned. The lid was gone from his eye."

"Surgeons grafted skin taken from his forehead, just where his hairline began, and so cleverly was the operation performed the man left the hospital, not only with a new eyelid, but a new eyelash as well!"

"I saw men brought from the trenches some horribly mangled by shrapnel. It seemed impossible they still lived. Yet, many of these men were patched together, given new faces, new limbs, artificial, of course, and when they left the hospital it would be hard to detect anything wrong."

"The surgeons have given physicians an opportunity to work wonders. They are called upon day after day to perform operations which heretofore were considered impossible."

"Gunshot wounds, which, in times of peace, were almost always fatal, are now treated with such skill that cures are effected in 90 per cent of the cases."

"When the war is over and the great army of surgeons engaged in repairing war's damages to humanity return to their home hospitals and offices, they will be able to do the same things for their patients they are now doing for Canada has found such a profitable market in the United States for its calves that it has shipped practically all of them out of the country, thereby causing a rennet famine which threatens to ruin the cheese industry."

Berlin Says New Allied Drive Ends

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—The new allied offensive in Macedonia has been completely halted, according to Sofia dispatches today.

Large British forces that attempted to advance in the region of Sierres were repulsed, suffering heavily.

Repeated attacks by French and Italian troops have been fully repulsed. The Serbians on the Bulgarian right wing after a few temporary successes have been pushed back to their former positions.

The operations in Southeastern Rumania under command of Field Marshal Mackensen are progressing satisfactorily.

BURGLAR IS ROUTED

Mrs. C. E. Uver awakened during the night at the Navarre hotel and screamed when she saw a shabbily dressed man crawling toward her on his hands and knees.

"My husband awoke and chased him out of the room," she told the police, "and the fellow ran out of the place so fast no one saw which way he went."

ANACORTES VOTE

ANACORTES, Sept. 14.—Anacortes gave McBride first place for governor, with 516 votes. Hanley ran second, with 423; Hodge third, with 281. Humphrey led Poindexter here for the senate by 74 votes.

Train Your Hair as an Actress Does

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and naturally no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry among them develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. Instead they have studied to find the finest preparation made for shampooing and bringing out the beauty of the hair. The majority of them say that to enjoy the best hair wash and scalp stimulator that is known, get a package of canthox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. It costs less than three cents for this amount. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color and luster, and is free from dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

How to Get Rid of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms can be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment, which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). This will not cost you more than 75c. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. A decided improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing becomes easy, while the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

SHOT BY BURGLAR

James McMillan awoke at 12:30 a. m. Thursday to discover two burglars in his room, at 364 Ward St.

He jumped out of bed and grappled with one of them. The other pitched in for a free-for-all fight, which ended when one of the burglars fired twice. One shot took effect in McMillan's shoulder. He fell to the floor and the burglars escaped.
