YANKEE COIN TO PULL AWAY

American Dollars Will Return to Europe After War, Is Verdict

TOURISTS TO BE MANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Millions of dollars poured into this country by warring European powers for munitions are to be poured back into Europe at the end of the war by American tourists, and immigrants who will return to their home countries to aid in the work of rehabilitation.

American curiosity to see famous battlefields and the desire of aliens to play a part in rebuilding the war-torn cities of their countrymen will send money flooding back to Europe, according to indications at steamship offices today.

Taking as an estimate, as viewed by steamship officials, that 100,000 Americans will visit during the first year after the war, and that they will spend an average of $1,000 each, $100,000,000 will be returned to the European countries within 12 months after peace is restored.

Europe will, of course, be a greater show place than ever before, after the war, steamship men point out.

Inquiries and applications for passage on the first ships to sail from the United States after the war are rolling into the booking offices by hundreds, and causing steamship companies to make every preparation to handle the biggest trans-ocean traffic in history after the war.

PANTAGES
Long Tack Sam and a company of Chinese acrobatic wonder workers top a good bill at Pantages theatre this week, Sam adding to the fun an impersonation of the English Johnny.

Jack Keno, a funster of class, and Rosie Green, his charming partner, contribute a combination of dances, songs and burlesque that puts their act up among the list of screams.

Bonnie Gaylord and Iva Lancton, blackface girls, give the audience a glimpse of the theatre dressing room in a meritorious skit. Eve Shirley is an attractive soprano.

Dances, songs and chatter are the offering of Dooley and Nelson, two clever boys. Willis, Gilbert and company have some original acrobatic stunts.

"The Crimson Stain" is in its second episode.

NEW SURVEYS OF SOUND ARE NEEDED

New surveys of Puget sound and Lake Washington will be urged by E. Lester Jones, government superintendent of coast and geodetic surveys, he announced Tuesday, after spending three days in study of local conditions.

Other recommendations, he said, would call for new maps, and wire dredging of the torpedo course off Keyport.

Two more survey vessels are necessary, he said, to efficiently carry on survey work along the Pacific coast.

SCOUTS STORM CITY BUILDINGS

Khaki-Clad Kids Search Out Hidden Coins for Their Organization

3,000 MEMBERS WANTED

Seattle is in the hands of the Boy Scouts. An army of scouts captured the city yesterday. Bankers and other leading citizens capitulated without resistance. The triumphant invaders paraded the business streets of the city last night. Their victory was complete, overwhelming, and leaders of the Boy Scout campaign are jubilant.

It is rumored that sweet tribute will be taken from the city before the invaders will retire. The Boy Scout army will make daily expeditions into the business heart of the city, deploying with detachments into every office building and store. This latter threat was openly made to the most prominent citizens of the city who temporarily were called to meeting at the Rainier club yesterday noon.

"This is Boy Scout week," Mr. Harry D. Cross, national field scout commissioner, aggressively declared in his opening remarks.

In discussing the capture of the city this morning, Dr. Arthur Jordan, chairman of the Boy Scout campaign committee, stated that the coup of his army carefully had been planned for months ahead.

"Many men, we approach turn us down, refusing to support anything 'militaristic,'" said Cross. "But the Boy Scout movement is not a military movement. On the contrary, if we would affiliate ourselves with the military preparedness propagandists, become something in the nature of a preliminary step to the National Guard, for instance, so many money contributions would flow in upon us that we would not know how to use the money."

Major Ingraham reviewed the Boy Scout work in Seattle, telling of how the work has been hampered since its inauguration by lack of sufficient funds to secure efficient leadership. "I could go out tomorrow," declared Major Ingraham, "and enlist 3,000 Seattle boys as scouts."

Dr. Jordan issues warning that every business man of the city may expect a personal visit from some one of his staff in the course of the week. Mr. Cross will personally lead a committee of 50 energetic young business men, which has been dubbed "The First Line Fleet of Fifty," in daily raids of the city.

There seems to be no other alternative but for Seattle to meet this crisis with the best face she can.
