Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Strains did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed, and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time or trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Emma M. Pullen, Carpenter, 211-C Marcellus ave., Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

apartment), and get a little "Getty-Up," I would then be o. k.
"The cruise was bum—about half cheap guys and the remainder from small towns—a cheap, jakey crowd—no more cruises for me."
"I was glad to hear from you. Write me. I am the only one here. As ever and ever."
"YOUR BIG, FAT FOOL," "Getty-Up" meant cheering up, explained the defendant, to reply to his counsel's suggestion.
Daughter a Wellesley Girl
His daughter, Dorothy, a Wellesley college student, and his son, Irving, a Yale student, smiled broadly at the explanation. They joined the jury and court room crowd in a hearty laugh when the signature, "Your Big, Fat Fool," was read.
The next letter, written by Lyon from the same place, to Miss Connell, read as follows:
"I have read Dr. Robinson's booklet with a great deal of interest. I wish he had been here to kill this litter of brown kittens. My old is better than it was, but not entirely gone."
Hopes Doctor Chokes
"I sometimes wonder which one of the 'kind doctors' is holding your lily white hand while I am not there, and who is taking you to dinner 'Dr. Rogers' I don't wish him any bad luck, but I hope he chokes."
"I have sent you a box of oranges which you are supposed to eat whole. I hope you have not got your bed up against the window these cold nights."
"Yours for health,
"LYDIA PINK HAM."

"By 'brown kitten' I meant bronchitis," said Lyon.
"And what did you mean when you referred to the doctors?"
"Miss Connell had a mania for doctors," was his reply. "I felt sure she would marry one. I used to ask her how much they held her hands. They were like expressions."
"Were you jealous of the doctors?"
"Oh, no."
"Was a Dressmaker Then"
Lyon said he first met Miss Connell when she came to his house as a seamstress during the lifetime of his wife. After his wife's death she continued to visit them to make dresses for Miss Dorothy Lyon.
"Ever make love to her?" Lyon was asked.
"Never," he said. "And I never promised to marry her."
Miss Dorothy Lyon and Irving Lyon stated briefly that they became acquainted with Miss Connell in her capacity as seamstress in their home. They never noticed any indications of affection between the plaintiff and defendant.

WILL VOTE FOR No. 24

THE article published in the official pamphlet under the heading "For Initiative Measure No. 24" covers all the points as to the financial and economic loss to Seattle and the state of Washington, and exposes the ridiculous prohibition attempt, which absolutely does not prohibit. In addition I wish to point out a condition which will, upon due consideration, appeal to unprejudiced minds—that is what is proved by the world's history for ages, viz: that light wines and beer-drinking nationalities have achieved notable deeds, industrially and commercially, and have proved themselves physically and morally superior and more efficient. Let us Americans have our beer and wine openly, without inconsistent laws, with breweries and wineries in our midst, for our own use and benefit.

Why not endeavor to get away from the hard liquors? The success of Initiative Measure No. 24 will lead us from the stuff that hurls to the mild beverage that builds and strengthens our bodies.

TRUSS WEARERS, Here's Great, Good News
Tiresome, torturous trusses can be thrown away forever, and it's all because SLOAN'S PLAPAO PAINS are different from the painful truss, being medicine applicators, made self-acting purposely to prevent slipping and to afford an arrangement to hold the distended muscles securely in place.

Thousands have treated themselves in the privacy of the home—most obstinate cases cured—no delay from work, soft as velvet—may be used in any position. ## SHORTAGE OF MEN HALTS MACKENZIE

PETROGRAD, Nov. 2.—Field Marshal Mackenzie has halted his advance in Dobrudja, apparently because of a shortage of men, to protect his long line along the Danube. Dispatches from Bucharest declare that Mackenzie has been forced to send several regiments to the Transylvanian front to aid Falkenhayn. The withdrawal of these troops is said to have checked his operations.

James Riddell, a salesman who lives at 8423 48th ave. S., sustained a broken leg and three fractured ribs when he was struck down by an auto driven by Arthur P. Howell at First and Pike st. Wednesday noon. Howell was arrested on a reckless driving charge and released on $100 bail.

LISTER RESENTS DRINK CHARGE

Bitterly resenting personal attacks made by a Tacoma newspaper upon him, Governor Lister yesterday wired from Snohomish to his campaign committee in Seattle, giving them instructions to cancel Friday's meetings in Seattle so that he will have that day to give to a further campaign of Pierce county to answer and reply to what he terms to be a lying and contemptible attack upon him.

A morning newspaper in Tacoma published the statement that the governor has not been telling the truth when he asserted that he never touched a drop of liquor in his life. A statement by a former saloonkeeper was published, in which this man was made to say that he had served the governor with drinks over his bar.

Governor Lister, since early youth, has been an ardent prohibitionist, and has been chief templar of the Good Templars lodge, a well-known prohibition organization.

Completing a three-day campaign in the northwest counties with a record of 21 speeches in that space of time, Governor Lister will today begin his final King county drive with eleven speeches.

Altho the number of building permits issued during October called for $556,745 in construction, as compared with $1,894,395 in the same month, 1915, the total for 1915 already has been eclipsed by the first ten months of 1916.

Already 7,360 permits, calling for $7,378,074 in construction, have been issued this year. The total for 1915 was 7,319 permits, calling for $5,065,460 in construction.

The percentage of apartment houses and garages is increasing, which is an indication of prosperity, according to the dopesters.

MORE THAN 23,309 liquor permits were issued in King county during October, while October 30 was the banner day, with 1,287 permits.

52 CAUGHT IN GAMING RAID

Not one of the 52 men who were in a gambling den at 222 Washington st. got away when police officers, under Sergt. Y. R. Putnam, raided the place, Wednesday afternoon.

Patrolman Ben Norman was first sent in to obtain evidence. He purchased lottery tickets with marked money, and then gave the high sign to the raiding squad.

Six of the men arrested were Orientals. They were released on $500 bail each, and charged with conducting the resort. The others had to put up $50 bail each.

After the arrests, the officers went back with axes and smashed up the equipment. Police Chief Beckingham, while walking below Yesler way, was tipped off about the joint. He watched men going in and out, and then sent word to Sergt. Putnam to stage one of his first-class wrecking expeditions.

GIRL WILL DIE OF HER BURNS

Little hope was left Thursday that Ruth Oakes, 7, would survive from painful burns received when her dress caught fire while she was attempting to heat milk for a baby member of the family, at 209 1/2 ave. S., Wednesday afternoon.

She was at Providence hospital, and under the constant eye of Dr. F. S. Wiltzie, Thursday morning. Attempting to light the gas stove, she dropped the blazing match and her dress caught fire when she stooped to pick it up. Neighbors extinguished the blaze after she had run into the yard.

DRIFT IS TO WILSON IN N.Y., SAYS GARDNER

and habitually republican. It is part of New York's "reliable up-state republican majority."

The poll:
Total voters canvassed ..... 24
"Undecided" ..... 2
Wilson ..... 12
Hughes ..... 10
Republicans to Wilson ..... 0
Democrats to Hughes ..... 0
Progressives to Wilson ..... 1
Progressives to Hughes ..... 1
First voters to Wilson ..... 2
First voters to Hughes ..... 0
Socialists to Wilson ..... 2
Socialists to Hughes ..... 0

This poll is indicative, not conclusive. It is probably inaccurate in its suggestion that Wilson will lead Hughes in this region. If a larger number had been seen the advantage would probably be found on the republican side. There is normally a large republican majority in this county.

Drift is to Wilson
The significant thing is that the candidates are running close, and that the "drift" is to Wilson. It will be noted that all the chances of vote are from republican, progressive or socialist to Wilson. There are no changes from Wilson to Hughes; nor does Hughes get any of the young men who are casting their first vote. The most remarkable thing I found was a republican postmaster who intends to vote the democratic ticket.

"As New York state goes, so goes the presidency." This has been a political tradition since the days of Polk. In close elections the big vote of New York in the electoral college—the state now has 45—counts for much. Cleveland, in his first race, got New York by about 1,000 votes, and it determined the result. In 1888, up to date, no election has been won without New York state.

Hence the frenzied interest generally manifested in this state, and hence the disposition of political Warwick to pick candidates from New York.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding this election might very easily be decided without New York. If Wilson carries the West and Middle West, including Illinois and Indiana—but that is another story.

New York's vote in national elections is almost always the result obtained by subtracting a large democratic vote from the city from the large republican vote "up state." The city is normally democratic. Anything which cuts down the up-state republican majority is likely to turn the state democratic.

The city of New York will undoubtedly give Wilson quite a large majority. The Jewish vote is a large campaign asset for Wilson—sufficiently large to overcome the German-American alliance support of Hughes. Tammany and Tammany have not got on very well together; but Tammany is more or less "regimented" and will for the most part go thru the motions of getting out the democratic vote.

On the republican side, old Boss Barnes is sulking in his tent. So far as the state machines are concerned, it is "fifty-fifty."

"He Kept Us Out"
In talking with the up-state farmers, I found that the reason for the drift to Wilson is the same that exists in the Far West and Middle West: "He kept us out of war." Wherever I met an independent voter—one who was not republican by tradition birth and habit—I met a man who was deeply moved by gratitude that the United States is not in the overseas war.

Wilson will be helped rather than hurt by the state campaign. The democratic candidate for governor is Samuel Seabury, ex-judge of the circuit court, a member of the progressive party and a real, up-standing radical. Seabury is opposing Gov. Whitman and is making a very strong campaign against him. Seabury will have strong progressive support in addition to a solid democratic vote, while Whitman is on bad terms with the Roosevelt republicans, the Barnes republicans and the progressives.

On the whole, therefore, I should say that Wilson has perhaps a little better chance to carry New York than has Hughes.

HUGHES TALKS TO HOME FOLKS

BY PERRY ARNOLD
United Press Staff Correspondent
BATAVIA, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Nominee Hughes started on the last quarter of the presidential campaign race today, and among "home folks" in New York state today and tomorrow he faces one of the most strenuous two-day programs he has encountered since starting out. He was scheduled for five set speeches today and a dozen or more rear platform "appearances," and tomorrow, going back down the Hudson valley toward New York, his schedule calls for eight talks, winding up in Brooklyn with two meetings, Saturday night at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden he winds up his campaign.

WOMAN'S SKULL IS FRACTURED AS SHE'S THROWN FROM AUTO

A fractured skull was sustained by Miss Lillian Wald, 103 W. Galer st., when she was thrown from an auto which collided with a car driven by D. Lampman, 1911 44th ave. N., at Eighth ave. and Pine st. Wednesday night.

Lampman was arrested and later released on his personal recognizance. His car hit the auto driven by Thomas Capell, Oxford hotel, in the rear, and swung it completely around. Miss Wald was in the car with her sister, Miss Emma Wald. She was thrown to the street and taken to the city hospital unconscious.

DRYS PLAN RALLY

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the opponents of Initiative Measures Nos. 18 and 24 will make the final talks against these bills before election in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium with former Mayor Cotterill as the leading speaker.

The executive committee of the dry campaign organization met Thursday noon to select new speakers for the community work.

Prominent Citizens Argue for Initiative Measure No. 24

THE general tendency of governments at the present time is to restrict the use of strong alcoholic liquor, and to permit the use of mild beer and light wines.

The so-called Prohibition Law of this State operates exactly in opposition to this tendency. One quart of beer contains one to four per cent alcohol, and one quart of whisky contains FIFTY per cent alcohol, or from twelve and one-half to fifty times more alcohol than beer; and pure alcohol is from twenty-five to one hundred times stronger than beer.

The express charges are correspondingly higher on twelve quarts of beer than on two quarts of alcohol. Whisky or alcohol is less bulky and consequently can be carried by a person more conveniently than beer. These and other facts taken into consideration show an unreasonable discrimination in the present law in favor of strong intoxicating drinks as against mild beers.

LARGER PAY ROLLS
It seems hardly possible that the people would purposely discriminate against home consumers and manufacturers, thus destroying manufacturing plants in this state and building like plants in other states, taking away labor and pay rolls in this state and giving them to other states, prohibiting a business that brought large sums of money into this state from its large export trade, and sending thousands of dollars out from this state, reducing taxable property at home and increasing assessment property elsewhere, raising the price of mild beer and thereby imposing an unreasonable tax on the consumer, all of this done under a Prohibition law that operates in favor of strong alcoholic liquor as against a mild, wholesome one to four per cent beer, which should be made within this state, from the products of our hop ranches and barley farms, by the labor of thousands of employes now hoping for re-employment.

Initiative Measure No. 24, which is to be voted upon next Tuesday, seeks to modify the unreasonable and discriminating provisions of the so-called Prohibition Law.

MILD 4 PER CENT BEER
Initiative Measure No. 24 provides for a mild beer of not over four per cent alcohol, permits its manufacture within this state, and regulates its sale by the manufacturer to the consumer at his residence, which is not a place of public resort. "It does not re-establish the saloon or public drinking place, nor does it seek to do so." It simply provides that those who want beer can obtain a home-made product at a reasonable price, without being compelled to pay high transportation charges for beer. "The home consumer will be able to get a wholesome mild beer shipped into Washington under the present permit system; actually contains as much as 7 per cent alcohol. Some analyses show even higher than 7 per cent.

RESTORE MANUFACTURING
Initiative Measure No. 24, if enacted, will restore manufacturing properties destroyed by the Prohibition Law, and it will give home consumers the sensible privilege of procuring a Washington made product at prices that are reasonable, and of maintaining a large export business that will be a valuable asset to the State.

We have affixed our names to this argument, believing that if Initiative Measure No. 24 becomes the law, it will check law breaking and the consumption of poisonous compounds, and be a positive step forward in good morals, health and real temperance.

CLOCK AND LUNCH ONLY TRACE OF MAN

Otto Hodds, 47, 2108 Summit ave., left home Saturday morning to chop wood out beyond Richmond heights.

Saturday night he failed to return home.

His wife was worried sick Monday, so neighbors and friends organized a searching party.

They hunted thru the woods, and an alarm clock he had taken with him, sitting on a log. But there was no other trace of Hodds. I.

The police have been asked to aid in the search.

KEEP MAIL BOXES CLEAR IS ORDER

Leaning on mail boxes is a favorite habit in some of the congested districts, according to the police.

"It may be comfortable," says Capt. Charlie Sullivan, "but we've just issued a general order to patrolmen instructing them to keep the mail boxes clear. The idea is to make it easy for the folks who want to post letters."

RAINS INCREASE DANGER OF AUTOS

Automobile accident injuries will increase with the coming of rainy weather the police say.

"Auto drivers ought to understand right now," says Capt. Charles Sullivan, "that they are supposed to come to a stop when passing a street car which is loading or unloading passengers. They can pass six feet from the car, after the crowd clears. Lots of autoists have an idea they don't have to come to a stop, but can keep going if they stay six feet from the car. They're wrong."
