JAMES WORKED FOR S.E.CO.; NOW WANTS CITY JOB

Geo. P. James.

George P. James, candidate for the city council, came to Seattle 27 years ago and sold groceries in his father's store on Queen Anne hill.

When the first survey party went out on the Cedar River water system development job, young James went along carrying an axe.

He came back and entered the University of Washington, determined to become a civil engineer.

Worked for S. E. Co. For three years James was city engineer of Ballard, and was employed for nine years as chief engineer for the Seattle Electric company.

"But that wouldn't influence my judgment now," he says. The contracting business attracted James after leaving the electric company.

He's a Dry The dry law and home rule both meet with James' favor. He says the city water, light and garbage systems have been good investments and he believes in developing them.

"Good wages for good service," is one of his slogans.

He's willing to help regulate the jitneys.

James has a wife and three children. Lives at 812 Second ave. N., and belongs to the Arctic club.

NEW VEGETABLE IS BEING GROWN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The dasheen, a root crop introduced into this country from Trinidad within recent years by the department of agriculture, is now grown by a considerable number of farmers and truckers in the South.

It promises to become a valuable member of the group of domestic vegetables such as the potato which furnish starchy food. The new vegetable is closely related to the taro, which is an important factor in the food supply in parts of the tropics.

Can Be Grown Widely. The dasheen primarily is a tropical plant. It can be grown successfully, however, not only in the warmer parts of Florida, but in other sections of the South as far north as South Carolina.

The edible portion of the plant includes a large central corm and a number of tubers of much smaller size attached to and around the corm.

The value of the dasheen, it is believed, will be as a crop supplemental to rather than a substitute for the potato. The fact that the dasheen matures in the fall when potatoes must be obtained from Northern producing sections should make the new plant especially valuable in the economics of the Southern farmer.

Food Value Compared. In food value the dasheen is comparable to the potato, though it contains a smaller proportion of water and a greater proportion of protein, starch and sugar.

The new vegetable may be prepared for the table as potatoes usually are, or may be made into flour and used in baking. The tender shoots forced from the large corms may be prepared like asparagus and make a pleasing dish in that form.

PAIR OF SEATTLEITES TO LIVE IN CHILE

Far-away Chile has won Thomas Griffiths, son of Austin E. Griffiths, and Arnold Polson, son of Alexander Polson of Hoquiam.

The boys sailed Friday from Seattle for San Francisco, where they will board a boat for Valparaiso, Chile. Their invasion of the South is for the purpose of starting the market for Washington fir and cedar. They expect to remain there permanently.

Griffiths was formerly mayor of Cosmopolis.

OUCH! LUMBAGO?

Try Musterole. See How Quickly It Relieves

Rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Rheumatism

Is My Weather Profit I can tell stormy weather I days off by the twinges in my shoulders and knees.

But here's an old friend that soon drives out the pains and aches.

Sloan's Liniment is so easy to apply, no rubbing at all, it sinks right in and fixes the pain. Cleaner than musky plasters and ointments. Try it for gout, lumbago, neuralgia, bruises and sprains.

At your druggist, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

What to Do for Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From druggists for 25c or $1 for extra large size, get a bottle of zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses, soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

IF FOOD DISAGREES DRINK HOT WATER

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bicarbonate of soda in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bicarbonate of soda, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take last meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bicarbonate of Soda after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.

HAVANA POLICE IMPRESS "COP"

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Though he believes the New York police department to be the best organized, the best governed, the most efficient and neatest body of men in the world, Police Captain William F. Ward thinks the police of Havana are not far behind. Captain Ward recently returned from Havana, after being there nearly three weeks.

Captain Ward had been in Havana only half an hour when he was welcomed to the city by Gen. A. Arramonte, chief of police, who assigned as a guide Col. Michael Angel Duque de Estrada, his principal aid.

Carry Guns in Plain Sight. "I found the national police of Havana a remarkable institution," said Captain Ward. "Their uniforms are of light blue, and the patrolmen wear caps which resemble the French army officers'. The mounted and traffic men have spiked helmets. A cap is thrown over the shoulders of the policemen. The buttons of the uniform are shining, and the effect is pleasing. A revolver of large caliber rests in a holster attached to a belt on the outside of the jacket."

"The policemen there are only medium sized—ours inches above them. My six feet and some 225 pounds caused them to wonder. "One of the first things that impressed me was the politeness of the Havana 'cop.' If he is unable to understand your questions, he will procure an interpreter. He will even go so far as to walk several blocks with you to a street car and see that you start right to your destination. In an instance I recall I was escorted all the way to a building inquired about, and I had not said that I was a captain of police in New York City."

After considerable delay on the part of the California management the date for the crew regatta to be held on the Oakland estuary has been decided. Johnny Stroud, graduate manager of the University of California, decided that the morning of April 14 would be the ideal time for the race to take place. The California management does not like the idea of holding the race on the afternoon of the 7th and backing a strong tide.

When informed of the fact Graduate Manager Younger of the local institution called California's attention to the fact that if the race was held on the afternoon of the 7th the same tide conditions would prevail as on the morning of the 14th.

Just what will be done remains to be seen, but it looks as if the race will be held on the California date.
