

DENY REPORT OF REVOLT IN MEXICO CITY

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Communication re-established today between Mexico City and Washington, revealed no fighting in the Mexican capital and did not confirm the report that Gen. Carranza had been imprisoned. It was stated at the state department.

DRUGGIST ARRESTED BY "DRY" SQUAD

Robert Walker, proprietor of a drug store at Renton, who was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Von Gerst, Malone and Hill, on the charge of selling 15 gallons of whiskey, has been released on $500 bond. Officers found two barrels partly filled with liquor in the place.

Big Series of "Sin" Pictures Is Coming

Manager Von Herberg of the Liberty theatre announces that the McClure Pictures group of seven five-reel features, the Seven Deadly Sins, will be shown at the Liberty, beginning Thursday, April 12. The seven features and their stars are: "Envy," Ann Murdock; "Pride," Holbrook Blinn; "Passion," Shirley Mason; "Wrath," H. B. Warner; "Greed," Nance O'Neil; "Sloth," Charlotte Walker; "The Seventh Sin," George Le Gure.

The name of the seventh sin is not being announced. You are at liberty to guess. Just think over the sins you are particularly fond of committing and one of the 20 or 25 is sure to be the right one.

HE'S BACK AGAIN

The city jail must be an attractive place to this man, for he could not stay out long. Raymond Mize, released Thursday and turned over to navy officers from Bremerton, was yesterday rearrested on the charge of passing a worthless check on Mrs. O. L. Anderson, landlady of the Hotel Livingston, 1913 First ave.

POSTMASTER HELD

John W. Harris, postmaster at Station 1, 15th ave. W. and Grand blvd., who was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of embezzlement of postal funds to the amount of $500, is held on a $1,000 bond.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

Use "Tiz" for puffed-up, burning, aching, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet? "Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot troubles.

POPULAR STARS ON NEW BILLS

"The Witching Hour" at Liberty and "The Price She Paid," Clemmer

LIBERTY
"The Witching Hour," from the stage play of the same name, by Augustus Thomas, will be the Liberty's feature Sunday.
The central figure is Jack Brookfield (C. Aubrey Smith), a Louisville gambler, who has the power to sway weaker men's minds. Clay Whipple, son of an old friend, commits murder while in an insane terror of a cat's eye. Brookfield, during the trial, mentally orders one of the jury to vote "Not guilty."
Whipple is released, and later Brookfield cures him of his fear.
Ford Sterling hysteres his way into your heart with his comicities in "Pinched in the Finish."

CLEMMER
She was forced to marry Gen. Suddall by her step-father and her mother, because of his wealth, after the man she loved had become engaged to another. She married him—and hated him. Finally she left him and found Baird, the other man. He also had had a "bust-up." Baird investigates the general's past and finds that his first wife is still alive in an asylum. Baird gets his divorce and marries the girl.
It happens in "The Price She Paid," from the novel by David Graham Phillips. Clara Kimball Young is the star. It came to the Clemmer Saturday.

COLISEUM
"Mayblossom" might take the feature at the Coliseum, beginning Sunday. The comedy is "A Merry Mix-Up."
"Mayblossom" might take the title of the comedy, for it is a mix-up, but not a merry one. It is delightfully sordid, with a strong dash of the sex element.
The picture, after being completed here, was sent to the Path studios in France to be colored. Wounded soldiers colored it. So the exquisite colors you see cast upon the screen is the work of the hands of maimed poilus.
Pearl White and Hal Forde are the stars.

REX
"Snow White," an adaptation of the fairy tale by Grimm, which was seen at a local playhouse before comes to the Rex Sunday. Marguerite Clark is the star.
Snow White is a little girl, whose guardian, jealous, drives her out into the world. A servant is ordered to kill her and bring her heart to the woman. They kill a pig and take its heart to her. Snow White is found by gnomes and taken care of. The woman tries many ways to kill Snow White, but all fail, and she marries a prince.

TRACY PROSECUTOR WEDS IN SEATTLE

W. W. Blain, secretary of the Everett Commercial Club, continued as witness for defense Friday afternoon, in the trial of Thomas H. Tracy, who, with 72 others, is charged with murder on account of the death of one of the deputies in a clash with I. W. W.'s at Everett last November.

The absence of Snohomish County Prosecutor Lloyd Black from the trial Friday afternoon was explained when it was learned that he had taken the time off to get married. The bride is Miss Gladys Statler of Toppish. They were married in the First Methodist church in Seattle, Rev. J. P. Marshall, pastor of the First Methodist church in Everett, coming down to perform the ceremony. Only close relatives were present. Black will be back on the job Monday morning.

Mill owners, Blain said, composed not more than 50 out of the club's membership of 450.
Vanderveer called State's Attorney H. D. Copley of Everett to the stand for a question.
"By whom are you employed in this case, Mr. Copley?" he asked.
The objection of Copley's associate, A. L. Veitch of Los Angeles, was sustained by the court.

SEATTLE MAN MAY BE MEX. PRISONER

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—Word was received here yesterday that two Americans, temporary residents of this city, were being held by Mexicans a few miles south of the Mexican border. The men gave their names as Charles Bohne, formerly of Seattle, and Carl Campbell, Fresno, Cal.

It is learned in Seattle that Bohne, who was former manager of the rental department of McGraw, Kittinger & Case, left Seattle for Louisville, Ky., six weeks ago, and friends here doubt the report that he is in Mexico.

SAILOR LADDIES ARE PREPARING

Thirteen sailors turned the girls they'll leave behind them into brides Friday.
Assistant Cupid Kennedy, in the auditor's office, says Friday was the biggest day he has ever had. There were 26 licenses issued.

PIT GOES WILD; WHEAT SOARS

CHICAGO, April 7.—The extremely bullish government crop report resulted in a buying wave, shortly after 10 o'clock, which sent May wheat to $2.14 1/2, up 7/8c from the opening; July to $1.98, up 12 1/2c from the opening and September $1.75, up 1/4c.
Shortly afterward prices on all futures fell about 2c.
The government crop report confirmed the unofficial reports received by dealers, and indicated that the crop damage had been greater than feared.
The pit was in a wild turmoil, and changes of 2c and 3c were common between sales.

"High Explosives" Prove Alcoholic

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—Western Pennsylvania was given a thrill for a time early today when reports were received of a clash between militiamen and supposed Germans at a Pennsylvania railroad tunnel.
The reports "blew up," however, rather than the tunnel.
The "high explosives" in possession of the men who clashed with the Guardsmen were "largely alcohol," according to an officer in charge of the troops.

Confessions of a Wife

WOMAN HIDES HER TRAGEDIES BEHIND JOYS
Little book, little book, I do not know whether I shall be able to tell even to you the terrible tragedy that has happened!
I have just read over the last entry I made on your white pages a week ago. There I complacently and definitely settled my future life, agonistically putting down in black and white just what I was going to do, regulating not only my own affairs but also Dick's.
Recently I said to you that I knew Dick better than he did himself, but the events of the last week have shown me I not only do not know Dick, but I really know nothing of myself.
Dick and I are strangers to each other, little book—more than that, we are strangers to ourselves.
I am overcome by this new tragedy that has come into my life and a terror seizes me whenever I think of it. For again I see what pigmies we all are—and I wonder if we have the right to usurp the prerogative of God himself and say, "This man shall live and this man shall die."
All my life I have been imbued with the ideal—the ideal upon which all Christianity is based—"Greater love than this hath no man, that he lay down his life for another."
Is there a greater love, little book?
Can there be any chain of circumstances which will prove beyond peradventure that it is braver to let the other man die?
Is it right for a woman to hold something sacred in her life that she may not tell to any one?
Can a woman love a man without knowing it?
Can a great love regenerate so that all his worldliness, all his follies, will slip from him like a robe?
Does a man owe more to his immediate family, to those dependent upon him, than he does to the conventional ideas of bravery?
After all these questions have come into a woman's life, will she ever be able to answer them?
Oh, little book, I am up against the greatest stone wall of my life, and I must take it down, stone by stone, perhaps with bleeding hands, before I can even look over into the quiet meadow on the other side.
And all the while I must be just the same Marjorie Waverly to the world—one who is not seemingly more than any one else, interested in the sensational tragedy that has moved society to its depths in the last week.
What will I do? What shall I do? I must begin at the beginning and tell the whole situation to you, and to you only, little book, and perhaps you will help me solve this terrible question, a question as old as creation—a question as new as the decisions we poor mortals must make hourly each waking day of our lives.
Let me begin at the beginning.

ANOTHER $1,000 FOR AMATEURS

The money for the new City league ball park jumped $1,000 in the aggregate Thursday, when Teel Williams, chairman of the executive committee, was given that amount in behalf of the Skinner-Eddy Shipbuilding corporation by John W. Eddy. Williams was the recipient of many congratulations from fellow-committeemen and those interested in the project when, for the fourth successive day, he brought in $1,000 by his own individual efforts.
The last details were worked out with the architect Thursday night; the finishing touches will be put to the plans for the grand stand, bleachers, dressing room and so forth, before the week is out.

Japanese Hold Meeting

There was an enthusiastic meeting of Japanese fans Thursday night, at which all of the local Japanese clubs were represented.
During the meeting it developed that it was the plan of four clubs, all represented by crack ball players, to enter one picked team in the league, and this team would later be sent on a tour of Japan. The four clubs represented were: Mikado, H. M. Yamauchi; Asahi, N. Fukuda; Grand Union Laundry, Miyasaki; Sanitary Market, Geo. Nakamura.
The club to be sent on a tour of Japan will be made up of men picked from these four teams, and strengthened, perhaps, by a Jap ball tosser picked up elsewhere, tho it is the aim of these managers to send the best team of Jap ball players that can be gathered together in the United States. Meantime, the best team from these four clubs will be entered in the City league. The meeting further pledged that it would take over $1,000 worth of stock in the new ball park.

SAWYER CAMPAIGNS FOR PREPAREDNESS OF ALASKA BASES

"Every city on the Pacific coast should do its utmost to secure immediate action by congress for the completion of the government railroad in Alaska, from Seward to the Matanuska coal field, thus making available for immediate use by the navy of the only supply of first-class steam coal."
So says E. O. Sawyer, Jr., of Seward, Alaska, here Saturday morning, en route to Los Angeles on a tour of the coast in the interest of this project, which he declares to be the most important move toward naval preparedness on the Pacific coast.
Sawyer is the authorized representative of the Seward Chamber of Commerce, and is also the editor of the Seward Gateway.
"It is well known to naval and military experts that Seward possesses even a greater importance as a naval base in the Pacific than Hawaii, and efforts should be made to have congress authorize money for its defense, as set forth in the plans already recommended by Gen. Weaver, chief of coast defenses.
"This coal base, properly protected, will be one of the greatest single units in the nation's first line of defense."

CORBALEY LIKES THE EDITORIAL, TOO

Editor The Star: On my desk I find a clipping of an editorial headed "For the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man," that is such wonderfully good stuff that I would like to have it in the shape of a neat card that I could permanently keep on my desk. It is an expression of sentiment that goes right to the heart of a man. I judge that you have probably had similar appreciation from other readers. The purpose of my writing you is to say if this editorial can be put in more permanent shape, I would be glad to be one of several citizens to put up the few dollars necessary to make that possible. Yours very truly,
G. C. CORBALEY,
Executive Secretary Chamber of Commerce.

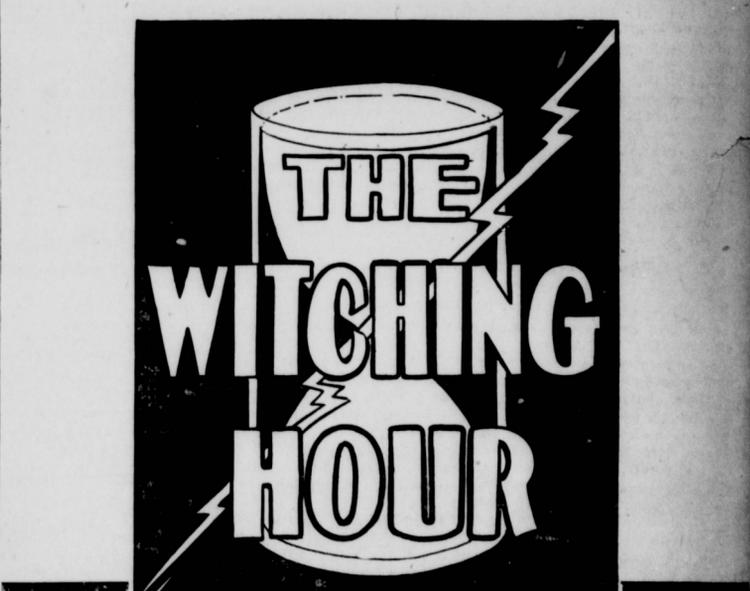

TEUTON COIN DROPS

BERNE, via Paris, April 7.—The German exchange rate has been sent down to its lowest record, on account of President Wilson's message for its defense, as set forth in the plans already recommended by Gen. Weaver, chief of coast defenses.
"This coal base, properly protected, will be one of the greatest single units in the nation's first line of defense."

LIBERTY

The Liberty Way—the Super-play

SUNDAY NOON CONCERT
WALLACE OR WURLITZER
March Selected
Waltz (Au Revoir) Waldteufel
Barcarolle (Contes d'Hoffmann) Offenbach
Lohengrin (Grand Selection) Richard Wagner

A sensational success on the stage and as a story, "The Witching Hour" now is screened on a six-part play. The superiority of screen over stage in building and sustaining the dramatic interest by means of flashbacks, real scenery, elaborate and costly staging, double exposure—an all-star cast of players—is amply evidenced in "The Witching Hour." If you enjoy a story replete with thrills, a bit weird and mystic—with wholesome, red-blooded romance—if you like the kind of a story that carries your attention right up to the end of six bang-up acts—then you'll like "The Witching Hour."

Also a 2-Reel Mack Sennett-Keystone Comedy
"Pinched in the Finish." A gentleman crook, a pretty maid, the chief of police and his wife are the cause of the comedy. The fun is fast—and the laughs are without finish.
