

TRACTION DEAL AWAITS ACTION OF THE COUNCIL

Seattle's purchase of the traction system now awaits the action of the city council at its meeting Monday.

The legal department is being called upon to frame an ordinance arranging for the transfer of the traction property to the city government.

Monday's council meeting is expected to define a clear-cut policy on the part of the city in connection with the handling of the lines.

The traction company has given the city a formal letter accepting the offer of $15,000,000 for the system. The letter reads:

"We have considered your proposition of September 6, 1918, to purchase the operating street railway property of the company in the city for the sum of $15,000,000, payable in fifty bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

"The price named in your offer is satisfactory, and we are ready to settle the details of the transaction at the earliest date convenient to you, and to assist in the preparation of all necessary papers to make a binding contract for the purchase and sale of the property, and to consummate it as speedily as possible."

CITY EMPLOYEES DECLARE THEY'LL GO ON STRIKE

City electrical employees have refused the request of the city to allow their wage increase to be postponed until October 1.

Notice of refusal was served on the city Saturday morning by Leon Greene, business agent of the Electrical Workers' union. The men in addition are asking for 25 cents a day more than the city is willing to give. They threaten to strike Monday unless their demands are met.

Bolton Urges Equal Pay for Teachers

T. H. Bolton, president of the city council, believes in equal pay for equal work. Saturday morning he wrote a letter to the school board, condemning their action in discriminating between men and women teachers. This is the letter:

"In behalf of the women teachers of Seattle, I trust your board will see its way clear to right the injustice done the women teachers in compelling them to serve in a capacity for which the year so well fitted at a less salary than that paid the men teachers, thus by your own action doing your part in carrying out the humane policy adopted everywhere of equal pay for equal service."

CASE AGAINST "FLY"

United States Commissioner R. W. McClelland, at a hearing Saturday morning, gave the government one more week to show cause why the case against Cecil Hogue, known as Jack Williams, the "human fly," and his manager, Tom Calloway, should not be dismissed.

The two men are at liberty on $1,000 bail each, pending investigation of a charge that they violated the espionage act at Boise, Idaho. The defense offered evidence to show that the charge was a "political frame-up," developing from a speech in which Hogue scored a nonpartisan candidate.

SHIPYARD MEN TO GO OVER TOP IN LOAN DRIVE

Representatives of Seattle's six big steel shipyards conferred at the headquarters of the Liberty Loan workers Saturday afternoon, formulating plans to put Seattle over the top in Liberty Loan subscriptions the first day of the drive, September 28.

Realizing that a large share of the responsibility will fall on the shipyards, the representatives have determined to do nothing by halves, but will try to defeat every other enterprise in the matter of bond purchases, on the part of both employees and employers. A canvass of the Skinner & Eddy corporation yard has already been started, with the object that every man in the yard purchase at least one bond.

Shipyard owners are expected to be heavy purchasers.

"Failure of a purchaser to complete payments on his Liberty bonds, except in the most extenuating circumstances, is practically the same as desertion under fire on the west front."

With this warning, Liberty loan officials now in session over plans for the coming Fourth Liberty loan drive, urge particularly that there shall be no slacking in effort to keep up payments on the bonds after the initial payment.

At the same time, realizing that there are circumstances which might render the disposal of an individual's bond holdings necessary, arrangements have been made whereby the subscriber who has failed to keep up with his payments may receive his money back. Such transactions will be conducted thru the banks.

Details Now Arranged

Complete details governing the Fourth Liberty loan bond payments have now been arranged, and subscription blanks and necessary supplies are now in process of distribution through the vantage points of Seattle.

The first payment must be 10 per cent of the total purchase price. Twenty per cent payments must be made November 21, December 19 and January 16. The final payment is 30 per cent, due January 30. Interest dates on the bonds are April 15 and October 15.

Movie Stars Coming

Prospective purchasers are urged to study these payment rates, and determine whether they can maintain payments in proportion to the number of bonds constituting their investment.

William Farnum and Marie Dressler, of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" fame, will appear in Seattle to assist in the opening of the Fourth Liberty loan campaign. Farnum will speak on street corners and in the theatres in behalf of the loan.

Churches Ought to Shelter Soldiers

"Hundreds of soldiers and sailors had to walk the streets last Sunday night, because they couldn't get rooms," says W. Bond, of the Y. M. C. A. "I don't see why some of the downtown churches couldn't keep their parlors open, and let the boys at least get the benefit of shelter and chairs."
