

BAR MENNONITE INVASION, PLAN

8,000 Veterans to Fight German Immigrants

WINNIPEG, Man., April 11.—(United Press.)—A crisis has been reached between returned soldiers and Mennonites because members of the latter are preparing to come in from South Dakota.

The veterans number 8,000 members in Winnipeg and there are almost as many more unattached, and all are terribly in earnest about stopping these Germans. Today many wires were received from the western branches of the veterans expressing sympathy and telling the men to stick to their resolution that no more of these aliens shall come into Canada. These messages were all signed "Yours for a white Canada."

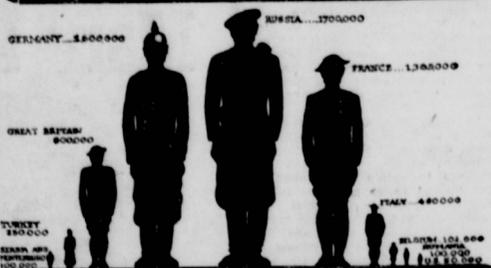

A careful watch is being kept at the border and cars of Mennonite house furniture will not be allowed to come into Canada, the soldiers say.

WANT AN ELEPHANT? WIRE CAPTAIN JORDAN

LONDON, April 11.—Want an elephant or an okapi or any other hard-to-get animal? Just order one from the World's Zoological Trading company of London. Captain J. A. Jordan, big game hunter, has embarked in the novel enterprise of supplying the rarest animals in the world to order. But the okapi will cost you $25,000. Jordan claims to have captured more elephants than any other man living.

THE TOLL OF BATTLE

The diagram below shows how countries in the world war gave of men; only those killed in action or who died of wounds received in action are included—Russia had the greatest loss; the United States, the smallest.

ANOTHER BIG LINE PLANNED FOR PACIFIC

Another huge shipping corporation, capitalized for at least $200,000,000, soon to enter the trans-Pacific trade, will make its American headquarters in Seattle, according to K. Mochizuki, a member of the Japanese parliament, who passed thru Seattle on his way to New York Thursday. The capital for the organization will be supplied partly by American and partly by Japanese interests, and Mochizuki is in this country to make final arrangements for the promotion of the enterprise.

JUDGE WARNS CIDER SELLERS OF PENALTY

Sellers of cider that stirs the blood had better step easy. Police Judge Gordon served notice late Thursday when H. Hega, 157 Washington st., looked out from behind the prisoner's rail for the third time for selling "kicky" apple juice, that hereafter cider vendors will get the same jolt the law allows for regular bootleggers. Hega was instructed to pay $100 and was given a 30-day suspended sentence. Hega's cider was found to contain 31.2 per cent of alcohol.

RED CROSS IS IN CONVENTION

Workers Assemble in Seattle for Conference

In order to outline a future program for home service, as comprehensive as that rendered by the Red Cross in France, more than 250 delegates of the Northwestern division of the American Red Cross, including Washington, Alaska, Oregon and Idaho, are in convention at Frederick & Nelson's auditorium.

C. D. Stinson, manager of the Northwestern division, who presided at the first meeting, stated that 97 per cent of the funds, pledged in the war fund drive, had been collected. Lieut. Colin V. Dymont, lately with the Red Cross in France, sketched the work of his department overseas, and said that by virtue of its home work the Red Cross was doubly cherished on the fighting line.

Mrs. Lucy C. Hilton reported splendid returns from the Old Clothes drive on the Pacific coast. A "Red Cross of the Pacific" was predicted by Earl Kilpatrick, assistant manager of the Northwestern division.

During the afternoon session the work of the Red Cross among the children was shown in a moving picture entitled "The Kiddies of No Man's Land." Public health nursing as directed by the Red Cross was discussed by Miss May Loomis of the division office and Miss Emma Grittlinger. Dr. Max Garrett presented the future of junior membership in the Red Cross.

A. J. Strawson, field director, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., reviewed the activities of the Red Cross since the beginning of the world war. Frank P. Foisie, head of the bureau of civilian relief, presented the past work of his bureau and its plans for future home service.

A group of speakers addressed Friday's session. The conference will close at noon Saturday.

Carries Auto Cargo to Japanese Port

The 8,500-ton steel steamship Western Knight will begin loading at Pier 14 on Monday, preparatory to her sailing for Japanese ports on April 20. Her cargo consists of automobiles, steel, machinery, lumber, canned milk, print paper and flour. She will be the first vessel north of San Francisco flying the American flag to sail for an Oriental port other than Vladivostok. She is being operated by the Admiral line and is the first of a fleet of vessels to be put on this run, consisting of the West Hematite, West Munham and West Celina.

LONDON LIKES RUMANIAN QUEEN

LONDON, April 11.—The queen of Rumania and her two children have won the hearts of London.

The queen is vivacious, approachable and bubbling with good humor. She receives salutes and courtesies with dignity and then lays aside dignity and converses and jokes on a common plane with those about her.

Princess Marie, 19, is as merry and talkative as her mother and Princess Ileana, 11, has made herself very popular. She is the special pet of Queen Mary and is usually seen with her arm linked in that of the English queen.

Shipping Head to Come to Seattle

H. H. Ebeby, assistant director of operations of the United States Shipping board, will visit Seattle Monday to confer with operators, exporters and shippers here. He will attempt to devise some method whereby the heavy disbursements made by operators during the war will more quickly be made good by the shipping board and will also consider the matter of cancellation of assignments after cargo has been booked.

MRS. BESANT APPEALS BRITISH JUDGMENT

BOMBAY, April 11.—Annie Besant, theosophist leader, is appealing a judgment of 3,000 rupees against her because her newspaper, New India, is alleged to have printed articles calculated to bring disaffection and cause the government to be held in hatred and contempt.

THIS MAN HAD RIGHT DOPE ON WAR'S END

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 11.—Some Eastern workman had the right dope four years ago when he scrawled on a board the date "11-11-18" as the date for the close of the war. His prophecy came to light today when a local paint dealer unwound the last 30 yards off a bolt of burlap that has been in the shop since 1915.

Drift Wrecks Snow Plow; Fireman Dies

DENVER, Colo., April 11.—J. P. Hinchey, engineer of a Union Pacific snow plow special, wrecked near Colby, Kan., yesterday, was brought to Denver today suffering from severe skull wounds. His fireman, Charles Gowdy of Plainville, Kan., was instantly killed. The big locomotive was stood on end by piling head-on into a 14-foot snowdrift.

CATERPILLAR PEST IS ACTIVE IN SO. AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG, S. A., April 11.—A plague of caterpillars is ravaging fields in the Transvaal. Two armies of the pest are approaching a junction, the one from the west, the other from the direction of Pretoria, via.

STEALS CHURCH PENNY; SENTENCE IS ONE YEAR

LONDON, April 11.—Theft of one penny brought Patrick Beyford a prison term of one year. He stole the penny from an offertory box in St. John's church, North Woolwich.

SEATTLE MEN COMING BACK WITH CANADIANS

VICTORIA, April 11.—Lance corporals J. Boyce and H. Hazell of Seattle are in the party of Canadian soldiers who are on their way west from Halifax, where they arrived from overseas April 9.
