ARREST SIX, INCLUDING TWO POLICE

Charged With Stealing $25,000 Worth of Whisky From U. S.

LOOT IS RECOVERED

Charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by stealing 3,000 quarts of whisky from the United States customs appraiser's warehouse March 30th, two policemen and four alleged accomplices are under arrest by federal officials Tuesday.

Police Sergeant Gus Hasselblad, 1258 Alki ave. Patrolman W. F. Patton, 1107 W. 59th st. J. W. Locknane, auto mechanic, 721 E. Denny way.

James Morrison, auto mechanic, 515 Pontius ave. Thomas Russell, drayman, 6708 21st ave. N. W. Dick Russell, former policeman, 515 Pontius ave.

Other arrests are expected, according to federal officials. Concealed in gunny sacks, practically all of the stolen whisky, valued at $25,000, has been recovered and returned to the federal warehouse. Part of it was found in the basement of a private house in Ballard. The remainder was discovered in a private garage in the alley between 21st and 22nd avenues between E. Fir st. and Yesler way.

Say He Opened Door Patrolman Patton, who was a policeman under Sergeant Hasselblad on Western ave. in the district where the government customs warehouse is located, is alleged to have entered the building thru a trap door in the roof, while in uniform, and after lowering himself to the floor with a rope, opened the doors permitting auto trucks to enter and carry away the whisky.

Hasselblad's part in the case is not clear, aside from the fact that federal officials say he helped "protect" the thieves, and that the robbery occurred in his patrol district.

Lured by Phone Call The sergeant says he "knows nothing about it." He is held at the U. S. immigration station with Patton. The others are in the county jail.

Sergeant Hasselblad and Patrolman Patton were suspended Tuesday by Chief of Police Warren, pending an investigation of the booze theft case. Chief Warren said he had no other statement to make.

Hasselblad was arrested early Tuesday morning, after federal sleuths had decoyed him to First ave. and Battery st. by a telephone call. He was taken to the federal building in his automobile by Assistant U. S. Attorney Ben Moore and Customs Inspector E. L. Chittenden.

Sergeant Held in Booze Theft Case

NAVAL BLOWUP TO BE PROBED

Four of Ten Injured Men May Not Live

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 15.—A board of inquiry appointed by Rear Admiral William F. Fullam was today investigating the explosion aboard the United States submarine chaser No. 297 yesterday. An official report yesterday was the sparks from the wireless apparatus lines on the craft ignited the gasoline that was being taken on board from an auto tank on the dock.

Four of the ten men burned are still in a serious condition and little hope for their recovery is held by the surgeons at the Balboa Park Naval hospital. Those badly injured are: John Barron, machinist's mate, 27, Worcester, Mass.; E. J. Gaynor, gunner's mate, 28, Portland, Ore.; Joseph Chadderdon, seaman, 24, Acra, N. Y.; W. C. Conover, quartermaster, 27, San Francisco. The others, also badly burned, will recover.

WAR BOOTY COMING FOR LOAN DRIVE

1,200 Trophies Captured by 91st Division on Way to Seattle

INCLUDE MINNEWERFERS

All the pomp and panoply of a 20th century military victory will be riot in Seattle during the Victory Loan drive, April 21 to May 10, according to the plans of the publicly bureau of the Liberty Loan committee, which is working overtime to bring together a representative group of conquerors and their booty into the peaceful environs of Seattle.

Two of these "great 'em rough" veterans have been detailed for the final drive against the American dollar in the Washington sector, one to be stationed at Spokane and one at Seattle. The tanks come straight from overseas service and bear the marks of American camouflage and German bullets. A Marling machine gun is set ready for action, with a spare gun in tow. It is a caterpillar model of 14,250 pounds and was built by an American motor car company, which constructed 200 of its kind, 50 of which saw service on the battlefield.

Has Four Speeds The tank is built with four speeds ahead and one reverse, and is capable of traveling seven miles an hour. The motor is the four-cylinder Buick type with a horsepower of 45 to 50.

Two Washington men, Sgt. Arthur H. Barnhiel and Private Roy W. Harrison, both of Company 2, 33rd battalion, have been detached from regular army service at Camp Mead, New York, and have arrived in Seattle, to look after this obstreperous pet of the army, and direct its rambles thruout the towns and communities of Western Washington. Sgt. Barnhiel is from Tacoma, and Private Harrison from Seattle.

TERMS ARE NOW ABOUT COMPLETED

Allies to Demand Minimum of $25,000,000,000 Indemnity From Huns

CONGRESS TO CONSIDER

BY FRED S. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) PARIS, April 15.—The peace program was authoritatively outlined to the United Press today as follows:

The treaty will be handed to the Germans April 25. If the Germans have plenary powers, it will be signed almost immediately; otherwise it will first be submitted to the German government at Weimar.

Separate treaties will be presented to Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria within a few days after the Germans arrive at Versailles. As soon as all treaties are signed, a period of 20 to 30 days will be permitted for ratification by the allied governments.

When two-thirds of the governments have ratified the treaties they become effective. President Wilson is expected to call a special session of congress for this purpose not later than June 1.

The reparations section of the treaty will probably be based on a provisional minimum indemnity of $25,000,000,000.

The "little five" (foreign ministers' council) met today to discuss the mechanical details of the final peace sessions. Under present plans, a plenary session probably will be held next week, in which the new permanent of the league of nations will be presented, as well as the final reports of other commissions.

Germany to Get Terms

No definite decision has been reached regarding the work after the German delegates arrive, but it is understood a special committee, composed of the "big four," will deal with them. The treaty will be gone over and the various points explained. The Germans are then expected to return to Weimar and submit the treaty to their government.

The plan naturally will be altered if the German delegates have plenary powers; they will then be able to sign the treaty without leaving Versailles.

The cleaning up of the important questions involved in the treaty came like a whirlwind and almost some details are still outstanding in shape. The Adriatic question, under consideration by the "big four" today, will not slow up the treaty with Germany. This and other problems can continue under debate while the negotiations are under way with the Germans.

The treaty to be handed to the Germans April 25 will be at least 25,000 words long, according to the best estimates. It probably will consist of a general introduction in which all the principles will be set forth and will be followed by specific protocols covering separate divisions.

Among these protocols will be the (CONT'D ON PAGE THIRTEEN)

Ambassador Ishii Is Not Expected Back in America

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(United Press.)—Viscount Ishii, Japanese ambassador to the United States, is returning to Japan, it was officially announced at the Japanese embassy today.

"The ambassador is returning to Tokyo for a conference regarding various matters before the Japanese government," the embassy statement declared.

"The ambassador will depart the first of May."

Ishii first indicated his intention to return several weeks ago. It was stated today that there is nothing in the situation between the United States and Japan that would require his resignation. Nevertheless, both officials and diplomats understand he will not return. He is not one of the Hara party, now predominant in Japan, and while he has worked in close harmony with the Hara ministry, it is believed he may have differences in policy.

He was appointed to the ambassadorship here by former Premier Terauchi, following his successful conclusion of the famous Lansing-Ishii pact in 1917, by which the United States recognized Japan's legitimate sphere of influence in Far Eastern affairs.

Ishii took his post here April 30, 1918, and was received with the greatest cordiality. President Wilson personally liked the new Japanese ambassador, expressing upon one occasion to friends that Ishii was "real folks."

Significance is attached to this action in view of the Japanese situation in Paris, where the Tokio delegates are threatening to withdraw from the peace conference, and in view of numerous "difficulties" that have arisen recently in the relations between the United States and Japan.

The ambassador goes to Tokio to lay important matters regarding the Japanese situation before his government. The United Press was informed, "He has not been recalled as ambassador, it is understood, but there is some doubt in diplomatic quarters that he will return to Washington."

Californians Get New Word From Lansing

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—A new angle of the administration's attitude toward anti-Japanese legislation in the California senate, was disclosed today, with the receipt of another cablegram from President Wilson.

The president, thru Secretary Lansing, thanks the senate for "deferring action" on the bills, which, in his earlier message, were declared "untimely" in view of developments at the peace conference.

This is taken as an indication that the administration is not opposed to anti-Japanese legislation, per se, or to consideration of the bills at a later and more opportune time.

The latest cablegram also carries a promise to remember the senators who were responsible for having the action deferred, with its converse that those who fought for the bills will not be forgotten.

It also carries a hint that others than the official senate communication to Paris on the matter have been passing. No names were mentioned in the senate communications, although Lansing says: "I shall take pleasure in informing the president of the action of those who are responsible."

Lloyd George to Explain Progress

LONDON, April 15.—(By United Press.)—Premier Lloyd George, who arrived from Paris last night, was expected to lay the case of the British peace delegation before the conservative house of commons tomorrow.

Th premier, on his arrival, gave out a brief statement, in which he said that "all is going well."

The unionist majority in commons recently directed a memorandum to the premier, demanding that Germany be made to pay the full cost of the war, and virtually asking why Lloyd George was evading his pre-election pledges. His speech will be a reply to this memorandum.

Some newspapers professed to see a cabinet crisis resulting from the present situation.
