Anita Stewart Is Star of New Show Opening at Liberty Today

Anita Stewart, as she appears in a scene from "Human Desire," a pretty romantic play, which opens at the Liberty today. In this picture she is shown as an artist's model. The hero of the story is an artist who finds a poor little Italian girl (Miss Stewart) resting on the steps of his studio. He finds her a home and later she becomes his model. Trouble comes with the arrival of the artist's wife, who turns the girl out into the street. Anita lives under hardships until Fate opens a way to a reconciliation with the man who befriended her.

The Screen

TODAY'S PROGRAMS

COLISEUM—Wallace Reid in "The Valley of the Giants"; Montgomery and Beck in "Lamps and Variety," comedy; Coliseum News.

CLEMMER—Douglas Fairbanks in "His Majesty, the American," second week.

LIBERTY—Anita Stewart in "Human Desire"; Elsie Ferguson in "The Witness for the Defense"; "Soft Money"; Harold Lloyd comedy.

REX—Wm. Fox production, "Checkers."

COLONIAL—Harry T. Morey in "The Man Who Won."

MISSION—Alice Brady in "His Bridal Night"; Harold Lloyd comedy.

CLASS A—Corinne Griffith in "Thin Ice."

REX

By special arrangement, Manager John Hamrick, of the Rex theatre, has secured the big race-track melodrama "Checkers," recently shown here at the Metropolitan. The picture opens today.

Thomas J. Carrigan, one of the most likable heroes of the screen, plays the part of Checkers. All the big features of the story have been carried out in the film production, which includes the thrilling train wreck and the daring horse race in which a young girl is substituted as a jockey and carries off first honors.

STRAND

Warner Oland, the popular serial star, who played with Pearl White in "Lightning Raider," is appearing at the Strand this week with Elsie Ferguson in "The Witness for the Defense." Oland's acting is one of the hits of the photoplay. He appears in the role of Captain Ballantyne, a wealthy, drink-crazed sportsman, who marries a quiet, refined young English girl (Miss Ferguson).

COLISEUM

The beautiful scenery is one of the biggest features of Peter B. Kyne's story, "The Valley of the Giants," in which Wallace Reid is starring at the Coliseum this week.

The actual locations described in the novel were utilized in filming the story. Mr. Reid and his company of players were on location nearly two months up in the big tree country in the northern part of California, where some of the most beautiful settings in the world are to be found.

COLONIAL

Germans almost get control of a large quantity of platinum which is consigned to be delivered to the United States. The supply is saved by the quick wit of a young girl. This is one of the features of "The Man Who Won," which opens at the Colonial today.

MISSION

"His Bridal Night" at the Mission is the story of twins, Vi and Tiny Playfair. Alice Brady plays both roles. As Tiny she is demure, thoughtful and a bit goodly-good. But as Vi she is vivacious, headstrong, daring and a bundle of "pep."

A mixup in the love affairs of Vi and Tiny makes "His Bridal Night" a very amusing picture.

CLASS A

"Thin Ice" is the name of the new show which opens at the Class A today. Pretty Corinne Griffith is the star. As Alice Winton, Miss Griffith has the dramatic role of a young bride, who is forced to choose between loyalty to a younger brother who has erred and the love of the man she has married.

Picture Patter

Vernon Steel, who has a popular following in Seattle, having appeared here a few years ago in stock, plays one of the leading roles in "The Witness for the Defense," at the Grand this week.

Jack Morris, known as "the human fly," is to make his debut in movies. Morris will appear in a serial.

"Kismet," Otis Skinner's stage starring vehicle, is to be made into a movie.

Betty Blythe is the niece of the writer, Samuel G. Blythe.

Dorothy Phillips was recently a guest of honor at a ball given aboard the U. S. S. Georgia.

Alice Brady makes a charming bride. Her bridal costume is one of the features of "His Bridal Night," at the Mission this week.

Kay Laurel, the famous Follies beauty and Harrison Fisher model, appears in the cast of "The Valley of the Giants," with Wallace Reid, at the Coliseum this week.

Lieut. Eugene Pallette, who was in the air service, will play opposite May Allison in the screen version of "Fair and Warmer."

Max Linder, the famous French comedian, who was forced to retire from the screen a year ago because of ill health, has recovered and will soon be back in the films. His first comedy will be "The Little Cafe."

Harry Morey and Betty Blythe posed for the illustration that adorns the cover of Cyrus Townsend's new book, "The Man Who Won."

Manuel Noriega, Spanish grand opera singer, is to be starred in a serial.

KICK AT BURLESQUED RURAL MAIL SERVICE

That 12,000 persons, with 800 mail boxes, on rural free delivery route No. 5, have on occasion gone as long as five days without mail delivery, was the complaint voiced Tuesday by residents of Duwamish, Tukwila, Black River Junction and adjacent localities.

According to August Toeller, of Duwamish, the trouble is due to the undependability of the post of mail carrier on route No. 5, which pays $125 a month, with the proviso that the carrier furnish his own automobile.

No More Orders for Surplus Food

No more orders will be received by the postoffice department here. Orders already placed, Postmaster Edgar Battle says, will be filled.

"Possibly the sale of surplus stores thru the parcel post may be resumed later," said Battle. "I don't know just how many tons we have sold, so far, but it runs into many carloads. I have been assured that all orders already placed can be filled."

That the war department would establish a retail store for the sale of surplus army supplies in Seattle, was announced from Washington over a week ago.
