OPPOSE STRIKES AGAINST CITY

League Committee Proposes Conciliation Plan

Civil service employees who go on strike should be denied reinstatement, but the principles of conciliation and investigation should be incorporated into a definite plan for treating complaints of municipal employees against wages, hours or working conditions.

This is the conclusion of the Municipal League's committee, appointed to report on the right of civil service employees to strike. The committee is composed of F. E. Rawlings, Alfred H. Lundin, Frank P. Hesseil, Edward W. Allen and W. K. Sheldon. The report will come up for discussion at next Tuesday's Municipal League meeting.

The report concludes that "it is to be presumed that government units intend to treat all public employees fairly."

Many employees, the report says, do not appreciate the distinction between working for a private employer, interested chiefly in profits, and working for the public, which is interested chiefly in service.

The report suggests that a board of conciliation or investigation to hear any grievance presented by 15 or more employees of a city department, be appointed by the mayor, as occasion arises. The board would be composed of an employee in the department involved, a city councilman and a third member to be appointed by them.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all stomach, liver and bowel poisons before breakfast

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside, no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract before eating more food.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

Corns 'Tween Toes? Use Easy "Gels-It"

Any Corn or Callus Comes Off Peacefully, Gloriously, Never Falls.

It is easy for "Gels-It" to reach "hard-to-get-at" corns, and better yet it is easy to remove them, because "Gels-It" makes them come right off just like a banana peel. You can try to dig or drag out your corns with a knife, or slice them with a "bloody" razor, or use bandages and tape and wrap up your toes into a package, but that's the "treat-em-rough" painful, foolish way. Use 2 or 3 drops of "Gels-It"—that's the peaceful, sure, common-sense way that never fails. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Gels-It" bottle. It does not hurt "Gels-It" bottle. Try it, rot and smile! It's a blessing; never fails. "Gels-It" is the only sure, guaranteed, money-back, corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. HOOVER PRAISES PARIS COVENANT

Any Corn Peels Off With "Gels-It"

Says Great Results Were Accomplished

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 3.—Greater things were accomplished by the peace conference in Paris than by any other in history, according to Herbert Hoover.

In his first address since his return from Europe, Hoover late yesterday, said the peace treaty is by no means perfect, and that "no one should be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the results of secret treaties . . . were not eradicated by the conference."

But if the American delegation had withdrawn from the conference, it would have left Germany victorious, he said.

King Albert Welcomed to America by Mayor Hylan

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(United Press.)—The official welcome of King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold to this city at noon today, after a 24-hour trip from Belgium, surpassed in enthusiasm the informal greeting they received yesterday.

Tens of thousands were massed at the Battery and in the vicinity when the royal party arrived there on Rodman Wanamaker's yacht, Noma, which they had boarded in the North river, immediately after leaving their hotel.

Other thousands lined Lower Broadway, which the party and their escort traversed in motors to the city hall.

Crowds Shout Welcome

The progress up Broadway was marked by an ovation rivaling any greeting ever witnessed in New York. In City Hall park were packed great crowds, who welcomed the royal party with a tremendous shout. The king and his party entered the city hall, where Mayor Hylan made a brief address of welcome.

"I thank you heartily for your words of welcome. I appreciate highly the honor that the city of New York does me in making me one of its citizens. I prize all the more highly this manifestation, because in Belgium the municipal institutions have always played in the past and continue to fill today a marked role in the public life of the country."

Praises New York

"I think that there is not in the history of the world another example like that of the city of New York, which, born not three centuries ago, has become in this short space of time one of the centers of universal activity. New York is indeed worthy to be the commercial and financial metropolis of that admirable American democracy which showed itself to be as great in war as in peace

NAB FIREMAN, SEIZE STILL

Get 400 Gallons of Mash in Miner's Home

Continuing their campaign against the moonshiners in the mines in the south end of King county, deputy sheriffs descended on Renton Thursday afternoon and raided five houses, where they say they found stills and liquor.

Alex Braba's home yielded 400 gallons of mash and wine, deputies reported, along with a still made of a wash tub, boiler and pipe. The wine was the clearest they have ever found in a raid, deputies say. Phillip Gatti was lodged in the county jail, accused of making the stills that the miners are using.

Chief Deputy Frank Brewer and Deputies Matt Starwich, Fred A. Brown and C. A. Hughes made the raid.

While they were raiding the Renton stills, Deputies W. A. Downey and Julius Von Gerst raided the home of Bob Stevens, city fireman, 55338 Holly st., and say they found a home-made still, 50 gallons of mash and five gallons of wine. Stevens is in the county jail.

Belgium's King Escapes Accident

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—King Albert and the royal party narrowly escaped a serious accident when they landed at the Battery today on the yacht Noma. As the yacht put into the dock the crowd aboard rushed to one side, causing the craft to list dangerously. Officers and members of the crew herded the crowd back and the yacht slowly righted. The king witnessed the incident from the bridge.

TAILORS' UNION REPUDIATES ITS OWN PRINCIPLES

Insists on collective bargaining for itself, but denies same privilege to employing merchant tailors.

MAKES ABSURD AND IMPOSSIBLE DEMANDS

Organizes Pacific Coast union which is intended to throw full pressure against each individual merchant tailor, and will not recognize collective action on part of latter. Demand wage scale so high as to make clothes prohibitive to public. Would put small contract shops out of existence.

SEEKS ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF TAILORING SHOPS

through keeping for itself the exclusive right to hire foremen and tailors.

THE FACTS IN THIS CONTROVERSY

In July the journeymen tailors of the Coast met in San Francisco and framed a wage scale which they insisted the Merchant Tailors in the various cities must sign. This Coast association was formed without consent of the International Journeymen Tailors' Union.

$44 FOR 44 HOURS' WORK

In this scale they asked $44 for a 44-hour week as a minimum. They also asked the raise of certain women workers to the same amount. Demands included the union's selection of shop foremen to work under direction of union; that payment must be made through shop steward, and that all hiring of men must be through the union and the wages fixed by the union.

CONDEMN INCREASED PRODUCTION

The Union Conference condemned speeding (efforts of foremen to get work done) in shops, and the Seattle unions also demanded the elimination of the contract shop. Seattle unions were the only ones making this demand—concurrence in which would have put all small tailoring shops out of business.

To protect their interests against these impossible demands, the employers formed a Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association to deal collectively with the Coast-wide union organization. We made the request that a general conference between employers and employees be held in San Francisco, at which each local union was to be represented by delegates.

REFUSE TO CONFER COLLECTIVELY

Local No. 80, of San Francisco, wired other locals not to send delegates. Under this proposed conference, a protocol of 30 days was suggested, and during that period the men were to return to work at the old scale of $36 for a 44-hour week. The merchant tailors proposed the formation of a general Coast grievance committee in San Francisco with similar committees in each city to settle local differences, the Coast committees to act as a supreme court of appeal. This was refused.

The Merchant Tailors' Association Believes in Collective Bargaining

IN FACT, so strongly does it believe in this form of arriving at mutual agreements that it has offered to its striking employes, and still offers, as a body collectively, to discuss with the union, collectively, any and all matters which may stand in the way of peaceful resumption of work. We have no fight with the unions, or with the principle of unionism, but we believe they should treat with us as they want us to treat with them.

TO THE TAILORS

Any tailor or helper returning to work in the shops of this city pending the proposed Coast conference will be fully protected by us in his card rights, under the rules of the international union, in any agreement we may make with the unions.

The Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association, which includes 90% of all employing tailors on the Coast, WILL NOT SIGN ANY AGREEMENT UNLESS ALL FORMER UNION MEMBERS WORKING IN THEIR SHOPS ARE ADMITTED TO THE UNION IN GOOD STANDING. All Merchant Tailors have pledged themselves to protect their men in every case.

Seattle Merchant Tailors' Exchange

All stores and work shops of the members of this Exchange are now doing business.
