I INTEREST BOB BY KEEPING INFORMED ON CURRENT EVENTS

"I think most women would call Jordan Spence an 'ideal man.' I reflected—out loud—so that Bob came back with:

"Just what is your idea of an 'ideal man?' Then he lit a cigarette and settled into the depths of a comfortable chair. He was ready, I could see, for a nice little chat with me. It pleased me immensely to find that I still can keep my husband interested in a conversation. That's just as it was in the days of our engagement. It's a little feature of our married life which I mean never to lose.

More than once I have decided that I must keep posted on the things that impress Bob. So many wives expect their husbands to listen to trivial gossip by the hour. The poor, helpless men have to hear endless silly patter about the obvious routine of daily life. Most men are pretty patient that way, but I'd never dare tax Bob with an account of neighborhood affairs.

I do try to keep informed about current events so that I can at least listen intelligently while Bob talks, altho goodness knows I don't believe anybody but Bob can follow all those left-over wars in Europe. Nor do I care at all to talk about the senate and the peace treaty every morning at breakfast.

But I do think it is perfectly fascinating to read of the aviator who went up into the air seven miles and fell down five miles and made a safe landing, thru working of his subconscious mind. That, certainly, is a brand new chapter in human adventure and every woman who has an ounce of imagination ought to give the event as much attention as she would give to a movie scenario.

Long ago Mother Lorimer stimulated me to taking what she termed "a speaking part" in world events. Now that prohibition is with us, mother insists that wives have a long neglected duty facing them.

Man is an amiable creature who expects to be amused, according to her theory, and who is kindly while he is amused, and grateful to the entertainer. He will gladly stay where life is gay, but when he is bored he simply gets up and goes where things are not so dull. Often he leaves home simply because some woman, wife or mother is not onto her big job as an entertainer.

Just because women fought so strenuously for prohibition and used a vast reservoir of energy in the battle, mother thinks they ought now to put some of the same kind of brains and force into devising a social scheme to succeed the saloon.

Naturally when my husband lights a cigarette and settles down for a little talk with me, I am vastly flattered, for I realize that I am for the moment, at least, quite a success in the role of "Woman, the Entertainer."

Naturally, when Bob asked, "What is your notion of an ideal man, Jane?" I came back with:

"You!"

"That is as it should be, wife," Bob said with a dramatic bow. "But—leaving me out!"

"Well, I suppose Jordan Spence is a gorgeous sample of what most women approve. He 'builds his goodness up so high it makes a sort of badness and topples down on the other side."

"Just like a hero of any novel written by a woman," reflected Bob. "He adores Chrys—and abhors her outboard. And if she follows the old thing, she is going to ruin her own life and his, too!"

"Well, why shouldn't she destroy her romance before marriage instead of after it—as is the usual way?"

"But her love affair is so perfectly beautiful," I wailed.

"My dear, all love affairs are perfectly beautiful. But there's frequently one party, like Chrys in this case, who plants a silly stumbling block in the way of true love and upsets Cupid's apple cart with a bang!"

Seattle Style

No. 28—The Star's snapshots of attractively-dressed women on Seattle streets

A stylish suit developed in a rich, brown broadcloth. Particularly noticeable is the panel effect, which is strikingly brought out in the coat by the round panel front and the straight fur-trimmed panel back. With the brown droop-brim hat, milady wears a most fashionable veil. It is bordered with a wide satin strip which fastens snugly about the neck. DAISY HENRY.

If the lady pictured here will call at The Star editorial rooms and identify herself, she will receive two tickets to the Oregreum vaudeville show, at the Moore.

Taft Pleads for Better Community Spirit

Spreading the gospel of good fellowship and true humanity, together with a plea for cultivation of community spirit, Lorado Taft, sculptor, addressed the Municipal League and One Hundred Per Cent club at Masonic club Tuesday. Members of University of Illinois Alumni club and the Women's Country club were also in attendance.

Striking excerpts from his address follow:

"Crime is not failure, but low aim."

"Time is near at hand when we will not allow any man to have too much when little children have not enough."

"World will not be good enough for any of us until it is good enough for all of us."

"Without art, life is inexpressible. It would be a ghastly joke, if it consisted of merely coming out of the earth, feeding a while, and then going back into the earth."

"That man is a grater whose income is greater than his service to the community."

"Not money, but life the community provides in real wealth."

"We neglected our art we have not. They bring here to us this great gift. They're timid, we must cultivate them. If we only could crystallize the art in them, what a treasure we would have."

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT, U. S. SLOGAN

The government is launching a "Save Money on Meat Week" all over the country, and the week of March 29th has been set for the state of Washington. The meat dealers are co-operating in the movement and special cuts of meat will be on sale on special days at fixed prices. This program will be announced later. The Consumers' Thrift movement will be glad to furnish speakers for short talks on the campaign to all clubs which have meetings next week, March 22d, or the following week. Request should be made to Miss Dean, University of Washington.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

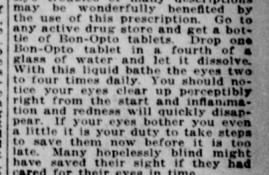

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis, there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription, and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overwork, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I can not express my joy at what has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes had their eyesight right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE—Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained thru overwork or night glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or eye inflammation from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, recorded to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by the leading druggist.
