

2 MEN WED SAME GIRL; GUN PULLED

Arrested When the Triangle Meet at Depot; First Husband Wins

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 13.—The curtain fell on a triangular love affair, with the arrest of Alta Blane, 19, and Philip Eckols, both giving their address as 171 N. Second st. Alta is on the police docket, charged with bigamy, and Eckols faces a charge of carrying a pistol. The young girl admitted to Capt. Lee today that she was married to two men, and both living.

KNOT AGAIN TIED TWO MONTHS AGO

About two months ago, she said, she again had the matrimonial knot tied, with Philip Eckols at her side. The second marriage took place in Memphis, and it is believed that she has been living here with Eckols since. Her first husband, who gives Nashville as his home, recently asked the aid of the police department in locating his wife. Later he learned where she was living and, after talking with her, she consented to go back to Nashville.

Buskull and the girl were at the Union station, ready to catch the train for Nashville. Buskull told newspaper reporters that he was not intending to go there, but was sending her there.

Eckols, the second husband, got wind that she was leaving with Buskull and also appeared at the Union station. Buskull charges that Eckols pulled a pistol on him, and a policeman arrested both the girl and Eckols. A pistol was found on Eckols when he was searched.

AGREES TO GIVE GIRL TO OTHER

Eckols agreed to leave the girl alone and give her up to Buskull, provided the latter would refuse to prosecute on the bigamy charge. This was agreed upon. Police contend that this would not help the case, as the girl's own statement would convict her. Eckols at first insisted that both he and Buskull leave the girl and allow her to pick the one she wants.

"I will not agree to this," said Buskull. "She married me first, and I have given her no cause for divorce."

Buskull charged Eckols with knowing that she was married when he started paying attentions to the girl. Eckols does not deny this.

Eckols says that he has letters from Buskull in which he threatened his life.

The girl is a pretty brunette of 19 summers. About two years ago she married George Buskull in Clarksville, Tenn. She says her marriage was complete until she began to hear stories about her husband having a wife living in the same town and "friends" told her that her marriage wasn't legal, as he had never been divorced from another woman who claimed to be his wife.

THOUGHT SHE WASN'T LEGALLY MARRIED

After a call from the young woman in question, the young bride decided to leave her husband, so she consulted a lawyer, who, she claims, also informed her that she wasn't legally married.

Discarding her wedding ring, she left the field clear for the supposed wife and came to Memphis to work.

She claims she met P. J. Eckols and it was a case of love at first sight. They were married last July, after a month's acquaintance, and settled down in matrimonial bliss at 171 N. Second st.

Through the girl's mother, who lives in Nashville, Buskull got her present address, and, according to her story, he came there to urge her to go back to her mother in Nashville.

Finally she consented, and they went to the station, but before the train pulled out Husband No. 2 rushed in and threatened to kill Buskull.

Her pretty brown eyes fill up with tears when she talks about Eckols and she seems to love him more than her first husband, who comes to the outside bars and talks with her, while Husband No. 2 is languishing in a cell waiting to face charges made by No. 1.

Slayer of Othello Farmer Is Wanted

OLYMPIA, Oct. 13.—Rewards for the capture and conviction of the masked man who murdered Henry Gregg of Othello in his home on September 28, and shot Mrs. Gregg, now total $3,000. Gov. Hart has authorized $1,000 from the state and Adams county is offering $2,000.

The slayer entered the home and tied Gregg to a chair, then forced Mrs. Gregg and the children into another room, where he attacked Mrs. Gregg. The husband broke his bonds and ran to his wife's rescue. The intruder stabbed him several times, then shot him to death.

Mrs. Gregg rushed at the man, who fired a bullet into her side and fled.

ELK SLAUGHTER WILL END SOON

4,000 Shot in Yellowstone Park in 1919

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 13.—This is going to be the last year for the elk slayers on the Montana side of the Yellowstone National Park, according to "Jake" DeHart, state game warden. And it may be that an aroused public opinion and a late season will unite to prevent this year a repetition of the slaughter in 1919, when Mr. DeHart estimates that more than 4,000 park elk were killed by hunters in the two counties adjoining the great national playground and game preserve.

The branch line of the Northern Pacific Railway was unable to handle all of them and scores of carcasses spoiled at stations along the line.

DeHart predicts changes in Montana's game laws by the legislature, which meets in January. Protests against the elk slaughter have come in from almost all parts of the nation.

Present laws not only permit each person owning a hunting license to kill one of these tame elk, but provide that a second one may be killed upon the payment of an additional license fee of $25. The teeth, hide and antlers of the animal are worth more than that, saying nothing of the meat.

When the snows come, the elk leave the park in herds of thousands. They are so numerous and so gentle that hunting them offers no greater thrill than it would to walk into a stockyard, select a suitable animal and shoot it. Instances are recorded in which a hunter changed his mind after shooting, left the animal lying where it fell, and proceeded to kill his second choice.

Inject Measles to Check Measles

PARIS, France, Oct. 13.—A method of stopping the spread of measles in a family in which one of the children has caught the illness is claimed to have been discovered by M. Nicholle, director of the Pasteur Institute at Tunis, and M. Conwell. Their treatment is to inject under the skin of the other children a small quantity of the sick child's blood taken when the patient is beginning to recover, and when he has not been feverish for five or six days. This serum, they state, would contain defensive properties.

The letters demand all the way from $2,000 to $100,000 for an ear.

Alleged Wife Beater Flees Women Jurors

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 13.—When John Kincaid, alleged wife-beater, was to be tried by a jury of women he hid in the woods for three days, according to Mrs. Kincaid. He was found by his children. He returned home and pleaded with his wife to withdraw her charge. She agreed.

The cliff sides served as balcony seats for the outdoor ceremonies in dedication of Zion National Park in Utah. The ceremonies were conducted by Stephen D. Mather, U. S. director of national parks, and President Herbert J. Grant of the Mormon church (shown below viewing the cliffs) took a prominent part. Brigham Young, founder of the Mormon settlement, named the wonderland park. Above, two Utah girls, Mona Woodbury (left) and Ruth Dalley (right) are sitting on one of the cliff balconies watching the dedication exercises (arrow).

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

Guarantee to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa.—Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man writes after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read my papers without my glasses and everything does not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses."

Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain, caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced fierce headaches. I can now wear glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses.

Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or miffed glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision, or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good drug store and is sold in this city by the leading druggists.

Camel CIGARETTES

CAMEL CITY, U.S.A. (or Winston-Salem, N.C. according to the map!)

Greetings, Pete!

Here I am tonight in Winston-Salem where more tobacco is manufactured than in any other place on the face of the earth! And, W-S is some speed city, as well as the largest in North Carolina! They're rickshaking up a million dollar hotel, got a corking league ball team, regular skyscraper buildings and as much action as you look for in New York!

When I knocked off for the day, I buzzed around like a hungry bee in a buckwheat field—up and down long streets of R.T. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories!

As the Reynolds enterprise proved out more and more gigantic and I talked with more men about it, I got the real and true answer as to why Camels are so good and so entirely different from any other cigarette! I'll spin it for you, old top—listen—

Every man I talked with made the one big point that the officials and the more than 350 Reynolds foremen have an intimate knowledge of the tobacco business; that (putting it into a North Carolina expression) they were virtually born and raised in a tobacco patch; that they know tobacco; how to grade it; blend it and how to manufacture and sell it!

And, what's most important of all, Pete, these Reynolds folks sure give men what they want—the best that can be produced! Why, Peter, it took months to perfect Camels Turkish and Domestic blend—and that refreshing flavor—and wonderful mild, mellow body—before a single Camel cigarette was sold! Guess that will repay your interest, old liberty bond!

Tomorrow, I'm going to meet some of the Reynolds folks. Got to see inside of those factories!

And, you know me!!
Shorty.
