

SALES TAX! WHICH KIND DO YOU DO YOU

Pyramiding Result of Now B

WASH... Home Brew

HINTS ON THE H. C. OF L. A fellow can't afford to sit around much these days...

EXAMINATION FOR P. O. APPOINTMENT

What's your name? George Kafosh. What's your wife's name? I haven't any wife.

What would her name be if you had one? Mrs. Kafosh.

What was your grandfather's maiden name? Alexander Squibbs.

Who did you vote for in the last election? Harding.

Who are you going to vote for in the next election? Harding.

Who are the democrats? The democrats are our enemies.

Who are the republicans? God's noblemen.

How much is a two-cent stamp worth? Two cents.

Good—what color is it? Red.

What railroad is Chicago near? Chicago & Alton.

Who is the best president the United States ever had? Harding.

It is reported that a Seattle man has broken his engagement to a young woman because she gave him a set of ivory military brushes.

All the world loves a lover, but laughs behind his back.

BACK TO NATURE

No man with an ordinary amount of intelligence can doubt the truth of the old adage, "History repeats itself."

No one can doubt the word of a few minutes on any corner of any street downtown and be convinced that the women folks have returned to the costumes of Mother Eve.

Why, God bless you, good people, a piece of calico the size of a palm leaf worn by Mother Eve for company, but the cute little maid of 1921 will board a crowded street car, clad in about the same garment and not feel in the least embarrassed.

Our fathers used to pay from 50 cents to $2.00 for a front row seat in a burlesque show and feel well satisfied with the bargain, but our young dudes have the old times beat to a frazzle. We can just sit down anywhere uptown and see the same thing put on by home talent, free of charge.

"Now, all you little boys who want to go to heaven, lift up your right hands."

All hands went up except one in the school room.

"Why, Isidore, don't you want to go to heaven?"

"No, my papa says business has gone to hell, and I want to be where the business is."

It's hard to make the average 17-year-old girl believe that when she is 40 those glorious dimples will turn to wrinkles.

OR A SHIRT

If the average wife has thought of every imaginable way to spend her allowance and has exhausted the entire repertoire, then she is almost sure to buy her husband a red necktie.

No, nothing is more touching than the retailer story to the customer when he tries to explain why the price does not decline.

The difference between poetry and verse is that anybody can understand verse.

There is none so disagreeable as the fellow who almost agrees with you.

Wasted effort, I. e., a jet black colored citizen wearing a pair of horn-rimmed glasses.

Some time ago this column inquired, "What has become of the old-fashioned fellow who jested his money in his pants pocket?"

It has finally dawned upon us that a fellow is in luck to have a pair of pants these days, let alone anything to jingle in 'em.

Luther Burbank may yet be able to make a wallflower look like a perfect peach.

DANGEROUS HEIGHT

Mother—What do you think of the new nursemaid, George?

Father—She looks capable, my dear, but she's so terribly tall. Think what a distance poor baby will have to fall when she drops him.—Pittsburg Press.

Neither the City Nor Public Market Wants Back Against Wall

KEEP the public market in the old district. The burden of proof must rest with those who want it moved to show why this should be done. So far, there has been no such proof.

The congestion, of course, must be relieved. But it can be relieved as well in the old public market district as in the one proposed in the Westlake district. A feasible and adequate plan is before the council. It is to come up for action today. Let not the council delay action, and let it not mistake the right action.

It is of extreme importance to the city that no one should be put with his back to the wall needlessly. If the public market is moved, many business men, who have built up their business and invested their money in the present location, will be immeasurably injured. On the other hand, those who would be benefited in the Westlake district are not business men who have depended upon the public market, but speculators only.

The city does not want its back against the wall, and it does not want its business men in that predicament, or anywhere in that vicinity.

Census bureau reports that literacy is decreasing. Probably the result of spelling out titles in the movies.

Farmers near Laporte, Ind., dig up five-pound mastodon teeth. Think of the awful toothache possibilities.

All skulls look much alike. Yet you can travel months without finding two faces alike. Nature is a marvelous artist—or cartoonist.

J. A. Thomson, Scotch scientist, predicts that the earth will be ruled by a race of winged reptiles 1,000,000 years hence. This probably will keep you awake nights.

Italy, prepared for funds, leases the Colosseum to a theatrical company. Italian senate roars that this is desecration. Still, the Colosseum originally was a theatre. Desecration, if any, will be in the type of plays.

Every caricature has a counterpart in real life.

To the victor belong the spoils—if he can collect 'em.

From the back end of a moving van, even the best of furniture looks like a collection in an old attic.

Danish national museum official says that the petrified woman found in a hollow tree in South Jutland, is 3,000 years old. How old is the tree?

The Jap stands pat on Yap.

A lot of detective stories might better be called defective stories.

We are lucky that Columbia isn't sacking compound interest on that $35,000,000.

Every week or so, fire destroys 1,000 dwellings in Japan. Is it Red fire?

Maybe what the Germans want is to pay the indemnity in paper marks instead of gold marks.

Don't worry about the industrial crisis in England. It's used up at the polls. Ballots beat bullets.

New York man is said to have kept two wives in the same house. Wonder what No. 1 and No. 2 talked about when papa was at the office.

After 17 years, Chief Gunner Cox gets the congressional medal of honor. Still, that's almost a speed limit for Washington.

Cheer Up!

BY WHIT HADLEY

Lowell said: "And he who waits to have his task marked out, shall die and leave his errand unfulfilled."

Charles Lee Cook, Louisville millionaire, is a cripple without legs. He was born in poverty, taken from school when seven, and has never walked in his life.

Last year he refused a $40,000 a year job. During a recent examination he displayed a vocabulary of 37,000 words and defined 15,000 synonyms.

He studied mechanics in a wheel chair, invented the automatic lubricating devices used on all transatlantic ships, designed and built at Brunswick, Ga., the largest crescenting works in the world, and has now made a device which enables one man to do the work of 30 skilled mechanics.

For 12 years he toiled in obscurity in his father's stable, working 17 hours a day in his wheel chair.

Twenty-nine years ago Louis Jay Horowitz arrived, an immigrant from Poland.

His first job was errand boy at $3 a week.

Today he is one of the greatest builders in the world, a place to which he has risen by grit, vision and ability to overcome obstacles. He is president of the Thompson-Starrett Co. of New York.

He says: "Every man, no matter how old, has it in his power to fix the value of his services, and in a great measure to determine them."

Philip Curtiss, who has written the successful new serial, "Wanted—A Fool," says: "I have never lost my original conviction that a man's best bet is to sink or swim on his chosen line."

REMARKABLE REMARKS

"In my opinion, Seattle's municipal railway system will be absolutely on a cash basis in less than two years."—Mayor Hugh M. Caldwell.

"The young woman equipped with good teeth, either by nature or man's handiwork, is best fitted to retain the affections of a man."—Dr. C. J. Hollister, Pennsylvania department of health.

"Ninety per cent of runaway husbands have blue eyes."—T. Lumsden, British court official.

"We don't want the largest army and navy in the world, but we do want the best."—Major General Leonard Wood.

"Americans are finding prose not sufficient reading these days. They feel the need of poetry."—Carl Sandburg, Chicago poet.

"The Christian who is a killjoy is a caricature of Christianity."—Bishop of Sheffield, England.

"Russian girls are dead morally."—Baroness Wrangel, wife of former anti-Bolshevik leader.

"You are too much given to laughing in America, because you do not realize the agony in the world."—The Rt. Rev. Nicholas Velimirovic, Serbian bishop.

Questions of health, sanitation, hygiene, will be answered if sent to Information Department, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

Cancer Is cancer hereditary? All the evidence collected by years of painstaking investigation indicates that it is not. Send for the recently published pamphlet on cancer issued by the United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

Climate and Tuberculosis Can you tell me the best place in the United States for a consumptive?

There is no best place. It is mainly a question of plenty of fresh air, good wholesome food and a proper proportion of rest and exercise. In a large proportion of cases these conditions can be provided right near home. Not perhaps in the congested cities, but very often not very far away.

Many people make the mistake of traveling to distant states, seeking for places where they expect to find miraculous cures. Those interested should write to the United States Public Health Service for a reprint entitled "The Relation of Climate to Tuberculosis."

There are 12,000,000 negroes in the United States.

AS OTHERS SEE THE WORLD

Editorials and Comments Reprinted From Various Newspapers

THE SHIPPING BOARD

The United States Shipping Board is one of the most important and responsible bodies under the administration. Places on this board should be given to strong, capable and useful men. They should not be handed over to down-and-outers and has-beens.

The delegation from this state is said to be a unit in urging W. E. Humphrey for one of these places. The delegation is in poor business. It has no sufficient excuse for taking such a stand.

The Washington dispatches say that the president does not approve of the idea of taking care of Humphrey, and says that rather than appoint him he will go to California for the second coast man. He is to be commended.

This state should have one of the members of the board. We hope the delegation will have the judgment and good taste to endorse some man who can and should be named. If it falls in this respect the president should hand it the snub which it deserves.

In the Editor's Mail

SAYS PROHIBITION IS INTemperance

Editor The Star: The Volstead act is perhaps more extensively violated than any other law ever on our federal statute book.

If all its transgressors were to receive jail sentences the majority of our people, including the majority of our state and national legislators and enforcement officers, would undoubtedly be behind the bars.

It will not do to say that this vast army of law-breakers are criminals. Among them are many of our best citizens, who thoroughly believe in the law and its strict enforcement. If they knew a scheme was on foot to waylay you, to burglarize your house or set it on fire, they would quickly sound the alarm and gladly give you aid in apprehending the culprit. But if they knew you had on hand some some brew or private stock—well, they might say "give me a pull out of your bottle," and let it go at that.

Prohibition is intemperance and fanaticism in their worst form, and is so regarded by millions of moral, upright, patriotic American citizens.

So long as such a state of public opinion prevails the 18th amendment cannot be successfully enforced. It is like old-time prohibition in Kansas. When John James Ingalls was asked how it worked he replied, "Fine; the drys have all the law they want and the wets have all the booze they want." The only thing standing between the man and the bottle is the price—a superior price for an inferior article.

As everybody knows, unenforced law cheapens all law. A long step in the direction of "normalcy" will have been taken by congress when it repeals the utterly un-American Volstead act, and permits each of the several states to deal with its own prohibition question.

C. A. MANN, 1007 Loysman Bldg., 1007 Loysman Bldg.

PA OUGHTA KNOW

Mother—We must get a new nurse for the baby. New Pop—A nurse? What we need is a night watchman.—Boston Transcript.

SETH TANNER

Spring would be the nicest time of year—if it weren't for the poets. The feller what's always roasting' women has usually had the rollers put under him by one woman.

TODAY'S QUESTION How would you like to be ducked in freshman pond for not working?

ANSWERS W. C. WILLIAMS, 418 24th ave. S.: "Head first." B. MARVIN, 307 Washington St.: "Not for not working or any other reason." L. A. BREEN, 1405 Sixth Ave.: "I'd submit if they'd let me do the same thing to another fellow I know." BOB DAY, 2815 Linden Ave.: "Don't be coupling my name with such an idea. Somebody might use you seriously." W. R. WATSON, 926 E. Pike St.: "I'll work first."

MEDICS IN DOUBT "Has your aunt gone under the knife yet?" "Not yet. She's so fat the surgeons don't know whether to operate or blast."—New York Evening World.

It may be true, as doctors say, that the only thing beer will cure is thirst, but more than one man has died from thirst.—Detroit Free Press.

Daddy, bring home some of Bold's French pastry.—Advertisement.

GUARANTY BANK AND TRUST CO.

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

4% ON SAVINGS

HENRY KLEINBERG, Chairman of the Board. HENRY PICKARD, President. HOMER W. BUNKER, Vice President. ARTHUR C. KAHLEK, Cashier. FRANK BROWN, Assistant Cashier. GEO. V. WAGTIN, Mgr. Foreign Dept. First Ave. and Columbia St.

Good Clean Profits

Canning and Preserving of Northwest Berries and Fruits a PROVEN FIELD for Large and Small Investors

YOU want safety for your money. You want good returns for your money. And you want more—you want and you are entitled to have participation in the growth and development of the business that your money is creating.

That's why the Oregon-Washington Canning & Preserving Company is offering both Preferred and Common stock, the former at $100 par and the common at the nominal figure of $10 per share. Preferred stock bears the very inviting interest rate of 8 per cent, cumulative, payable semi-annually. Common stock carries with it full participation in earnings after payment of interest on preferred, but it also has vested in it sole voting power. Owners of the common stock direct the affairs of the Company and will actually own the Company when the preferred stock is retired.

Selling share and share the combined price of preferred and common, therefore, is $110—a thoroughly desirable investment with a future as well as a present—backed by an industry whose growth has amazed the Pacific Northwest.

Let's analyze the growth of the berry and small fruit packing industry, as represented in the development of the Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Canning Company—an organization whose success has been so conspicuous as to attract National and International attention. The Puyallup & Sumner Company from the first has been the inspiration for the organization of the larger company, and is now being taken over by the Oregon-Washington Canning & Preserving Company.

Going back to 1910, the Puyallup & Sumner was doing an annual business of $500,000. This business has grown eleven-fold—to $5,500,000 by 1920.

Sales of the manufacturing department tripled in the last three years, as these figures indicate: SALES, MANUFACTURING DEPT. 1918.....$1,330,741.94 1919.....3,155,645.82 1920.....4,194,453.85

PAUL'S JAM, the most widely-known product of the Puyallup & Sumner organization, has been remarkable in its quick acceptance throughout the United States. More than 40,000 stores are now displaying and selling PAUL'S JAM. Last year the sales were greater than in all the previous years in which PAUL'S JAM had been made.

PAUL'S JAM SALES

1918.....$ 149,971.84 1919.....724,372.26 1920.....1,504,196.43

This shows profits in the manufacturing department of the Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Canning Company during the same years: MANUFACTURING PROFITS

1918.....Gross Profits $249,642.54 Net From Operations $114,932.59 1919.....797,362.59 396,151.49 1920.....861,887.55 537,700.03

Such figures as these indicate the sound basis on which the industry rests, and emphasize the opportunity that is knocking at your door. To become a partner in the Oregon-Washington is to build a larger future for yourself, for your community, for the State of Washington—and to do so at a GOOD CLEAN PROFIT.

Make up your mind NOW how liberal an investment you can make—and act promptly, for only 5,000 shares of preferred and an equal number of common are available in this city and county. Provisions made where deferred payments are desired.

These banks and financial institutions have kindly consented to co-operate with the organization committee in accepting subscriptions to the new company:

- SEATTLE: Seattle National Bank, National City Bank, John E. Price & Co., The Bank of California, N. A., Metropolitan National Bank. PUYALLUP: Citizens State Bank, Puyallup State Bank. SUMNER: Farmers State Bank. TACOMA: National Bank of Tacoma, The Bank of California, N. A., American Finance and Safe Deposit Company.

Oregon-Washington Canning & Preserving Co.

Organization Committee for Washington

H. C. HENRY, Pres. Henry Investment Co., Seattle; REGINALD H. PARSONS, Pres. Northwestern Fruit Exchange, Seattle; J. W. SPANGLER, Pres. Seattle National Bank, Seattle; GORDON C. CORBALEY, McInarath-Corbaley Co., Seattle; HENRY RHODES, President Rhodes Bros., Tacoma; W. R. RUMT, American Smelters Securities Co., Tacoma; CHESTER THORNE, Chairman Board, National Bank of Tacoma, Tacoma; W. H. PAULIAMUS, Pres. Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Canning Co., Puyallup.

531 Henry Building (Phone Elliott 4184) Seattle

Puyallup and Sumner Fruit Growers Canning Co. Puyallup

1005 Pacific Avenue (Phone Main 1145) Tacoma

Fill in your name and address, clip and mail to us for complete information

Name..... Address.....