Music

New York Philharmonic Concert Tonight

This evening the New York Philharmonic orchestra, under the leadership of Josef Stransky, will be heard in concert at the Arena. This organization is the oldest of its kind in America, and the third largest in the world. It has been said of Mr. Stransky, who has been the leader since the past winter, that he "has brought the orchestra to the highest point of efficiency it has ever attained in its long history, to a point, in fact, not surpassed by any rivals whatsoever."

A feature of the program will be Henry Hadley's "Capriccio," conducted by the composer, who is guest conductor. Arthur Shattuck, American pianist, will be the soloist.

THE Stage

PANTAGES FEATURES "YES, MY DEAR"

"Yes, My Dear," is some act that headlines the new bill at the Pantages this week. A musical comedy with tuneful music, a cast of six clever principals headed by Chick Halvers, and a chorus of eight pretty and handsomely gowned girls. It is one of the best acts of its type that Pantages' audiences have seen.

Typical Southern love types are depicted by Jones and Jones, colored comedians, and they are a continuous laugh.

Fern Biglow and King are eccentrics who do slapstick pantomime tumbling, and with it average high in laughs.

Ethel Gray and Bernice Askin are two good-looking girls who play the piano and sing.

"THE LOVE LAWYER" AT PALACE HIP

"The Love Lawyer," a lively musical comedy farce, is announced as an outstanding feature of the new show coming to Loew's Palace Hip tomorrow. In the hands of Lew Seymour and His Four Types, the clean, snappy dialogue, rollicking comedy and tuneful songs incident to the activities of "The Love Lawyer" become diversion of a high order.

Concia and Verdi, billed as "the violin and cello boys" will be remembered as high-class artists in their special field, which is combining music and comedy.

Thrills and laughter are efficiently combined in the offering of Juss and Osel, two strong men, who put plenty of speed into their work.

Frank and Gracia De Mont have an offering labeled "Nonsensicalities."

Ralph Seabury bids for favor with a monologue devoted chiefly to in-joking laughs.

IN MOTHER'S MEDICINE CHEST

Are standard remedies which have stood the test of time—remedies which their mothers and grandmothers had used before them. Such is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly fifty years has been helping the women of this country to overcome many forms of female ills; merit alone could have stood such a test of time and won such an enviable record.—Advertisement.

A WISH THAT WAS GRANTED

"Tom, you've always been such a dear husband about granting my slightest wish that I'm sure you're not going to fall me now, especially when I tell you how easily it can be done. Now, don't gasp when you hear, because I've really set my heart on having it."

"Well, let's hear it and I'll see if it can be done, but if you want money go easy."

"No, dear—all I want is a complete new outfit from head to foot."

"Wheel, is that all? Are you sure there's nothing else and pray, where is all this to come from without money?"

"Why, from Cherry's, for I can get just the things I want there on credit, which means you only have to pay down a little each month. And, dear, you can get clothes for yourself the same way. Now is that such an unreasonable request?"

"I'll say it isn't. It's delightful news. At that rate we can both go down and get outfitted. I wish all your wishes were that easily granted."

"Wheel, is that all? Are you sure there's nothing else and pray, where is all this to come from without money?"

"Why, from Cherry's, for I can get just the things I want there on credit, which means you only have to pay down a little each month. And, dear, you can get clothes for yourself the same way. Now is that such an unreasonable request?"

"I'll say it isn't. It's delightful news. At that rate we can both go down and get outfitted. I wish all your wishes were that easily granted."

A WISH THAT WAS GRANTED

"Tom, you've always been such a dear husband about granting my slightest wish that I'm sure you're not going to fall me now, especially when I tell you how easily it can be done. Now, don't gasp when you hear, because I've really set my heart on having it."

"Well, let's hear it and I'll see if it can be done, but if you want money go easy."

"No, dear—all I want is a complete new outfit from head to foot."

"Wheel, is that all? Are you sure there's nothing else and pray, where is all this to come from without money?"
