DEMAND RETURN OF JAPS' BOOZE

Police Had No Search Warrant, Is Contention

Charging that Police Inspector Hans Damm and Captain E. C. Collier and J. T. Mason acted unlawfully in breaking in the door of a noodle joint at 659 King st.

Judge Gordon took the motion under advisement. Hammond presented two decisions of the supreme court of the United States in support of his argument.

Should Judge Gordon uphold Hammond's plea, future raids made by the police without search warrants, even when crime is exposed, would be prevented.

This evidence was obtained unlawfully, Hammond declared. 'Even the inspector of police cannot break in doors lawfully.'

Breaking in a door and taking evidence by force without authority is as bad as the third degree.

The raid was made upon a tip that the officers were going to knockover. No officer was arrested in the place.

Patrolman R. E. Van Horne was questioned by the inspector when he was met near the noodle joint. He claimed that he was going to arrest the proprietor for having booze.

TRACING POISON IN VANCE CASE

Police Probe Girl's Death by Nicotine

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—The difficult task of tracing origin of two grains of nicotine which killed Miss Marie Vance, daughter of a wealthy Chicago dentist, confronted District Attorney T. L. Woolwine and detectives today.

Officials were confident that tracing the poison would solve the "nicotine murder mystery."

Miss Vance died April 5 in a Hollywood bungalow near the celebrated movie colony in that suburb. She was in a delicate condition just before the poison was taken.

The death certificate was signed by Dr. R. E. Hyder. The body was shipped to Chicago in a sealed casket, labeled "Diphtheria."

Dr. William Vance, the father, demanded an autopsy and the nicotine was found. There was no trace of diphtheria, according to Los Angeles authorities.

At the time she took the poison, Miss Vance was too weak to leave her bed. Persons who attended her told police there was no poison within her reach at any time.

33 3-4 BILLIONS ALLIED DEMAND

Prepare Final Proposal to Germany

LONDON, May 4.—The allies today prepared to submit a final proposal to Germany for settlement of the world war.

With a demand that Germany pay $32,750,000,000 to the allied countries, the supreme council notified Berlin that penalties will be exacted if the terms are not accepted by midnight of a certain day, believed to be May 12.

The supreme council's note, providing for payment of the debt by bond issues and exacting an export tax, was transmitted to Berlin by the allied reparations commission, which conferred with the supreme council today.

It was reported that Germany had submitted a new offer approximating the allied demand. This was denied by the foreign office. The report was characterized as a "German invention."

Berlin, it was stated, realizes that the new allied terms are more favorable than those proposed at the first Paris conference on reparations.

It was believed by attaches that Germany started the rumor of a new offer to conceal what satisfaction she feels in the new allied proposals.

A copy of the allied ultimatum will be sent to Washington simultaneously with its dispatch to Berlin.

HARDING DELAYS DISARMING PLAN

House Postpones Action on Proposals

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Harding today won the consent of house leaders to delay action on disarmament proposals pending in congress.

Proposed hearings on the Rogers resolution, which provides for an international disarmament conference, will be called off as a result of the agreement between the president and sponsors of the resolution, who will make no attempt to push it until the president indicates he is ready.

Despite the announcement of Harding's position, Senator Borah, of Idaho, today offered in the senate his resolution authorizing and directing the president to call a naval disarmament conference to be participated in by the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

The president has made it plain that while he is in favor of some move for disarmament, he believes that action should await an opportune time and should be taken in agreement with the rest of the administration following policy.

Germany Will Yield to Halt Invasion

BERLIN, May 4.—Germany will yield to allied indemnity demands before submitting to further invasion, it was believed in well-informed circles today.

If the present government will not sign, a government will be found which will sign.

There were numerous declarations that Germany will reject the allied demands. Her capitalists were among those determined to refuse to pay.

TAXPAYERS HIT BY MULE FIGHT

For Seven Years Matter is in Courts

CHICAGO, May 4.—Seven years ago J. H. Morris, a director of the People's Gas Co., had a mule on his country estate near Lake Forest, a millionaire's suburb.

J. F. Doyle, retired business man, who lived on the adjoining estate, had 15 mules.

Morris' mule was thin and anemic. Doyle's mules were fat and contented. So the owners agreed that Morris' mule should "board" for a few months in Doyle's fertile pastures.

Time came for the return. Morris picked out a mule. He said it was his. Doyle said it wasn't.

The two went to court over the mule, which was worth $225.

For seven years the case has dragged thru the lower courts, being appealed time and time again by one or the other of the men. Meanwhile the mule died in disgust.

The case is now before appellate court. It has cost the taxpayers an average of $250 a day while being threshed out.
