

SEVEN TOWNS ATTACKED IN MINE WAR

Weather
Tonight and Sunday, showers; moderate easterly winds.
Temperature Last 24 Hours
Maximum, 71. Minimum, 49.
Today noon, 60.

The Seattle Star

7TH LATE EDITION

Entered as Second Class Matter May 2, 1899, at the Postoffice at Seattle, Wash., under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879. Per Year, by Mail, $5 to $5. VOLUME 23 SEATTLE, WASH., SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1921. TWO CENTS IN SEATTLE

WHAT SHALL WE DO? LET THEM STARVE?

1,000 WAR VETERANS JOBLESS IN SEATTLE

Who Has Work That Some of These Ex-Service Men Can Do?

"A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be given a square deal afterward. More than that no man is entitled to, and less than that no man shall have."
—THEODORE ROOSEVELT, At Springfield, Ill., July 3, 1903.

One thousand ex-service men are tramping the streets of Seattle today, looking for work. That is the estimate of the unemployment bureau of Rainier-Noble post, American Legion, which is the job clearing house for all the warless veterans of Seattle.

The public has not responded as was expected to the various appeals to furnish employment for veterans—an appeal based not on sentiment only, but on the bald fact that men who enlisted in the army came back to find their old jobs filled by others or abolished, or at any rate were set back two years or more in economic or business position.

The Star today publishes the names of 140 men, the cases furnished by Rainier-Noble Post as the "most urgent" among those of Seattle's jobless veterans. Other names will be published as they are gathered. This newspaper urges its readers to scan the list carefully, and if there is a man listed who can be used in any capacity to telephone at once to Hervey Lindley, the adjutant of Rainier-Noble post—Elliott 479.

At the same number, offers of jobs of all sorts, permanent or temporary, will be listed, and men who can fill them will be immediately supplied.

It is also requested that every discharged soldier, sailor or marine who needs a job leave his name, address and occupation with the adjutant of Rainier-Noble post, at the office in the basement of the Stuart building, Fourth ave. and University st.

The Star will publish the names and continue its appeal for justice until the present deplorable and disgraceful condition is rectified.

The Star will print the names—
The people of Seattle will do the rest!

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A FEW YEARS MAKE

These Men Went to War for You; Every One Is Out of Work Now

R. J. Harrison, 50 Lenora st., construction foreman and housing engineer.
F. J. Cooke, 1717 Boylston ave., movie operator.
R. W. Turner, 1615 Eighth ave., Ford mechanic.
C. H. Shaw, 524 First ave. W., salesman and clerk.
Earl L. Owens, 423 Boylston N., accountant, bookkeeper, office work.
Martin E. Hildand, 719 Boren ave., paper maker.
Daniel Edwards, Barker hotel, salesman.
Jay W. Hamilton, 113 John st., salesman.
H. O. Keefe, 127 1/2 Ave. N., office duties.
Charles Zwargart, Y. M. C. A., attorney and salesman.
Jack J. Cahill, 215 1/2 Ave. N., salesman.
Edward F. Bailey, 1517 E. 43rd st., attorney, salesman, office.
Lawrence L. Turner, 1615 Minor ave., salesman.
Lloyd E. Campbell, 714 Thomas st., waiter or truck driver.
Earl P. Peterson, 922 Seneca st., laborer.
Robert Dingfield, 2249 Minor N., editor.
Charles W. Burr, 215 1/2 Ave. N., salesman.
Lennie E. Larson, 521 Queen Anne ave., driver.
E. D. Wilson, 2211 Rockefeller ave., Everett, chemical engineer.
M. E. Frazer, 421 E. Cherry, salesman.
Frank W. Johnson, 1818 7th ave., salesman.
E. C. Lindskog, 1856 N. 32nd st., retail salesman.
C. W. Anderson, 162 N. 47th st., salesman and driver.
Frank Heaps, 1319 Boren ave., laborer.
John Eisert, 445 29th E. W., carpenter.
J. J. Ryan, Sassy hotel, accountant, bookkeeper, traffic.
Robert P. Skinner, 1635 27th ave., civil engineer.
J. H. Norvell, 6529 Third ave. N. W., electrician and pipe fitter.
Frank Heaps, 1319 Boren ave., laborer.
H. W. Hoppe, 1210 Eighth ave., mulling machinist.
W. Mitchell, 122 1/2 Ave. N., machine driver.
Stephen A. Morin, 5519 Fifth ave. N., electrician and steel.
C. M. Leonard, 7911 19th ave. N. E., accountant of insurance.
R. C. Caldwell, 483 Union, vulcanizer.
Philip Dehaene, 3252 12th ave. W., switchman, railroad.
M. E. Horstler, 483 N. 54th ave., painter and trimmer.
F. G. Hanson, St. James hotel, no trade (printer in shipyard, poultryman, pressman in cocoa plant).
H. Creagh, 1425 Fifth ave., stenographer.
Geo. Wright, 1529 Eighth ave., clerk or assistant bookkeeper.
Albert H. Lockwood, 221 W. 51st st., auto mechanic.
Chas. A. Crane, 2405 Federal ave., auto mechanic.
Ward H. Swan, 1912 Fifth ave., fireman.
Chas. Sims, Spokane, clerk.
H. Jensen, 421 15th N., auto mechanic, truck driver.
Wm. McFarth, 1837 42nd ave. N., structural steel.
B. L. Stroud, 1114 Fourth ave., laborer.
D. A. Dimeck, Lee hotel, laborer.
E. W. Huff, community service, 157 Stuart block, assistant electrician.
Howard N. Bell, 1222 N. 45th st., electrician.
D. W. Dunson, 2508 8th ave., bench machinist.
Lewis A. Deany, New Arlington hotel, clerk, bookkeeping.
Wm. Mitchell, 4226 25th ave., truck driver.
Harry F. Ross, Y. M. C. A., farmer.
Wm. Moody, 211 Union st., Apt. 4, carpenter.
David E. Millard, 3618 Fifth ave., foreman, wholesale hardware.
Alva J. Berthold, 1809 Eighth ave., mechanic.
Lloyd Macdonald, 2743 1st st., shipwright.
Leo E. Schmidt, 2427 21st ave. W., auto mechanic.
Lauchlin Macdonald, general delivery, railroad car repairer.
Louis L. Richards, 2732 5th ave. S. W., stationary engineer, warehouse.
Jack Fallow, Spokane, warehouse.

SERIOUS CONFLICT RENEWED IN SOUTH

Miners and Opponents Fight in Streets; Women and Children Rescued

CAMP SHERMAN, Ohio, May 14.—The entire 19th infantry regiment was ordered today to prepare to move into the battle zone in Mingo county, West Virginia.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 14.—A concerted attack on Matewan opened today as a general battle was started by opposing sides in the Mingo county mine war. Fighting in Matewan streets was reported.

The heaviest fighting of the three-day mine workers' war broke out at noon. Fighting between hidden in West Virginia and Kentucky hills, but losses reported were... (The text is partially obscured and difficult to read in some places.)

STATE POLICE BUSH TO BATTLE

Captain J. J. Brooks, with a detachment of state police, commandeered special trains and started for the Mingo county district. Reports reached here during the morning that the striking miners, hidden since Thursday in the hills, had threatened an attack on the town of Howard, just across the Tug river. The report was that the snipers planned to "wipe out the town."

BODIES LYING IN BATTLE ORDER

An unconfirmed report here was that Charles Stafford and Carl Butcher, believed killed at Merrimack, only been wounded and managed to drag themselves clear of the fighting in the dark last night. The bodies of Dan Whitte, C. W. Smith or Gopslin, and other dead and wounded were still lying on the ground in the battle zone shortly before noon. They could not be rescued because of the clear, modic shooting, which continued since the battle opened Thursday morning.

FIGHT RAGES DURING NIGHT

The flare of revolvers and pistols up and down the Tug river for 28 miles continued through the night. The battle died down shortly after midnight, but was resumed at daybreak. Communication with the battle area was still interrupted this morning, but the course of the fight was plainly discernible by the sound of the volleys and the flares that went up from the snipers in the West Virginia and Kentucky hills, on opposite sides of the Tug river. Shots continued pouring into the half-dozen little mining colonies in the valley between the two mountain sides.

Some of the reported dead were lying in the range of fire and could not be rescued. The constant exchange of shots prevented the complete check of the casualties and identification of the victims was impossible in many cases. Dan Whitte, a minor, is among the latest victims of the guerrilla warfare. He left the mouth of a mine yesterday to procure water for women and children huddled in the mine mouth. He was killed before he had taken 20 steps into the line of fire. One wing of the seven-mile fight rages about the mine mouth, and their escape is cut off. The battle opened Thursday morning between miners who have been on strike for a year and those who have taken their places in the coal fields.

SUNDAY evening's attendance at the Arena will show whether the people of Seattle think it worth while to spend a little money every year straightening out the twisted limbs and backs of little children.

There are 6,500 seats in the Arena. Tickets are on sale at Sherman-Clays. They are $1 each. A great concert will be given at the Arena Sunday evening as a benefit for the Children's Orthopedic hospital to raise money necessary to continue the hospital work.

From Canada will come the First Division band, war veterans and real musicians. Vocal solos, a piano and a violin solo, and interpretative dancing are on the program. The concert is arranged by Seattle Post, of the American Legion, and all the proceeds go to the Orthopedic hospital.

ONE ARRESTED IN SHIP STRIKE

Attempt Made to Rush Gates at Pier A

Accused of being one of a crowd which tried to rush the gates of Pier A early Saturday, M. G. Lang, 29, fireman, is held in city jail on an open charge. The alleged storming of the pier gates that was presumably to culminate in an attack on non-union men on the ships at the pier was thwarted by police. The crowd offered no direct resistance to police on their arrival. D. W. Switzer, pier watchman, told Sgt. J. A. Thomas, who arrested Lang, that he would swear to a complaint against the latter.

One man is in city hospital and eight others are recovering from bruises and other wounds Saturday following an attack on a taxicab full of non-union engineers Friday afternoon. The non-union men were being taken to Pier 2 to go on board the Alaskan liner Alameda. A crowd of 150 men halted the cab and dragged the non-union men out. A Wynward, 29, received a sprained ankle when he was manhandled by the crowd. He was taken to city hospital.

Condemned Powder Kills 4 Soldiers

FORT SILL, Okla., May 14.—Search was being made today for the remaining fragments of the bodies of four soldiers blown to death yesterday, when 500 pounds of black powder exploded prematurely. The powder had been condemned and ordered destroyed. The dead are: Luther D. Gee, Snyder, Okla.; David C. W. Talley, Vulcan, Mo.; David C. Monroe, Elizabeth, N. J., and Royal J. Clark, Cedarville, Ia.

SCHOONER DEFIANCE 50 DAYS OVERDUE, IS IN PORT CALLAO, PERU

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The schooner Defiance, 50 days overdue, arrived at Callao, Peru, yesterday, 142 days out from Grays Harbor, Wash., according to cables received by San Francisco Chamber of Commerce marine department today. Much anxiety had been exhibited here by the owners, the E. K. Wood Lumber Co., and by relatives and friends of members of the crew, most of whom have homes here. The vessel is San Francisco owned and cleared from Grays Harbor with 750,000 feet of lumber. According to the master message, the schooner arrived in sound condition. Repeated calms were assigned by officials of the lumber company as the reason for the vessel's delayed arrival.

CRACKSMEN IN CAFE GET $635

Restaurant on Third Ave. Is Looted

Crackmen blew the safe in the Butternut restaurant, 604 Third ave., during the night and escaped with $635, a $100 diamond ring and a $50 watch. The safe was wrecked. The yeggs are believed to have used nitro to crack the safe.

Joe Kawakara, proprietor of the restaurant, discovered the blown safe when he arrived to open the eating house at 6 a. m. Saturday. The safe had been wheeled from the front part of the restaurant near the window to the kitchen, where the charge was inserted and the fuse lighted. Two or more yeggs accomplished the job, according to police. It would have been impossible for a lone cracksmen to have wheeled the heavy safe into the kitchen.

The combination was knocked off the safe and the explosive poured in the hole thereby made in the safe door. Empty sugar and salt sacks were wrapped around the safe to deaden the sound. The interior of the safe was wrecked.

6 Killed as Freight Train Goes in Ditch

EL PASO, Tex., May 14.—Six persons are dead in a wreck of 12 freight cars which piled up in a ditch yesterday at Eagle Flat, Tex., 112 miles east of El Paso, train crew have reported. A coroner left for the scene last night.

FIGHT OR DIE, DOGGONE YUH!

A man strode rapidly thru the crowds at Second and University Saturday. Anxiously he consulted his watch. Astonishment, then disgust, was registered on his face. He placed the watch to his ear, listened hopefully, stared at it again, walked over to the curb, laid the watch gently in the gutter, and strode rapidly down the street. It was not an expensive watch.

MANY PERILED BY INCENDIARY MISTERY FIRES ON QUEEN ANNE

Two mysterious fires within two hours threatened a one-story building at Queen Anne ave. and Galer st. early Saturday. The first fire, at 12:19 a. m., damaged a shoe repair shop to the extent of $800. The cause given to fire officials is that an overheated stove started the blaze.

TODAY'S BEST HAY HAT YARN

Straw hats of all shades and weaves blossomed forth at the city hall Saturday, but Maj. Carl Reeves, superintendent of public utilities, received the carbonadium powder puff for the prize hay roof garden.

Rainbow Veterans in Convention

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 14.—Veterans of the Rainbow division from all parts of California, Washington, Oregon and Nevada are here for their annual convention and reunion which opens today. The veterans are to meet at the state capitol for business sessions. They will be shown moving pictures of themselves. A ball has been planned for tonight. The pumps at you see how many gallons of gasoline you're getting when you ask for 10 gallons.

Jail to Yawn for Small Bootleggers

This is more for those who sell it than for those who have it. Prosecutor Malcolm Douglas Saturday morning announced he would hereafter insist on jail sentences for those connected with liquor operations as a business in any way. "A man with a pint can't expect from now on to get off with a fine, if he can be shown he intended to exchange even a swallow for money," he said. "A man with a sackful or more can't expect to get off on any plea."

OH, SEE THE PRETTY GAS!

Visible gasoline pumps. They're made here, but can't be sold here. Next Monday an ordinance will be introduced in the council authorizing their use in Seattle.

State House Is Deserted When Circus Arrives

Hardly a footstep was heard in the halls of the state house at Olympia Friday. Officials were nowhere to be seen. "Hizzoner will be out all afternoon," Acting Gov. "Wee" Willie Coyler's snappy secretary volunteered. The state house, in fact, had an extremely vacant look. Borrowed from some of its occupants, you say. But you judge harshly, Epictetus. The real solution lay several blocks distant, where several large-topped tents were pitched. Gaudy pennants floated above the white tops. The musty odor of straw, the neighing of horses, the trumpeting of elephants mingled with the raucous shouts of pink lemonade vendors.