

STRAND

SECOND NEAR SENECA

NOW PLAYING

THE GIGANTIC MASTERPIECE OF THE YEAR

'MADONNAS AND MEN'

Carries the absorbed spectator from the revels and blood lust of ancient Rome to the revels of night life in New York. Nothing so tensely dramatic ever before conceived by the brain of man.

A story so startlingly realistic, so remarkably dramatic and so perfectly produced that it stirs to the very depths the emotions of all who see it.

STRAND ORCHESTRA

Mildred Is a Real Westerner; Hails From State of Wyoming

Mildred Harris is a real, honest-to-goodness Westerner. She was born in Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1901, and was reared there. She started her screen career with Vitagraph. Miss Harris is playing at the Rex this week in "Old Dad," a First National picture.

TEDDY was engaged to Rob, but the reason she wasn't just crazy about him was that he was such a calm, steady, reliable and earnest young business man. Teddy craved jazz. She flirted—over the telephone, with any old voice that knew how to be jolly. By accident she flirted with some of steady old Rob's club friends. And Rob found out. Did he make a scene? Nay. Rob was nothing if not calm, sane, efficient. Did he cure Teddy forever of telephone flirtations? We'll say he did. Just how is told in "Ducks and Drakes," the comedy drama starring Bebe Daniels at the Blue Mouse this week.

TODAY'S PROGRAMS

LIBERTY—Marshall Neilan's "Bob Hampton of Placer." CLEMMER—Priscilla Dean in "Reputation" (second week). BLUE MOUSE—Bebe Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes." COLISEUM—Thomas Meighan in "The City of Silent Men." STRAND—"Madonnas and Men." COLONIAL—Pauline Frederick in "The Mistress of Shenstone." REX—Mildred Harris in "Old Dad." WINTER GARDEN—Zane Grey's "Man of the Forest."

eral public, and the functioning of the artistic machine which furnishes the world its amusement, so little known to the layman, is very seldom correctly presented to the reading or the play-going public. In "Reputation," Priscilla Dean's latest picture, which is enjoying tremendous popularity at the Clemmer, the veil of mystery is torn away and the spectator is permitted to get a view that region behind the curtain and footlights.

STRAND "Madonnas and Men" is the unusual title of the new photodrama which opened at the Strand today. It is best described as a story within a story. The opening scene shows the emperor of Rome seated in his box in the Roman amphitheatre. Before him his gladiators engage in terrific combat and lovely young Christian girls are thrown to the lions. Then an old scotchman arrives on the scene and whispers something in the ear of the young prince—what he tells the prince forms the basis of the story.

LIBERTY Uncle Sam's navy boys helped direct "Bob Hampton of Placer," the film drama at the Liberty this week. Marshall Neilan, director, after creating a sensation by using a real army blimp to photograph some of the scenes, politely approached Uncle Sam with a request for a portion of the navy. So Micky Nellan got the boys to help him repeat history by means of the semaphore system—that is, the boys signaled Micky's directions from one set to another, these sets being some miles apart. James Kirkwood, Marjorie Daw, Pat O'Malley and little Wesley Barry are among the players in the cast.

CLEMMER The mystery and glamor which surround the theatre are always sources of great interest to the general public, and the functioning of the artistic machine which furnishes the world its amusement, so little known to the layman, is very seldom correctly presented to the reading or the play-going public. In "Reputation," Priscilla Dean's latest picture, which is enjoying tremendous popularity at the Clemmer, the veil of mystery is torn away and the spectator is permitted to get a view that region behind the curtain and footlights.

"Wayfarer" Chorus Rehearsed by 2,000

Two thousand singers reported at First Methodist church last night to rehearse the choruses of "The Wayfarer." The church was overthrown, and the next meeting will be held in Plymouth Congregational church. One thousand more singers are needed. Conductor Montgomery Lynch is planning later rehearsals in the Stadium at the University. "The Wayfarer" will be given in July.

SPOKANE—Rev. Frederick A. Heller, 69, pastor First Evangelical church, dead.

Gas Station Held Up by Daylight Bandit

A bold daylight bandit held up T. H. Lacey, in charge of the Standard Oil Co. gas station at Third ave. and Stewart st., Monday afternoon, robbed him of $129 and forced Lacey to drive him away in Lacey's auto. The bandit ejected Lacey at Second ave. and Wall st. The auto was found at Fifth ave. and Denny way. Lacey says the robber is the same man that held him up last February.

WASHINGTON—Total population of Alaska 54,899, census bureau announced. White population decreased 23.4 per cent and Indian population increased 4.3 per cent during last decade.

LOIS WILSON IN NEW REID PICTURE

Lois Wilson is learning all about gold mining, being on location with Wallace Reid, star of "The Hell Diggers" in Northern California. Frank Ursen is directing this Paramount picture by Byron Morgan. Miss Wilson will probably have a ride on one of the big gold dredges nicknamed "hell diggers."

VIRGINIA VALLI Virginia Valli, now being seen on the screen as Lady Alice Pippinworth, in "Sentimental Tommy," plays a dual role in her present picture with Bert Lytell. It is called "A Trip to Paradise" and was adapted from the stage success, "Liliom."

Picture Patter

Raymond Hatton's hobby is collecting walking sticks.

"A ballet skirt is being made for a horse in "The Grim Comedian."

"Man's Game." Title of picture Katherine MacDonald is making now.

James Kirkwood appears as Englishman and as German in "The Great Impersonation."

Princeton university students vote Betty Hlythe their favorite movie actress.

Goldwyn is to produce "Syndafoden" ("The Sin Flood"), famous Swedish drama.

Theodore Roberts has played more than 100 screen roles. He was on the stage 40 years.

It took six hours for cowboys to quiet cattle after a stampede scene in "The Half-Breed."

The perennial rumor—David Warfield is to do "The Merchant of Venice" in celluloid.

Actress Says "Never Again"

The pay of an army aviator is not enough to make a girl happy, thinks Helen Darling, motion picture star. That's what she said when her husband, Lieut. John Darling, army flier, sued her for divorce. "Never again," Helen told the world when the decree was granted.
