Cynthia Grey:

Girl, Out Upon Life's Rugged Highway, Nears Crisis and Is Tempted to Follow Short-Cut to Reach Goal.

Dear Miss Grey: Like all other advice-seekers, I have also come to you. I am a girl (21) and live at home with my mother. Owing to domestic troubles mother and I find ourselves at the present in a precarious position financially. I have not been able to secure work, and mother, tho' not physically able, is now working. The following question has been put to me: "Why do you not marry? You could give your mother a home and you owe that to her." This has caused me much anxiety on my part and I am greatly troubled.

It is absolutely necessary that I support mother. We must now part with our little home which we have been buying on the installment plan. But now we have no goal. There seems to be no future for us. I have many gentlemen friends, and I have three, each of whom want to marry me. I care a great deal for them all, but have never thought of marrying any one of them. Two of them I have known for years.

By doing so, I could obtain a home for mother and thus give to her what she so richly deserves.

It is only of her I am thinking. I would never marry for a home alone, not I the only one to be considered.

Please, what shall I do? Is it right for me to go on allowing my mother to struggle thru and to suffer when she is not well and unable to care for herself?

I am heartily and blue. I want your advice so much. Please do answer.

BROWN EYES.
The right road is rocky and steep, and oftentimes when one gazes ahead to measure the distance to the goal it seems indeed impossible to attain it. And then there are all of those little, shady, smooth paths, that branch off on either side—the easier ways, that beckon as a short-cut to that goal. But, dear little girl, do not be deceived. The short-cut never leads to the goal but to steeper precipices, concealed just around the turn.

You do not wish to sell your mother's right for a mess of pottage—neither do you wish to do it for your mother, and she would not have you. And then, in such a bargain there are others to be considered besides mother? Would you be playing the game fair and square with the man? Would he wish to marry you if he knew you were doing it merely to escape a crisis? Would he welcome your mother into your home and provide for her? In the majority of cases he would not, and therein would be the greatest difficulty of all.

—you would be tied to a man you did not love and would be more powerless than ever to aid your mother.

You will get work soon, I am sure. I wish you would make known your identity to me. Call at my office any Tuesday or send your name and address thru the mail or call me at Main 0600. Perhaps someone who reads this letter will know of just the position you can fill, so do not delay in communicating with me. It will be positively confidential.

A Girl Answers Al
Miss Grey: May I please use your column again to answer "Searchingly Al"?

Al, you say you have not been out with anyone since 1919, nearly two years ago. Do you enjoy going out with your sisters as much as you would some other girl? I think I can safely say NO, for you.

Well, Al, just reverse the tables; how does a girl like to go out with just her brother because she is afraid to go out with other boys? Not afraid of their scorn because they cannot "pull the same line with her."

Man Who Escaped Is Captured in Portland
C. J. Fair, 40, who has served two sentences at Walla Walla for forgery, and who escaped from Deputy Sheriff William Downey, January 14, 1919, has been arrested in Portland and is now held in that city, pending extradition proceedings to bring him back to Seattle for trial.

Banking Hours as Usual

DURING the past week in order to contradict the malicious falsehoods being circulated, the public was notified that these banks would remain open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. to accommodate customers.

Inasmuch as the public has shown no desire to take advantage of these extended facilities, these banks, on Monday, July 18th, resumed regular banking hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., with Savings Department open Saturday evening from 6 to 8.

Their Medicine Chest for 20 Years

It is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back upon the life they have lived and thoughtfully live them over. I find myself at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula, I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their system of the user, which was due to the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user, which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe does more for the human system than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase its dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first. And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must look to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a comforting thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that, aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (N.R.) Tablet and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

The pleasure of creating music

Men find, in the Player Piano, a particular satisfaction. It represents THEIR chance to create music, whether they are trained or not.

A Player Piano gives THEM a place in the evening's entertainment, other than that of an agreeable wallflower.

Do the MEN as well as the rest of your household have the fun of creating music?

We urge you seriously to consider a Player Piano and the pleasure it will bring. There is a vast repertoire of numbers: all the latest dances, all the favorite old melodies, all the world's classics. And the least trained member of the household can play every one of them.

Moreover, a Player Piano can be played by hand from the keyboard, by anyone who has had the training.

We have Player Pianos from $59.00 up. Convenient payment terms gladly arranged.
