

On the Issue of Americanism There Can Be No Compromise

The Seattle Star

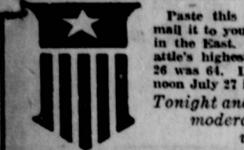

7TH LATE EDITION

Entered as Second Class Matter May 3, 1899, at the Postoffice at Seattle, Wash., under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879. Per Year, by Mail, $5 to $9

VOLUME 23

SEATTLE, WASH., WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1921.

TWO CENTS IN SEATTLE

Pass this on a postcard and mail it to your sweetest friend in the East. Tell them that Seattle's highest temperature July 26 was 64. Lowest was 50. At noon July 27 it was 53. Tonight and Thursday fair; moderate westerly winds.

HENRY ALBERS DIES!

Home Brew

GREETINGS! Have you reached that stage of swimming enthusiasm yet when you think Puget Sound water is warm?

Council appropriates another $5,000,000 to develop current at the Seattle. They could save codies of money by harnessing the "juice" that flows across the Canadian border.

One reason why some husbands love grows cold is because their wives' feet set the example.

JOSH WISE SAYS There's always room at the top for the big red peach.

Price of Plums Down, exclaims a headline. Is federal patronage, then, going begging?

A Berlin dispatch says an invention at the Krupp plant has invented a steel that can be used to fill teeth. Probably for saws.

TODAY'S WORST Ig—Have you seen May? Nutz—May who? Ig—Mayonaise. Nutz—No; she was dressing and wouldn't letuce.

Man hit by Seattle fire engine cannot collect damages from the city. Many a man is not in a position to collect damages after he has been run over by a fire engine.

Whom many of these male blues who object to bobbed hair and girls wear angle-worm muslin.

OBJECTION: MATRIMONY You may have noticed that Hal Armstrong, Star reporter, who is flitting away his vacation with his wife, has not landed for British Columbia.

Geo Gee, the Prairie Vamp, said she heard so many Biblical names at "The Wayfarer" that she thought she was on a golf links.

City dads, we note, are preparing to oust the flinsees. That's right! Let's make the borough pay for the street curbs!

The airplane bombing tests convince us that if a ship will hold still it can eventually be sunk by airplanes if they carry enough bombs and enough bombs hit it and enough of the bombs explode when they hit it.

A sub-dub I hate is Tillie Blootch; she refuses to dance without a shot of hooch.

OUR BUREAU OF MISSING RELATIVES Mr. Guggenheim Rye: Has been missing for the past four years. He is mourned by a large number of friends. Believed to have moved to Canada.

"World Powers May Meet Here," says headline. Can you imagine any power in the world holding a man here when Vancouver is so close?

Over here money talks. Over in Germany money balks.

THREE BEERY CHEERS This country is not dry, it never has been dry, and you won't live to see the day when it will be dry. Connerville (nd.) News-Examiner.

POME Mary had a little lamb, Which drank a case of beer; And every time that Mary talked, That lamb seemed very queer.

Because of that, the little lamb, Her father shot it dead; Now Mary takes her lamb to school Between two hunks of bread.

By the way, what has become of the dish of cloves that used to decorate the oldtime bars?

Mrs. Stillman has gone to a friend's summer home for a rest. But where can the poor public go?

"The water came from the dam pool."—From The Star. Supposin' it did—why get mad about it?

Have you ever observed that it makes a liar just as mad to be called a liar as it does an honest man?

Star's Shut-In Party at 'Wayfarer' Tonight

150 WILL JOURNEY IN CARS

Folks Who Never Mix With Outer World to Witness Pageant

More than 150 sick, helpless people who never see more than the four walls of the rooms where they are shut in, or, at best, the limited view to be obtained from a window, are going on a wonderful journey tonight, as guests of The Star and the management of "The Wayfarer."

Under the direction of Seattle's most cheerful and energetic shut-in, Dr. F. R. Loops, who lies day after day completely paralyzed, they will be taken from their homes in 12 automobiles donated by Star readers, driven to the rim of the great university stadium, in which the gorgeous pageant is presented, and there, without moving from the autos, will witness the performance from start to finish.

CITY BIDS FOR WORLD MEETING

Acting Mayor Wires Plea to Secretary Hughes

Acting Mayor Robert B. Henketh today wired to Secretary of State Hughes, urging that the proposed preliminary disarmament conference to be held on the Pacific coast early in the fall be held in Seattle.

"I can assure you that adequate facilities will be provided for the conference," he said. "Steamship facilities to Australia and New Zealand are unsurpassed and there is daily connection afforded between Seattle and Victoria, B. C., where Australian steamers can be boarded. And there is from Seattle a direct passenger service between China and Japan of American and foreign lines."

The Chamber of Commerce at the same time wired to Samuel Hill, who is in Washington seeking a $100,000 appropriation to pay for the peace arch at Blaine, to personally urge Seattle's cause before Secretary Hughes.

"If I'd Only Been Pretty!" Wails Killer

Mrs. Dora Waterman

BY R. J. GIBBONS
CHICAGO, July 27.—Mrs. Dora Waterman says no jury will convict a pretty woman of murder. She has just been sentenced to 17 years in the penitentiary for killing her husband.

"But I'm not pretty," she says. "Had I been good looking; had I worn silk hose and shown my calves while I was in the witness chair, the jury would have freed me."

The foreman of the jury said Mrs. Waterman's appearance had nothing to do with the verdict. But Mrs. Waterman says it did.

"If I had only been pretty," she exclaimed aloud in the court room after the verdict was read.

Thirty-one women, young and beautiful, have been acquitted by juries here on charges of having murdered husbands, sweethearts or friends.

Mrs. Waterman hacked her husband to pieces with a hatchet.

CITY TO SAVE OVER MILLION

Pruning Knife Wielded Unmercifully

Seattle will save more than $1,000,000 next year! The budget committee of the city council announced Wednesday that approximately $1,100,740 has been sliced off department estimates for 1922.

A cut of $800,000 is sufficient to effect a four-mill reduction in the tax levy.

Sitting in executive session, the budget committee late Tuesday afternoon cut $100,000 off the street department estimate, reduced the health department estimate for garbage collection by $93,200, and saved $70,000 by eliminating the proposed fire alarm system included in the building department estimate.

Cutting one-tenth of a mill off the appropriations of the park and library boards will save $49,000, while department heads have made reductions totaling $494,540 under their estimates for 1921.

Approximately $300,000 will be sliced from next year's expenditures by the flat cut of $10 a month in city employees' salaries and a 25-cent per day reduction in the wages of day laborers.

Another $300,000 saving will be made by the salary cut, but this will not appear in the budget as the workers are employed in self-supporting public utilities which do not draw from the tax fund.

RUSSIA CRIMES FEVER

So Declares Dr. Wovschin After Survey; Grafting Still Prevalent

The following article is the second of three written for The Star by Dr. W. A. Wovschin of New York, telling how the common people in Russia are getting along under the revolution. Dr. Wovschin is a former captain in the medical corps, United States army, and is diagnostician of infectious diseases of the New York city health department. He has recently returned from a nine months' medical and military survey of soviet Russia.

BY DR. W. A. WOVSCHIN
NEW YORK, July 27.—Vice and crime are at a remarkable minimum in soviet Russia.

"Russia is a public evil as in other countries—the I do not mean Russians are chaste angels.

In my work of making a long medical and sanitary survey of cities and rural districts I found the social evil non-existent. I found the reported spread of free love entirely false. I found no crime wave.

SAYS ADJUSTMENT IS ECONOMIC
When the czar ruled before the revolution—and I was in Russia at that time, too—immorality and licentiousness had not already got. St. Petersburg and Moscow were as "gay" as Paris and Berlin at their worst. They were filled with women of the streets.

Now prostitution has been abolished. It is a matter of economic adjustment. Russia's experience with the social evil gives the lie to the belief that girls took the "easy path" because of depravity.

"Fine clothes are not a lure. There are not enough fine clothes to go around. A man can give a woman a fine dress, but she will not take it. Neither has any money—and if they had they couldn't buy anything with it. Each has food, clothes and a place to live—gained by the ration system in exchange for honest work. Neither could work—and therefore

(Turn to Last Page, Column 3)

MYSTERY IN BURNING BOAT

Found Blazing on Lake, Owner Nearby

A blazing launch was found Tuesday night on Lake Washington, near Leschi park, by Capt. O. L. Vanriper of the harbor patrol.

Vanriper also found a launch near the burning boat, in which was a man who gave the name of Snyder, who claims he owned the blazing hulk, and had taken it out into the lake to destroy it.

Capt. Vanriper took the man ashore and later released him.

Owing to suspicious actions, the man will be investigated, on a theory that he may have stolen the craft.

The launch burned to the water's edge and sank.

Can't Down Demand for Soldier Bonus

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The demand for a soldier bonus is based on simple justice and "will not and cannot be downed," Gilbert Bettman, chairman of the American Legion legislative committee told President Harding today.

FRANKIE KIOLET NOW TAKING PART IN HER FIRST BIG PHOTOPLAY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 27.—Frankie Kiolet, winner of The Seattle Star-Universal motion picture actress contest conducted in Seattle a few months ago, made her debut before the camera at Universal City today.

Miss Kiolet has been at the Universal studio for several weeks, during which time she has made a careful study of acting before the camera, the art of make-up and other essentials necessary for the success of a screen star.

Filming of the first feature in which Miss Kiolet has a part is now under way.

MERCHANTS TO GAMBLE RECKLESSLY

Monte Carlo to Flourish Tonight Without Police Interference

Monte Carlo to flourish tonight without police interference.

The old lady wandered up to the roof garden. She shouldn't have been there, but the gatekeeper wasn't watching. She tripped over a rail, fell, and smashed the sack she was carrying.

"They're broken," she wept. "What's asked Mr. Williams sympathetically, as he lifted her up. "Your legs?"

"No," she sobbed. "My eggs." "Here's 50 cents," said Williams. "And don't come back here. This is for visitors only."

"The whole Northwest is coming to Seattle," declared Frank Doherty, registration chairman, Wednesday, as out-of-town merchants continued to appear at the ninth Annual Northwest Merchants' convention and Buyers' Week, being held until Saturday night at the Bell street terminal.

Gladdening the hearts of Chairman Paul T. Kennedy and his cohorts from the Seattle Sales Managers' association and the Seattle Chamber of Commerce is the fact that the public is taking advantage of the exhibits. Admission is free, lots of samples are given away, and whistles and knock-knacks aplenty are ready to find their way, gratis, into the pockets of the youngsters.

Even the band concert each evening is free. The public will be admitted from 3 to 10 p. m. tonight and tomorrow, and from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Friday and Saturday.

Tuesday noon the program was a wonder. All the visitors said so. But with due respect to the organizers of the exhibits, the fashion show and the pretty living models were the hit of the occasion.

There was a hitching forward of chairs when Chairman Charles Ellis announced "Bathing Suits." And when eight charming Seattle misses tripped across the stage in the latest one-piece beach attire there was a thunder of applause. There followed sports suits, negligees, and—ou! ou!—lingerie!

Pink silk predominated. Henry Jones from Eastern Washington gasped a time or two, blinked his eyes, and broke into a glad smile.

Of course, with wife's restraining hand upon his arm, he was conservative. But he'll be back today and tomorrow! Count on that!

Tonight will be Monte Carlo night for the men, and a theatre party for the women.

At our feet, rushing, cold, turbulent and clear, is the river Stillaguamish, teeming with voracious trout.

I broke the spell this morning. I caught a half dozen beauties and hooked half a dozen more that I was unable to land, all before breakfast.

But (my wife wouldn't believe it), said to relate, four of my best ones I lost. I forgot to bring a creel. You remember how we used to string 'em on a willow branch when we were kids? Well, I cut me a willow branch and strung my first four on it.

I had waded out to a rock in midstream and put my fish in

SEAMEN WIN IN COURT!

U. S. Loses Strike Case; Damages and Injunction Are Denied

In a decision by Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer, filed Wednesday, the government loses the second round in its fight against the seamen's unions, in connection with the walkout on shipping board vessels.

The court grants the motion of six seamen's unions for dismissal of an action brought against them by District Attorney Robert C. Saunders, in which a permanent injunction against the unions was sought and damages in the sum of $10,000 a day from May 1, the date of the walkout.

The first round was won by the government when a temporary restraining order was granted, forbidding the union men to interfere with the sailing of shipping board vessels or their crews, and from trespassing on shipping board property.

Permission was granted for the government to amend the original complaint to file a new one. District Attorney Saunders was unable to state what action he should take Wednesday.

Six unions and nine individuals were named defendants in the complaint. They are: Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, No. 38, and W. B. Jackling, business manager; D. W. Miller, president; W. M. Coombs, recording secretary, and C. S. Follet, treasurer.

Masters, Mates & Pilots of the Pacific, Seattle branch, and P. Mullen, business agent.

Marine Firemen, Oilers & Water Tenders' Union of the Pacific, Seattle branch, and John Carney, business agent.

Sailors' Union of the Pacific, Seattle branch, and P. V. Gill, secretary. Marine Cooks & Stewards' association of the Pacific, Seattle agency, and John Norkgauer, secretary.

Neptune Association of Licensed Masters & Mates of Ocean & Coastwise Steam Vessels, Inc., Seattle branch, and Albert Barron, secretary.

ESCAPE FROM BURNING AUTO

A Large Studebaker Touring Car, bearing an Idaho License, was Found Burned Near Seward park, on the Lake Washington boulevard, early Wednesday, after the occupants, two men and a woman, were seen to leap from the flaming auto and escape on Lake Washington in a stolen launch.

A large Studebaker touring car, bearing an Idaho license, was found burned near Seward park, on the Lake Washington boulevard, early Wednesday, after the occupants, two men and a woman, were seen to leap from the flaming auto and escape on Lake Washington in a stolen launch.

Police are trying to identify the automobile, believed to have been stolen, which was damaged by fire amounting to about $400.

People living on the boulevard declared that they were awakened by the roar of the flames and the explosion of the gas tank of the automobile and saw the three people desperately fighting the flames.

When neighbors appeared on the scene the three fled to a launch and escaped.

BEATS WIFE; IT'S A HABIT

Amelia Jacob, residing at the rear of fire station No. 4, filed a complaint against Moses Jacob Wednesday morning, charging him with habitual wife-beating. Jacob, his wife alleges, pretends to be sick and does not work, but beats her up continually.

They're Off on 3-Month Hike to N. Y.

G. C. Maddock and wife in their hiking costumes.—Photos by Price and Carter, Star staff photographers.

With one hundred dollars as their sole capital, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Maddock, young married couple, left Seattle Tuesday on the first lap of a cross-country hike, with New York city as their destination.

Maddock is 26 and his pretty wife is just 19. The couple have been married a little over a year.

The chief reason for the long trip is his run-down physical condition, according to Maddock.

All of the young couple's heavy baggage has been sent to New York by parcel post and they are carrying only the light necessities for the trip. The couple expect to reach the metropolis in three months' time.

"We'll accept no pickups," Maddock said Tuesday. "We have set our hearts on walking every step of the way and we're going to take our time."

The route planned by the young couple is over the Yellowstone Trail. From Livingston, Montana, the northern entrance of Yellowstone National park, to Chicago, the couple expect to encounter some real difficulties because of the severe heat.

A stopover in Detroit, Mich., is planned. Maddock's mother and sister reside in the auto city.

The couple resided at the Cherry hotel while here.

Harding Receives Amnesty Advocates

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Representatives of the political amnesty league and others working for the release of Eugene V. Debs and other political prisoners said that President Harding expressed sympathy with their mission during a conference today.

Harding, they said, pointed out that consideration of the subject could not be given until after "certain events."

This statement was construed by the visitors as meaning that the political prisoners would not be freed until after the peace proclamation is promulgated.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the executive committee of the socialist party were in the delegation.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Brush fire menacing city is gotten under control.

STORMY CAREER ENDED!

Center of Great Espionage Case Is Victim of Worries

PORTLAND, Ore., July 27.—Henry Albers, center of the most important espionage case of the Northwest's war history, died at his home at Milwaukie, today, from a complication of ills that had come upon him thru recent months of physical and mental trial.

Living in virtual seclusion since his conviction and sentence to three years in federal prison and a $10,000 fine, Albers' health rapidly failed. His true condition was officially revealed at the request of United States Attorney Lester W. Humphreys early this week by Dr. Joseph L. Wood.

Albers, a native of Germany, was stricken from the sentence hanging over his head when Solicitor General Davis confessed error, on April 27, before the United States supreme court, in the trial of the case.

Immediately effort was made to save Albers held for retrial, and a supreme court mandate, remanding him to the custody of United States Attorney Humphreys and the federal court here for "further proceedings" was received only a week ago.

14 TAKEN IN CRIME PLOT!

Planned Release of Gangster in for Girl Attacks

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—A well-planned conspiracy to obtain the freedom of Ed "Spud" Murphy, former pugilist, by a sensational jail delivery at San Quentin, where he is serving 50 years for connection with the notorious "Howard street gangster" of San Francisco, was nipped in the bud with the arrest of 14 men in the past 12 hours, according to announcement today by the police department.

STARTLING PLANS ARE ALLEGED
The high lights of the startling alleged disclosures follow:

That three Harris, George Smith and R. S. Hamilton and State Officer Peoples, who participated in a spectacular roundup of the alleged members of the gang in the downtown district.

That following this robbery the general office of a taxicab concern on South Figueroa st. were to be held up.

The statement was made public today by Detective Sergeants Joe Eliza, of the Harris, George Smith and R. S. Hamilton and State Officer Peoples, who participated in a spectacular roundup of the alleged members of the gang in the downtown district.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

That the plan was to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get the $5,000 which the messenger carried.

HAR! HAR! HE CAUGHT SOME BEAUTIES, BUT THEY GOT AWAY!

By Hal Armstrong
Star man vacationing in a river. ROBE-ON-THE-STILLAGUAMISH, July 23.—(By Mail.) Twelve miles of the worst bumps and ruts ever traversed by a Ford, and then—Paradise!

Here, beside the rushing Stillaguamish, 11 miles above the falls, we have pitched our camp.

And what a camping site! What water! What coolness! What trees and flowers! What mountains!

Looking across the canyon, I see towering, a great, gray peak, covered on the north side with perpetual snow.

Beside me, not ten feet away, is a wild flower garden—tall stalks of monkshood, I believe they are, some royal purple, some waxy white.

All about us, on every hand, are bushes laden with the largest, most luscious blackberries and black-caps I have ever seen growing wild.

And beyond and all around are alders, and willows, pines, fir, cedars, and the green-cold hills that have never felt the woodsman's ax. At our feet, rushing, cold, turbulent and clear, is the river Stillaguamish, teeming with voracious trout.

I broke the spell this morning. I caught a half dozen beauties and hooked half a dozen more that I was unable to land, all before breakfast.

But (my wife wouldn't believe it), said to relate, four of my best ones I lost. I forgot to bring a creel. You remember how we used to string 'em on a willow branch when we were kids? Well, I cut me a willow branch and strung my first four on it.

I had waded out to a rock in midstream and put my fish in the water and put my foot on the end of the branch. Then I cast out into a riffle, and when I reached down for my branch again it was gone, fish and all, downstream. The largest one I lost must have weighed 11 ounces.

They were rising for any kind of (Turn to Last Page, Column 2)