Marriage of Miss Gates to Mr. Jenne Solemnized; Miss Sharpless Names Bridal Party; Mrs. Bentley Will Compliment Miss Sharpless at Luncheon.

MISS LOUISE MARGARET GATES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley E. Gates, was wed on Saturday evening to Mr. Frank Harrison Jenne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenne, of Mt. Vernon, Wash. The ceremony was performed in the Episcopal church at 8:30 o'clock, by Rev. R. W. Stead. It was one of the prettiest of summer weddings.

Marking the aisle for the dainty bride and her attendants were crowned standards in rainbow shades. These were tied with bows of white tulle. Maple leaves in autumn tints and palms, with wall pockets of gladioli, banked the choir left, while baskets of choice flowers adorned the pulpit. Miss Gladys Jenne, sister of the groom, sang preceding the ceremony, "O Perfect Love," and the "Lobengrin Bridal Chorus" was played for the processional.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Elden Jenne, was his groomsmen, and the ushers were Mr. Warren Gilbert, Mr. Lawrence Stewart and Mr. Murray McLean, of Mount Vernon, and Dr. Virgil Hancock, of Seattle.

Miss Marguerite Grant, the bridesmaid, wore turquoise blue georgette, trimmed with crystal beads, and a plaited tulle hat to correspond. For flowers, she carried sweet peas and roses in a shower.

The maid of honor, Miss Mildred Walsh, was attired in orchid georgette, trimmed with hemstitched fluted ruffles. Her attendant, Miss John Lewis, was adorned in a clinging white satin suit, carrying the ring concealed in a rose.

The bride, who entered with her father, was lovely in ivory moleskin satin, made short, and simply draped. The bodice had half sleeves and a cowl collar. A girle of orange blossoms added the distinctive touch. Her long tulle veil edged with wide Princess lace formed the train. It was arranged in cap effect, and fastened to her tresses by a trailing cluster of orange blossoms on either side. Orchids, lilies of the valley and Ophelia roses in a wonderful shower were her flowers. Mrs. Gates, the bride's mother, wore a model of Peiking blue tulle crepe, elaborated with beads, and a corsage of Ophelia roses.

A small reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gates immediately following the ceremony. Presiding at the attractive supper table, decorated with a basket of choice flowers, were Mrs. William Hinkly Parsons and Mrs. E. B. Holmes, assisted by Mrs. Sidney Lewis of Clear Lake, Miss Julia Fisher, Miss Marie Leghorn and Miss Rose Howe. Mrs. Robert Triple assisted about the room.

For a traveling costume, Mrs. Jenne wore a one-piece dress of navy blue canton crepe, trimmed with tan crepe de chine and delft blue ribbon, a wrap of taupe velveteen, and a navy blue rolled back hat of plaited taffeta. Poses and orchids composed her corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Jenne left for a fortnight's wedding journey, and after September 1 will be at home in Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Jenne is a graduate of the University of Washington, and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and the Toio club. Mr. Jenne graduated from Washington State College, and served overseas as a captain of infantry.

Miss Sharpless Chooses Bridal Attendants
Miss Darthea Sharpless, daughter of Dr. Cargar Wistar Sharpless and Mrs. Sharpless, has chosen Wednesday, August 18, as the day of her marriage to Mr. William Curtis Hill Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lewis. The service will be read at 8:30 o'clock, in Trinity church, by the Rev. Herbert H. Gowen.

Miss Emily Nettleton of Tacoma will be the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids are to be Miss Rose Lewis, sister of the groom, and Miss Mary Radel of Bridgeport, Conn., a classmate of the bride-elect. Mr. Oakley Maxwell will be the groomsmen for Mr. Lewis, and the ushers will be Mr. Edward Eganon, Mr. Harold Frederick and Mr. Livingston Steadman, Jr. A reception will follow the ceremony at the Sunset club.

Miss Sharpless is a graduate of Smith's college and Mr. Lewis attended the Purdue university in Indiana. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Luncheon for Miss Sharpless
Mrs. Frederick Bentley has extended invitations for a luncheon at her home Monday afternoon, August 8, complimenting Miss Darthea Sharpless, who will become the bride of Mr. William Curtis Hill Lewis on Wednesday evening, August 10, in Trinity Episcopal church. FALL COSTUME

This pretty fall street costume is of brick wool velour trimmed in bands of skunk. The slim straight-lined model with its buttons of the brick velour and the sash effect caught with fur at the sides, has a most original cut of the skirt. There is a decided upward curve at the front and the back.

Miss Bolster Will Become Bride on August 26
Invitations will be issued this week by Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bolster for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Bolster, to Mr. Ralph Lehman, on Friday evening, August 26, in the Church of the Epiphany.

The engagement of Miss Bolster was announced last Saturday afternoon at a tea which her mother gave at their home, 40th ave. and E. Howell st. The news was disclosed by means of small cards upon which the names of the betrothed pair were engraved. These were distributed at the tea table, which was lovely with an aisle of pink roses, down which walked the bride and her attendant.

Presiding here were Mrs. Ellsworth Story, Mrs. Southard and Mrs. C. C. Brown, assisted by Miss Helen MacKinnon, Miss Ruth Lusby, Miss Harriet Seelye and Mrs. Oscar Walter Helwig.

Dancing Party

Symptoms Women Dread
Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish."
—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backache, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness and "the blues" a woman cannot too promptly try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NO BOILING
One pound of good soap, 1/2 pound of borax, 3 quarts of soft water. Shred soap into two quarts of water, melt over a slow fire. Dissolve borax in one quart of boiling water, then stir into the melted soap. The result is a clear mixture, forming a soft jelly when cold. When to be used, dissolve some of the soap jelly in a pail of soft water, pour it into the tub prepared for the clothes. Soak clothing 24 hours. Following the soaking, the clothing will require very little washing.

CUSTARDS
Watch the custard that it does not bake too long and become dry and stringy. If you are not quite sure that your milk is of the best quality, put a heaping teaspoon of cornstarch into the custard mixture and it will not be watery.

LETTUCE
It is the custom of the French, Belgians and Swedes to cook lettuce just as any other green, for instance spinach.

TRY CHEESE
The next time you make apple pie, try rolling a little grated cheese into the crust. It adds much to the flavor.

NEW JUDGE

Miss Mary O'Toole has just been appointed judge of the municipal court in Washington, D. C., by President Harding. She is the first woman to hold that office.

CHERRY SALAD
One-half pound large sweet cherries, two oranges, English walnuts, cooked salad dressing, hearts of lettuce. Stone cherries carefully. Peel oranges and remove fruit from skin section by section. Crack nuts and break meats in small pieces. Put nuts in cherries. Arrange oranges and cherries on hearts of lettuce, leaving one leaf empty for a spoonful of salad dressing.

FOR MEAT
If the meat hardens as it bakes and you do not like the crust, then put a damp cloth over it while it is in the oven. This removes the necessity of much basting.

COMBINATION
Gray and brown, which you used to believe you could not combine, are being combined now in some of the smartest of dresses for fall street wear.

NEW WAY
Tomatoes, cored and baked with a pork sausage in place of the core, are a new dish and a delicious one.

Cynthia Grey:

Woman Bewildered by Strange Problem Asks Your Help—Have You Written?

BY CYNTHIA GREY
Readers of this department are quickly responding to the plea of help sent out by "Bewildered," a young widow of 30 who, upon becoming engaged to the man she loved, discovered he was one-fourth negro. She has two kiddies by her former marriage and some people say they will turn away from her in hate—friends have forbidden her admittance to their homes if she marries this man, altho he is well-to-do, highly respected in the community, educated, kind and a wonderful companion, could give her a nice home and loves her devotedly.

What shall she do? Break the fetters of tradition and convention and answer the call of her heart, or cling like adamant to the customs of her race and remain in her little circle of friends?

If you can say anything that will help her to come to a right decision, send your letter to Miss Grey before next Saturday. Your name and address must be written plainly. A five-dollar prize will be awarded the writer of the best letter.

Following are some of the letters she sacrifice her life for her children when she can provide for them much better, give them a better chance at life, if married to this man? They will soon grow up and marry and then she will spend years of loneliness that might be turned into years of splendid companionship with the man who loves her and whom she loves. M. A.

Recalls Similar Circumstance
Dear Miss Grey: In tonight's Star I read the letter of "Bewildered," and it brings to my mind a case like hers, of a white girl back in Cleveland who married a man who was one-fourth negro. He was well educated, rich and had traveled around the world. He was very fine looking and had wonderful manners. His dark blood showed only lightly in his hair and eyes.

The girl was of a wonderful old and rich Cleveland family. They were married and had one little girl. She was about five years old when I saw her and the poor little thing was as black as ink with thick lips and fuzzy hair. Everybody made slurring remarks about the poor little girl.

No, "Bewildered," if I were you I know I should not marry him even tho my love for him broke my heart. It would not be fair to your own children, and what of your departed husband? I do not think you would show much respect for him.

Sincerely,
L. L. P.

Advices Against Marriage

This noise is made with the wings.

Sorority Girl Answers Prospective Student
Dear Cynthia Grey: I have wanted to put in my small word of advice to the young girl wishing to join a sorority, whose letter appeared in your columns some time last week.

I am a sorority girl and therefore can appreciate the great privileges one derives. Fraternity life should bring forth the best in a girl, but first of all, in "rushing" the sorority looks for "good material." This girl and every girl should always remember that they are never to make the slightest advance, as this is a great common error which hurts so many.

In a very quiet way she might let different sorority girls know of her intentions of entering college and beyond that she can do no more. Owing to housing conditions, it is necessary to keep the membership comparatively small and therefore only a very few are chosen each year. This is the unfortunate side of fraternity life, as all are not by a joint ballot.

But don't go to college with the idea of "making a sorority." A sorority is only a very small part of what you get out of your college life. Before I "pledged" I was in college a quarter and never regret it. Also, don't join the "first" if you haven't fully made up your mind, because it means a big thing to you to be one of a group entirely congenial and where you will fit in. In almost every house are "misfits" and very often they are unhappy, so be careful and make up your mind and stand squarely on your two feet and you will make the group who calls you their soul of you. A SORORITY GIRL.

FROCKS
Taffeta silk and gingham are combined in some of the new summer frocks. One rather striking model employed alternating panels of black taffeta and lavender checked gingham in its skirt.
