Beautiful Military Wedding Joins Miss Newlove and Lieut. Burke; Mrs. Kaufmann Chooses Assistants.

WITH a wealth of ruddy autumnal foliage, gorgeous gladioli, larkspur and Shasta daisies banked under a canopy of gracefully draped flags, the rustic little chapel at Fort Lawton presented a memorable picture for the military ceremonies attending the marriage of Miss Margaret Newlove, daughter of Dr. George Newlove, U. S. A., and Mrs. Newlove, and Lieut. Robert Wallace Burke, U. S. A., son of Dr. William Patrick Burke and Mrs. Burke, of Los Angeles. The service was read at eight o'clock by Chaplain Thorne of Camp Lewis. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Passay sang, most delightfully, "At Dawning."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was exquisite in her bridal attire of ivory satin with long court train. The diaphanous tulle veil was arranged with a bandeau of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley across her brow, and her flowers were a shower of Ophelia roses, gardenia and lilies of the valley. Miss Gwendolyn Newlove, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, was charming in Nile green organdie and carried a sheaf of coral gladioli. Miss Dorothy Van Way, daughter of Col. Charles W. Van Way, U. S. A., and Mrs. Van Way, of Vancouver, and Miss Grace Carson, were two dainty bridesmaids, wearing organdie frocks—Miss Van Way in turquoise blue and Miss Carson in shell pink. They carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli, arched and blue larkspur. Little Eleanor Fleming, niece of Mrs. Peter Davison, was the train bearer and wore a dress of fluffy pink organdie.

Dr. John Campbell, U. S. A., acted as best man for Lieutenant Burke, and the ushers were Capt. Frederick Milner, U. S. A., and Lieut. Dudley Woodson, U. S. A. Mrs. Newlove, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black spangled net over satin and a corsage of American Beauty roses and bachelor buttons. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the quarters of Dr. and Mrs. Newlove.

Mrs. Burke traveled in a Mercedes blue duvetyll tailored trimmed with moleskin, a small gray duvetyll affair, Mrs. Elliott Deane, before leaving for Camp Bessing, Ga.

Mrs. Burke is a graduate of the Queen Anne High school, and Lieut. Burke of the University of California. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

At the tea Mrs. Jacob Kaufmann and Miss Adelheid Kaufmann are giving at their home next Tuesday afternoon, from 4 until 6 o'clock, complimenting Mrs. Elliott Deane Harrington, assisting will be Mrs. Jason D. Butler, Mrs. Frederick Morgan Padelford and Mrs. Walter W. Reed.

Presiding at the urns the first hour were Mrs. O. D. Colvin and Mrs. James Goldsmith. The second hour Mrs. Harry R. Messer and Mrs. Daniel B. Tretethen.

During the afternoon Mrs. Lottie Meeker Keamer and Mrs. Adam Beeler will sing, accompanied by Mrs. H. M. Hildreth.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained yesterday with a delightful tea at the chapter house from 4 until 6 o'clock, honoring the delegates of the Gamma Phi Beta fraternity who have been attending the convention at Lake Crescent. In the receiving line were Miss Lindsey Barbee of Denver, Colorado, who is the Gamma Phi Beta grand president, Mrs. G. V. Lantry and Mrs. A. E. Haggitt.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. John Loo Locke and Mrs. A. M. Carey. The house was decorated in the Gamma Phi Beta colors, yellow and brown, developed in dahlias and carnations, and a large basket of baby chrysanthemums tied with a fluffy tulle bow centered the attractive table.

Society at the Harbor Forts

THE GENTLE ART
Motoring his guests from Fort Worden, thru the sublime Olympics, Colonel John L. Hayden, U. S. A., commander of the Puget Sound coast defenses, was host on Saturday at Lake Crescent, the party including his son, Lieutenant Frederick L. Hayden, U. S. A., and Mrs. Hayden, Lieutenant Edward J. Strickland, U. S. A., and Mrs. Strickland, a charming group, newly married, newly arrived at Fort Worden, and incidentally interested in the gentle art of catching fish.

GENERAL DE LA FAYETTE
At the banquet given on Tuesday in Seattle, in memory of the Marquis de La Fayette, French general and friend of America, Fort Worden was represented by Major Royal Kemp Greene, U. S. A., adjutant of the Puget Sound coast defenses, and Mrs. Greene.

ADAGIO AND ALLEGRO
Fort Worden, noted for its serious and strenuous schedule, paused long enough on Friday evening to enjoy a progressive dinner given in bon voyage to four Fort Worden favorites, Major Kelley Benjamin Lemmon, U. S. A., and Mrs. Lemmon, Major Charles Robert Finley, U. S. A., and Mrs. Finley. The list was restricted to the line at Fort Worden, and the guests were asked to come in sports clothes, assembling at the quarters of Captain Joseph Francis Eitley, U. S. A., and Mrs. Eitley, who served the crab cocktails. The courses followed at tables exquisitely decorated and appointed, each course in a different house, each course managed as an amusing stunt, and each with a different host.

The bouillon was dispensed by Captain Louis James Bowler, U. S. A., and Mrs. Bowler, the entrée was prepared by Captain Francis James Fitzpatrick, U. S. A., and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, the roast was displayed by Major Alvin Charles Miller, medical corps, U. S. A., and Mrs. Miller, the salad was sponsored by Captain Arthur D. Hughes, U. S. A., and Mrs. Hughes, the last course presented by Colonel Henry Macpherson Merriam, U. S. A., commander of Fort Worden, and Mrs. Merriam, and black coffee was de rigueur in the drawing room of Colonel John L. Hayden, U. S. A., commander of the Puget Sound coast defenses.

Later, at the officers' club, to the music of a stringed orchestra, dancing made a gay allegro to the adagio of farewells.

RETURN OF THE ADMIRAL
The commander of the Atlantic squadron in the world war, Admiral H. T. Mayo, U. S. N., retired, returned many old acquaintances during the past week in Port Townsend, where as a young officer he was stationed in charge of the United States hydrographic office.

The admiral and Mrs. Mayo were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Strong, and were entertained by their hosts at luncheon on Wednesday at Admiralty Inn. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Strong motored their famous visitors, for the week-end, to Lake Crescent, where they enjoyed the simplicity of the life and the grandeur of the scenery.

CAMPFIRE DINNER
A campfire dinner was given on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Klocker in compliment to Admiral H. T. Mayo, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Mayo, the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Strong.

Believer in FOLKS—an Optimist—Puts Up Strong Plea for Home-Training

BY CYNTHIA GREY

A defender of youth, a looker on the bright side of life, a believer in the best in humanity, an optimist—is the chief contributor to this column today.

He writes a letter to Cynthia in which he takes up the cudgels of young America with a will and substantiates his remarks with some very sane statements.

He confesses to being a bachelor, but not a "crusty, lonely one."

He declares there are scores of agreeable, wholesome young people of both sexes right in this city, and he says one may meet them inside or outside the church.

A word of encouragement is always in order in this column.

A letter from someone who believes in FOLKS is like a ray of sunshine on a cloudy day.

A boost for the youth of our city is a happy inspiration in the midst of so much criticism and denouncing.

So let's read this contributor's letter gladly.

Let's believe, as he believes, there are scores of young folks in the world who still have the old-fashioned ideals, tho they may follow
