TWO CENTS IN SEATTLE

Home Brew

Greetings, Fans! This is a series day in the history of America!

With almost every member of the Yanks and the Giants writing their impressions of the games, it is difficult for the poor devils to find time to run out to the Polo Grounds in the afternoon.

If the Giants can't use the bat any better than they use the pen, the Heavers could lick 'em.

Seattle police arrest man by name of Dave Trotsky for violation of the traffic laws. Dave must have been trot-skiing too fast.

Little Willie, ruffianell, Skipped his sister down the well. And his mother, dropping water, said, "It's hard to raise a daughter."

Some men kiss their wives; others don't shave.

JOSH WISE SAYS
It takes more than a clove to disguise th' breath uv suspicion.

QUESTIONS HOMER BREW CAN'T ANSWER

Please tell me if it is true that many models make only a bare living?—J. D. J.

Do you think I could be elected if I run for mayor? I am a street car conductor, and have a fine platform.

Some wives' motto: "If at first you don't succeed, cry, cry again."

Seattle citizens, who plan to raise a $750,000 community chest, are praying that it won't be a hope chest.

Lil' Gee Gee, th' Prairie Vamp, sez: Why not go bare kneed? Don't we have knee caps?

Culture is something that enables a corn-fed girl to sit down without looking like she was straining something.

There is no denying that some of this Seattle moonshine would make ideal snakebite medicine—if it could be applied to the snake in time.

OUR SPECIAL SALESMANSHIP COURSE

Suggestion is a wonderful aid in salesmanship. The man who comes in to buy barbed wire to build himself a fence may have a grudge against his neighbor. Try selling him a shotgun.

One-half of Seattle does not know where the other half gets its liquor.

San Francisco man, by the name of Roy Gardner, gets divorce. That's two of 'em at liberty.

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, is writing a book. Trying to get under cover again, Grover?

A Zion City woman has been arrested because she wore a dress that showed her neck. The authorities at Zion must be very observing. The Second ave. boys never notice a woman's neck.

FIXED

The government announces grimly that it will fix the price of bacon. It has already been fixed by expert fixers. What we want is to have it unfixed.

Man testified in the divorce court here that he hit his wife with a chair and she turned the tables on him.

Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, is to start a school of psychology in Chicago. She'll have lots of pupils if she can teach 'em the psychological trick by which her dad made a billion dollars.

A HOT CONVERSATION

"Pretty warm for October," commented the man from Puget Sound, proudly.

"This wouldn't be considered warm in California," said the Native Son from Los Angeles.

"I reckon not," returned the gentleman from Puget Sound, "and it wouldn't be considered very warm in hell, either."

INTRODUCING "MAIN STREET"

A NOVEL that has set the whole nation talking begins in The Star October 12.

Hundreds of thousands of copies of the story are being sold.

It has aroused debate thruout the United States because Sinclair Lewis, author of the story, says that "Main Street" of Gopher Prairie is a continuation of Main Street everywhere.

It is a narrative of a small town and of the effects of a woman to reform it.

The aspirations of the inhabitants; their jealousies; their conceits and their deceptions; their loves; their hates; their biggness; their smallness—all are most entertainingly chronicled in—

"MAIN STREET"

The manner in which Helen Marie Wilson, 8 months old, is alleged to have been beaten to death by her foster-mother, Mrs. Ivey Osborne, was graphically re-enacted at Thursday morning's session of the coroner's inquest, which is being held over the baby's body.

Norman F. Storms, 4637 Seventh ave., N. E., the star witness for the state, stood before the jury and showed them exactly how he had seen the child mistreated on the night of Tuesday, September 27, when he roved past the Osbornes' boathouse, on Lake Union.

The Family Pocket Book

Mr. Man, do you and your wife run your home on a business basis, or do you just "fight it out" over money matters? Have you any idea what proportion of your earnings ought to go for rent, food, clothing, amusements, savings? Or do you just guess about it?

40,000 FANS SEE YANKEES WALLOP GIANTS, 3 TO 0

American League Champions Keep Up Stride and Take Second Game; Hoyt Is Brilliant Star of Day

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Pitched into a state of helplessness, the New York Giants were blanked for the second time and pushed farther away from the baseball crown when they went down before the Yanks here this afternoon, 3 to 0.

Close to 40,000 fans saw the victor and the victim go thru a brilliant game in which the battling Yanks repeated the great game that gave them the first battle of the world series yesterday.

Wade Hoyt, the boy veteran from Brooklyn, took every ounce of drive out of the Giant budgeons. He held the hard-hitting National league champions to two hits, one a little drive that dropped between the great Babe Ruth and Peck.

The Giants again played a heartless game and they showed symptoms of being whipped from the first inning. Their heads were down, and all the dash and spirit that marked their drive for the pennant in the National league race seemed to have evaporated.

Art Nehf, the star southpaw of the clubhouse, helped to pull the props out from under his own game and bring down upon the Giants the second bucket of whitewash in two days. In the fourth inning Ward singled and reached second when Nehf threw McNally a grounder wild to second trying for a force.

The Giant hurler seemed rattled by his slip and walked Schang. Hoyt pushed the first run over with an infield out.

Frank Frisch, the Giant hero of the game, was the first player to appear at the clubhouse. He had been the only southpaw member of the Yankee pitching staff, was the first one of the Huggins clan to arrive.

While the band blared "The Yankees Are Coming," the American league champions came thru the big right field gate at 12:20.

The Yanks then took the field for batting practice. Rip Collins, Texas cowboy, started serving them up to the plate. Elmer Miller hit the first ball he pitched into the left field bleachers and the crowd showed the first symptoms of life with a lusty cheer and a scramble for the ball.

Nick Altrock, the champion clown of baseball from Washington, dashed into the Yank locker room with a demand for a large size uniform and an announcement that he was going to work this afternoon.

Altrock answered a call from the Yankee club owners, who wanted him to come and put some jazz into the game.

In blue road uniform the Giants appeared at 1 o'clock. Squatty Jess Burkett, one of McGraw's lieutenants, strided out in front of the squad, carrying a bag of balls. The Giants were given a good demonstration by the crowd, which was rapidly increasing.

McGraw's men looked over the Yanks, who were at batting practice, and stroled into their dugout on the third base side.

ASKS FIGURES ON 5C FARES

Fitzgerald Wants Statistics on Probable Effect

Councilman C. B. Fitzgerald, chairman of the council finance committee, requested the department of public utilities Thursday to submit estimates on the effect of the proposed 5-cent street car fare ordinance.

Fitzgerald asked: "Taking into consideration the increased traffic, increased revenue resulting from the elimination of the jitney, the prospective reductions in payroll and material accounts and other economies which your department will be able to effect, do your traffic experts anticipate that the revenues of the railway under the 5-cent fare ordinance will be able to pay all the expenses of the street car system?"

"If a deficit will result which must be taken care of by taxation, what will be the amount?"
