

Second Charge to See Track Meet Stirs Students

An additional charge of 75 cents for the track meet Saturday with the student pass of the Associated Students of the University of Washington is arousing the indignation of the students and resulting in widespread protest on the campus. This is the result of a number of additional charges which have been imposed on students during the year for attendance at activities.

The reason given by the managers and the board of control for the extra charge is that conference rulings require an admission to be charged students for the conference track meet. The charge to the general public for the meet is $1.

"The student pass doesn't amount to anything any more," is the way one student expressed his dissatisfaction. "Everything the school puts on is charged for. We pay for more than we get into free."

The card of the A. S. U. W. is issued to all students who register in the university and a charge of $10 made for the card. On the back of the card is the statement: "This membership ticket in the Associated Students entitles the holder to:

1. A subscription to the University of Washington Daily.
2. Admission to the following intercollegiate contests managed by the A. S. U. W.: Football, basketball games, wrestling, track meets, regattas, debates, oratorical contests and such other events as may be designated by the board of control.

As a charge of 50 cents was made for the relay carnival, only one track meet, the dual meet with W. S. C., was free to holders of the card this season.

Discrimination against the man or woman who has not a large amount of money to spend in the university is the principal reason for protest against the added fees. At present the board of control is considering raising the student fee or cutting down the list of activities.

Football was the first sport in which an added charge was made this year. At the Penn State game students were charged $1 admission. As a result only 1,300 students attended. It is claimed by those who oppose the extra fees that the support of the entire student body is of more value than the amount of money raised by the taxes.

In debate this year an extra charge was made for the East-West debate with Penn State. At the time of the crew races the A. S. U. W. controlled all the boats and bleachers and charged for their use.

Three Held After Hotel Raid Here

Three persons were held in the city jail Thursday and a fourth was released on $200 bail as the result of a police raid on the Spring hotel, 1103 1/2 Third ave., early Thursday.

A. Dottman, 35, the hotel clerk, was charged with running a disorderly house. He was released after posting bail. Geo. W. Whitney, 22, salarier, Pearl Miller, 26, cashier, and Roger Ke, 19, a Hawaiian sailor, were held. They were arrested by Sergt. C. F. Watson and Patrolman C. E. Tedrick.

Prepare Condemnation Suits in Earwig Drive

Notice was served on 200 Seattle property owners Thursday that unless they got rid of their earwigs within 24 hours, condemnation proceedings would be instituted by the state at once against their lots.

This action followed a tour of inspection by 30 inspectors, who are visiting all of the earwig-infested area, owners of property in which were warned to spread earwig bait by May 20.

According to F. S. Coyne, special inspector for the horticultural division of the state department of agriculture, hundreds of additional condemnation suits may be instituted here within the next week, unless there is immediate and concerted action by property owners to drive out the earwigs.

"It's the only fair thing to do," Coyne declared. "Hundreds of property owners have complied with the law and spread earwig bait as directed. Their efforts and their money will have been spent in vain unless their neighbors do the same. Because nobody can keep his land free of the pest if those around him permit the insects to have a free rein.

"Unless the owners of property where earwigs were found Wednesday spread bait by Friday, we will put a gang of men on their lots to do it for them—and the cost of the operation, plus a number of legal fees, will constitute a lien against the property, which will be collected by condemnation proceedings.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT TO SUE CITY STARTS ON PAGE ONE

"This, of course, will be much more expensive than it would be for the owners to spread the bait themselves, so the best thing is for them to get busy at once."

The city hall was like a hornet's nest Thursday, as the employees of the city realized that they would have to wait from 30 to 50 days before drawing their pay.

All city officials are affected, including the mayor himself, the city councilmen, the heads of the departments, policemen, firemen, street car trimmen and employees of the library, park and health departments.

Robert A. Evans, former assistant corporation counsel, has been retained by the employees to represent them in their suit against the city. It is believed that the case will be in court Thursday afternoon or Friday.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT LEGATE PROBE STARTS ON PAGE ONE

Pielow told of Legate having headaches and declared that Legate had "bumped himself off," the witness asserted. Walsh said Legate's headaches were very common and nothing to cause him to commit suicide.

Pielow then remarked that Legate was worried, because it had been rumored that he had told the chief he knew disorderly women were operating in May Curtis' place. Legate and Pielow had previously been suspended for two weeks because of failure to keep their districts clean of undesirable women.

Walsh had talked with Legate, who denied having "talked too much" to the chief.

Pielow then spoke of Legate having told him of being sick. Walsh knew nothing of this and told him frankly that he didn't believe Legate had shot himself. Walsh said that Legate did not seem to be worried in any way and was in excellent spirits.

On March 2 or 3, Walsh testified, Legate spoke to him of a "booze knockover," asking him to aid in getting 10 cases of whisky from a bootlegger.

Walsh told him, "The best you get out of it is trouble. So let it alone."

DECLARED IT WAS SUICIDE

The officers from headquarters finally arrived at the garage and Capt. Hedges immediately declared, according to Walsh, that Legate was a "plain suicide."

Nobody was allowed to touch the body until the coroner arrived. One policeman tried to get Legate's gun, but Walsh told them to leave everything as it was.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT TO SUE CITY STARTS ON PAGE ONE

across the street and searched every other place they could think of but failed to find the missing officer.

TWO THOUGHT LEGATE WENT TO SLEEP

Pielow then said, according to Walsh, "Maybe Legate went to sleep in his car," to which Walsh replied, Legate never went in the garage except at 2:30 to get his automobile and that he would not sleep in the car in such cold weather.

Pielow insisted on searching the place, however, Walsh testified, and broke a panel of the garage window to gain entrance.

Pielow walked ahead of Walsh to where Legate's car was standing on the repair pit. Walsh saw Legate's feet sticking out of another auto, owned by Frank Houghton. He reached in and shook him. He drew out his hand covered with blood. Legate was huddled in the car with a "twisted" look on his face and a bullet hole thru his head.

Neither officer saw the second bullet hole, Walsh testified, that ranged downward thru his face.

When questioned by Deputy Prosecutor T. H. Patterson, Walsh denied finding any cigar rubbers near but said someone had.

The two officers called Captain Hedges and then stayed at the garage until his arrival.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT TO SUE CITY STARTS ON PAGE ONE

Capt. Hedges then took the stand and said he was called at 2:55 a. m. by Pielow, who said they were unable to find Legate. Pielow told Hedges, according to the testimony, that Legate had rung in at 2 a. m., but that he had been unable to find him since.

Fifteen minutes later Pielow again called Hedges saying he had found Legate's cap on the front that the missing patrolman had committed suicide. Hedges said he made a thoro examination and found Legate's cap on the front seat of the car with blood on it. The rear seat had been wiped out on the right hand side. The left side was dusty.

Hedges then took Pielow and went to Mrs. Legate to tell her of the tragedy.

The jury questioned both officers to some extent. The jurors were taken to Evergreen cemetery at 9 a. m. and viewed Legate's body, which had been exhumed. They were sworn at the graveside by Chief Deputy Coroner Frank Koepfli.

Twenty-four witnesses have been scheduled to testify, including four colored persons.

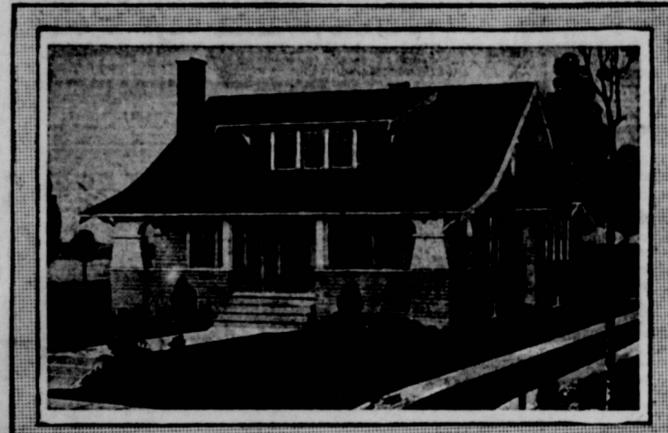

Will Hold Banquet Aboard Steamship

One hundred and forty members of the foreign trade department of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual banquet aboard the Admiral liner Ruth Alexander the evening of June 1. The vessel will be berthed at pier B. E. G. Anderson, department chairman, will preside, and foreign consuls at Seattle and a delegation from the board of trade of Vancouver, B. C., will be present.

BUTLER DRUG CO.'S SPECIALS

- FOR Friday and Saturday
- Pint bottle Welch Grape Juice 33¢
 - 1 doz. Jergens' Bath Tablets 73¢
 - 25c Mavis Talcum Powder 19¢
 - 30c Riveris Talcum Powder 22¢
 - 60c Cutex Sets 37¢
 - 1 qt. Pluto Water 33¢
 - $1.00 Zepyrrol 63¢
 - $1.10 Tanlac 79¢
 - 1 pint Water Glass 17¢
 - $1.25 Enos Fruit Salts 73¢
 - 30c Kolnos Tooth Paste 18¢
 - 25c Colorite 17¢
 - $2.25 Pinaud's Lilas de France $1.95
- BUTLER DRUG CO.
J. P. CHASE
Chemist
SECOND AND JAMES
Don't Forget World War Veterans' Convention at Seattle, Aug. 15th to 20th.

WHY WASTE MONEY On Made to Order Millwork?

The millwork for this home costs $290.65

Why—when there is such a splendid stock line manufactured by us for your benefit on which you can save 15% to 25%

This millwork is of such design that it can be used in practically any style house. The four different types of homes pictured on this page show how our millwork harmonizes. Top lights can be changed some, if desired for no additional cost.

The millwork for this home costs $229.40

WE have been manufacturing millwork for over forty years and our experience has taught us that the home builder needed millwork that could be ordered one day and delivered the next. So we are specializing in the manufacture of only very high-grade stock millwork for homes costing from $1,000 to $10,000.

OUR stock millwork is manufactured in very large quantities from the very best quality of old growth yellow fir. It is perfectly machined and is as strong and durable as millwork can be made. All flat surfaces are sanded.

What Millwork Means

- Windows
- Window Frames and Finish
- Doors, Inside and Outside
- Door Frames and Finish
- Cupboard Doors
- Flour Bins
- Drawers
- Breakfast Nooks
- Medicine Cabinets
- Ironing Board
- Cabinets
- Drain Boards

Get Our New Millwork Catalog

On January 2 we issued a new millwork catalog. If you haven't it, get it. This new catalog includes complete lines of different styles for home construction and shows correct net prices for everything.

Elliott 0711

OFFICE AND PLANT
3300 Whatcom Ave.

Take Alki, Faunieroy, West Seattle, Lake Burien or Gatewood car—get off at Horton Street

The millwork for this home costs $471.30

The millwork for this home costs $341.28