TWO CENTS IN SEATTLE

Bar Turk-Greek War From Europe

WHERE A NEW WAR LOOMS IN ANCIENT HISTORY LAND

TURKISH Nationalist troops under the leadership of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, who defeated the British at Gallipoli in the world war, have advanced from their base at Angora, Asia Minor (1) and have taken the important seaport and commercial center at Smyrna (2) which fire of uncertain origin destroyed as it was captured. The Turks have driven the Greeks from the whole coast of Asia Minor; the latter are fleeing to Piraeus. From his positions in Smyrna and Brusa, Kemal is advancing nearer Constantinople (3), now under inter-allied control. British warships in the sea of Marmara and before Smyrna are preparing to hold the Turkish leader in check. Britain is rushing more troops to occupy the neutral zone about Constantinople, indicated by the dotted line. Kemal has demanded Constantinople and Adrianople, seen west of Constantinople. This, together with the suspicion that Bulgaria may support Turkey, has caused Yugoslavia to mass troops on its borders (5). Meanwhile Soviet Russia is said to be concentrating troops in the Caucasus (6) to come to the aid of Kemal. The bulk of Kemal's troops are quartered on the mainland of Asia Minor (4).

HURLED TO HER DEATH!

Victim of Tragedy Upon Railroad Tracks Near Richmond Beach Is Thrown 20 Feet

Struck by a Seattle-bound Great Northern train two miles south of Richmond Beach Saturday, Mrs. S. F. Herrick, 56, was instantly killed. Mrs. Herrick, wife of a track walker employed by the Great Northern Railway Co., was crossing the track at that point, after a freight train passed and she did not see the passenger train approaching on another track. Caught directly in the path of the speeding locomotive, she was struck and hurled a score of feet by the impact. Sheriff Matt Starwich and Coroner W. H. Corson sent deputies to the scene to investigate the tragedy. The train, No. 3, was bound from Spokane to Seattle.

Home Brew

Howdy, folks! The papers say today is the Jewish New Year, and here we've been thinking all the time it was September 23!

With four or five wives at home, a Turkish soldier doesn't worry about getting killed.

Babe Ruth is the father of a baby girl. Gosh, and he doesn't need the income tax exemption!

Many a boy is making his way from the University of Washington using "fiction"—but the fiction is not to his father, not to a publisher.

NORTHWEST PRODUCTS Frank Hull has discovered a use for his old straw hat. He has had it chopped up and rolled into campaign cigars.

C. B. Fitzgerald is feeding his 10th family at breakfast food.

When Creek fiend says he wants to be hanged in Olympia.

With many a politician has been hanged by his own petard down town.

Olympia is a nice town, but it will be hanged if it will go there.

Wanting to be hanged in Olympia, the ever request—almost as queer as anything people to send you down to the state legislature.

A SUGGESTION They might hang Starin in the state capitol building. One more dead one there won't be noticed.

A girl see admiral! Is Phyllis staidish; she wracks such wonderful second-hand hair.

Well, if the telephone company raises the rates we can use post-roads—they're quicker, anyway.

SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL IS NOW DEBATED

Preparations for Battle Against Moslem Forces Are Continuing

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A rumor that a British battleship had met disaster in the Dardanelles was officially denied here today.

BY LLOYD ALLEN LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Turks, fresh from the massacre of Armenians, will not be permitted to carry their war with the Greeks into Europe, Premier Lloyd George declared today in a statement to the press.

"The war in Asia Minor must not spread to Europe," he said. "Therefore, the British have strengthened their positions at the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, to prevent spread of the fire which devastated Asia Minor and which would ignite the tinder box of the Balkans."

With the issue before them peace or war, British cabinet ministers met with Lloyd George at historic No. 19 Downing street, to decide whether the Turks shall be permitted to re-enter Europe.

The ministers took up an important communication from Foreign Minister Curzon, British representative at the allied conference in Paris, in which the tentative terms agreed to by Curzon and Premier Poincare for a Near East settlement were outlined. These terms include restoration of Turkish supremacy in eastern Thrace and Constantinople, the internationalization of the Dardanelles, Turkish sovereignty to be recognized there also.

While the cabinet debated this issue, Britain continued to rush troops to the Dardanelles and Constantinople fronts where the Turks are intensifying the Twelfth medium battery of the Royal garrison of artillery will be embarked at Gibraltar for Constantinople. The transport Somali left Malta for the Near East packed with troops. The Cunard liner Tyria and the Ellerman liner Maroniani have been requisitioned by the British government for use as transports.

It is understood here that, while the number of Kemalists on the island is increasing.

CHEST DRIVE IS STARTED TODAY

5,000 Workers in Field to Raise $798,843

Seattle's big community drive opened Saturday morning with more than 5,000 active workers in the field.

A quota of $798,843 will be raised in the second annual campaign of the Community Fund.

Seattle's big heart responded quickly to the plea for its help, and the workers reported that contributions were pouring in from all sources.

The Community Chest will help 41 charitable agencies during the coming year.

Solicitors are combing the business and residential districts of the city. Thirty-seven zones have been apportioned off, and each district placed under the leadership of a campaign manager.

The drive is scheduled to close October 3, giving the workers 19 days in which to raise the fund. A huge mass meeting will be held Monday noon in Keller's rink, Third ave. and University st., where the totals of the various districts will be given out.

Contributors will be given a button and a window card showing they are subscribers to the Community Fund.

"We want everyone in Seattle to wear the little button bearing the words 'Another Good Neighbor,'" Campaign Chairman Otto F. Kegeles announced. "The button and window card will show that he wishes to do his share in helping Seattle's poor and unfortunate."

"I Spy" Old Game Played With New Rules

EVER play "I Spy" when you were just a kid? The Star is going to revive the game. The rules have been somewhat changed. Here's the plan:

Just observe the curious, unusual and often ludicrous incidents of everyday life. Sharpen your eyesight and when you've seen something "different," write about it briefly, telling where it took place, and mail it to the "I Spy Editor."

We want true stories of Seattle and the Pacific Northwest.

For the three best submitted in the week cash prizes of a dollar each will be paid.

Start sending in your contributions at once.

WOMAN ROUTS MAN IN HOME

Citizens Seek Terrorist Near Olympia

OLYMPIA, Sept. 23.—Scores of citizens led by deputy sheriffs today took up the search for the man who has been terrorizing women in the vicinity of Olympia for the past two weeks.

Belief that the man who yesterday afternoon tried to force his way into the home of Mrs. Peter Jorgenson, eight miles north of Olympia, is one of the two escaped inmates from the Western Washington state hospital for the insane, at Steilacoom, was expressed.

Mrs. Jorgenson fought off her assailant when he entered the kitchen at her home, yesterday afternoon, beating him with her fist and hurling a kettle of water at his head. The man came to the door about 12:15, according to Mrs. Jorgenson. He ordered her to go to the bedroom, where he seized her as she struck him from her back before Mrs. Jorgenson grabbed the hot water kettle and hurled it at him. The kettle went over his head. He ran from the house across a field and into the woods.

The alarm was carried to Olympia a few minutes afterwards by a mail carrier. Description of the assailant, Mrs. Jorgenson tallies exactly with the one of the man who Wednesday afternoon attacked Mrs. M. O. Weidner at her home in Olympia and poured iodine down her throat.

Griffiths Will Let Grand Jury Probe Quarrel

Many False Affidavits of Prejudice Being Filed, He Says

Investigation by a county grand jury into the flood of affidavits of prejudice filed against him during the last few days by Prosecuting Attorney Malcolm Douglas was ordered, Presiding Superior Judge Austin E. Griffiths announced in open court Saturday.

Judge Griffiths' statement came after Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John D. Carmody had filed an affidavit of prejudice and a motion for transfer of action in the habeas corpus proceeding brought by Robert Walker.

Carmody's motion was denied and Judge Griffiths then spoke to the members of the bar who were present in the court room.

"I feel that I should call attention," the judge said, "to the increasing number of affidavits of prejudice that are being filed against judges of the superior court."

"The filing of these affidavits, most of which are false and are laid without regard to the proof, is rapidly spreading throughout the state."

"This practice is becoming so notorious that I have determined to lay the matter before the next county grand jury."

In private conversation, after court had adjourned, Judge Griffiths was asked if he intended to call a special grand jury and when it would convene.

"I do not wish to commit myself on that question at this time," he said, "but I will say this, the matter shall be presented to the next grand jury, whenever it is called."

DAUGHERTY IS RAPPED AGAIN

New York World Upholds Memphis Editor

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 23.—Trial of G. V. Sanders, editor of the Memphis Press, on a charge of contempt of court, was postponed today by Federal Judge J. W. Ross until October 16.

Plea for a continuance was made by Sanders' attorneys, who said they would require more time to prepare a proper defense.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The New York World today leads its front page with the story of the arrest on a contempt of court charge of G. V. Sanders, editor of the Memphis Press, formerly editor of the Tacoma Times, then editorially picks up the gauntlet and sails in on his behalf.

"G. V. Sanders, editor of the Memphis Press," says the World in its first page introduction to the story "must answer a contempt charge in the United States district court at Memphis because he declared the anti-strike injunction issued by Judge Wilkerson in Chicago and Judge J. W. Ross in Memphis violated the constitution."

The article for which Judge Ross believes Mr. Sanders in contempt of court was entitled "The King Forbids." It was written after Judge Ross found Jacob Cohen, editor of the Labor Review, guilty of contempt, sentenced him to six months in jail and fined him $1,000.

Editorially the World then says, under the caption, "Daughertyism in Full Flower":

"No better example of applied Daughertyism has come to light than the case against G. V. Sanders, editor of the Memphis Press, who is held under $1,000 bail to be tried on contempt by Federal Judge J. W. Ross, following the publication of an article which criticized the judge for imposing a heavy fine and jail sentence on another editor who had expressed an opinion concerning the railroad strike."

"This opinion, set forth by Editor Jacob Cohen, of the Labor Review, was that strikebreakers were 'dirty scabs' and 'industrial scavengers.'"

"Judge Ross found it is violation of his version of the Chicago injunction, and sent Cohen to jail for six months, fining him $1,000. Thereupon Mr. Sanders printed an editorial, entitled 'The King Forbids.'"

RAIL SHOPMEN ARE UNDER BAN

Temporary Injunction Rules in Strike Fight

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The Daugherty injunction was in force today.

After a bitter battle of more than one month, the federal court issued a temporary injunction.

Attorneys for the unions declared they would appeal the case.

Granting of the injunction upholds the restraining order which has been in effect more than one month.

Railroad shopmen, under the injunction, are practically forbidden from carrying out the strike which has been in effect since July 15. The government must now call witnesses to substantiate the charges of interfering with interstate commerce and the transportation of the mails to make the injunction permanent.

Under the injunction, the shopmen are enjoined from participating in action which would further the cause of the strike.

Judge Wilkerson said:

"The defendants will not be permitted, upon the record here, to deny responsibility for these unlawful acts; they will not be permitted to continue to act which even though they may be peaceable and lawful in themselves, it has been demonstrated are only part of a program of unlawful conduct and are done for the accomplishment of an unlawful purpose."

"It hardly need be said that this conclusion is upon the record as it now stands and leaves the defendants free to present their contention again if and when a different case is made of the pleading and proof."

Judge Wilkerson said that the injunction might have been issued under the Sherman anti-trust law, but that it was issued under the Clayton act forbidding interference with constitutional rights of the public.

Another hearing will be necessary to make the injunction permanent. The injunction as granted was practically the same as the original restraining order.

Only two corrections were made. One allows the unions to use their funds for sick benefits.

TWO TRAINMEN DIE IN WRECK

VENTURA, Cal., Sept. 23.—Two trainmen are dead, two are in an Okanogan hospital and about a dozen passengers are nursing scratches and bruises today, the result of a collision last night between two Southern Pacific passenger trains near Oxnard.

The dead: Engineer R. H. Bradley, Los Angeles, killed instantly. Fireman Patrick Feeley, died in a hospital early today.

The injured: Fireman James Phillips, broken collar bone and three fractured ribs. Expected to recover. Engineer Barto, condition not serious, expected to leave hospital today.

CONROW SEEN OVER IN IDAHO

TACOMA, Sept. 23.—Spencer Conrow, former Tacoma banker who is wanted here on a charge of embezzlement, has made good his escape from Washington and is making his way eastward.

This is the theory on which the department of justice operatives are working in their effort to apprehend the Tacoma bank defaulter.

According to advices received in Tacoma, Conrow was seen at a point in Idaho by a man whose name has not been divulged. The man, who formerly knew Conrow in Tacoma, talked with the fugitive about conditions in this city, not knowing at the time that he was a fugitive from justice.

Later the man discovered that Conrow was wanted by federal authorities and notified the Tacoma office.

Conrow apparently was well supplied with money.

ELECTRICITY KILLS WORKER

PORLAND, Sept. 23.—A current of 11,900 volts which shot through the body of Roy R. Renick, 30, a foreman for the P. R. L. & P. Co., at the Willamette moorage, late Friday, resulted in his death an hour later.

Renick was at work with his crew, stringing a telephone line beneath a power line which leads to Sellwood station, when the accident occurred. He was standing on the ground, holding one end of the telephone wire, when it accidentally swung against the power line, the entire current passing thru his body.

KENDRICK IN COURT AGAIN

OAKLAND, Sept. 23.—Rodney Kendrick, artist, who figured as the "installment man husband" in the Kendrick-Walkfield "triangle" which stirred San Francisco society recently, found himself in more trouble today.

He was cited to appear before Superior Judge Kinsell here and show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court for alleged failure to pay his wife $75 monthly alimony.

The alimony was ordered paid temporarily, pending outcome of the suit which Mrs. Kendrick filed for divorce.

Two Escape During Week From Asylum

TACOMA, Sept. 23.—Two men have escaped from the Western Washington State hospital at Steilacoom this week. Carl Johnson, 46, a native of Sweden, who was committed from Ellensburg, late October, ran away on Sunday, and Pico Lito, an Italian sent to the asylum from Yakima, escaped Thursday.

WANTS DOUGLAS TO EXPLAIN SELF

Inviting Prosecutor Malcolm Douglas to a debate in which he is to defend the recently indicted county commissioners and bank officials whose cases he "stepped out from under" in court, while she will defend the grand jury which brought in the indictments, Lady Willis Forbus, candidate for prosecuting attorney on the democratic ticket, sent Douglas the following letter Saturday:

Malcolm Douglas, Prosecuting Attorney, Seattle, Wash.

Dear Sir: In order that the citizens of Seattle and vicinity may have the opportunity to hear the candidates for prosecuting attorney so they may judge as to our respective qualifications, I challenge you personally to meet me in public debate on the following question:

"Resolved, that it was NOT to the best interests of the public for the prosecuting attorney to ask for the dismissal of grand jury indictments sustained when gasoline stove exploded."

Tacoma Joins City in Fight on Rates

Tacoma will throw its influence with that of Seattle in the fight to prevent an increase of 21 per cent in telephone rates asked by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., according to a letter from J. Chas. Dennis, Tacoma city attorney, in response to a written request for cooperation in the contest from the Seattle corporation counsel's office.

Wenatchee is the only additional municipality heard from Saturday morning. As Wenatchee has a local line, it is not affected by the proposed raise in rates.

COLVILLE.—Mrs. Grace Wenli, 26, wife of L. A. Wenli and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Stevens of Bellingham, dies as result of burns sustained when gasoline stove exploded.

BABE RUTH IS PROUD FATHER OF BABY GIRL

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—"Sure, a baby's a father, and a mighty proud one. Her name's Dorothy, and she's 16 months old. She's the finest baby you ever saw," Mrs. Ruth, the attractive little wife of the great swat king, said this morning.

She expressed some surprise that the news was just leaking out. "I thought all the newspaper boys knew about it. We certainly did scoop you all, didn't we?" she said with great amusement.

The baby was such a wee little thing when she came into the world that it had to be placed in an incubator and handled like a tiny little plant until it developed sufficiently.

"Babe, you know, has had a lot of worry that you boys didn't know anything about, and the concern over little Dorothy was far from the lightest of them," Mrs. Ruth said.

$50,000 in Hops Goes Up in Smoke

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 23.—Two-thirds of the largest hop crop in this section of the Willamette valley is in ashes today as the result of a fire starting at 10:30 last night, which completely destroyed the J. H. Seavey hop storage warehouse near Springfield at a total loss of nearly $50,000. More than 400 bushels of hops, weighing 200 pounds each, were consumed.

DRIVER GETS PRISON TERM

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 23.—Philip C. Valentine, whose father was the late J. C. Valentine, millionaire head of the Wells-Fargo Express, was under sentence of one to five years in the state penitentiary today as a result of pleading guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. His plea for probation was denied.

Valentine's car is alleged to have struck one in which George Boyer and Miss Miriam Donald, school teacher, were riding. Miss Donald suffered a broken leg.

Ballon Resumes Endurance Flight

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 23.—The dirigible C-2, stalled here overnight repairing damaged pontoons, resumed its transcontinental journey at sunrise today.

The dirigible is expected to reach Arcadia, Cal., this evening.
