An old timer says: "Speaking about dry spells and crop failures, I well remember the dry years of 1893-4 when scarcely any rain fell from June 1 until August in both years. The rivers and wells were all affected and crops were a total failure in many localities; but we all lived through it; though in hard war times and progressed, and had less of the luxuries of life than we have now. It might be far worse today."

A frog, a duck, a lamb and a polecat started for the circus. When they arrived, all were able to pay the admission fee except the poor polecat, who was thus compelled to crawl under the canvas. This is how it was: The frog had a greenback, the duck had a bill, and the lamb had four quarters, but the poor polecat had only a scent—and that was bad.—Ex.

The emergency bags sent by a church society to Kansas soldiers in the Philippines contained among the necessities a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve the well known cure for piles, injuries and skin diseases. The ladies took care to obtain the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve knowing that all the counterfeits are worthless. Wamberg & Jacobson.

A man southwest of town who was too stingy to subscribe for his best local paper, sent his young boy to a neighbor to borrow one. As the boy was coming home he fell and broke his leg. The father heard his cries and ran to get him, but slipped and fell on the ice dislocating his knee and tearing the bosom out of his $10 pantaloons. His wife ran to his assistance, leaving a two-year-old babe on the floor. The baby crawled out the door and fell down the well, and while the mother was fishing the child out, the house caught fire and was totally destroyed. Moral: Never borrow a newspaper, but chase yourself in here and order The Pioneer—and don't forget to drop in and square that back subscription.

Poisonous toadstools resembling mush rooms have caused frequent deaths this year. Be sure to use only the genuine. Observe the same care when you ask for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. There are poisonous counterfeits. DeWitt's is the only original Witch Hazel Salve. It is a safe and certain cure for piles and skin diseases. Wamberg & Jacobson.

TO USE MAXIM GUNS. Recommendation of Gen. Miles Concerning Weapon for Philippine Campaign Meets Approval.

Gen. Buffington, the army chief of ordnance, has had his way in the matter of guns for the Philippines. His recommendation for the equipment of a mountain artillery force under Gen. Otis has been rejected, and orders which were issued at his instance to carry out this plan have been revoked. He was anxious that in the equipment of the new arm which is likely to play an important part in the coming operations against the insurgents there should be used hotchkiss weapons, which were obtainable on the Pacific coast, and he had assigned to the duty of securing and transporting the guns Capt. G. W. Van Deusen, of the Seventh artillery.

Gen. Miles favored guns of the maxim type, 12 in number, to be formed into two batteries and firing explosive shells loaded with shrapnel. The deadly purpose of these guns is made more apparent in such a campaign as is necessary in the Philippines by the fact that the sparks which were emitted would set fire to the huts of natives. The guns were only obtainable abroad, and Gen. Miles, as president of the board of ordnance and fortification, declared they served the purpose better than anything at home. He saw Secretary Root in this connection and made a full report on the subject, and as a result an order has now been placed with the Maxim company of London.

Capt. Van Deusen will go abroad at once and inspect the weapons, ship them to Manila, and proceed to that place. He will be placed in charge of the mountain gun force when it is organized. Three or four officers will be selected to assist him, and the detail of enlisted men will be made up of 50 soldiers selected from the artillery arm.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS. Russia is Pursuing a Policy of Equipping Her New Factories with Latest Modern Machinery.

While Russia began the development of its industrial resources much later than other nations it is pursuing the policy of equipping its new factories with the latest modern machinery, and adopting the most perfect methods of manufacture, as shown in the many new industrial plants in course of construction, which are almost without exception among the finest to be found in Europe. These are being assisted by the enterprise of Americans, who are beginning to take advantage of the opportunities offered there.

Russia is the first country in Europe to use the continuous air brake for its freight and military trains. This order involves the equipment of 300,000 cars, as well as a large number of locomotives, 60,000 of which are to be fitted with Westinghouse air brakes and 240,000 with air pipes and couplings inside cars under control of the air brakes, an improvement over the American system of making up trains of freight cars with and without air brakes.

The Abyssinian Army. Capt. Harrington, a British officer who recently visited Menek of Abyssinia, was able to count 85,000 men in his army, and thinks that the 150,000 assigned to the Abyssinian army in reports is an exaggeration. The men he saw, however, were all armed with modern rifles, and they had maxim guns and mitrailleuses as well. They have also shown that they can stand up against civilized troops.

Dragon's Tooth at University. A new secret order has been organized at the University of Chicago. A dragon's tooth is the badge and the wearers will say nothing of their plans.

American Workingwomen. The United States has about 4,000,000 workingwomen.

A Standard of Value. Our monetary standard is nothing but a measure of value. Upon its stability depend growth and prosperity. It must be recognized as the very best—abroad as well as at home—if our active commercial intercourse with the leading nations of the world is to continue and develop.

FARMER INSANE OVER GOLF.

Iowa Truck Raiser Watches the Game Until He Loses His Reason.

The first authentic case of golf mania, as distinct from golf enthusiasm, must be credited to Burlington, Ia. A German farmer named Gottlieb Hackerman is the victim.

The links of the Boulevard Golf club are situated in a picturesque suburb of the city known as Sunnyside, where Hackerman has his truck garden. All the time Hackerman could spare from spraying his cabbages and picking bugs off his potato vines he spent upon the links, greatly interested in the game.

The other day his son found the farmer in the cabbage patch, pulling the kraut prospects, but having a great game of golf. His baggy pantaloons were rolled up and his fat calves were wrapped with strips of red flannel. In the old man's hand, in place of a brassy, was his heavy hickory cane with a crook handle. With it he was smashing the cabbage heads to pieces in a vain effort to lift them over the hen coop. The old man said he was playing golf. He is rational on other subjects, but is out of his mind on the game.

NEW COMPETITION IN WHEAT.

Asiatic Russia Will, It is Predicted, Soon Be a Factor in the World's Markets.

American farmers are to have competition from a new quarter in the wheat market of the world. Consul Monaghan, at Chemnitz, in a report to the state department, gives interesting details of the agricultural possibilities of Asiatic Russia—a vast region which is being brought into touch with the European market by the construction of the trans-Siberian railroad.

Mr. Monaghan says that this vast territory is destined to be one of the world's richest and most productive sections. It is particularly well adapted to the growing of wheat and other cereals, and, since the building of the trans-Siberian road, wheat from this region has already found its way to the European market. At present the resources of this region are largely undeveloped and must remain so for some years, as the population is as yet very sparse, there being less than one inhabitant to each square mile. Immigration from European Russia is setting in, however, 400,000 persons having entered the region last year.

NO RICE OR OLD SHOES.

Rev. Father Gillen Prohibits Their Use at Weddings in His Church at Paterson, N. J.

Persons contemplating matrimony will be interested to learn that an anti-rice ordinance has been promulgated by Rev. Charles P. Gillen, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Paterson, N. J., and that he stands ready to call upon the police for help in abolishing the old pagan practice. On Sunday night he said from the pulpit: "Such scenes as have been witnessed at some weddings here are nothing less than a scandal to the church. If it were not for the antiquity of this silly custom of throwing rice and old shoes after a newly-wedded pair it would be incomprehensible that members of any church should mar one of the most solemn and beautiful occasions of life by an exhibition of stupid and vulgar and irreverent horse-play."
