This is the season when mothers are alarmed on account of croup. It is quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure, which children like to take. Wamberg & Jacobson.

Myers vs. the G. N. Ry. Co., was the style of a case in Justice Skinner's court Monday. Myers brought suit against the company for $1050 for overcharges, shortage or something, on a car of old iron. The judge dismissed the case on lack of evidence. Atty. Shippy appeared for the defendant.

The best method of cleaning the liver is the use of the famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Liver Pills. Easy to take. Never gripe. Wamberg & Jacobson.

S. A. and Mrs. Olson were made happy on the 18th inst. when that new daughter arrived; and to top the thing off, Sven threshed his flax and realized 10 bushels per acre on No. 1 flax, which he sold for $1.73. Good boy.

If you itch, scratch; but don't scratch the Republican ticket. One X at the top will do the business.

Congressman Spalding delivered an excellent address on McKinley and prosperity, to an enormous crowd, at the town hall, Monday night. It was probably the last rally before election and as usual, the audience was highly pleased with his talk.

Talk about plows, there is only one genuine plow—that is the Janesville—the lightest running plow manufacturer. On exhibition and for sale at Geo. A. Luce's big warehouse.

Not one harsh word can truthfully be said against any candidate on the Republican county ticket, not one. These men are every one honorable and have clean records. They are deserving of your support.

Torturing skin eruptions, burns and sores are soothed at once and promptly healed by applying DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve, the best known cure for piles. Beware of worthless counterfeits Wamberg & Jacobson.

This report circulated about Mr. Frevik not having been all his life, a Republican, is false; so he tells The Pioneer; he is and has always been a Republican. Anyhow it is a mighty poor, unscrupulous method to try to defeat any man in that way. Such acts usually react, and in this case we hope it will prove true; and that S. J. Brevik is elected county auditor by a handsome majority.

Geo. A. Points, Upper Sandusky, Ohio, writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for hoarseness and find it is the best remedy. It stopped the cough immediately and relieved all soreness." J. A. Elner.

H. N. Horner is the proper man for our next county treasurer and your vote will help elect him.

PLOWS did you say? Why yes, I keep 'em; most all kinds; but if you are looking for something great; just let me show you the Janesville; absolutely the smoothest and lightest running plow on the market today. It positively has no equal. Geo. A. Luce.

Eight were killed outright and twenty-one wounded, in a railroad wreck near Livingston, Mont., on the N. P., Monday night. A broken rail caused the accident.

Don't overlook Hon. M. B. Cassell and Carmi Winslow when you go to vote next Tuesday. Both gentlemen have excellent records at Bismarck.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on, take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails to cure, and will prevent pneumonia or consumption. Don't accept substitutes. Nothing so good. J. A. Elner.

T. A. Hasselquist is the Republican choice for superintendent of schools and is capable of caring for that office in a creditable manner. Give him your support.

The Ladies' Aid of the Broadlawn Presbyterian church will hold their annual social on Friday evening, Nov. 9, 1900, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Jefferson. A beautiful quilt and other articles will be disposed of.

All ladies are requested to bring a basket with supper for two. The basket will be sold to the highest bidder.

An interesting program is prepared. All are cordially invited.

Miss Lizzie Jefferson, Secretary.

H. H. GRACE RENOVATES BRYAN.

Patriotic and Timely Utterances of a Wisconsin Democrat.

H. H. Grace, candidate for attorney general on the Democratic ticket in 1898, vice president of the American Exchange bank, vice president of the State Bar association, and one of the leading Democrats of Superior, Wis., on the gentleman that introduced Mr. Bryan on his visit to that city in 1896, in a public letter has given his reasons for supporting Mr. McKinley this year, and in substance stated:

First—That, although the election of Bryan and free silver and silver in 1896 might have permitted many debtors to save their property, four years have made great changes, most debtors have been freed from their obligations by foreclosure and bankruptcy, and the necessity for free silver does not now exist. Increased production of gold and balance of trade in our favor gives us ample money to carry on the business of the country and has made us the great creditor nation of the world, and it is unwise to disturb or try to disturb the present financial conditions.

Second—Expansion is true Democratic doctrine; it has always been the policy of Democratic administrations, and it is necessary to find foreign markets for our manufacturing and agricultural surplus products. As the present administration is endeavoring to secure foreign markets for the products of the United States, there is every reason for Democrats to support the present regime unless party is paramount to country.

Third—The Democratic issue of imperialism is manufactured; there is no such question to be voted on this fall; the question that now confronts us is this: Shall the United States carry out the obligations imposed upon it by the treaty of Paris? This treaty contains eleven separate obligations, and each one compels the United States to retain possession of the Philippine Islands until peace is restored and a stable government established; and it expressly provides that congress is to determine what disposition will eventually be made of the islands.

Mr. Bryan was instrumental in securing the adoption of the treaty, and by every principle of law and equity, he has the obligations imposed upon the administration for using the army appropriations granted by congress to restore order and carry out the obligations of the treaty.

Mr. Bryan's proposition to extend the Monroe doctrine to the islands would involve us in endless wars and compel the maintenance of a standing army greatly in excess of the one complained of in the Democratic platform.

In my judgment it is safer to continue the present administration in power than to adopt Mr. Bryan's very peculiar ideas.

ROOSEVELT IN THE WEST.

R. P. Clarkson Describes His Standing With the People.

Theodore Roosevelt has the affection of the people of the Western states. Each step in his career is watched and followed with a depth of interest only accorded those who have a fixed place in our hearts. In thus establishing himself with the Western people, in his life in the West and as a leader of the Rough Riders during the war with Spain, he came into what was his own. He has within him the qualities which are possessed and admired in the rugged West, and he has them in such a degree as to naturally make him a leader loved of all.

Roosevelt is a man of action. He is direct, honest and courageous. He is practical and resourceful, and proves himself the master of every situation in which he is placed. With intelligent and well directed effort he surmounts every obstacle barring the way to achievement of desired ends. And withal he does not stop or cringe, but, respecting others, he compels respect for himself. Of such stuff are made the men who have advanced the West to its present position of power and influence. These qualities in combination have wrought the greatness of the West, brought our great riches and prosperity to its homes, and made its voice a controlling power in the halls of national council and legislation.

Theodore Roosevelt cannot rest on duty done or laurels won. With him life is not lived until the last day is done. Accomplishment only invites preparation for other fields of usefulness. This is the best Western spirit. It is the spirit that is building our cities, laying our railroads, sinking mines in our mountains and reaping and marketing our great harvests. Theodore Roosevelt is not alone popular in the West for what he has done, but he is popular for what he is and for what he will do, for the unquenchable spirit that stirs and moves within him.

Since the Spanish war Roosevelt has moved steadily forward in a new field of responsible civic duties. By his administration of the affairs of the State of New York he has increased his fame as a well rounded statesman. The boys whom he led at San Juan Hill are watching his course with affectionate pride. They and their fathers and brothers and friends are for him for vice president, just as they would be for him for president, were he running for that office of man's highest ambition. He has demonstrated his capacity and they know him thoroughly, so their hats are off for him.—R. P. Clarkson, Des Moines, Iowa.

Savings Have Increased.

Since the Democratic days of 1894, there has been an increase of 2,106,547 bank depositors in the United States.

This number more people have had money to deposit during McKinley's prosperity.

The total amount of money deposited to the credit of the people was $2,874,889,406 in 1894.

In 1899 it was $4,608,096,005, showing an increase of almost one and three-quarter billions of dollars to the credit of the people who had bank accounts in the five years since the country was suffering the agonies of a Democratic administration.

According to Secretary of State Falley, the way to mark your ballot is this: A cross (X) opposite the party name at the head of the ticket votes the straight ticket. If you wish to vote a straight ticket with but few exceptions, you should cross the head of the ticket and also the names for whom you wish to cast your vote on the opposing ticket. You may cross each name (in the square on the right) for whom you wish to vote.

Grocery Department.

WE pride ourselves on our model grocery department. We aim to carry every article in this line that anybody wants, and it would indeed be hard to call for anything not on our shelves. The quality of every article we assure you is the best, and the prices are the lowest. Did you contemplate sending away for your winter's supply? If so delay it a few days; come in and look over our goods; let us figure your bill for you; and if we can't sell you the same goods just as cheap or cheaper, than some "supply house," will not ask for your order. If you buy of us you can see the goods; and remember; We are right behind every transaction we make. If the goods are not what we claim for them, bring them back and get your money.

Every issue of The Youth's Companion for the nine weeks of November and December will be enlarged, and the Holiday Numbers will be double the usual size, with richly decorated covers. From now until the end of the year The Companion will be crowded with articles and stories sufficiently varied to please every taste in both old and young—men and women, boys and girls.

Among the contributions announced for early issues are: "How I Acted the Missionary," by Sir Henry Stanley; "With the Pretoria Guard," by Rider Haggard; "A Historic Game of Football," by Walter Camp; "Horse Sense," by Frank R. Stockton; "Pulpit Eloquence," by Dean Farrar; "Days of Long Ago," by Ian MacLaren; and "A Baritone Among Famous People," by Victor Maurel; in addition to which there will be serial and short stories by Margaret Deland, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Bliss Perry, Charles W. Chesnut and other writers of delightful fiction.

Those who subscribe now for 1901 will receive The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1900 free from the time of subscription in addition to the "Puritan Girl" Calendar for 1901, lithographed in 12 colors from exquisite designs painted expressly for The Companion.

Illustrated Announcement of the volume for 1901 will be sent free to any address, with sample copies of the paper.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Boston, Mass.

When the voter steps up to the polls Nov. 6 to cast his ballot, he should not allow personal matters to interfere. Every man on the Republican ticket this year, from top to bottom, is a gentleman and a scholar; particularly is this true of the county ticket. Naught can be said of any candidate; therefore it is your duty to vote the straight Republican ticket. See that you do it.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes: "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice among several cases of indigestion and find it an admirable remedy." Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not overload your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. Wamberg & Jacobson.
