TO STOP SLAUGHTER

Audubon Societies Want Tariff
Wall to Bar Out Aigrettes.

National Association Demands Action on Part of Ways and Means Committee—Seek to End Destruction of Beautiful Herons.

New York.—Backed by farmers, sportsmen and women's clubs in every section of the country, officers of the National Association of Audubon Societies have demanded of the ways and means committee of congress an opportunity to urge a prohibitive tariff on aigrette feathers at the hearing on schedule N, which will be held before the end of this month.

Opposing the moneyed interests of the millinery wholesalers, whose inroads on the valuable bird life of New York, Louisiana, Missouri, New Jersey, Oregon and California have already forced these states to pass laws making contraband the sales of these plumes, the national Audubon delegation will ask that they be excluded from the whole country in the interest of everyone dependent upon its agricultural prosperity.

The Federation of Women's Clubs and organizations of grangers in almost every state, as well as the Camp-fire club, the New York Zoological society, the Long Island Sportsmen's association, the American Game Protective association and other bodies of sportsmen, have pledged their support to this movement.

Data, compiled from scientific observation of a flock of the few herons that still survive the wholesale butchery of professional plume hunters in an Audubon breeding rookery in Florida, are being prepared to demonstrate to congress that these rare birds are a considerable factor in the destruction of field mice, gophers, grasshoppers and other agricultural pests.

While in some instances they have been found to devour an occasional trout, their regular diet is proved to consist principally of minnows, suckers and other useless fish, as well as water snakes, that are known to destroy great quantities of trout eggs and valuable young fish. Other proof of the natural need of farmers and fishermen for the beautiful birds that the milliners have almost driven to extinction will be presented by representatives of these interests.

Following the recent introduction by Senator Root of a resolution empowering the president of the United States to call an international congress on bird protection, representatives of the world powers actively engaged in saving the rare species that is being massacred for their aigrette plumes are now expressing to the Audubon organization their support of this movement.

While the whole globe is at present scouring for these trophies, taken from butchered mother birds for market here, a tariff ban would do much toward saving the beautiful heron from world-wide destruction, it is asserted. "With the people of the United States of almost every class united to bar our country the aigrettes of the unfortunate heron, we expect to meet the big millinery interests in sole opposition before the congressional committee," said T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, at its headquarters, 1974 Broadway.

"The slaughter of these useful and beautiful birds is a commercial matter only to the men who sell their scalps in those states where this shameful traffic is not already forbidden by law. Congress should certainly recognize the sentiment and interests of the whole people, who ask it to end this importation as a matter of humanity as well as economic and agricultural benefit."

MAIL FAST; BLOCKS SUICIDE

Friends, Informed by Letters, Halt West Norristown (Pa.) Man's Death Plans.

Norristown, Pa.—The United States mail was too fast for Robert Mulfinger, sixty-five years old, a wealthy business man of West Norristown township, and to this he owes the fact that he is alive. Mulfinger planned to commit suicide and he wrote letters to a local undertaker and a local banker about his burial and his last wishes. They received the letters so promptly that they found Mulfinger lying in his bathroom with a tube connected with the gas fixture in his mouth. He was revived and demanded to know why they had saved his life.

Mulfinger lost money recently in investments and he got the idea that he was going to the poorhouse. He preferred death to that fate.

CALLED FROM BED BY THIEF

Druggist, Getting Up to Get Medicine for "Customer," Faces Revolver.

Trenton.—Dr. Paul Wendell, proprietor of a drug store here and formerly the local weather observer, was called from his bed early in the morning by a stranger who said he wanted to have a prescription filled. The druggist dressed and went to the door and was met by a revolver and a demand for his money. Wendell gave up $56 and was then ordered to go inside and lock the door.

The doctor telephoned to the police, but they have failed to get the robber.

GOLD MEDAL TO BE AWARDED.

A gold medal to the school boy or girl, between the ages of 10 and 15, who writes the best composition, not to exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page Director, Office of Public Roads, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15th, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through the lack of proper maintenance and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school may compete. Only one side of the paper to be written on; each page should be numbered; name, age and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending, must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the Office of Public Roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

Look To Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house when the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get relief. For sale by all dealers.

STAR SOCIAL CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Star Social Club was held at the home of Mrs. Thos Newell on Saturday April 12th, when a good program was rendered as follows:

Song "America" Club
Recitation May Roy
Violin Solo Ed Mitchell
Recitation Pansie Whitlo
Reading Mrs. Roy
Original Stunt C. D. Parkman and Geo. Roy

Music W. T. Newell
Club Journal Hugh Newell
Address "Raising Alfalfa" Mr. Nelson.

At the close of the program Mrs. Newell provided the means for different games so that every body enjoyed a good time. After a delicious supper was served and all were ready to go home, some of the old men got to feeling young and, because their wives were not watching, ran off with the young ladies. George Roy is one of the guilty parties and the report is that when he got back he was minus a wife.

The next meeting will be held April 26th, with Mr. and Mrs. E. Mitchell on Hill Top Farm.

AGED RELATIVE DIES.

Mrs. E. S. Fawcett, of this city, received word Monday of this week of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Koll, at Salem, Ohio, aged 103 years, 2 months and 29 days. She was the first white child born in Salem, and so far as known was the oldest person in the state. She was a member of the Society of Friends (Quakers) and took a prominent part in anti slavery work prior to and during the civil war.

Found a Cure for Rheumatism.

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Lee L. Chapman, Mapleton, Iowa. "I suffered terrible pain so I could not sleep or lie still at night. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Liniment and in two months I was well and have not suffered with rheumatism since." For sale by all dealers.

Miss Fearless & Co.

A prophet may be without honor in his own country but when it comes to presenting the comedy "Miss Fearless & Co." the Woman's Club of Hope has honor to spare. The opera house was well filled when the curtain went up on the opening scene and the audience never lost interest from that moment until the curtain descended on the suggested happy ending. Miss Marjorie Cassell, as the heiress, Miss Henley, around which the plot centered, carried her part admirably and was ably assisted by the Mesdames Pfeiffe, Martin and Abbott, who played the parts of her guests. The honors for the comedy parts were equally divided between Mrs. C. G. Warner, as the old maid cousin Mrs. Geo Smith as Sarah Jane from up-state with her cat and hen, and Mrs. D. J. Gumb, as Katie, the Irish servant. Mesdames Wood and Egan had their lines perfect as the "Silent Sisters." Little Lucile Smith as "Just Lizzie" the Ghost, pleased everybody. The staging of the play was excellent and we have seen plays put on by Professionals that did not come up to this production.

The Club was very ably assisted by the Misses Joslyn and Horstman, and Tillotson and Patten, who gave a number of very pretty piano duets between acts.

The money raised by this play will be used to make up the deficit in the Lecture Course Fund.

Market for Broken Glass.
Broken glass has a market. Some of it is ground in fine, powder-like particles and used for various purposes. At other times it is remelted and made into new glass objects.

Few men would worry today over the mistakes of yesterday if it were not necessary to keep on paying for them.
