

The Two Things Necessary to Possess a Bank Account

The first is the Desire or Inclination. Every one has a wish for money--it is human nature, for it takes money to possess the comforts and necessities of life.

The second requirement is One Dollar or more. The first deposit need not be large, and after the first money is deposited, you have a bank account.

The size of your bank account rests with you.

Fargo-Courier News: Mrs. Mary Westmiller, seventy-five, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert C. Hanson, 1010 Seventh street north, yesterday morning. Death was the result of complications, the lady having been ill for several years. She is survived by five children. The body will be shipped to Washburn, N. D., today for burial. (Editor's note: The lady is the mother of Miss Westmiller, formerly a local teacher.)

The live stock demonstration meeting held here Monday was one of the most interesting meetings held here. The car load of stock from the North Dakota Experiment Station was very instructive. The lecturers used these cattle with good effect in demonstrating the good points of the beef and dairy cattle. Instead of just talking about a point they showed on the animal just what they meant. For instance, Mr. Willard, of the Northern Pacific, in describing the dairy cow as a machine for converting food into milk, said that the outward indication of it was a big mouth, a big muzzle, a big middle piece, a big chest and a big bag indicated by means of the three cows just what was meant by each of these statements. A large crowd was present.

THE RANKS ARE THINNING

S. E. Kurtz is Another of Emmons County's Pioneer Band to Answer the Last Summons.

With startling rapidity the ranks of the pioneer band that settled in the "old Williamsport" neighborhood are thinning. We of today have watched with regret the older pioneers seek their last resting place. Now we must chronicle the passing of one of the younger set of that early-day citizenship, and in so doing we must pay homage to one of the brainiest, most energetic of those who assisted to reclaim Dakota and Emmons county from a cheerless waste of prairie and to show that crops that vie well with those of the old farming communities were not an impossibility.

It is with a feeling of sadness that we speak of the death of Simon E. Kurtz, a native of Wayne county, Ohio, who died after a brief illness at Plankinton, S. D., where he had been visiting while on an automobile trip with his wife and daughter, Martha. Not yet rounding out his fifty-nine years of life, he has passed to the Great Beyond, a comparatively young man as the ages of men go. Typhoid was the fatal disease. Always in the excellent health, Mr. Kurtz left his home county of many years for a pleasure trip of a few weeks. The first news to this community that he was ill was conveyed in a message to the children at Hazelton calling them to their father's bedside, he in a few days having passed into a stage of delirium with little hope of recovery.

All of the members of the family left at once and were present at their father's bedside at the last. Five boys and Miss Helen, as well as Miss Martha who accompanied her father were there. The boys are Cloyd, Earl, Paul, Clifford and Stanley. They are all residents of the old home property near Hazelton.

"Sime" Kurtz was to Emmons county what Jim Hill was to the Northwest. Thus did one old-time acquaintance of the deceased aptly describe his career.

From the first he was a practical and successful farmer. None of the hit and miss variety was tolerated. All farm work was done thoroughly and intelligently. It was a science with the Kurtz family.

Thirty-three years ago a colony of Ohio people settled in the northern part of the county. In the party was the young man, S. E. Kurtz. He had been married two years before at Sycamore, Ohio, to Amanda F. Shively, and together they had come to the mysterious and unknown Northwest to make a home for themselves and to rear a family. That they did wisely and well has been shown. The large family of boys are all prosperous and settled where the father and mother cast their fortunes. Mr. Kurtz himself had discontinued active farm work some years ago. Since 1907 he has been president of the Bank of Hazelton, the pioneer banking institution of that town. As he had been a successful farmer, so he became a successful banker. The character of the man has been indelibly imprinted not only upon the lives of his associates, but in the actual conditions of the neighborhood which he called home. When others had failures, the Kurtzes had a fair crop. When others did well, the Kurtzes had record-breaking yields. It was not accident. It was the man.

The funeral was held at Hazelton yesterday afternoon at 2:30 and interment made in Hazelton cemetery. The pall-bearers were W. L. Yeater, M. Rush, S. E. Brindle, John Baker, M. Appert and Jake Kalberer, all neighbors and friends of the deceased for a third of a century.

The labors of "Sime" Kurtz, as he was known to all, is ended. He has done his work well. His heart was wrapped up in the fortunes of his Dakota home and he has left no stone unturned to advance its interests. If those of us who are left behind can do but a fractional part as well, the future of which he dreamed will be a realization and this will become a neighborhood which will be a paradise for the poor man with ambition.

It is a mere waste of words to say that we join in extending sympathy to the faithful wife and sorrowing children. Their loss cannot be thus appraised. It is in contemplation of a well-spent life and pride in the privilege that is theirs in continuing the work that far nobly done that must be their consolation.

Hazelton Happenings.

Republican, October 5.

G. H. Nazamora and M. F. Kaiser were Braddockites to visit Hazelton last Friday.

Roy D. Corwin came down from Bismarck last Saturday and spent Sunday with home folks.

Mrs. S. A. Mikalson and children left last Saturday for a month's visit with her parents at Delphia, Mont.

The stork paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shotts Monday morning and left them a fine new farmer boy.

Misses Sarah and Mary Porter left Friday, the former to resume her teaching at Sykeston and the latter to attend school at Lake Benton, Minn.

C. A. Ward and T. L. Hubbard went to St. Paul Saturday with their shipments of live stock. Mr. Ward had a car of steers and Mr. Hubbard took down three cars of stock.

Mrs. H. O. Batzer returned home Monday from a three weeks' visit with her parents at St. Cloud, Minn. H. O. met her at Bismarck and they came home from there by auto.

Joe Smith returned to Hazelton the middle of last week after a several months' pilgrimage. Some of the time he spent in Bismarck but lately he has been to the Twin Cities, Montana, and state points.

Hazelton was dark for a time Saturday evening, the lighting engine having broken down. The break was repaired next day. The new engine was shipped from Beloit, Wis., on Sept. 26th, and will soon be doing duty in the local power house.

Herman Reinke, who a year ago moved to Milaca, Minn., arrived in Hazelton Friday on a business trip, and also to spend two or three weeks visiting old-time friends. Mr. Reinke has been in very poor health all summer with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

We are indebted to C. A. Ward for some very fine apples, raised on his farm southwest of town. The apples are all of the Siberian crab variety but embrace several different kinds. The seedlings were planted by Mr. Ward a few years ago and have made rapid growth. Every tree is loaded with fruit this year.

On Monday of this week Fred W. Jenner, the popular clerk of the Klaudd store, went to Bismarck where he was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Gerber, of that city. The ceremony was performed by Judge Bradley, of Bismarck. The wedding was a very quiet one, being attended only by the necessary witnesses.

Another of the largest sales of the season will be held at the W. H. Rush farm on October 25th. Mr. Rush has rented his farm and intends to go to DeLamere, in the southwestern part of the state, and engage in the hardware business with his brother-in-law, O. Siverson, formerly of Braddock.

The two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gontka, of Horsehead Valley, had a narrow escape from death by poison last Friday. She climbed upon a chair and getting hold of a bottle of Iodine drank part of the contents. Her mouth, lips and throat were badly burned but not enough of the poison was swallowed as to cause serious results. The parents were prompt in giving the child the proper antidotes to dispel the poison and aside from the burns the little one is all right again.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Smith and his son, F. L., and family have been here the past two weeks visiting the former's son, Harve, and family. The party started out in July from Cour d'Alene, Idaho, by auto and have made a tour of over 1500 miles, visiting points of interest in Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota and this state. In their travels they saw much of the noted scenery of the west including Yellowstone Park, the great wind cave and many other beauty spots. Mr. Smith is an old-timer of Emmons county and resided here until two or three years ago when he moved to Cour d'Alene. He has many warm friends here who welcomed the visit and a chance to talk over the stirring events of pioneer days of the county. The son and family departed for home last Saturday by auto, while Mr. and Mrs. Smith left this morning by train.

Pollock Pick-Ups.

Progress, October 6.

Tom Ryeckman was hauling out material this week for a new hog house on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stam, of the Westfield neighborhood, are the happy parents of a baby girl, born last Saturday.

Peter Rasmussen, of the Winona neighborhood, was brought to town Sunday and is under the care of Drs. Shockey and Warnhus.

Frank Rodenburg, son of Wiegner Rodenburg, of Westfield, departed yesterday for Orange City, Iowa, where he will attend the N. W. Classical Academy this winter.

Frank McConville, of the Dale neighborhood, had the misfortune to lose two stacks of oats last Saturday by fire while threshing. A spark from the engine started the blaze.

We understand there has been considerable dissatisfaction over the way the 5th district of Emmons county was assessed this year and the matter was taken up with the state tax commission. As a result Emil Harut, of Temvik, has been appointed to reassess that district and is now going over the field.

John Wilmot enjoyed a visit from a brother last Sunday who he has not seen in twenty years. The brother is now living at Hottinger, N. D., and came over by auto for a short visit. After crossing the river at Cannonball he got lost in the hills north of Dale and broke his car running into a wash-out. The car was hauled to Pollock Sunday night and fixed up at the garage Monday.
