Best steers and butcher cows and heifers weak to unevenly lower, other classes slow, steady to weak. Choice fat lambs steady, in between grades weak to 15c lower; sheep around steady. December 14th Chicago prices: hogs, top, $8.15; bulk of sales $7.85-8.10; medium and good beef steers $7.50-11.75; butcher cows and heifers $9.25-10.75; feeder steers $5.35-8; light and medium weight veal calves $8.50-10; fat lambs $7.25-15.60; feeding lambs $12.75-15; yearlings $9.25-12.25; fat ewes $4.75-7.75. Applicant Denied U. S. Citizenship. Minneapolis—For the fourth time since he came to America in 1891 Morris Hayden was denied the rights of citizenship because he became confused when he was asked to name President Harding's predecessor. Hayden is 60 years old. In Russia the opportunity of the free schools of America was lacking. In America he has been busy earning a living for his family.

Marvey Starting for U. S. London—The American ambassador Col. George Harvey, is returning to the United States almost immediately for a short visit. The reason ascribed for his visit is his anxiety about his wife's health.

RADIO

GREAT DISCOVERY OF EDWIN H. ARMSTRONG

Arrangement by Which Local Plate Current is Fed Back to Grid Circuit.

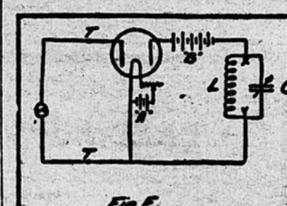

An ordinary three-electrode vacuum tube used as a detector in a circuit where the input is connected to the grid and the output taken from the plate circuit will give amplification of from 5 to 15. Adding to this amplifying action the stability of adjustment of the tube gave the tube preference over the crystal detector.

However, it was not until Edwin H. Armstrong made his great discovery of a circuit arrangement which fed back a portion of the large local plate current into the circuit through which the incoming signals arrived, thereby greatly amplifying the strength of the signal, that the vacuum tube reached its now recognized position of superiority as a detector of radio signals.

The circuit arrangement by which energy from the plate circuit of a three-electrode vacuum tube is fed back to the grid circuit is known by a different name, though, on account of the different names used and the different circuit arrangements used to accomplish the same results, amateurs are very apt to become confused. Some of the names given to the circuits which feed energy from the plate circuit to the grid circuit are "Feed Back," "Regenerative," "Tackler," "Tuned Plate" and "Ultra-Audion."

In Fig. F is shown a three-electrode vacuum tube with an alternator furnishing an alternating difference of potential to the grid circuit at T-T. The plate circuit of the tube is connected to a circuit containing an inductance L and a capacity C which together form a tuned circuit between the points X and Y. By adjusting the value of the variable capacitor C, the natural period of the circuit between X and Y can be made to have the same frequency electrically as the alternating current supplied to the grid at T-T by the alternator. When this condition is reached the tuned circuit between the points X and Y becomes an infinite inductance in the external plate circuit. The potential variations between X and Y are now a maximum and are exact amplified reproductions of the potential variations applied to the grid circuit by the alternator.

Going back to the simple type of standard loose coupler hookup for a vacuum tube, we will have a circuit arrangement as shown in Fig. G. Suppose that the principle of the circuit of Fig. F be applied to the circuit arrangement of Fig. G. The result will be Fig. H. In Fig. H the inductance M has been placed in the secondary circuit and the inductance N has been placed in the plate circuit. When the coils M and N are widely separated Fig. H is essentially the same as Fig. G. An incoming radio signal impresses a small difference of potential on the grid of the tube in Fig. H which in turn liberates a large amount of energy in the plate circuit. As the coil N is brought nearer the coil M some of this plate circuit energy is transferred to the grid circuit. This reinforcement, electrically, of the incoming signal by energy transferred from the plate circuit to the grid circuit by the coupling between the two coils M and N, causes an increase in the energy liberated in the plate circuit. Coupling the two coils M and N closer and closer will cause greater and greater amplification of the incoming signal until a point is reached where the energy fed back from the plate circuit is just equal to the losses in the secondary circuit.

An increase in the coupling between the two coils M and N will cause the tube to oscillate. By changing the tuning of the secondary circuit, the frequency of the tube oscillations will be slightly different from the frequency of the incoming oscillations due to the received signals, and the beat note will be heard in the phone. The pitch of the beat note will be the arithmetic difference between the frequency of the incoming oscillations and the oscillations furnished by the oscillating detector tube.

The human ear is most sensitive to a note corresponding to 1,000 vibrations per second or electrically to a note produced by 500 cycles. Suppose the received signal was on a 200-meter wave length of 1,500,000 cycles. By adjusting the circuits so that the tube would oscillate at a frequency of 1,500,000 or 1,499,500, the beat note would be 500 cycle pitch or a 1,000 vibration note.

This beat method of reception is used to receive undamped or continuous wave signals and is called the "heterodyne" method. When the same tube is used to perform the functions of a detector and an oscillator, the method is termed the "antodyne" method.

Performance Test Methods. Rules Are Drawn Up by Bureau of Standards for Investigation of New Apparatus. Owing to the very large demand which has arisen for simple radio receiving sets, many retail dealers in other lines of work have taken up the handling of such equipment. It is very difficult for such dealers to decide whether sets offered by the manufacturers are of good or poor quality, says Radio Merchandising. The whole art is so new and some of the questions involved are so technical that the problem presents considerable difficulties.

As a consequence, the Department of Commerce, and particularly the bureau of standards, has received a great many requests for tests of such apparatus. As it is impossible for the bureau to conduct all the work of this nature which it would be called upon to perform, it has drawn up rules covering performance test methods which are to be carried out by the Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York in cooperation with the National Retail Dry Goods association, the latter representing the retailers of radio receiving sets. As the work develops, suggestions regarding improvements of methods of testing will be subject to the approval of the bureau of standards.

The tests outlined include: Investigation as to the material and workmanship, the mechanical and electrical design, simplicity of adjustment, ruggedness, sensitivity, sharpness of tuning, wave length range and faithfulness of reproduction in radio telephone reception.

Pipe to the Radiolist. Dr. Marcello cites as one of the future benefits of radio the ability of a man to talk with his wife without others being able to listen in. Some of us who live in apartments and have to listen to the nightly dialogues of the Jarr family will hope that they will arrange to use radio at no late date. No better example of the versatility of radio can be cited than its use for transmitting Chinese music. The city fathers of Newark, N. J., are framing a law to tax all possessors of radio sets $1 a year. It is reported from Washington that President Harding has a powerful radio set installed in the White House. The barbers have evidently talked themselves out and are now resorting to radio so that their customers may feel at home. The wave with the shave.

SEVEN COOKED IN TRAIN WRECK

Pipe Pours Live Steam Into Filled Smoking Car in Texas Train Wreck.

Houston, Texas—Seven persons were cooked to death by live steam and approximately 35 others were burned, many probably fatally, when Houston East and West Texas passenger train No. 28 sidwiped a switch engine near the station at Humble. The seven met death when a two-inch steam pipe, torn loose from the cylinder head by the collision, swept around and crashed through a window of the forward smoking car of the passenger train.

GERMANY NEAR COLLAPSE

Washington—Information reaching the American government through trade channels, it was said here, tends to bear out the statement of Premier Bonar Law that an economic collapse is threatening Germany. In fact, it was declared Germany appears to be approaching the point where she will be unable to import food in sufficient quantities to feed her people. No estimate was made, however, as to when her food supply would be exhausted. So far as the Allied debt situation was concerned, officials maintained silence. The position of the United States, however, has been repeatedly stated as one holding the debt question to be distinct from reparations.

VOLSTEAD RIDICULES CHARGE

Does Not Believe It Possible "To Make Anything Out of Case." Washington—The committee heard a wide range of testimony on the first two, and it was during the hearing of witnesses on the second, alleging failure by the attorney general to enforce compliance by the railroads with the Safety Appliance act, at the night session that Chairman A. J. Volstead broke in with the declaration that, judged by the character of the testimony thus far offered, he did not believe it possible "to make anything out of the case" against Mr. Daugherty.

DEFENDS SHIPPING BILL AID

Fletcher, in Opposition, Declares Measure 'Raid on Treasury.' Washington—The administration shipping bill was held up before the Senate as a "measure for the benefit of the American farmer, the American business man and the American nation," and on the other hand as "a direct raid on the treasury to pay some people to do what they ought to do without payment."

SPEEDS UP CONFIRMATION

Nelson is Authorized to Present Report to Judiciary Group. Washington—Unanimous approval was given by a subcommittee of the Senate judiciary committee to the nomination of Pierce Butler of St. Paul for associate justice of the United States Supreme court, and Senator Knute Nelson, chairman, was authorized to report the nomination to the full committee.

WARN SETTLERS TO FLEE

Scores of Lives Saved By Warning as Dam Releases Wall of Water. Iron River, Wis.—As the Iron river was settling back into its banks after wrecking bridges, power plants and factories, officials were seeking the boys who raced on skis to warn residents of the valley to flee before the wall of water released by the breaking of the Mud lake power dam.

LEADS TO CAPTURE OF RUM

Squad Surrounds Drugstore, Taking Man with Eight Cases of Liquor. Minneapolis—Responding to a call from neighbors who declared the place was being robbed, the police gun squad surrounded the drugstore of James H. Rosenthal, and captured a man and eight cases of liquor in the rear of the store.

3 INJURED IN TRAIN CRASH

Great Northern Flyer, 22 Hours Late Telescopes Passenger Coach. St. Cloud—Great Northern coast flyer, 22 hours late from the Pacific coast and speeding to make up for lost time, partly telescoped a local passenger train here, injuring three persons, two of them seriously.

11 Arrested in Drug Raid. Superior, Wis.—Six men and five women were arrested and drugs valued at $2,000 seized by federal narcotic agents, Wisconsin and Minnesota drug agents in raids conducted simultaneously in the two cities.

Strike Averted by Indiana Operators. Terre Haute—The threatened coal strike in the Indiana field was averted when members of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association voted to check off a special assessment from the miners' wages.

State Mill Federally Recognized.

A federal grain warehouseman's license has been granted the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks, effective at once. This permits the issuance of negotiable warehouse receipts, forms for which are now being printed. The establishment of federal terminal inspection facilities at the mill is now being sought.

Train Wrecker Gets 10 Years.

A 10-year sentence in the state penitentiary was meted out to Harry Kerns, 18, convicted at Williston of causing the wreck near Todd of a Great Northern freight train. The engineer and a brakeman were killed and 14 cars were smashed up. Memory of a former wreck when fruit was scattered about the country is believed to have prompted the act.

Punishment for Home Deserters.

Imprisonment for a term up to five years is the penalty provided in a bill prepared by the North Dakota Children's Code commission for the coming legislature to act upon, for the desertion or abandonment of a family. Three months' failure to support will be regarded as evidence of desertion, while non-support for any length of time will be made sufficient cause for bonding the person guilty of such conduct.

To Argue Grain Case in Fargo.

Circuit Judge Walter H. Sanborn will designate the three judges, one of whom must be a United States circuit judge, who will hear the arguments on the North Dakota grain grading act in Fargo beginning January 5. Counsel for the state and for the complaining elevator companies, headed by the Embden Farmers Elevator Co., stipulated that Judge Andrew Miller's temporary order restraining the railroad commission from putting into effect the measure adopted by the people on November 7 be made returnable in Fargo. The elevators ask for a permanent injunction on the ground that the measure has the same constitutional defect as that set aside by the United States courts a couple of years ago.

State Taxpayers Incorporate.

"To investigate questions relating to the tax burdens imposed upon North Dakota taxpayers with a view to securing an equitable reduction thereof; to secure and disseminate accurate information among its members and others on that subject; to make recommendations relative thereto to public officers and other interested bodies, and generally to aid in promoting and securing economy and efficiency in the administration of public affairs"—these are the avowed purposes of the State Taxpayers' association, recently organized and incorporated, with headquarters in Fargo. That the association have a permanent statewide membership is the intent of the incorporators: J. G. Gunderson of Aneta, T. Weloe of Velva, A. L. Martin of Sentinel Butte, E. J. Weiser of Fargo, and W. C. McDowell of Marlon.

Hall Warrants Returned.

Of the thousands of warrants mailed by the state treasurer to cover claims allowed on 1921 hall losses, only 34 have been returned unclaimed. The department is now making a search for the owners of these warrants.

Flint Resigns State Post.

Robert F. Flint, prominent North Dakota dairy expert and booster and twice state dairy commissioner, has resigned to accept the management of the Bridgeman-Russell cannery in Sioux Falls, S. D. He will take up his new duties the first of the year.
