

WORKS OF SUPPORT BY HOMESTEADERS

Borah's Reclamation Bill.

"I introduced at the last session of congress a bill for $15,000,000 to complete government reclamation projects. I wanted $30,000,000, but was will to accept $15,000,000, because this is a presidential year and both parties are trying to make a record of economy. We succeeded in getting the three-year homestead bill and others favorable to the west through congress. This took so much time that this $15,000,000 bill could not be acted upon at the session just closed.

"I have no doubt we will pass a measure next session of congress providing fifteen to twenty millions of dollars for the completion of reclamation projects, and I believe Secretary Fisher will favor the completion of these projects. He said he favors appropriating $30,000,000 toward finishing these projects, and taking up new ones.

"I prefer to deliver the goods than to promise and not deliver them, but I have every reason to believe that $30,000,000 will be provided for reclamation projects the next session. I think you people are on the ground floor in this respect and will be able to get funds for your project.

"Another thing congress is in greater favor than formerly of extending the time of payments on reclamation projects from 10 to 20 years. The interior department is in favor of these time extensions also.

Outlook Very Favorable.

"All I can say to you is the outlook for you is very favorable and there is no reason why the government should not deal with you promptly. I shall give the matter my earnest effort unhesitatingly and persistently.

"There is much the settlers can do in this respect. There is nothing congressmen and senators listen to more than to public sentiment. When your matter comes up at the next session of congress, it will be very effective work on your part to write letters to your congressmen and senators urging them to secure funds for this project.

"I am not here today to launch into politics at all; I am here solely for the benefit of your cause. Idaho is conceded to be the greatest irrigation state in the Union.

"I do not know of a project that will appeal to the government more strongly than the Black Canyon project, because of the worth of your project and because you have been here so long, and because your district was once included in a reclamation project. Your project will be looked upon with special favor because all of the land under this district is already occupied by actual settlers. My opinion is the most the government wants is to know you are strongly in favor of the government developing this project. I think you can deal more effectively and with better success with the government than you can with any private enterprise. The government would furnish the money without any interest. The government now knows so well how to construct reclamation works, that more economy can be practiced in the building of future reclamation projects. I think we will get our $30,000,000 bill through vastly quicker and easier than we did the

CATARH MISERIES

Gives Instant Relief, Cures and Prevents Catarh and Cold in the Head.

The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarh or a cold in the head is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest gets right at the root of the trouble and instantly relieves even the worst case of catarh or cold. A few minutes after applying you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back, and you feel like a different person.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membranes, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting, hacking, spitting, blowing of the nose, and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy.

Don't suffer another minute. Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately, and a 50 cent bottle will more than work a complete cure. All druggists sell it.

$20,000,000 bill and the three-year homestead bill, because eastern congressmen and senators are now very familiar with western conditions, and their sentiments are more in favor of western propositions, because the debates of western senators and congressmen in the passage of the three-year homestead bill and other western measures have proven to be highly educational to the easterners.

"I want to assure you I am heartily in favor of your project and will do all I can for you."

Unanimous For Borah.
Senator Borah gave his well known views on the income tax law, which he strongly favors. At the conclusion of his splendid address, which was frequently punctuated with applause, the large audience rose to its feet en masse and cheered Borah to the echo. They waved their hats and handkerchiefs. By a viva voce vote, amid tumultuous applause, the entire crowd gave the senator a unanimous vote of their loyal support in his race for the senate. The entire crowd then passed by the position taken by Borah in front of the platform, and he shook hands with every man, woman and child present.

Prominent Democrat For Borah.
The Notus meeting closed at 3:30, and Senator Borah was driven in E. H. Kirkpatrick's powerful auto to Parma, where he addressed a large and enthusiastic crowd in the evening.

At Notus many Democrats present at the Borah meeting openly stated they are going to vote the legislative ticket that will vote for Borah. Among the prominent Democrats who have declared their support is for Idaho's brilliant senator is Walter Sebree of Caldwell, who has come out for Borah and will work for the senator from now until election day, Nov. 5.

Meeting at Parma.
(Staff Correspondence.)
Parma, Sept. 17.—The Parma meet-

E. C. Baldrige introduced Senator Borah, saying: "The people are taking a greater interest in this campaign than in many many years, and they are doing a lot of deep thinking. The people are demanding that a halt be called in the present system. We have with us a man tonight in whom all Idaho has great faith, a man who represents Idaho in the United States senate and is respected throughout the United States. People all over the country know Senator Borah, who has done more to place Idaho on the map than any other man in the United States."

Great Applause For Borah.

Great applause was given Senator Borah as he arose to address the magnificent audience. He said in part: "I feel in coming back to the people of Idaho after six years of service, it is the privilege and duty of the people to interrogate me in regard to anything concerning the interests of this state. I am here to report what I shall try to do and propose to do in the event of my re-election to the senate by a vote of the people in November."

"Since 1854 there has not been such breaking up of party lines and such political turmoil as there is in this campaign. There must be a profound reason for this attitude on the part of the people.

"No government ever suffered by too much attention given to it on the part of the people.

"There are those who believe we are approaching a revolution, and there are those who honestly believe it is wrong for the people to have too much power. Let us not be disturbed. I have no fear that if the government we have is properly controlled by the people, all will be made good and right.

Subtle and Silent Changes.
"The subtle and silent changes that have taken place in our government while the people have been non-attentive to governmental affairs are the things that are endangering our welfare. One of these subtle changes is the change in the income tax law. For over 100 years this nation had an effective income tax law. In 1894 an income tax bill passed by congress was held unconstitutional by the United States supreme court.

"I undertake to say tonight that until the tax question in this country is settled it will be impossible to revise the tariff downward.

"The masses of the people all over the country should demand of their representatives in congress that they legislate in the people's behalf and not in behalf of party organizations. I oppose any man who hides behind his party for his legislative acts. I am in favor of party organizations, but I believe in the individual responsibility of senators and congressmen to the people direct. (Great applause.)

"I would not for one moment want to go back to the United States senate if I had to compromise myself on the positions I have taken upon these public questions." (Applause.)

The control of the trusts was then taken up by the senator. "We spend all our time denouncing the trusts, and the masses stand upon all their time in making us pay for denouncing them," he said.

Trust Remedies.
The senator then reviewed the dissolution of the various combines and showed that the people at large derived no benefits whatever as a result of these dissolutions, but the "dissolved" trusts benefitted greatly through the advance in the price of their stocks.

"If these trust violators were sentenced to serve six months in jail instead of being fined, they would respect the laws which the people enact. If the people would continue the interest in governmental affairs for 20 years they now are showing, I know the great problems of our nation would be solved and our great nation would go on to live out its great destiny.

"I appeal to you to go to the polls on election day and exercise your franchise as you see it to be for the best. We are here building up a great commonwealth in which the vote of the humblest citizen is as great as that of our greatest men."

A great outburst of applause came from the large audience as Senator Borah closed his eloquent appeal to the people to stand by and guard their rights with courage. Many men and women came forward to shake the senator's hand and gave him assurances of their loyal support.

MURDERER GOES TO THE ELECTRIC CHAIR WITHOUT A TREMOR

Boston, Sept. 17.—Bertram G. Spencer, who as a masked burglar shot and killed Miss Martha B. Blackstone at Springfield on March 21, 1910, paid the penalty for his crime with death by electrocution at the Charlestown state prison at 12:18:02 this morning.

Spencer was calm, and walked into the death chamber unassisted. As he took his place before the electric chair he said:

"I wish to say to the world and the press that this is not nerve, but the love of God which has sustained me. Good night."

Then he sat in the death chair without a tremor.

The crime for which Spencer was executed, the murder of a young woman school teacher, was the culmination of a series of bold petty burglaries which for two years had baffled the police and terrorized the people of Springfield. Spencer confessed that the fascination of reading newspaper accounts of his exploits was the motive for the burglaries.

MEXICANS ENGAGE IN A BRAWL AT PHOENIX

Phoenix, Sept. 17.—Scott Price, a bystander, was killed, Chief of Police Moore, Policeman Robert Williams and another policeman were seriously wounded late yesterday by Mexican rioters who had engaged in a brawl at a celebration of Mexican Independence day.

The murderers escaped, with the noise, came up just as the two policemen had fallen. He was attacked by the two Mexicans, who plunged their dirks into his body again and again. Although mortally wounded, Moore opened fire and one of his bullets pierced the heart of Scott Price, a young American who was in the throng that had assembled at the plaza to witness the celebration.

Americanized Mexicans and their unnaturalized countrymen had engaged in a battle over the management of the celebration, which was held on City Hall plaza. Policemen Williams and J. Valenzuela arrested two of the brawlers and had them as far as the prison entrance, when their captives drew knives and plunged them into the breasts of the officers. Williams is mortally wounded, Valenzuela, although seriously wounded, is expected to recover.

Chief of Police Moore, attracted by the noise, came up just as the two policemen had fallen. He was attacked by the two Mexicans, who plunged their dirks into his body again and again. Although mortally wounded, Moore opened fire and one of his bullets pierced the heart of Scott Price, a young American who was in the throng that had assembled at the plaza to witness the celebration.

The wounded chief of police staggered after the fleeing assassins, but another Mexican ran up behind him and drove a drove a knife blade between his shoulder blades. Moore fell mortally wounded, and his murderer escaped. The city council was immediately assembled and scores of citizens were sworn in as deputies to pursue the fugitives. Saloons were ordered closed and all festivities suspended. Members of the Phoenix company, Arizona national guard, well mounted, joined in the hunt.

If your watch passes through our repair department and does not give satisfaction we will give a new movement in exchange.
