Colonel Roosevelt Tells Committee He Should Be Expelled

TESTIFIES BEFORE CLAPP COMMITTEE

Reads Letters Which He Wrote to Treasurer Bliss and Chairman Cortelyou of Republican National Committee in 1904.

Asked No Contributions.

Washington, Oct. 4.—"I asked no man to contribute to the campaign fund when I was elected president, and I wish to reiterate that Bliss, treasurer, and Chairman Cortelyou both assured me that no promise had been made as a return for any contribution. Neither they nor anyone else having authority asked me to act or refrain from acting in any matter because of a contribution made or withheld." These words by Colonel Roosevelt summarized his testimony today at the close of the first part of his examination before the Clapp committee. He added that he had been assured by Cortelyou "only yesterday" that he knew of no such contribution and that he did not believe Bliss ever demanded a contribution from Archbold or any corporation by methods of extortion.

"Senator Penrose should be driven from the senate," he declared, "because he acknowledged his friendliness to Standard Oil interests. Charles B. Hilles and Congressman Barthold should be forced to prove their statements that the Roosevelt presidential campaign this year cost three or four million or be driven out of public life."

Washington, Oct. 1.—Colonel Roosevelt took the witness chair before the Clapp investigating committee at 10:05 this morning.

After preliminary questions Senator Clapp asked the colonel if his attention had been called to certain statements of John D. Archbold and what he knew about the contribution at the time it was said to have been made. Colonel Roosevelt asked permission to include in his answer the letter he sent to Senator Clapp, already published, denying that he knew of any Standard Oil contribution to the 1904 campaign fund at the time it was made. Then Roosevelt read the letter written in 1904 to Treasurer Shelton of the Republican national committee, which said:

"I am informed you or some one in behalf of the national committee are soliciting subscriptions from corporations, particularly John D. Archbold and the Standard Oil company. If this is true I wish to enter a vigorous protest and to say not only should such contributions be refused, but if made should be immediately returned."

Letter to Cortelyou.

Colonel Roosevelt also read a letter Oct. 26, 1904, to Chairman Cortelyou, in which he declared that if any money had been contributed by the Standard

DYNAMITE NOT STRONG ENOUGH FOR THEIR JOBS

District Attorney Says That the Iron Workers Decided to Substitute Nitroglycerine as Explosive.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—"The strongest stuff ever invented," was the way Herbert H. Hockin referred to nitroglycerine when he bought it to carry on the conspiracy, according to charges presented today at the dynamite trial. It was after dynamite was found not "strong enough," the district attorney claimed, that the defendants decided to use nitroglycerine. Ortie McManigal, he said, had been blowing up non-union jobs with dynamite and was in Chicago. In response to a telegram from Hockin he went to Indianapolis. "We've decided to use nitro," said Hockin. "And I am going down to Muncie to get a supply."

"That's pretty dangerous stuff," said McManigal.

"Yes, the strongest stuff ever invented."

They went to Muncie where they met J. B. McNamara. While the crew was on duty, the attorney asserted, Charles Baum, of Minneapolis, Henry W. Leggett, of Pittsburgh, Eugene Clancy, of San Francisco, and others were active in sending information from where non-union jobs were to be blown up.

Gates Thrown Open.

Not only evidence of the alleged illegal interstate shipment of dynamite and nitroglycerin, but also evidence as to what was done with the explosives, will be admitted at the trial of the 46 men accused of complicity in the "dynamite plots."

Federal Judge Anderson so ruled yesterday. His decision, thus opening to the prosecution the right to show a motive by going into the details of many explosions including that which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building, Oct. 1, 1910, followed the impounding of a jury and a severe arraignment of the defendants in the opening statement by District Attorney Miller.

Addressing the jury and pointing his finger at Frank M. Ryan and the 45 other men seated three deep across the court room, Mr. Miller said the trial was of the instigators of the "most far-reaching conspiracy in the history of this country, in which during more than five years property of incalculable value had been destroyed and many, many lives had been lost."

Eight farmers, two retired farmers, one grocer and one grain dealer, all living in country towns or rural districts in Indiana, compose the jury

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO NAME SUCCESSOR

Washington, Oct. 4.—The administration will have no candidate for the nomination as successor to Mrs. Mathew T. Scott as president of the General Federation of Daughters of the American Revolution at the next annual meeting of that organization in this city next May. An announcement to this effect was made by Mrs. Scott at a meeting of the national board here yesterday. She declared that she would pursue the policy of "hands off" in connection with the selection of her successor and added the fight for president of the general society would be an open battle.

Mrs. Scott was led to define her position because of numerous letters she had received from Daughters asking her preference.

MORMONS WILL NOT GO BACK TO HOMES

President Smith Says They Have Quit Mexico for Good

WILL SEEK HOMES IN SOME OTHER COUNTRY

Declares That the United States Acted Wisely in Refusing to Intervene—Mexican Situation Key-note of Address.

Salt Lake, Oct. 4.—That Mormon colonists have been driven from Mexico, probably never to return to their homes there, was intimated by President Joseph F. Smith at the opening of the eighty-third semi-annual conference of the church here today. The Tabernacle was filled with representatives from all parts of America. The president made the Mexican situation the keynote address. He thought it wisest that the United States should not interfere, but declared that eventually this country must dictate in the affairs of all small republics of the isthmus.

"Many have condemned the authorities of the United States for not interfering," he said. "But I feel thankful in my heart that higher wisdom has led the executive and our people have kept their hands clean of blood. I am glad the federal authorities have seen fit to let dog eat dog without interfering. Our people who escaped from that land will go elsewhere to make new homes and establish themselves in a civilized land where life and property are safe."

Peace Far Off.

MICHIGAN'S GOVERNOR TELLS WHY HE'S SUPPORTING ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT

Governor Chase S. Osborn.

(Governor Osborn of Michigan was one of the seven Republican governors who last February urged Theodore Roosevelt to run for the Republican nomination for the presidency. When the Democrats nominated Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore Governor Osborn issued a statement, which many construed to mean that he would vote for Wilson rather than Roosevelt in November. In the following article, written for the readers of this paper, Governor Osborn briefly declares his position.—The Editor.)

By Chase S. Osborn.

I shall vote for Theodore Roosevelt for president in November. When the Democratic party nominated Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore I issued a statement in which I declared my belief that the nomination of Roosevelt by a third party would be a mistake. I feared that the entrance of the ex-president in the race would split the progressive vote and thus make possible the

Nearly Forty Per Cent of the Total Buying of Men and Boys is crowded into Saturday

By J. R. HAMILTON.
Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia.

DID YOU ever stop to think, you men, what a tremendous effort has been put forth to please you when you rush into some store on Saturday and say, "Give me this!" or "Give me that?" All of the machinery of commerce has been strained to the breaking point in order that you might go out again with a bundle and a smile.

All of your clothes for this fall were studied and planned and produced many months ago. Many a shoe factory was working nights in May for the shoes you are going to buy this Saturday in September. And the same tremendous effort has been put into everything you wear.

Every Thursday night there is a busy advertising office, planning and scheming with a busy merchandise department for just some certain agreeable surprise that will strike your fancy and will please your eyes. Every Friday night there are curtains in front of the store windows and another tremendous effort is being made in window displays.

All this is being done because you have a remarkably peculiar habit of buying on Saturday.

Now the oddest thing is, that Saturday has two meanings in the world of merchandise. To the far-seeing, energetic merchant who advertises (whether he be large or small), Saturday means a test of his ability, of the efficiency of his store, and of his ever increasing capacity to serve more and more people and serve them well.

To the little merchants of stunted growth and limited capacity—to those who do not advertise, but simply stand and wait—Saturday means quite another and a different thing. To them it is merely another harvest-time of extra profits at your expense—always with the hope that another week will grow another crop.

Now, please, by all that is fair, give your trade to those stores which have given their energy to you. Give your trade to those stores who not only stand back of their merchandise, but stand back of their service and of their advertising as well. Buy everything you need this Saturday through the advertising columns of this paper and you will not regret it. Because you will find the merchandise backing up the advertising, the man backing up the merchandise and the service backing up the man.

Turn to that advertising now. It may open your eyes.

SUBMARINE BOAT IS RUN DOWN AND SUNK BY A LINER

Fourteen Members of Crew Perish and Second Officer Is Only Man on Board Who Is Rescued.

Dover, England, Oct. 4.—The British submarine B-2 was run down by the Hamburg American liner Amerika here today sinking at once with 14 members of the crew.

The submarine with five others was maneuvering off the coast of Kent. The liner appears to have cut the submarine in halves. Lieutenant Richard I. Hulleyne, second in command, the only man saved, was found floating in the sea too exhausted to say more than "Submarine cut in two, I went down a mile."

The B-2 left Dover harbor at 5 o'clock this morning. The Amerika stood by after the collision and threw life buoys overboard while a number of torpedo boats which after being informed of the accident by wireless searched the sea for hours. None of the other members of the crew, however, were found, and no sign of wreckage was discovered. The Amerika then proceeded on her voyage to Southampton and Cherbourg on her way to New York. This is the sixth disaster to British submarines, each of them involving a loss of from 10 to 15 lives.

BOOTLEGGER SENT TO JAIL FOR 3 MONTHS

(Capital News Special Service)

Shoshone, Oct. 4.—Ross Pitman, who was arrested for the crime of bootlegging, went before Judge Edward A. Walters yesterday and entered a plea of guilty and received a sentence of three months in the county jail and costs. The court omitted to enter a penalty of a fine for the reason that the accused would take the benefit of the pauper's act and then too he is in very bad health and a more severe sentence would be working an unnecessary hardship.
