SUPREME COURT HOLDS AGAINST ELECTORS FOR ROOSEVELT

Names Cannot Go on Ballot at November Election—Candidates for State Offices Certified Down

(Capital News Special Service) Lewiston, Oct. 9.—The state supreme court, in a decision handed down late yesterday, held that the Progressive candidates for state offices were entitled to have their names on the official ballot at the November election, but that the candidates for presidential electors and congressman were not so entitled.

The final summing up in the supreme court decision respecting Progressive candidates, by the court is as follows: "After a most careful and diligent examination of our statutes and the authorities which have been cited we are convinced that there now exists in this state three methods of nominating candidates for state offices.

"First, by primary election for a party nominating where the party cast for any candidate on their ticket at the last preceding election at least 10 per cent of the total vote cast for all candidates. For the same office within the state and upon which ticket there were at least three nominees for state officers; second, by convention held on the same day of the primary election for all organizations of electors existing prior to that day and not governed by the terms of the direct primary. And third, by petition where the signers to the petition have not participated in the nomination of any person to that particular office, and where the nomination is not made for any political party governed by the direct primary act or by any existing organization of electors.

"We conclude, therefore, that the nominees for state offices designated on the petition attached to the relations complaint are entitled to have their names certified and printed on the official ballot, and that those candidates for presidential electors and the candidate for congress have not been nominated in conformity with the statute and should not be certified or printed on the official ballot."

The opinion was written by Justice Allshie, Chief Justice Stewart and Justice Sullivan concurring.

WILL KEEP UP THE FIGHT FOR ROOSEVELT TO LAST IN SPITE OF DECISION

The Progressives of Idaho, according to State Chairman Gipson, will continue the fight for Roosevelt in this state in spite of the successful efforts of the Republican state central committee in securing a decision of the supreme court of the state the effect of which was to attempt to disfranchise a large majority of the voters of the state.

No opportunity has been given among Progressives to consult relative to action that will be taken to secure an expression of the will of the people, but the state chairman was emphatic in his declaration that the fight will continue.

Feeling ran intensely high among members of the Progressive party and former Republicans who had decided to remain with the regular organization for another election, were outspoken in their condemnation of the disfranchisement of the majority of the people of the state, a disfranchisement brought about upon the merest and most technical of technical constructions, as these voters view the decision. It is freely predicted that the action of the Republican state committee and the decision of the supreme court will give the Progressive state ticket thousands of votes that it would not otherwise have received, and at the same time it has aroused tremendously increased sentiment for Roosevelt.

Statement By Gipson. State Chairman Gipson today gave out the following statement of the attitude of the state organization: "The decision comes so unexpectedly and so wholly contrary to any known laws existing upon the subject that it is impossible for the state committee to give any opinion on it."

WILSON SAYS HE IS NOT TRYING TO PUT ROOSEVELT IN HOLE

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 9.—"I'm not trying to put Mr. Roosevelt in a hole," said Governor Woodrow Wilson today in referring to his recent declaration that the United States Steel corporation "was behind the third party program in thought."

"I am simply trying to show that Mr. Roosevelt has the viewpoint of the trusts and that we cannot afford to have a man for president of the United States who has that viewpoint. It is a matter of perfect indifference to me where Mr. Roosevelt gets his money, but it is a matter of a great deal of difference to me where he gets his ideas. And he got his ideas with regard to the regulation of monopoly from the gentlemen who control the United States Steel corporation."

BROTHER OF TAFT TAKES THE STAND AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Oct. 9.—Charles P. Taft, brother of the president, was the most important witness before the Clapp committee today. Congressman McKinley had testified that the Taft campaign cost about $255,000, and that Taft brothers gave about $150,000 of that sum.

Former Senator Scott, the first witness today, said he was in Republican headquarters in New York in October, 1904, when a telephone call came from the White House for Treasurer Bliss or Chairman Cortelyou. Neither being present Scott talked. He did not identify the speaker at the White House.

"What's this trouble I hear about Higgins?" Scott said he heard over the wire. "I hear he may be defeated." He told White House Higgins was in danger.

"Can't the state committee supply the necessary funds?" asked the White House. Scott said he told of the difficulties in getting money for the campaign and the response from the White House was: "I'd rather lose the election in the country than be defeated in my own state." "There is no danger of your being defeated." The White House said: "Harriman is coming to see me and I will see if we can't arrange to raise funds to help Higgins."

Scott said the committee would have to judge with whom he held the conversation, adding: "I thought I was talking to President Roosevelt." Scott said when he suggested that Bliss go to 26 Broadway for more money, Roosevelt notified him not to accept Standard Oil contributions.

Judge Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Harriman railroad, testified that the late E. H. Harriman told him of a visit to the White House and that President Roosevelt wanted him to help the national committee raise $200,000 for the New York state committee.

McKinley on Stand. Washington, Oct. 9.—The sum of $235,000, collected and spent in the campaign for President Taft's renomination through his Washington headquarters, was partially accounted for yesterday by Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois, the president's campaign manager, in testimony before the senate investigating committee.

Mr. McKinley said the "Taft family," comprising Charles P. Taft, Horace Taft and Henry Taft, brothers of the president, gave $150,000. The campaigner (Continued on Page Three)
